Octogenarian Sues Young Women To Regain Property

Says They 'Sweet Talked' Him Into Signing Over House, Car

An elderly, partially blind widower today filed suit against two young women he said bilked him of money and property amounting to about $120,000 after moving into his Mill Valley home with him and vowing their love and affection.

Max Bootzin, 82, who resided at 8 Robertson Terrace but moved to a San Francisco apartment about six months ago, charged in the Marin Superior Court suit that his housemates, Charmaine Klenman, 27, and Joan Taylor, 18, took advantage of his loneliness to ingratiate themselves with him.

After the pair moved into the Mill Valley home with him, he alleges, and under a pretense of wishing him to prove his own love, Miss Klenman caused him to give her joint title to his residence, which is complete with back yard swimming pool.

Also, he claims, she induced him to give her other parcels of land, $12,000 for furniture, another $12,000 for clothing and "other purchases and donations," and about $4,000 for an Oldsmobile automobile.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled a hearing at 2 p.m. on Nov. 9 for the defendants to show cause why they should not be temporarily enjoined from disposing of any of the property.

According to the complaint, Bootzin met the two women a year before his wife of 50 years, Minnie, died Aug. 21, 1960. Following her death, he was "extremely unhappy and lonely and foolishly responsive to any friendship or affection proffered," it relates. The two young women, it alleges, then entered into a conspiracy to defraud him and gain his possessions.

He said they accomplished this through a campaign of "flattery, blandishments, coaxing and promises to which the plaintiff, by reason of his age, illness, loneliness and unhappiness, was unfortunately susceptible."

Miss Klenman pretended she was in love with him, Bootzin charges, and said she wished to marry him and care for him.

He alleges she maintained, however, she wasn't convinced of his love for her, and that he "should prove the same by putting her in possession of some valuable property of his" before any wedding took place.

In July of 1961, the complaint goes on, he transferred to joint tenancy with her the five parcels of land, including his home. He said he later gave her sole title to all but the residence property.

Bridge Directors Vote Officially For Second Deck

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today made official their Oct. 5 decision to build a second deck on the bridge.

Their 11-to-2 vote followed a hot parliamentary battle between factions supporting approval of recommendations put forth when directors met before as a committee of the whole, and backers of resolution submitted today by San Francisco Director Joseph J. Diviny, calling for a "preliminary, comprehensive, engineering investigation."

Before that, directors defeated by 9-to-4 vote a motion by San Francisco director Stephen C. Leonoudakis which retained more of Diviny's resolution than was finally adopted.

The motion which was finally passed reaffirmed the directors' desire "in principle" to build the second deck.

Drawing from Diviny's resolution, it added paragraphs stating that the district would take part in studies to modernize bridge approaches both in Marin County and San Francisco, and would attempt to make the project fit in with regional transportation planning studies now under way.

The discussion consumed most of the directors' 90-minute meeting. It started with district vice president John E. Nelson's motion to approve the recommendations of the Oct. 5 meeting at which he presided, and to select engineers for the project.

Before any vote was taken, however, Leonoudakis complained that further investigation was needed before the district should decide on the proposal.

Nelson retorted that "the time has come for us to say that we are or are not prepared to go ahead with the second deck."

Nelson said engineering stud-

SOMETHING TO FLIP A WIG OVER

Approximately $2,000 worth of wigs were stolen from the Wig Shop at 968 Second Street, Novato, during the night, police reported.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Eleanor Jean Evans of 17 Bryan Drive, Novato, when she opened the shop at 10 a.m. today. She said between 11 and 15 wigs were missing. A rear door had been broken to gain entry.

Have Proper Fun, Police Tell Goblins

This is the weekend Halloween ghosts and goblins have a ball, but police forces around Marin County are detremined to make them behave themselves.

Extra police will be on duty tomorrow night and Sunday — the time the witches ride — to insure that if things do go bump in the night, they do it within the law.

Forty sheriff's deputies in 20 cars will be on special patrol tomorrow and Sunday starting at 6:30 p.m. until the wee small hours.

In addition, there will be 10 reserve men to watch such areas as shopping centers. Last year, the sheriff's men responded to 40 complaints of mischief.

Ten amateur radio operators will cruise San Rafael in their cars to assist police, who will have 18 regular patrolmen on duty plus six extra. All the operators will do is report possible disturbances. They will not make arrests.

Mill Valley will have six regular officers plus nine reserve men on duty on Halloween. Sgt. Lee Sellers added that four of the officers will be in cars making regular patrols of city property.

The Halloween parade for children sponsored by the City of Mill Valley has been cancelled because the festival falls on a Sunday, reported Don Dimitratos, city parks and recreation director.

Negroes Rebel Against Civil Demonstration

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil rights forces prepared another march at Lincolnton, Ga., today, although a similar march was halted yesterday in a confrontation with Lincolnton Negroes who said they were tired of demonstrations.

In an action believed unequaled in the Southern racial struggle, about 40 Negro men — most of them sawmill and pulpwood workers — barred the way of about 30 civil rights demonstrators yesterday.

The men said they were concerned for the safety of the marchers and intended them no harm. They said they felt the demonstrations accomplished nothing.

The unique meeting lasted more than an hour before a civil rights leader called off the march. But they pledged to march again.

Aides of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. converged on Selma, Ala., where King invited representatives of all civil rights groups to meet today for strategy talks aimed at a "dramatic action program."

At the Lincolnton confrontation, a civil rights leader, Willie Bolden, asked the Negroes who barred the way, "Why, Why are you doing this?" White spectators nearby laughed.

"What's going to happen to us after you leave?" replied one of the Lincolnton men.

The Negroes said they were not satisfied with conditions at the Negro school but, "there's nothing we can do about it."

Marin Ending Use Of Dump At Larkspur

The Marin County dump at Larkspur will close Sunday and will not be opened again, County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost announced today.

"It's full," Frost said.

So far the county has not been able to locate an alternate public dump and people with trash will have to use either the private dump at Point San Quentin or the Redwood Sanitary Land Fill dump north of Novato, Frost said.

The county has been in negotiations with Corte Madera on a 100-acre site south of Corte Madera Creek and east of Highway 101. The town wants to fill the land and convert it to a golf course.

There havee been some protests to the Corte Madera proposal, and county supervisors decided this week to hold a public hearing on the plan before going ahead.

The town has said it would convert the property to a golf course in about 10 years.

Matts Perry Tries Politics In Sausalito

Municipal elections in Marin are not until next April 12, but the first candidate tossed his hat into the ring today.

The hat, to be more specific, is a fireman's cap—that worn for many years until his retirement last February by Matthew J. (Matts) Perry of Sausalito.

Perry announced he will enter the list for election to the Sausalito City Council in the April voting.

"There have been many people from all sections of the city that think they should have someone who knows the city," said Perry. "I was born and raised here and I know the city from top to bottom.

"I also will try to do something about the taxes, try to get them back where people can afford to pay them."

Red Rocket Downs U.S. Navy Plane

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy F8E Crusader jet fighter was blown up over North Viet Nam Wednesday by what was presumed to be a surface-to-air missile and the pilot is missing, a U.S. military spokesman announced last night.

Five American planes had been downed previously by the Soviet - supplied missiles. the Crusader was hit on a bombing mission 60 miles southwest of Hanoi.

The spokesman said it presumably was fired on from a mobile missile installation that could be erected and dismantled within 24 hours.

EARTH ROLLER RUNS AMUCK, SMASHES GARAGE

An unmanned 25-ton earth roller smashed through the attached garage at the home of Herbert Twillman at 25 Drakewood Lane, Novato, at 4:15 p.m. yesterday, leaving this shambles. Mrs. Twillman, who saw the roller approaching from a window, collapsed from shock at fear for her 5-year-old son, Douglas, who was playing in the yard. He was not hit, however. Donald Earl Ambrose, 33, of Santa Rosa, was operating the roller for Nelson Equipment Co. of Novato, grading homesites in Kaden Park. He told Novato police the roller slipped out of gear and rolled 452 feet downhill. He leaped to safety as it bounced over a curb. (Photo by Herbert Twillman)

Klanners' Sabotage Schools Described

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Georgia Ku Klux Klan ran how-to-do-it schools for its members on time bombs, booby traps, judo and karate, a House investigator has testified.

With Georgia Klan Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig sitting on the witness stand, investigator Philip Manuel testified yesterday that such a school was held on a farm near Macon, Ga., in October, 1961.

He said Craig and the top U.S. klansman, Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton, attended the three hour demonstration, which included:

How to make a bomb with "three or four minutes getaway time" by taping dynamite to one end of a board and arranging a cigarette so that it would burn down and light a book of matches.

How to make an incendiary bomb from a bottle of powdered sugar and potassium chlorate, to be set off by a capsule of acid. Manuel said the instructor, William B. Crowe, talked about using it in department stores that bowed to racial integration, by having a klansman go in to try on a suit and then leave the bomb in a pocket of the suit.

How to set a car on fire by taping a firecracker to a bottle of gasoline, so the explosion would spray burning gas all over the inside. Manuel said this was demonstrated on a derelict car and Crowe said the fire was so intense that no one in the car would have been able to escape.

He asked Craig if it wasn't true that under his tenure as grand dragon many such bomb and judo schools were held "with your full knowledge and approval."

As all the Klan leaders have done since the start of the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Craig refused to answer all questions, citing constitutional rights including those of the Fifth Amendment.

Manuel described another school session he said was held on the farm of Robert L. Bing in Henry County, Ga., on Oct. 17, 1964.

He said klansmen were taught how to assemble an M1 rifle, make gasoline bombs known as Molotov cocktails, dynamite bombs and booby traps.

A problem in guerrilla warfare also was given the students, Manuel said, on how to take over radio stations and power plants. He said the instructors were Daniel Bruce and Charles M. Bartlett.

The 1961 school was held on the farm of O. C. Mixon, nine miles northeast of Macon, Ga., Manuel said.

The committee recessed its hearings until Monday. It told Craig to come back for more questioning Nov. 5.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Septuagenarian Still A Student

COMPTON (AP)—The formal education of Daniel Elmore just might go on as long as he lives.

Elmore is the Negro handyman who put all his 10 children through college before he got a high school diploma of his own, at 72.

Elmore

Now he has finished his first year of college. He's still a handyman, at 74.

A year ago The Associated Press told how Elmore educated his seven daughters and three sons despite almost overwhelming financial odds, and then went through high school himself.

Elmore brings the report up to date:

"I paint, I plaster, I do carpentry — anything I can get. But I don't go for that 8-to-4 business any more. I hold the work to about four hours a day."

Classes are a nighttime proposition for Elmore. He's used to this now, and he says the itch to learn is stronger than ever.

"Electronics," he said, interests him most.

New Torpedo Has Homing Instincts

AZUSA (AP)—A system that tries, and tries again if it fails the first time, is built into the new Mark 46-0 torpedo just delivered to the Navy by Aerojet-General Corp.

The Navy took delivery of the first torpedo, which they call an underwater guided missile, yesterday. It is designed to range deeper and farther than any previous anti - submarine weapon.

Spokesmen for the company said more than $100 million has been earmarked for mass production of the nine-foot-long cylindrical weapon, the first to be powered by solid fuel.

The missile is designed to be launched from an aircraft or surface ships, but not from submarines, officials said.

Food Prices Rising After August Drop

WASHINGTO N(AP) — Food prices dropped nearly one percent in August but have been edging up again since, the Labor Department reported yesterday after a national spot check of supermarkets.

Soaring meat prices head the advance, with the prices of eggs, milk and most other dairy products high and expected to go higher.

Flood Bill Signed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson signed a $4.3-billion public works appropriation bill yesterday providing funds for the planning and construction of flood-control, navigation, reclamation and power projects.

Smog Continues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No quick relief was in sight today for smog-plagued Southern Californians, who've been cursed this week with the worst smog attack in a decade.

Grosvenor Turns 90

Fraternity Fire

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) — A student was killed and four others injured in a fire which swept a fraternity house at Ithaca College early yesterday. Twenty - one others escaped uninjured. The victim was Jon Christopher Zuris, 24, of Herkimer, N.Y.

Death Penalty Ends

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons gave final approval last night to a bill abolishing the death penalty in Britain for five years. Queen Elizabeth II will sign it into law, probably next week. The legislation will be reviewed after five years to see whether it should be retained.

Grand National On

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The 21st annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo began its 10-day stand at the Cow Palace today with the judging of Guernsey and Jersey cows.

Johnson Recovering Well, Getting Enough Exercise

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, though still not free of all pain, is said to be regaining his strength and setting a good pace for himself at the LBJ Ranch.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked by reporters yesterday for a current assessment of Johnson's condition, just three weeks after the President entered the Bethesda Naval Hospital for surgery.

Said Moyers: "I think he is feeling just about like the doctors expect him to feel. He is gaining his strength back. His muscles are still very sore from the area involved in the surgery. He experiences, from time to time, some discomfort as a result of that, but he is progressing."

Before the President flew here last Saturday for an extended convalescent stay at his ranch home, his doctors urged him to use good judgment in setting his own recovery pace — to avoid overexertion and, at the same time, shun any temptation to lay back and play the role of an invalid.

"I think the pace he has set for himself," said Moyers, "is one the doctors find pleasing and the results satisfying."

Johnson Thursday put in a before-dawn to after-dusk day, but one that couldn't be classified as strenuous.

Up about 6 a.m., he cleared his desk of paper work, conferred by phone with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, then took wife Lady Bird for a walk down the dirt lane that runs alongside the Pedernales River in front of their home. By his own estimate, he walked three or four miles.

In the afternoon, he signed three bills, then napped and sat in the sun.

No schedule for today was announced.

Klanners' Sabotage Schools Described

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Georgia Ku Klux Klan ran how-to-do-it schools for its members on time bombs, booby traps, judo and karate, a House investigator has testified.

With Georgia Klan Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig sitting on the witness stand, investigator Philip Manuel testified yesterday that such a school was held on a farm near Macon, Ga., in October, 1961.

He said Craig and the top U.S. klansman, Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton, attended the three hour demonstration, which included:

How to make a bomb with "three or four minutes getaway time" by taping dynamite to one end of a board and arranging a cigarette so that it would burn down and light a book of matches.

How to make an incendiary bomb from a bottle of powdered sugar and potassium chlorate, to be set off by a capsule of acid. Manuel said the instructor, William B. Crowe, talked about using it in department stores that bowed to racial integration, by having a klansman go in to try on a suit and then leave the bomb in a pocket of the suit.

How to set a car on fire by taping a firecracker to a bottle of gasoline, so the explosion would spray burning gas all over the inside. Manuel said this was demonstrated on a derelict car and Crowe said the fire was so intense that no one in the car would have been able to escape.

He asked Craig if it wasn't true that under his tenure as grand dragon many such bomb and judo schools were held "with your full knowledge and approval."

As all the Klan leaders have done since the start of the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Craig refused to answer all questions, citing constitutional rights including those of the Fifth Amendment.

Manuel described another school session he said was held on the farm of Robert L. Bing in Henry County, Ga., on Oct. 17, 1964.

He said klansmen were taught how to assemble an M1 rifle, make gasoline bombs known as Molotov cocktails, dynamite bombs and booby traps.

A problem in guerrilla warfare also was given the students, Manuel said, on how to take over radio stations and power plants. He said the instructors were Daniel Bruce and Charles M. Bartlett.

The 1961 school was held on the farm of O. C. Mixon, nine miles northeast of Macon, Ga., Manuel said.

The committee recessed its hearings until Monday. It told Craig to come back for more questioning Nov. 5.

CARICATURE OF A CAR

Steve Scott, 22, of Northridge, shows off his prize hot rod, the "Uncertain T," at the Los Angeles Auto Show yesterday. Scott, a college physics student, spent three years and some $10,000 creating what he calls an "abstract characterization" of the early Model T Ford, after friends challenged him on a joking claim that he could build a car from a cartoon. Its only Ford parts are the headlights, radiator shell, radiator temperature gauge and steering wheel. It has a fiberglass body and Buick engine.

Educator Warns Of Wrong Teaching About Narcotics

"Poor or improper teaching may stimulate narcotics usage," Dr. Oliver E. Byrd told 50 parents gathered last night for a meeting of the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club.

Dr. Byrd, chairman of the department of health education at Stanford University School of Education, said "the average teacher I know of can't do an adequate job of teaching the dangers of narcotics because she doesn't know enough."

"There is a great burden on school leadership to provide facilities for proper education on drug usage," said Byrd, who has been retained by Marin County schools to help in the preparation of a proper anti-narcotic program.

Dr. Byrd described a case of improper anti-narcotics education. A teacher, required by law to give instruction about narcotics use, prepared a display for the children showing exactly how narcotics are taken.

"That was just plain stupid," said Dr. Byrd. "A teacher shouldn't show how to do it, she should show what happens when its done."

A warm emotional atmosphere in the home is the parent's strongest defense against his chcild becoming a narcotics user, said Dr. Byrd.

Of all drug users, 95 per cent need psychiatric treatment to resolve basic emotional problems, he said. Teen-age users are almost always delinquents who have excessive tendencies to immature action, he said.

Dr. Byrd challenged the claim that use of marijuana is not harmful.

"People simply don't understand what happens when someone smokes marijuana," he declares. "It accents already existing instabilities; it relaxes inhibitions; after long usage it can become mentally irritating and make the user violent; it will eventually lead to greatly destructive drug, heroin."

The meeting at the Sleepy Hollow School is one of a series of such meetings planned around the county, said Lawrence A. Lindberg, director of instruction in the Marin County superintendent of schools office.

he county schools office will bring Dr. Byrd to speak to any parents group in the county which requests to hear him, said Lindberg.

It will be a year, said Lindberg, before the county schools' program on narcotics education is ready for use in the classroom.

Motel Death Inquest Coroner's Jury Listed

Seven businessmen (one retired), three housewives, an engineer and a utilities executive were on the coroner's jury which decided Tuesday that Lillian E. Fonk's death was an accident.

Mrs. Fonk died Oct. 14 at Marin General Hospital from a blood clot caused by a blow on the head.

The jurors were Theodore Barron, businessman; Alfred Gazzano, store manager; Burton Kirchner, bank vice president; Russell M. Morgan, engineer; Leland Morris, jeweler; Mrs. Emma Jean C. Rago, housewife; Charles Rosenbaum, real estate broker; Mrs. Diane Schilling, housewife; Mrs. Gretchen N. Singer, public accountant; George W. Tierback, retired businessman; Carl N. Valine, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. transportation supervisor, and Mrs. Helen Walenta, housewife.

Mrs. Fonk, 52, was found bruised and unconscious in her bedroom at the Fireside Motel, Manzanita. But the jury, after hearing testimony from Dr. John Manwaring, Dr. Sam Hanzel, and Dr. Carl F. Larson, ruled that there was nothing to show her bruises were caused by a blow.

Her husband, John P. Fonk, 48, admitted he had hit his wife with the back of his hand.

The word "no" inserted in type in a sentence in the Independent-Journal's report of the inquest in Wednesday's paper made it appear the jury had found evidence the injuries were caused by a blow.

War On Hoodlums

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police have announced plans for a massive attack against this city's gangs of young hoodlums and added that "no mercy" will be shown to juvenile delinquents. Police say juvenile delinquency has grown so that one out of every 40 residents of this city is a criminal.

Motorist Injured As Car Overturns

Albert D. Torres, 15, of 41 Corte Madera, Greenbrae, was burised on the right arm at 3:30 p.m. yesterday when the car he was driving rolled over on Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The patrol said Torres had just turned east into Los Cerros from Vista Grande Drive when the car climbed the right bank and overturned.

No Complaint Filed In 'Bombing' Arrest

Michael Dufficy, deputy district attorney, said Harry H. Johnson, Marin Guide publisher who made a citizen's arrest alleging trespassing by Ajdee Smith, 45, San Jose president of the Mailers Union, has not yet signed a complaint in Marin Municipal Court which would bring the matter to trial.

Dufficy said his own office likely will not file a charge of trespassing. He said investigation of possible arson, however, will continue.

The row between Johnson and union picketers has included throwing of a smoke grenade into the Tamalpais Valley building at 200 Shoreline Highway on Wednesday, tampering with vehicles parked outside the building, an alleged assault by a Marin Guide truck driver on a picket, and pelting of five pickets with fresh fruit and eggs Wednesday night in front of the Marin Guide office on Caledonia Street in Sausalito.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said he and a National Board of Fire Underwriters agent from San Francisco inspected the Tamalpais Valley building damage yesterday to see if arson was involved, but had no finding to announce as yet.

to have two extra officers and three reserve officers on duty both tomorrow and Sunday night. Five units will patrol the town, instead of the usual two or three, Buchignani said.

The Corte Madera police department wil lhave three extra officers on duty Sunday night and one extra tomorrow night. Three cars will patrol the town Sunday and two cars tomorrow.

Sgt. George R. Barnes of the Tiburon sheriff's substation said he plans to have four men in two cars on duty Sunday night, plus two reserve officers on foot patrol in the Boardwalk Shopping Center and Main Street areas.

He said the regular one-man patrol will be on duty tomorrow night. "If anything comes up that one man can't handle, he can get help from the Belvedere department of the substation in Marin City," he said.

Belvedere police plan to have eight officers on duty Sunday night, four regular and four reserve. Two cars will be on patrol and another will be stationed at San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road and a fourth at Beach and Cove roads.

Tomorrow night the usual one man will be on duty, Chief William S. Woodington said, but all officers will be on call in case of trouble.

Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark was out of town today and his officer in charge, Patrolman Charles Mattos would not disclose the number of men to be on patrol for Halloween.

"We will have an ample force to handle any situation that might come up," he said.

Sausalito Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck said "We will have extra people on on Halloween" but declined to name how many.

ies have already established that the deck is feasible.

Leonoudakis then urged that Diviny's resolution be added to Nelson's motion.

tA the suggestion of director Dan E. London of San Francisco, Leonadoukis agreed to strike out a clause specifying that the deck be 60 feet wide with a minimum vertical clearance of 16 feet and carry one-direction traffic.

After the 9-to-4 defeat of Leonadoukis's motion, Nelson moved to adopt part of Diviny's resolution leaving out reference to preliminary investigation. Only votes against that motion were cast by Diviny and Leonadoukis.

Among several letters received by the directors concerning the deck was one from Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer urging that they do no more than study the feasibility of building the second deck.

Between motions, president L. E. Castner of Sonoma County read a telegram which has just arrived from Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen decrying Storer's letter as "misleading and unconstructive."

Bridge district general manager James Adam said he had corresponded with Paine and had learned that Paine's fee would be $250 per day plus expenses. In addition, he said, Paine would charge $15,000 to make a comparative study of two plans for the design of the deck which have been submitted to the directors.

At the end of the meeting directors unanimously approved a motion by Leonadoukis directing Adam to implement the policy decision and telling him to request a written presenation from Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco, who made one of the two plans.

Bootzin said despite all this, she refused to marry him and he believes she has no intention to ever do so. His suit asks recovery of the property and money, and an order restraining the women from disposing of any property in question.

Attorney for Bootzin is Vincent Hallinan.

Neighbors said the two defendants are still residing at the Robertson Terrace address.

Bicycle Hits Car, Novato Boy Hurt

Brian M. Stark, 9, of 1879 Virginia Street, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for a sprained left arm and back strain suffered when his bicycle hit a car.

Brian rode his bike into the side of a westbound car driven by James E. Cermak, 39, of 2034 Shady Lane, Novato, in front of 1832 Virginia Street about 8:30 a.m., police reported.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

Natural Marin Beauty

for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.

For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.

We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

SARAH WINGATE TAYLOR
Dominican poet dies

OBITUARIES

Sarah Wingate Taylor

Sarah Wingate Taylor, associate professor of English at Dominican College, San Rafael, and a poet claimed by both Marin and New England, died yesterday in a Boston hospital afYter a long illness. She was 58.

A member of the college staff for 20 years, and the expert on Shakespeare there, Miss Taylor this year was granted a sabbatical leave to write a history of her summer home, Clark's Island, off Duxbury, Mass.

The home and the island have been owned by her family since 1690. Miss Taylor was ninth in descent from Edward Winslow, governor of the Plymouth Colony. Records of Winslow showed that the Pilgrims landed at Clark's Island in 1620 before going on the Plymouth.

Several books of poems have been published by the Dominican teacher, including "Samphire," a collection of religious poems published in 1959, and "Yankee Island Ballads," printed in 1962. "Pet Penguin," a volume of children's verse, was published in 1963.

A native of Newton, Mass., Miss Taylor graduated from Smith College, then studied in England, France and Italy before joining the Boston Pilot for 10 years, becoming poetry editor of the newspaper.

Once declaring herself "an addict of nature unmechanized," she loved gardening and hiking and talking to people. She complained that conversation was becoming a lost art. She lived on the campus, making braided rugs on wet winter days.

A few years ago, Miss Taylor had an operation for cancer. She became ill again last July, when she was hospitalized in Boston. On Sept. 30 she was pronounced gravely ill and then given only two weeks to live.

The Defense Department in Washington had confirmed yesterday the probable loss of a sixth plane to missiles. The first was felled July 2. Details had been withheld here during the search for the Crusader's pilot.

In ground operations it was announced artillery shells of a friendly unit cut down nine U.S. paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division on a drive against the Viet Cong near the South China Sea coast about 260 miles northeast of Saigon. A spokesman said six were killed and three wounded when they moved inadvertently into the artillerymen's line of fire.

U.S. B-52 jet bombers from Guam struck 45 miles northwest of Saigon in their 55th raid of the war.

A military court has convicted three enlisted men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalary Division for refusing to serve in Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

ABIGAIL ROWLAND

Mrs. Abigail Rowland, a member of the Pacheco family that pioneered Marin, died last night in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital. She was 75.

She was the grand-daughter of Ygnacio Pacheco, who came to what is now Marin on his appointment in 1834 as alcalde by California's Mexican rulers.

Mrs. Rowland was admitted to the hospital Saturday with a piece of meat lodged in her throat.

Mrs. Rowland lived for many years in the Pacheco family's 12-room home built in 1881 by her father, Gumesindo Pacheco, at 5495 Redwood Highway, Novato.

Her father was elected a Marin County supervisor in 1902 and served almost until his death in 1916.

Most of the land on which Hamilton Air Force Base and nearby communities including Ignacio now are located, was given to her grandfather as a reward for military and administrative services by Gov. Juan Alvarado. It was named San Jose Rancho after his birthplace and totalled 6.659 acres, stretching from the mountains on the west to San Pablo Bay on the east.

Born at Ignacio, Mrs. Rowland had lived in California all her life.

She is survived by a son, Herbert Rowland of San Rafael; three grandchildren, Kenneth Rowland of Novato and Ann and Herbert Rowland of San Rafael. She also has two great-grandchildren.

High Mass of Requiem will be sung at St. Raphael's Church at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with the cortege leaving Keaton's Mortuary at 9:15 a.m. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited Monday at the mortuary at 8 p.m.

NELLIE DONOHUE

Mrs. Nellie Donohue, 85, a Marin resident since 1907, died yesterday at a local hospital.

Mrs. Donohue was the widow of Eugene Donohue. She had resided for about 55 years at 143 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, and was born in California.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. A Requiem Mass will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

THOMAS KING

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County 27 years. He was retired as a captain with the San Francisco Fire Department, for whom he worked for 30 years.

He was a member of the Firefighters Union 798, Widow and Orphans Mutual Aid, San Francisco Knife and Fork Club and the Veteran Firemen's Assn.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

FREDERICK BURMAN

He had been under a physician's care for a heart condition.

A native of San Antonio, Tex., he had lived in Tiburon for eight years, last residing at 2150A Mar East Street. Before retiring to Marin he operated a laundry and dry cleaning business in Poplar Bluff, Mo., and served in the Navy as a chief petty officer for 31 years.

The body was removed to the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, where his eyes had been willed. No memorial service is planned.

MIKE ADDY

Mike Addy, 75, retired lumber worker of 38 Glenn Drive, Sausalito, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Randolph, Iowa, he had lived most of his life in Montana, where he had been in the lumber business. He last worked as a lumber grader for Christensen Lumber Co. in San Francisco. He retired six years ago and made his home with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kindred in Sausalito.

He was a member of Mill and Cabinet Workers Union of Oakland and the Masonic Lodge of Polson, Mont.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Kindred and Marion Addy of Berkeley and a sister, Mrs. Irene Fite of Polson, Mont.

Funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Inurnment will be private.

LOUIS CHIRONE

Requiem Mass for Louis Emil Chirone of San Francisco, brother of five Marin County residents, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Emydius's Church, 256 Ashton Street, San Francisco.

Chirone, 60, died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of six weeks.

A native of San Francisco, he grew up in San Anselmo, returning to San Francisco about 25 years ago. He was an electrician for the San Francisco Municipal Railway.

Surviving are his wife, Mary L. Chirone of San Francisco; two brothers, Tony and Paul Chirone of San Anselmo, and five sisters, Mrs. Anita Hallmark and Mrs. Frances Matley, of San Anselmo, Mrs. Eleanor Slodownick of Black Point, Mrs. Lillian Allen and Antoinette Chirone of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Suhr and Wieboldt Mortuary, 1465 Valencia Street, near 26th Street, San Francisco.

MARGARET SHEA

Funeral for Mrs. Margaret T. Shea of 45 Manzanita Avenue, Black Point, who died in a fire at her home Wednesday, will be held tomorrow in San Francisco.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said today he still has not determined the cause of the $19,000 fatal fire, but said the most probable cause was a cigarette.

"She had installed new gas appliances, but they seem to be in good shape after the fire," he said. "Apparently she went into the bedroom and reached for the telephone, which was across the bed, when she was overcome by smoke."

Mrs. Shea was the widow of Michael Shea. She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Bridie Sullivan and Mrs. Minnie Kelleher of San Francisco, Mrs. Kathleen Dodds of Mill Valley and Nonie Goggin of Oakland, and two brothers, Patrick and James Goggin of Ireland.

Mrs. Shea, 65, was a native of Ballinskelligs, Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Ireland. She had lived 20 years in Marin County and 45 years in California.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Michael's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Reilly Co. Mortuary, 29th and Delores streets, San Francisco.

FRANK WALITIS

Frank Walitis, aged 88, was found dead yesterday on the living room floor at his home on Arroyo Road, Forest Knolls.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Walitis was found by sheriff's deputies who broke into the house after neighbors reported they had not seen him for five days.

Walitis, who lived alone, was under the care of a doctor for a heart ailment.

A native of Lithuania, he had lived in Marin County 19 years and in California 60 years.

He was a former railroad employee and in later years owned his own ranch.

Nearest surviving relatives are two cousins, Milda Kiel of San Francisco and Algerd Jusiatis of Crockett.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Her father was elected a Marin County supervisor in 1902 and served almost until his death in 1916.

Most of the land on which Hamilton Air Force Base and nearby communities including Ignacio now are located, was given to her grandfather as a reward for military and administrative services by Gov. Juan Alvarado. It was named San Jose Rancho after his birthplace and totalled 6.659 acres, stretching from the mountains on the west to San Pablo Bay on the east.

Born at Ignacio, Mrs. Rowland had lived in California all her life.

She is survived by a son, Herbert Rowland of San Rafael; three grandchildren, Kenneth Rowland of Novato and Ann and Herbert Rowland of San Rafael. She also has two great-grandchildren.

High Mass of Requiem will be sung at St. Raphael's Church at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with the cortege leaving Keaton's Mortuary at 9:15 a.m. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited Monday at the mortuary at 8 p.m.

NELLIE DONOHUE

Mrs. Nellie Donohue, 85, a Marin resident since 1907, died yesterday at a local hospital.

Mrs. Donohue was the widow of Eugene Donohue. She had resided for about 55 years at 143 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, and was born in California.

She is survived by a sister, Edyth Clark in Tomales.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. A Requiem Mass will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

THOMAS KING

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County 27 years. He was retired as a captain with the San Francisco Fire Department, for whom he worked for 30 years.

He was a member of the Firefighters Union 798, Widow and Orphans Mutual Aid, San Francisco Knife and Fork Club and the Veteran Firemen's Assn.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

FREDERICK BURMAN

He had been under a physician's care for a heart condition.

A native of San Antonio, Tex., he had lived in Tiburon for eight years, last residing at 2150A Mar East Street. Before retiring to Marin he operated a laundry and dry cleaning business in Poplar Bluff, Mo., and served in the Navy as a chief petty officer for 31 years.

The body was removed to the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, where his eyes had been willed. No memorial service is planned.

MIKE ADDY

Mike Addy, 75, retired lumber worker of 38 Glenn Drive, Sausalito, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Randolph, Iowa, he had lived most of his life in Montana, where he had been in the lumber business. He last worked as a lumber grader for Christensen Lumber Co. in San Francisco. He retired six years ago and made his home with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kindred in Sausalito.

He was a member of Mill and Cabinet Workers Union of Oakland and the Masonic Lodge of Polson, Mont.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Kindred and Marion Addy of Berkeley and a sister, Mrs. Irene Fite of Polson, Mont.

Funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Inurnment will be private.

LOUIS CHIRONE

Requiem Mass for Louis Emil Chirone of San Francisco, brother of five Marin County residents, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Emydius Church, 256 Ashton Street, San Francisco.

Chirone, 60, died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of six weeks.

A native of San Francisco, he grew up in San Anselmo, returning to San Francisco about 25 years ago. He was an electrician for the San Francisco Municipal Railway.

Surviving are his wife, Mary L. Chirone of San Francisco; two brothers, Tony and Paul Chirone of San Anselmo, and five sisters, Mrs. Anita Hallmark and Mrs. Frances Matley, of San Anselmo, Mrs. Eleanor Slodownick of Black Point, Mrs. Lillian Allen and Antoinette Chirone of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Suhr and Wieboldt Mortuary, 1465 Valencia Street, near 26th Street, San Francisco.

MARGARET SHEA

Funeral for Mrs. Margaret T. Shea of 45 Manzanita Avenue, Black Point, who died in a fire at her home Wednesday, will be held tomorrow in San Francisco.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said today he still has not determined the cause of the $19,000 fatal fire, but said the most probable cause was a cigarette.

"She had installed new gas appliances, but they seem to be in good shape after the fire," he said. "Apparently she went into the bedroom and reached for the telephone, which was across the bed, when she was overcome by smoke."

Mrs. Shea was the widow of Michael Shea. She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Bridie Sullivan and Mrs. Minnie Kelleher of San Francisco, Mrs. Kathleen Dodds of Mill Valley and Nonie Goggin of Oakland, and two brothers, Patrick and James Goggin of Ireland.

Mrs. Shea, 65, was a native of Ballinskelligs, Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Ireland. She had lived 20 years in Marin County and 45 years in California.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Michael's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Reilly Co. Mortuary, 29th and Delores streets, San Francisco.

FRANK WALITIS

Frank Walitis, aged 88, was found dead yesterday on the living room floor at his home on Arroyo Road, Forest Knolls.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Walitis was found by sheriff's deputies who broke into the house after neighbors reported they had not seen him for five days.

Walitis, who lived alone, was under the care of a doctor for a heart ailment.

A native of Lithuania, he had lived in Marin County 19 years and in California 60 years.

He was a former railroad employee and in later years owned his own ranch.

Nearest surviving relatives are two cousins, Milda Kiel of San Francisco and Algerd Jusiatis of Crockett.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY
Natural Marin Beauty
for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.

For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.

We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

"people keep thinking it's the big Mercury"

Say Marin County's Mercury-Comet Dealers

Maybe that's because the 1966 Comet is unexpectedly different. A whole new beginning. Besides its new shape (with more head room, shoulder room, hip room, and leg room) there's more fire under the hood. If you think we're just blowing smoke—hop in and try it: the 1966 Comet that people think is something else!

HOSPITAL HONORS FORMER DIRECTORS

Living Costs Edge Upward A Bit More

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $10 bill was a little thinner in the nation's pocketbooks today.

Its value was pared down last month by an additional two cents so that it will buy only $9.07 worth of the goods it could have purchased five years ago.

The Labor Department used the $10 bill to describe the impact of the latest increase in its consumer price index. It announced yesterday the index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in September to 110.2 per cent of 1957-59 average prices.

Despite the increase in prices, all was not dark for the consumer last month. The Labor Department said the average factory worker's weekly take-home pay had risen $1.25 to $97.25.

No Meeting Held

There was no meeting Wednesday night of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District Board because of lack of a quorum, Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary, reported. No other meeting date has been set.

Fairfax Turns Down Unit Sought By Farr

Fairfax Planning Commission last night denied a use permit for the Farr Associates' proposal for a planned unit development of apartments on 9.8 acres between Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, at the west boundary of the city.

The vote was 6-0, with Commissioner Leo Cronin absent.

No Farr representatives appeared, and the commissioners said they turned down the proposal because repeated requests for more information about the proposal had not been heeded.

The commission tabled, for the time being, a suggestion that the Ridgeway Park subdivision be rezoned from duplex to single-family.

Poverty War

The meeting in Marin City community lounge on the strength and weakness of the war on poverty program in Marin will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, not Monday as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Navy's Bosses Try To Soften Admiral Revolt

The officers in question are Rear Admirals William A. Brockett, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, and Charles A. Curtze, deputy chief. They are retiring prematurely because they oppose increasing centralization of authority in the Pentagon's top echelons.

To meet this situation, which broke on them in yesterday's newspapers, officials dusted off a format once used in the grand manner by the late Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

The formula calls for a press meeting with top Defense Department officials and the senior officer of the dissidents' service. The impression given is that the view from the top is rosier than it may appear lower down.

McDonald, a soft-spoken Georgian, was asked if he agreed that there was too much centralization in the Defense Department.

"In many ways, yes," he quickly replied. "In some ways, no."

Recalling the battle over unification of the forces 18 years ago, the admiral bluntly said, "the Navy never wanted unification." But, he added, "I don't know that it's been such bad thing . . . that doesn't mean that these things can't work and turn out for the best."

Demo Club To Hear Of School Problems

Local school issue will be discussed by two speakers at a meeting of the Mill Valley Democratic Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the American Legion Hall.

Dr. John C. Siemens, Tamalpais High School District trustee, will talk on the $5,750,000 bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16. Mrs. Edmund Gross, president, Mill Valley School District board, will speak on new ideas in elementary school organization.

Four Men Are Convicted Of Stanford Home Theft

Four men, including San Francisco police officer Salvatore Polani, 44, were found guilty yesterday of trying to burglarize the San Francisco home of Sausalito restaurant owner Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) last April.

Acquitted, however, was police officer Patrick Buckman, 27.

Found guilty along with Polani were Winston Major, 51, and Louis Romero, 34, and Wesley Gant, 56.

Major and Romero have both served time in prison before. Gant is now serving a term in the state prison at Folsom for another burglary conviction.

The four men face terms of five years to life for burglary, plus another five to 10 years for being armed with a deadly weapon. Gant and Romero face further penalty as habitual criminals.

Tears swelled into the eyes of the two policemen who had been on trial—but for different reasons.

Buckman sobbed with relief at his acquittal and announced he was "going to church and give thanks to God."

Polani cried quietly as he shook his head and repeatedly said, "I don't understand it."

Over the objections of defense attorneys, Judge Harry J. Neubarth of San Francisco Superior Court, ordered Polani and Major, who had been free on bail, back into custody immediately.

Romero has been in jail since his April 6 arrest. He and the others were picked up in or near Mrs. Owen's Pacific Heights home by police who had set a trap after being tipped of the burglary scheme by Point Reyes Station contractor Robert K. Worthington.

The seven-man, five-woman jury rejected Polina's claim that he was actually trying to trap Worthington.

Buckman, who insisted throughout the case that he was unaware of the burglary when he waited in a car outside the Owen mansion, said after his acquital that he would resign from the San Francisco force and would go into business. He has worked as a bartender while under suspension from the force.

The jury went out Wednesday morning and did not return until late yesterday. Jury foreman Warren F. Foley said jurors "were divided about 50-50 when we began," but "we kept talking and discussing and although things got very heated at times, we finally reached a unanimous verdict."

Defense attorneys made verbal motions for a new trial for all four men convicted. Judge Neubarth set Nov. 5 for a hearing on the motions. The attorneys said they would appeal the convictions if the re-trial motions are denied.

Castro's Ex-Pal Thought Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ernesto (Che) Guevara may be dead, says a ranking U.S. official.

Guevara, at one time a leader in Fidel Castro's Communist government in Cuba, has not been seen publicly for several months.

The U.S. official, asked during a background briefing Thursday about the fate of the Cuban leader, said:

"My guess is that Che's mission was pointed 4 or 5 feet downward."

Castro has said Guevara was going to carry on revolutionary missions in other lands.

Slight Change

A slight change for the better was reported in the condition today of Lafayette Walker, 46, of 3 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, critically injured in a fall from a roof at Peacock Gap Tuesday. He was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital.

Four Men Are Convicted Of Stanford Home Theft

Four men, including San Francisco police officer Salvatore Polani, 44, were found guilty yesterday of trying to burglarize the San Francisco home of Sausalito restaurant owner Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) last April.

Acquitted, however, was police officer Patrick Buckman, 27.

Found guilty along with Polani were Winston Major, 51, and Louis Romero, 34, and Wesley Gant, 56.

Major and Romero have both served time in prison before. Gant is now serving a term in the state prison at Folsom for another burglary conviction.

The four men face terms of five years to life for burglary, plus another five to 10 years for being armed with a deadly weapon. Gant and Romero face further penalty as habitual criminals.

Tears swelled into the eyes of the two policemen who had been on trial—but for different reasons.

Buckman sobbed with relief at his acquittal and announced he was "going to church and give thanks to God."

Polani cried quietly as he shook his head and repeatedly said, "I don't understand it."

Over the objections of defense attorneys, Judge Harry J. Neubarth of San Francisco Superior Court, ordered Polani and Major, who had been free on bail, back into custody immediately.

Romero has been in jail since his April 6 arrest. He and the others were picked up in or near Mrs. Owen's Pacific Heights home by police who had set a trap after being tipped of the burglary scheme by Point Reyes Station contractor Robert K. Worthington.

The seven-man, five-woman jury rejected Polina's claim that he was actually trying to trap Worthington.

Buckman, who insisted throughout the case that he was unaware of the burglary when he waited in a car outside the Owen mansion, said after his acquital that he would resign from the San Francisco force and would go into business. He has worked as a bartender while under suspension from the force.

The jury went out Wednesday morning and did not return until late yesterday. Jury foreman Warren F. Foley said jurors "were divided about 50-50 when we began," but "we kept talking and discussing and although things got very heated at times, we finally reached a unanimous verdict."

Defense attorneys made verbal motions for a new trial for all four men convicted. Judge Neubarth set Nov. 5 for a hearing on the motions. The attorneys said they would appeal the convictions if the re-trial motions are denied.

Castro's Ex-Pal Thought Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ernesto (Che) Guevara may be dead, says a ranking U.S. official.

Guevara, at one time a leader in Fidel Castro's Communist government in Cuba, has not been seen publicly for several months.

The U.S. official, asked during a background briefing Thursday about the fate of the Cuban leader, said:

"My guess is that Che's mission was pointed 4 or 5 feet downward."

Castro has said Guevara was going to carry on revolutionary missions in other lands.

Slight Change

A slight change for the better was reported in the condition today of Lafayette Walker, 46, of 3 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, critically injured in a fall from a roof at Peacock Gap Tuesday. He was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital.

Bank Officer Leaves Half-Century Career

William A. Henderson, vice president and cashier of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, retired this week after being associated with the bank for almost a half-century.

Henderson, a native of San Francisco, began his banking career in 1918 with the Anglo and London Paris National Bank, a Crocker-Citizens predecessor. Through the years he worked in many departments and held several key positions. He was appointed vice president and cashier in 1956 and in recent years has been in charge of the bank's operations.

He will continue as the bank's representative on the Market Street Project in San Francisco.

Henderson and his wife have lived almost 14 years in Marin County at 2 Palm Court, Larkspur.

All Time High For GM Profits

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. has reported the highest sales and profits in manufacturing history for both the third quarter and the year's first nine months.

The giant auto maker said its profits for the first nine months totaled $1,539,000,000, or $5.360 per share.

Sales in the nine-month period totaled $14,539,000,000, up 14 per cent from the year-ago level of $13,159,000,000, also a previous record.

No manufacturer has ever piled up so much in dollar sales profits.

Corporate Profits: Real Bumper Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. corporations have pushed their profits close to the $45-billion mark. After-tax income in the third quarter of 1965 ran about 17 per cent above the 1964 period, early reports indicate.

Almost all major industries share in this year's gains, although steel makers show a mixed pattern, so do tobacco companies. In the oil, motors, electronics, rail, airline, and utility fields, company after company reports record earnings from record sales volume. Most chemical firms, drug makers, nonferrous metals, glass, and heavy equipment makers are on the upside.

The golden flood is one of the reasons the stock market has been pushed to new highs, although a profit increase was expected. The record gross earnings also mean record tax payments, despite lower rates. This is one reason the U.S. Treasury is doing better than it first had hoped.

In motors, GM pushed its July-August-September net profit up 18.6 per cent above a year ago to a record $263.8 million. Ford's 28 per cent gain put it at $102 million.

In oils, a 42 per cent spurt is reported by Sinclair at $19 million. Indiana Standard at $60 million is ahead by 17 per cent. A 11 per cent surge by Gulf brings it to $102 million. Continental has record profits of $24 million, and Atlantic Refining a record $15 million. Socony Mobil has $79 million third quarter profits, against $70 million a year ago. Union Oil has $33 million against $23 million, Cities Service reports $25 million against $18 million. Sun Oil made $24 million.

Railroads have chugged ahead this year after a long period of hard times. Pennsylvania has $18 million profit in the third quarter, against $16 million a year ago; Norfolk and Western $22 million against $20 million against $6 million; Great Northern $11 million against $7 million; Baltimore and Ohio reports $5 million this year against $1.5 million last. And Missouri Pacific has risen to $6.3 million from $5.9 million.

U.S. Steel profits rose 30 per cent in the third quarter from a year ago, and Armco profits are up 29 per cent. But Republic did only slightly better this year than last. And the same is true of Kaiser Steel and Colorado Fuel & Iron. Youngstown Sheet & Tube, National, Allegheny Ludlum, Crucible and Granite City Steel trailed the year ago results. Most steel companies reported increased sales volume but rising costs that squeezed profits.

In other metals the picture is mostly bright. Kennecott Copper made a whopping jump from $3.7 million last year to $24 million this; Alcoa was up from $14 million to $17 million and Reynolds Metals jumped from $7 million to $11 million.

The profits reports will continue to pour in for a few more weeks. And they will add up to insurance that 1965 will prove the most profitable year American business has ever known.

Market Makes Drive Recovery; Trading Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed at new highs today in a pretty good recovery drive. Trading was active.

American Telephone, which paced the market decline Thursday, rebounded and moved ahead under the pressure of institutional demand, winning back a portion of its losses.

Airline issued moved ahead as a body and some aerospace issues made wide gains.

The market was ahead from the start and widened its gains in the afternoon, but there were plenty of losers and the list was not running away with itself.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7 million shares compared with 7.24 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

A recovery by American Telephone gave backbone to the market. AT&T recouped about half a point from Thursday's loss of 1½.

Chrysler, after an initial rise, showeed a fractional net loss.

Other blue chips, after some initial hesitation, stepped into the breach to firm up the list to an irregularly higher position.

U.S. Steel was up a full point, General Motors and Union Carbide fractions.

Aerospace issues were strong. Boeing gained 4, United Aircraft 2, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics 1 each.

Boomed by a stock split, Delta Airlines ran up more than 2. A string of other airlines were fractional gainers.

Huss refrigerato,r talking merger with Pet Milk, gained about 3. Pet Milk dropped a fraction.

Up a point or so were Diners' Club, Storer Broadcasting, National Airlines, CBS, Merck and Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Richardson - Merrell slumped about 1½. Down about a point were Xerox and Control Data.

LEAVING MARIN — Ray M. Osborn, 51, of 26 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, has been promoted to assistant regional commissioner for operations by the Bureau of Customs, a move which will send him to Los Angeles. He has been appraiser of merchandise at the Port of San Francisco since 1955.

Bank Officer Leaves Half-Century Career

William A. Henderson, vice president and cashier of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, retired this week after being associated with the bank for almost a half-century.

Henderson, a native of San Francisco, began his banking career in 1918 with the Anglo and London Paris National Bank, a Crocker-Citizens predecessor. Through the years he worked in many departments and held several key positions. He was appointed vice president and cashier in 1956 and in recent years has been in charge of the bank's operations.

He will continue as the bank's representative on the Market Street Project in San Francisco.

Henderson and his wife have lived almost 14 years in Marin County at 2 Palm Court, Larkspur.

All Time High For GM Profits

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. has reported the highest sales and profits in manufacturing history for both the third quarter and the year's first nine months.

The giant auto maker said its profits for the first nine months totaled $1,539,000,000, or $5.360 per share.

Sales in the nine-month period totaled $14,539,000,000, up 14 per cent from the year-ago level of $13,159,000,000, also a previous record.

No manufacturer has ever piled up so much in dollar sales profits.

Corporate Profits: Real Bumper Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. corporations have pushed their profits close to the $45-billion mark. After-tax income in the third quarter of 1965 ran about 17 per cent above the 1964 period, early reports indicate.

Almost all major industries share in this year's gains, although steel makers show a mixed pattern, so do tobacco companies. In the oil, motors, electronics, rail, airline, and utility fields, company after company reports record earnings from record sales volume. Most chemical firms, drug makers, nonferrous metals, glass, and heavy equipment makers are on the upside.

The golden flood is one of the reasons the stock market has been pushed to new highs, although a profit increase was expected. The record gross earnings also mean record tax payments, despite lower rates. This is one reason the U.S. Treasury is doing better than it first had hoped.

In motors, GM pushed its July-August-September net profit up 18.6 per cent above a year ago to a record $263.8 million. Ford's 28 per cent gain put it at $102 million.

In oils, a 42 per cent spurt is reported by Sinclair at $19 million. Indiana Standard at $60 million is ahead by 17 per cent. A 11 per cent surge by Gulf brings it to $102 million. Continental has record profits of $24 million, and Atlantic Refining a record $15 million. Socony Mobil has $79 million third quarter profits, against $70 million a year ago. Union Oil has $33 million against $23 million, Cities Service reports $25 million against $18 million. Sun Oil made $24 million.

Railroads have chugged ahead this year after a long period of hard times. Pennsylvania has $18 million profit in the third quarter, against $16 million a year ago; Norfolk and Western $22 million against $20 million against $6 million; Great Northern $11 million against $7 million; Baltimore and Ohio reports $5 million this year against $1.5 million last. And Missouri Pacific has risen to $6.3 million from $5.9 million.

U.S. Steel profits rose 30 per cent in the third quarter from a year ago, and Armco profits are up 29 per cent. But Republic did only slightly better this year than last. And the same is true of Kaiser Steel and Colorado Fuel & Iron. Youngstown Sheet & Tube, National, Allegheny Ludlum, Crucible and Granite City Steel trailed the year ago results. Most steel companies reported increased sales volume but rising costs that squeezed profits.

In other metals the picture is mostly bright. Kennecott Copper made a whopping jump from $3.7 million last year to $24 million this; Alcoa was up from $14 million to $17 million and Reynolds Metals jumped from $7 million to $11 million.

The profits reports will continue to pour in for a few more weeks. And they will add up to insurance that 1965 will prove the most profitable year American business has ever known.

Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, San Rafael Lodge 1108, is Albert E. Gately.

Market Makes Drive Recovery; Trading Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed at new highs today in a pretty good recovery drive. Trading was active.

American Telephone, which paced the market decline Thursday, rebounded and moved ahead under the pressure of institutional demand, winning back a portion of its losses.

Airline issued moved ahead as a body and some aerospace issues made wide gains.

The market was ahead from the start and widened its gains in the afternoon, but there were plenty of losers and the list was not running away with itself.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7 million shares compared with 7.24 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

A recovery by American Telephone gave backbone to the market. AT&T recouped about half a point from Thursday's loss of 1½.

Chrysler, after an initial rise, showeed a fractional net loss.

Other blue chips, after some initial hesitation, stepped into the breach to firm up the list to an irregularly higher position.

U.S. Steel was up a full point, General Motors and Union Carbide fractions.

Aerospace issues were strong. Boeing gained 4, United Aircraft 2, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics 1 each.

A string of other airlines were fractional gainers.

Up a point or so were Diners' Club, Storer Broadcasting, National Airlines, CBS, Merck and Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Richardson - Merrell slumped about 1½. Down about a point were Xerox and Control Data.

Balmer Lashes Out At County Planner

The county planning office is "no longer responsible."

Reasoning of the County Planning Director (Billy D. Dobbs' is shallow.

There seems to be, between the City of Mill Valley and the county, a basic difference in meaning, understanding and approach to urban fringe area problems and needs.

These comments are part of a biting attack made against the county planning staff by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley.

Balmer, in a letter to John F. Barrows, executive director of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, blamed advice of the county planning staff for commission decisions with which he differed.

He noted that the commission denied Mill Valley's tidelands annexation attempt shortly after he became city manager in 1964.

"Now the city is being told it should take the present area requested in smaller units, several annexations rather than one," he wrote.

Balmer replied on five points on which the county planning staff recommends denial of a proposed Mill Valley annexation of 60.82 acres south of Cascade Drive and west of Monte Vista Avenue. The annexation, called Cascade, is to be heard by the commission at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the Civic Center.

"In going from Barrows' recommendations to the recommendation of the county planning director, I am concerned with the fact I no longer seem to be dealing with a responsible county office," wrote Balmer. "The reasoning of the planning director is shallow, in complete violation of good planning concepts, and indicates no practical knowledge of the realities of annexation needs and problems. Some of the language used is immature and distasteful to the city."

Balmer said he is "deeply disturbed" to know that the planner who commented on the annexation proposal contented himself with looking at a map and never bothered to go out in the field and look at the area.

Further, said Balmer's letter, the local Agency Formation Commission staff is county only and reflects a background and approach to urban fringe area problems that is county only.

Fire Meeting Off

The Kentfield Fire District commission failed to meet as scheduled last night because Chairman Joseph L. Smith was out of town. Fire Chief Kenneth Camp said the meeting was postponed to Nov. 10.

Hastings Gets New Position At San Quentin

Homer J. Hastings has been named associate warden for classification and treatment at San Quentin Prison, replacing Robert C. Loriano, who was named State Adult Authority hearing representative.

Hastings, 48, has been in charge of the prison education program, but in this new post will take on supervision of religious, counseling and classification activities, in addition to education.

The new supervisor of education will be Keith W. Hayball, 45, of Susanville, who once worked at San Quentin as a music instructor. Hayball, with his wife and four children, will live at San Quentin Village.

Hastings, who lives in Berkeley, started his career as vocational counselor at San Quentin in 1948. He became education supervisor at Soledad Prison in 1958, and returned to San Quentin in 1960.

Television Taken

Loss of a television set in a burglary of the home of Dorrit S. Janson, 16 Montego Kay, Bel Marin Keys, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers. Deputies said entry apparently was via an unlocked sliding glass door.

Larkspur Schools Planning To Spend Poverty Funds

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen last night told district trustees that he and his staff would soon begin thinking of projects which might qualify for the $22,000 in federal poverty funds for education available to the district.

Cohen told the board the funds cannot be incorporated into the district budget and must be used for separately approved projects.

The board commended the district administration for lowering the district tax rate "while improving the curriculum."

Trustees set Nov. 15, 16 and 17 as minimum days in district schools to give teachers time to meet with parents in the afternoons. They set Nov. 17 as date for their next meeting, to avoid conflict with the Armistice Day and Thanksgiving holidays.

Trustee Cornelia J. Perrone was asbsent.

Hollis To Discuss Russian Journey

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, will give an illustrated talk on his recent trip to Russia, at a Republican meeting at the Civic Center on Nov. 18 at 8 p.m.

This was announced last night at a meeting of the Marin County Coordinating Council of the California Republican Assembly.

Mrs. Pat Story of Terra Linda was named to coordinate and train membership drive chairmen for CRA units in the county.

Chalk Saves Slips

NEW YORK (UPI)—To keep a screwdriver from slipping out of screw slots, building specialists advised that the screwdriver tip should be chalked. Billiard chalk is ideal for the purpose.

A new VW is cheaper at twice the price.

How's that for an outrageous claim?

We knew you wouldn't believe it. So we've proved it.

Let's say you plan to keep your next car 5 years (and drive a total of 75,000 miles). Here's how it might work out:

	New Volkswagen	Used Something Else
Price	$ 1,775	$ 850
Gas@ 32¢/gal	828 (29 mi/gal.)	1,600 (15 mi/gal.)
Tires@ $28 ea.	112 (40,000 mi/set)	336 (20,000 mi/set)
Oil @ 60¢ qt.	42 (27 qts fills it)	57 (needs 5 qts.)
Anti-freeze	0 (air-cooled eng.)	45 (water-cooled eng.)
Cost for 5 years	$ 2,757	$ 2,888

So you're at least $131 ahead if you buy the VW. (We didn't even count the extra $100 it saves on lower insurance and registration fees in many states.)

If you buy the new VW, you won't have to worry about why the first owner sold it. (And you won't have to pay for the expensive ailments that can hit an old Something Else.)

Now then. We don't have a crystal ball, but today's market is an interesting clue to the future.

After 5 years, the used car will probably be a 9-year-old candidate for the junk heap. But the VW will probably just be reaching its prime.

(Check the classified ads and you'll find 5-year-old VWs selling for $600 to $900, depending on the shape they're in.)

But you can do much better than that: Don't sell your VW at all.

He noted that the commission denied Mill Valley's tidelands annexation attempt shortly after he became city manager in 1964.

"Now the city is being told it should take the present area requested in smaller units, several annexations rather than one," he wrote.

Balmer replied on five points on which the county planning staff recommends denial of a proposed Mill Valley annexation of 60.82 acres south of Cascade Drive and west of Monte Vista Avenue. The annexation, called Cascade, is to be heard by the commission at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the Civic Center.

"In going from Barrows' recommendations to the recommendation of the county planning director, I am concerned with the fact I no longer seem to be dealing with a responsible county office," wrote Balmer. "The reasoning of the planning director is shallow, in complete violation of good planning concepts, and indicates no practical knowledge of the realities of annexation needs and problems. Some of the language used is immature and distasteful to the city."

Balmer said he is "deeply disturbed" to know that the planner who commented on the annexation proposal contented himself with looking at a map and never bothered to go out in the field and look at the area.

Further, said Balmer's letter, the local Agency Formation Commission staff is county only and reflects a background and approach to urban fringe area problems that is county only.

Fire Meeting Off

The Kentfield Fire District commission failed to meet as scheduled last night because Chairman Joseph L. Smith was out of town. Fire Chief Kenneth Camp said the meeting was postponed to Nov. 10.

Hastings Gets New Position At San Quentin

Homer J. Hastings has been named associate warden for classification and treatment at San Quentin Prison, replacing Robert C. Loriano, who was named State Adult Authority hearing representative.

Hastings, 48, has been in charge of the prison education program, but in this new post will take on supervision of religious, counseling and classification activities, in addition to education.

The new supervisor of education will be Keith W. Hayball, 45, of Susanville, who once worked at San Quentin as a music instructor. Hayball, with his wife and four children, will live at San Quentin Village.

Hastings, who lives in Berkeley, started his career as vocational counselor at San Quentin in 1948. He became education supervisor at Soledad Prison in 1958, and returned to San Quentin in 1960.

Television Taken

Loss of a television set in a burglary of the home of Dorrit S. Janson, 16 Montego Kay, Bel Marin Keys, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers. Deputies said entry apparently was via an unlocked sliding glass door.

Larkspur Schools Planning To Spend Poverty Funds

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen last night told district trustees that he and his staff would soon begin thinking of projects which might qualify for the $22,000 in federal poverty funds for education available to the district.

Cohen told the board the funds cannot be incorporated into the district budget and must be used for separately approved projects.

The board commended the district administration for lowering the district tax rate "while improving the curriculum."

Trustees set Nov. 15, 16 and 17 as minimum days in district schools to give teachers time to meet with parents in the afternoons. They set Nov. 17 as date for their next meeting, to avoid conflict with the Armistice Day and Thanksgiving holidays.

Trustee Cornelia J. Perrone was asbsent.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10:25 a.m., Tamalpais — Shut off leaky water heater at 331 Robin Road.

Hollis To Discuss Russian Journey

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, will give an illustrated talk on his recent trip to Russia, at a Republican meeting at the Civic Center on Nov. 18 at 8 p.m.

This was announced last night at a meeting of the Marin County Coordinating Council of the California Republican Assembly.

Mrs. Pat Story of Terra Linda was named to coordinate and train membership drive chairmen for CRA units in the county.

Chalk Saves Slips

NEW YORK (UPI)—To keep a screwdriver from slipping out of screw slots, building specialists advised that the screwdriver tip should be chalked. Billiard chalk is ideal for the purpose.

A new VW is cheaper at twice the price.

How's that for an outrageous claim?

We knew you wouldn't believe it. So we've proved it.

Let's say you plan to keep your next car 5 years (and drive a total of 75,000 miles). Here's how it might work out:

	New Volkswagen	Used Something Else
Price	$ 1,775	$ 850
Gas @ 32¢/gal.	828 (29 mi/gal.)	1,600 (15 mi/gal.)
Tires @ $28 ea.	112 (40,000 mi/set)	336 (20,000 mi/set)
Oil @ 60¢ qt.	42 (27 qts fills it)	57 (needs 5 qts.)
Anti-freeze	0 (air-cooled eng.)	45 (water-cooled eng.)
Cost for 5 years	$ 2,757	$ 2,888

So you're at least $131 ahead if you buy the VW. (We didn't even count the extra $100 it saves on lower insurance and registration fees in many states.)

If you buy the new VW, you won't have to worry about why the first owner sold it. (And you won't have to pay for the expensive ailments that can hit an old Something Else.)

Now then. We don't have a crystal ball, but today's market is an interesting clue to the future.

After 5 years, the used car will probably be a 9-year-old candidate for the junk heap. But the VW will probably just be reaching its prime.

But you can do much better than that: Don't sell your VW at all.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

True Journeyman Chef Brings Unique Opportunity To Marin

"Chef at large" is the term to describe the professional activities of recent Marin arrival Georges van de Kerckhove, I guess. He just moved in from Newport Beach — and brought along with him a new idea in dining service.

At least it's new to me and probably to Marin County and a few other places. It should be interesting to find out how Marinites respond to it. Personally I think there's a good chance they might, and I've urged Georges to linger long enough to make a fair test.

First of all, I should tell you that although he was trained in a hotel and restaurant school in his native Belgium and several years as a chef in the fleshpots of France and Switzerland, he's rather inclined to shy away from working in restaurants these days. It's an esthetic matter. He says they tend to dull his creative instincts. A true artist, but with no objectionable temperament that I've noticed.

Now a chef without someone to eat his food is like an engineer with no bridges to build or an architect in a community of cave dwellers. So Georges simply hires out his talents and services to diners in their homes. Not as a cook, mind you, but as a chef d'cuisine, befitting his rank, for he prepares each meal in the true tradition of la cuisinier Francaise according to his own selected menu ideas.

I'll admit this is something you probably would like to reserve for special occasions, and there should be at least four of you to feed. Or six or eight or more. Any such number will do, provided you give him enough time when it comes to a full banquet.

These are details you should discuss with Georges in advance—at least a week ahead of time, or longer. He provides sample menus for your consideration, takes care of buying the food and will work with you on suggestions for a repast d'elegance.

Since he has been in the county only about two weeks, he's not listed in the phone book, but you can get his number from the information operator. He lives at 228 Laurel Place, San Rafael.

I've sampled his fare and he turns out a beautiful spread. Cheers for his consomme Madrilene — also his dessert creme caramel.

A WAITER at Bill and Adolf's West End Villa was pushing a cart past the cocktail lounge en route to the dining room a couple of weeks ago, trailing a most provocative aroma in its wake. So tantalizing it was, in fact, that two gentlemen dashed out of the lounge to trace down the source of this heavenly wafting.

"Stop. What is it? We want some of that," they demanded.

Unfortunately at that time Bill Bisson had only one clay pot in which to serve "chicken Martoni." And no one would think of serving it otherwise—for that's the way it's cooked. A whole chicken in the pot, along with spices, wine and butter—and brought to the table in the same container for carving and serving. So the two impatient diners had to lick their lips futilely and be satisfied with chicken marengo or maybe cacciatori.

But since then Bill has taken the hint and brought in more imported Italian clay pots for this delicacy. Now chicken Martoni is a regular offering—not on the menu yet, but you can order it.

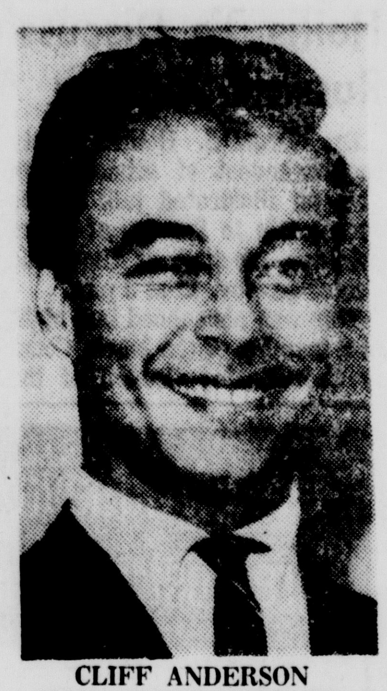
Another new specialty here is the flaming mixed grill, which includes both lamb and beef served shish kabob style. This hasn't reached the regular menu either—but can be prepared.

IN MARIN, one of the six best climes in the world (don't ask me what the other five are), it can be a problem to improve on nature. But with a large interior area such as you find at Sabella's it can also be a problem to regulate the air-conditioning so it pleases everyone.

The Sabellas think they've got it licked now, with an entirely new atmosphere control system —guaranteed to match those best days of Marin weather which the Chamber of Commerce brags about so freely.

So if you feel like spring and the weather has taken a turn for November or December, just you tell Angelo Sabella you're uncomfortable and he'll have you back in April or May in no time.

CONGA PLAYER with Los Chinitos, now alternating with the George Duke Combo at the Ark, is lively Cliff Anderson—whose name may not be Latin, but I defy you to tell the difference in his looks or playing. For several years he worked at the Copacabana in New York.



CLIFF ANDERSON
Conga player at the Ark

Dinners here Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights; lunches everyday and brunches on Sundays.

The Ark is the place with the built-in tipple, which doesn't come from the bottled merchandise sold at the bar, but from the ship's camber. That, and also the list to starboard—or is it port? No—absolutely not, it doesn't move. I don't care what you say—it's grounded fast to the shore.

FASHION SHOWS are being held every Wednesday at Cherish Inn, but this noontime affair has a slightly different twist from the usual shows I've seen at Marin County restaurants.

Instead of a single shop or couturier providing the styles, no less than eight or nine are involved. All the fashion shops in Strawberry Town and Country Village are participating — and some of the specialty shops as well.

Time is from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. It is expected to go on each Wednesday for the balance of the year at least, and may extend into 1966.

MY BOSS, Jack Craemer, back from several weeks of rambling around central Europe, gives praise to the food service available there to the cross-country automobile travelers. His principal experiences were in West Germany, where with almost no exception, he found excellent fare at the small bierstrubes, wienstrubes, geststattes, coffee shops and rathskellars. The latter are almost always a good bet, he advises. They are city hall basement restaurants and the city fathers gather there.

Inroads into Luxembourg and Belgium also brought rewarding food experiences. His comments on the "house" wines and beers served at all these places would probably cause California vintners and domestic brewers to turn a fine shade of Green Hungarian at the comparisons drawn. This, in spite of derogatory statements made from time to time about European low-cost wines.

Except for two obvious tourist traps, he reported faring sumptiously at every place he stopped. And me at my 190 plus—do you know, I can't see where he added a single pound!

Mill Valley Man Seeks Restaurant Atop Mount Tam

David Elliott Stovel of 254 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley, has applied to the State Division of Beaches and Parks for permission to build a restaurant on the top of Mount Tamalpais.

Stovel, in a letter to the Marin County Planning Department, offered to show his plans to the planning commission.

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said he would read the brief letter at Monday's commission meeting.

Dobbs said that the county actually has little to say on what goes into a state park, but Stovel evidently wanted the commission to see the proposal as a matter of courtesy.

The restaurant would be on the south slope of the mountain near the top.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

San Rafael Man Gets Wish For Jazz At His Funeral

Sims, 35, of 520 Canal Street, San Rafael, had always wanted a Dixieland funeral. He tumbled off his boat near Point San Quentin Oct. 13 late at night. His body was found 10 days later floating off a San Francisco pier.

His wife, Dorothy, and a friend, San Francisco bar owner Otis Jarman, made the arrangement with Halsted and Co., San Francisco, and a jazz quartet was waiting on the street to wail as the casket came out the door.

Mark Teel on clarinet, Sam Blank on trombone, Eddie Smith on trumpet and Pops Foster on bass let loose with "When the Saints Go Marchin' In."

Burial was in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Today the coroner's office in San Francisco revealed that Sims's blood alcohol content was .25 of one per cent. A reading of .15 is usually considered intoxicated. The coroner ruled that the death was caused by drowning.

Hub Chamber Meets

Jail Term Given To Demonstrator

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, facing a federal charge of burning his draft card, was sentenced today to serve 30 days on a charge stemming from racial demonstrations here last March.

Miller, a Lemoyne College graduate, was convicted of unlawful intrusion on private property after a nonjury trial before City Judge Robert O'Hara, who prounounced sentence.

McInnis Talks To L.A. Group

John F. McInnis, former San Rafael mayor, was principal speaker yesterday at a Los Angeles organizational meeting of the Southern California Assn. of Governments.

The association will be Southern California counterpart of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, which McInnis headed as president two years ago. However, it covers a much larger territory, including virtually all of California south of the Tehachapis.

About 170 people were present for the organizational meeting, McInnis reported.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 29, the 302nd day of 1965 with 63 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1918, units of the German fleet at Kiel began a mutiny in demand of peace negotiations with the Allies.

In 1923, Turkey became a republic.

In 1929, prices collapsed on the New York Stock Exchange and billions of dollars in stock were wiped out, which led to the great depression of the 1930s.

In 1940, Secretary of War Henry Stimson drew a number from a bowl, and the first peacetime draft had started.

A Thought for the Day — American author Mark Twain said: "One of the most striking differences between a cat and a lie is that a cat has only nine lives."

Silent Argument Well Signalled Worth More Than Many Words

Words are important not so much for diction as for contradiction, but bridge players manage to disagree without uttering a syllable.

Globetrotters can see this for themselves next February, when Israel stages its first international bridge tournament.

His partner, Jack Balaila, played the nine of hearts to call for a heart continuation, whereupon Neufeld promptly switched to the jack of diamonds.

IF HE'S RIGHT

When your partner does this in the average bridge game, the word you say to him at the end of the hand (if you wait that long) is seldom "Congratulations." In a world championship a player never complains when his signal is disregarded, as long as his partner turns out to be right.

In this case the switch was perfectly correct.

West knew that South was ready to ruff the second heart because East surely had five hearts for his overcall. East couldn't tell because West might have bid four hearts with only four-card support for hearts.

GET SETTING TRICK

Declarer had to play the queen of diamonds from dummy at the second trick, losing to the ace. Back came the eight of diamonds to force out dummy's king.

When West got in with the ace of clubs he could take the setting trick with the 10 of diamonds.

If West led a heart at the second trick, South would ruff, draw trumps and lead clubs.

Declarer would have time to discard a diamond on dummy's fourth club, thus making his contract.

It is quite all right to disregard your partner's signal when you know something about the hand that he doesn't know. Just be ready with a soothing word if it turns out that your play is wrong and his play would have worked.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Silent Argument Well Signalled Worth More Than Many Words

Words are important not so much for diction as for contradiction, but bridge players manage to disagree without uttering a syllable.

Globetrotters can see this for themselves next February, when Israel stages its first international bridge tournament.

Marin City Visitor Gets Slugged, Robbed

A Bel Marin Keys man seeking directions in Marin City late yesterday was sand-bagged from behind and robbed of $37 cash and about $2,000 in checks, he told seriff's officers.

All loot but $30 cash, however, was recovered shortly afterward.

Eulon Odell Stanley, of 100 Montego Key, said he and his wife drove to Marin City about 7:30 p.m. He left her in the car in the 200 block of Drake Avenue, he told officers, and approached a group of youths to ask directions.

One teen-aged youth said, "I will show you" and walked with Stanley to the intersection of Cole Drive and Drake Avenue.

At this point, said the victim, someone struck him over the head with what felt like a bag of sand. Five teen-aged youths then jumped on him, pinned him to the ground, and took his wallet containing the money and checks.

Two youths, James Otis Ames, 16, of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, and James Cook Jr., House 129, later approached sheriff's officers and returned the wallet containing all but the $30 cash.

Convertible Taken

Dorothy I. Holland of 865 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, reported her 1962 convertible missing from its carport this morning. The car was discovered shortly afterward by a Marin Municipal Water District worker. It was parked on Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley. The ignition had been punched out, police reported.

Alaska Nuclear Test May Be Fired Today

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — Favorable weather raised hopes today that a buried 80-kiloton thermonuclear device could be exploded after two postponements.

The $10-million test was scheduled for 4 p.m. EST. It was postponed Wednesday and yesterday because the wind was blowing from the test site toward the control tower seven miles away.

Shots Damage Sign

Someone with an air rifle shot out six floodlamps and an eight-foot neon tube outside the Leon C. Felton Volkswagen service center, 60 Hoad Street, San Rafael, the company reported today. Damage was set at $25.

Tomales Studies Night Classes

The Tomales High School District board asked last night for information of a citizen committee to study the need for an adult education program in the district.

A meeting for residents interested in serving on such a committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the high school, announced Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The board also discussed the faculty bargaining committee authorized under a recent state law. It referred the matter to the faculty for recommendations.

Expert Hiring Eyed For Bolinas Harbor

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners last night discussed hiring a consultant to plan the entire Bolinas Lagoon development, ways to avoid having to build a 7-million dollar breakwater at the lagoon's mouth, a proposed boat clubhouse, and signs to be placed in lagoon waters stating: "Wild life refuge. No shooting."

No action was taken, commissioners agreeing to hold subcommittee meetings on the items. The commission also agreed that, since its regular meeting date is on Thanksgiving Day, the board will meet next Nov. 26.

Terra Linda Students Pick Basketball Spirit Boosters

Yell and song leaders for the basketball season were elected yesterday at Terra Linda High School in what Ellen Greenberg, supervisor of elections, reported as a good turnout.

Four yell leaders were named from a field of 12 candidates. They are Penny Brady, Sandy Fedorchak, Alan Lundmark and Barb Theurer.

Others who ran for song leaders were Sue Baenziger, Marti Bolton, Cheryl Burton, Chris Coons, Jo Ann Elkin, Lori Hilliard, Pam Holcomb, Belinda Holmes, Marcia Maher, Pam Powers, Sue Schau, Sheryl Scotto, Tish Sellers, Terri Shaup and Cathy Von Lehr.

Other candidates for yell leaders were Eleanor Clement, Diana Dalton, Sherryl Kinchla, Carolyn Kitlik, Terry Lyon, Jeanne Ruhdy, Stephanie Schau and Peggy Waters.

Complaint Filed Against Women

A joint misdemeanor complaint charging two women with soliciting or engaging in prostitution in Sausalito was filed today in Marin Municipal Court.

The defendants, Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, San Francisco, and Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, were scheduled to be arraigned on the charge this afternoon.

An additional charge of keeping a house of ill fame was filed against Mrs. Benson.

Miss Donahleche, a shapely blonde, is free on $1,650 bail. Her companion made $2,750 bail.

Sausalito police said the pair engaged in a high-priced call girl operation at the Bulkley Avenue apartment. Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police was used as an undercover agent to allegedly set up a "date" with Miss Donaleche prior to the arrests Wednesday.

'66 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

MIGHTY
(New Turbo-Jet V8)
SMOOTH
(Even softer Jet-smooth ride)

NOW! '66 CHEVROLET
JET-SMOOTHER IMPALA

If you go by first impressions, you could get the idea this clean-honed new '66 is more car than you ever got in an Impala before. And you'd be absolutely right.

Take Chevrolet's newest V8's, for instance. They're based on the famed Turbo-Jet design with aircraft-type valves, freer breathing valve openings and other advances that deliver more efficient power than ever before.

Result: You can now order a 396-cubic-inch version with 325 hp. Or you can go for a 427-cubic-inch Turbo-Jet with up to 425 hp.

The ride, too, has reached a new Jet-smooth level of comfort. Chevrolet engineers went over the whole frame and body structure, refining here, honing there. They installed softer acting shock absorbers and even gave each body style its own specially tailored Full Coil springs.

And there's more in the way of those little extras—that come as standard equipment. Like backup lights, padded sun visors and instrument panel, outside rear-view mirror and windshield washer. More in the way of custom features you can order, too, including Comfortron heating and air conditioning, front-seat headrests and AM-FM stereo.

Marin City Visitor Gets Slugged, Robbed

A Bel Marin Keys man seeking directions in Marin City late yesterday was sand-bagged from behind and robbed of $37 cash and about $2,000 in checks, he told seriff's officers.

All loot but $30 cash, however, was recovered shortly afterward.

Eulon Odell Stanley, of 100 Montego Key, said he and his wife drove to Marin City about 7:30 p.m. He left her in the car in the 200 block of Drake Avenue, he told officers, and approached a group of youths to ask directions.

One teen-aged youth said, "I will show you" and walked with Stanley to the intersection of Cole Drive and Drake Avenue.

At this point, said the victim, someone struck him over the head with what felt like a bag of sand. Five teen-aged youths then jumped on him, pinned him to the ground, and took his wallet containing the money and checks.

Two youths, James Otis Ames, 16, of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, and James Cook Jr., House 129, later approached sheriff's officers and returned the wallet containing all but the $30 cash.

Convertible Taken

Dorothy I. Holland of 865 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, reported her 1962 convertible missing from its carport this morning. The car was discovered shortly afterward by a Marin Municipal Water District worker. It was parked on Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley. The ignition had been punched out, police reported.

Alaska Nuclear Test May Be Fired Today

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — Favorable weather raised hopes today that a buried 80-kiloton thermonuclear device could be exploded after two postponements.

The $10-million test was scheduled for 4 p.m. EST. It was postponed Wednesday and yesterday because the wind was blowing from the test site toward the control tower seven miles away.

Tomales Studies Night Classes

The Tomales High School District board asked last night for information of a citizen committee to study the need for an adult education program in the district.

A meeting for residents interested in serving on such a committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the high school, announced Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The board also discussed the faculty bargaining committee authorized under a recent state law. It referred the matter to the faculty for recommendations.

Expert Hiring Eyed For Bolinas Harbor

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners last night discussed hiring a consultant to plan the entire Bolinas Lagoon development, ways to avoid having to build a 7-million dollar breakwater at the lagoon's mouth, a proposed boat clubhouse, and signs to be placed in lagoon waters stating: "Wild life refuge. No shooting."

No action was taken, commissioners agreeing to hold subcommittee meetings on the items. The commission also agreed that, since its regular meeting date is on Thanksgiving Day, the board will meet next Nov. 26.

Terra Linda Students Pick Basketball Spirit Boosters

Yell and song leaders for the basketball season were elected yesterday at Terra Linda High School in what Ellen Greenberg, supervisor of elections, reported as a good turnout.

Four yell leaders were named from a field of 12 candidates. They are Penny Brady, Sandy Fedorchak, Alan Lundmark and Barb Theurer.

Others who ran for song leaders were Sue Baenziger, Marti Bolton, Cheryl Burton, Chris Coons, Jo Ann Elkin, Lori Hilliard, Pam Holcomb, Belinda Holmes, Marcia Maher, Pam Powers, Sue Schau, Sheryl Scotto, Tish Sellers, Terri Shaup and Cathy Von Lehr.

Other candidates for yell leaders were Eleanor Clement, Diana Dalton, Sherryl Kinchla, Carolyn Kitlik, Terry Lyon, Jeanne Ruhdy, Stephanie Schau and Peggy Waters.

Complaint Filed Against Women

A joint misdemeanor complaint charging two women with soliciting or engaging in prostitution in Sausalito was filed today in Marin Municipal Court.

The defendants, Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, San Francisco, and Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, were scheduled to be arraigned on the charge this afternoon.

An additional charge of keeping a house of ill fame was filed against Mrs. Benson.

Miss Donahleche, a shapely blonde, is free on $1,650 bail. Her companion made $2,750 bail.

Sausalito police said the pair engaged in a high-priced call girl operation at the Bulkley Avenue apartment. Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police was used as an undercover agent to allegedly set up a "date" with Miss Donaleche prior to the arrests Wednesday.

If you go by first impressions, you could get the idea this clean-honed new '66 is more car than you ever got in an Impala before. And you'd be absolutely right.

Take Chevrolet's newest V8's, for instance. They're based on the famed Turbo-Jet design with aircraft-type valves, freer breathing valve openings and other advances that deliver more efficient power than ever before.

Result: You can now order a 396-cubic-inch version with 325 hp. Or you can go for a 427-cubic-inch Turbo-Jet with up to 425 hp.

The ride, too, has reached a new Jet-smooth level of comfort. Chevrolet engineers went over the whole frame and body structure, refining here, honing there. They installed softer acting shock absorbers and even gave each body style its own specially tailored Full Coil springs.

And there's more in the way of those little extras—that come as standard equipment. Like backup lights, padded sun visors and instrument panel, outside rear-view mirror and windshield washer. More in the way of custom features you can order, too, including Comfortron heating and air conditioning, front-seat headrests and AM-FM stereo.

Halloween's A Glum Time If Safety Rules Forgotten

Some children will not be able to go trick-or-treating on Halloween night this year.

Some parents will miss the opportunity of sharing in the delight of the little goblins as they roam the neighborhood in their spooky costumes.

They are confined to hospitals, tragic victims of accidents or illnesses. They are all suffering pain and discomfort, some can scarcely move, and a few may never see another Halloween.

It behooves those who can participate in Halloween festivities this weekend to exercise utmost care for the safety of themselves and others.

Sure, you've heard the "same old safety rules" year in and year out. Unfortunately, there is no new or revolutionary set of safety rules to spring you out of your lethargy. We've got to depend on the same old standbys — caution, common sense and moderation.

Flammable costumes and decorations plus the careless use of a match or cigarette can create a funeral pyre in the "safety" of your own home.

On the roadways, excessive speed, careless driving, or inattention in crossing a street can transform a night of fun into a night of horror.

Costumes should be flame-proof or fire resistant. They should not be so long or loose fitting that youngsters will trip and fall.

Masks should not blot out the wearer's line of vision. If dark costumes are worn, they should be "brightened" up with reflecting tape or liquid "paint" that shines in the dark.

Illumination should be by flashlight, not candles or torches. Children should not be carrying knives or other sharp instruments.

Before they are "turned loose," children should be admonished not to damage or deface property.

We can all observe these safety tips and still enjoy Halloween.

Consider the plight of those who are unable to walk on Halloween night—all because someone was careless.

New Assembly District Sensible But Area For Senate Butchered

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE ASSEMBLY reapportionment, putting Marin with the southern portion of Sonoma County, makes geographical sense.

But they certainly butchered the senatorial district. Marin, which is at present one Senate district, must now take in Napa and most of Solano, bypassing Sonoma County.

The only contiguity between us and the other counties (Napa and Solano) is via the waters of San Pablo Bay. It's a good thing Sen. John F. McCarthy has a power boat to rush back and forth from one constituency to the other.

CHARLES P. Davies of Novato isn't talking for the record yet, but he is reported seriously considering running for the supervisor seat now held by his good friend Bill Gnoss.

Davies was one of the top supporters of Gnoss in the last election. Davies' backers apparently want a new and more outspoken voice from North Marin on the county Board of Supervisors.

IN THE RACE for California governor, the Republicans have announced candidates George Christopher of San Francisco and Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles. Still unannounced are Ronald Reagan, former Gov. Goodwin Knight, and Supervisor Warren Dorn of Los Angeles.

When "Lock" Waters appeared in Marin the other day, the consensus among local Republicans was: "Gee, what a background and wealth of experience!"

Waters has been a long-time party worker, headed the state central committee, was known as a crime buster when he fought organized crime as a U.S. attorney, seven years in the State Assembly, a fine war record.

SOME OF THEM indulged in this bit of wishful thinking: "If we could only combine Waters' background and experience with Ronald Reagan's sparkle and appeal, the Republicans would be unbeatable."

Waters is from Los Angeles, but some key members of his campaign staff are from this area. There's Ed Slevin of Terra Linda, who is his statewide campaign manager, and Jan McCoy of Palo Alto, who worked for both Nixon and Rockefeller, is his statewide press secretary.

LEADERS OF the Southern Marin Committee to Correct Unfair Taxation (CUT) are attacking the county assessor with such vehemence that this bit of speculation is making the rounds: Maybe one of the CUT officials is trying for the assessor's job.

Chairman of CUT is Edwin G. Weed, who should be well versed in property values. He's a real estate broker. Another official, who works closely with Weed, is Robert Burns, an investment broker.

Don't Go Swimming At Fort Beach

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We noticed in your paper the other day a filler eight lines long extolling the beauties of Fort Cronkhite beach. Among the attractions were included good swimming.

The beach is, as all regular users know, very dangerous to swimmers because of strong under tows. Back copies of your paper have printed stories on several occasions of fishermen being pulled off the rocks by the undertow, resulting in their deaths. The sea is sufficiently dangerous on that beach for the Army to patrol it on busy days to warn people of the swimming dangers.

Is it not somewhat hazardous of your paper to aid in the enticement of people into such waters?

Transit Means Business Loss

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Per Bill Fusselman's article of Oct. 15:

Doesn't Bill Fusselman realize the financial loss to Marin's economy if 56,000 commuters went by bus instead of their cars? The loss in products and services would be staggering.

Consider the average round trip is about 40 miles. Takes about three gallons of gas at 35 cents a gallon. If he drives a Volks he uses two. He commutes 21 days for a cost of $22.05 per month or $264 per year.

He has to service his car at least once a month or $120 per year. He uses a set of tires a year at a cost of $100.

This adds up to $484. $484 times 56,000 comes to over $2½ million!

When he drives he usually takes his lunch, think of the loss in food sales!

Of course these figures don't include his bridge tolls or parking. If he is lucky he can park for $10 a month, another $120. His tolls (are) about $144 per year. For the convenience of driving his car he spends an average of $748 per year or $62 per month, about $40 more than it would cost to ride a bus—but who wants to ride a bus.

I say let's build more bridges, bigger and wider highways, for Marin needs these dollars. We collect two ways from sales and in tax returns from sales and industry!

(I'm not in service station business.)

Marin Court House Should Be Saved

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Marin County has for years attracted residents primarily for beauty, charm and small town atmosphere. Some towns in the county are managing to retain small portions of their original beauty which the residents may enjoy. San Rafael seems to be striving toward other ends.

This writer is aware of the great influx in population and the resultant problems which are forcing us to think solely in terms of speed, housing, money, and convenient shopping centers. Our supervisors are thinking and planning for the future which is well and good, but San Rafael does have a past which is of some interest and importance.

I somehow question the advisability of the supervisors of the county having sole authority as to the disposition of the county court house, which is one of the very few remaining historic sites in Marin County. Having apparently outgrown its usefulness, after nearly 100 years as a county court house, does not in my mind immediately relegate it to bulldozers and the "headache ball."

It is one of the few examples of California architecture of the 1870s and I'm sure with some thought toward preserving part of Marin County's past, it could be put to good use. My first thought would be the Marin County Historical Society.

Perhaps the supervisors should bear in mind that there are in Marin County some individuals who would be better served by the old and beautiful being preserved and put to good use in other capacities, rather than the constant and ever-increasing desire in this county to tear down and replace.

One Municipality Is Needed Now

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This piddling around by the San Anselmo and Fairfax City Councils proves more than ever the need of ONE City and County of Marin, under ONE management . . .

These aforementioned city councils want their cake and eat it too. Let Kentfield, Greenbrae, Larkspur and Corte Madera pay for it and they will derive the benefits at no cost to them. Their districts are the main contributors of the waters inundating the lower portions of Corte Madera Creek and as such, should be held responsible for the damage done to these lower portions . . .

Think of the days when large tugs came up to what is now College Avenue . . . I can remember pleasure boats navigating these waters. Why can't it be that way again?

If the College board finds the campus a White Elephant, why waste taxpayers' money by any more building? Let the college develop its hundreds of acres in North Marin and move up there kit and kaboodle and turn the grounds over to an elementary and high school district . . . The present schools in this area are filled to capacity, and this move would eliminate the parking and traffic congestion . . . Residents cannot even get into their own property; day and night, students park at will on the streets and private parking areas because it is too long a walk to classrooms.

UNITE for ONE City and County of Marin and do away with the petty squabbling of these city councils whose attitude is "We have ours and the h--- with you."

Bouquets to the Corte Madera and Larkspur City Councils and the Board of Supervisors for backing this project and brickbats to those who oppose it.

TO THE MOST FAMOUS — and most expensive — doctor in the Hamptons came a woebegone soul who admitted at the outset he couldn't afford the $50 fee. In a good mood, the doctor reduced the tab to $40. "But, doc," pleaded the man, "I have a wife and five kids to support." The fee was lowered to $25. "For me, that's half a month's rent," sighed the man — and it was in this wise that the fee went down to $10 — and finally to five. "I'm the top specialist in my field," the doctor remonstrated, "and admittedly the highest priced. Why ever did you come to me anyhow?"

ACCUSED OF being a lazy good-for-nothing, a paunchy, virtually immobile citizen of West Virginia bridled and asserted, "You got me pegged wrong, feller. I'm a real go-getter. My wife works fourteen hours a day—then I go get 'er."

THE BRIDGE of signs:

In the window of a bank in a college town: "Stop using that greasy green stuff. Use checks instead."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Simon-Pure GOP Conservatives Wake Up, Lash Birch Tactics

WASHINGTON — There are two powerful reasons why the most conservative leaders of the Republican party — Goldwater, Nixon, Dirksen, Ford, Morton, all of them—are making a drive to free the GOP from the John Birch Society.

THEY WANT loyal Republicans to get out of the Birch Society and they want the Birch Society to leave the Republican party alone.

This is no longer the plea and the purpose only of Republican liberals or Republican moderates—like Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller. These GOP leaders, always against the Far Rightists, are being joined by the most impeccable conservatives of the party.

Today they are leading the cause of reclaiming the GOP from the extremists and these are the reasons:

They have now come to see, however tardily, that the determined will of the Birch Society is to destroy Republican conservatives as well as moderates. They realize that Birch support for such GOP conservatives as Goldwater and Miller was only a temporary, let's-get-in-the-side-door tactic, and that finally the real Birch objective has become so evident that it can no longer be ignored.

EXAMPLE: a Birch Society member is out to defeat Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota than whom there is no more authentic conservative in the party leadership. If Mundt's conservatism is unacceptable to the Birch Society and he must, therefore, be purged, it is obvious that the Birchites want everybody else out and themselves in.

There's a further reason that the Republican conservatives are now rallying against the Birchites. Naturally they want to save themselves. But they sincerely want to save the Republican party and they are convinced that the party cannot win a national election until it demonstrates that it has decisively shed the Birch influence.

IN THE WAKE of the strong lead by Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, a former GOP National Chairman, Mr. Goldwater is himself taking this stand. He now sees it as a mistake that he did not allow the Republican National Convention to adopt the anti-extremism plank offered by Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller.

He is urging that Republicans resign from the Birch Society and is hoping the Birchites will resign from the Republican party. His argument isn't that the Birch members are disloyal Americans; it is that they are disloyal Republicans.

Sen. Morton, a powerful and respected voice in Republican affairs, used to say that the best way to deal with the Birchites is to "ignore them." He frankly admits he has "changed his tune."

"As a partisan Republican," he explains, "I am concerned by the fact that the John Birch Society has picked my party—the Republican party — as the vehicle to promulgate its monolithic philosophy. In so doing, this group seems more dedicated to the defeat of Republicans than Democrats. As an American, I am convinced that the activities of the Society will weaken and endanger representative government."

Referring to the attempts by Birch Society publications to attach the label of pro-Communist to such GOP leaders as President Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles, Sen. Morton retorts: "I don't think we have any room in the Republican party for a clandestine organization engaged in character assassination."

WHEN A John Birchite set out to get Sen. Mundt, that tipped off the most conservative leaders of the GOP that cooperation with the Birch Society was impossible, that Republican survival could only rest on total separation.

Klan Facing Direct Federal Crackdown

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The federal government is preparing to move directly and forcefully against the Ku Klux Klan.

While the nature and scope of this crackdown are closely guarded, as contemplated it will be extensive and exceptional. Extraordinary measures are to be invoked against the hooded order.

THE HEADLINE disclosures of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are an important part of the Johnson administration's anti-Klan plans. The investigation is serving the dual purpose of focusing a critical searchlight on the Klan, and setting the stage for the federal drive to smash the organization.

Much of the evidence being exposed by the House committee is from Justice Department sources. The FBI infiltrated the Klan, and has voluminous information on every aspect of its operations.

Every "surprise" witness who has testified has been provided by the FBI.

Grand jury proceedings are a certainty on a number of charges, foremost among them tax evasion, misappropriation of funds, embezzlement.

Also in the works is legislation that will be vigorously pressed in the session of Congress that convenes January 10.

RIGHT UP TO the moment that Joseph DuBois, klabee (treasurer) of the Goldsboro, N.C. Klavern, took the witness stand and renounced his KKK membership, the World War II Marine combat veteran was under Klan pressure to keep him silent.

They had learned he intended to give the committee his klavern's financial records, and were bent on stopping that. Only DuBois' steely determination thwarted them.

That very night the Klan turned the heat on DuBois.

He was "talked to" by individuals and groups. Some pleaded, others bluntly threatened.

IMPERIAL WIZARD Robert Shelton and North Carolina Grand Dragon James Jones, both of whom had invoked constitutional rights scores of times in refusing to answer questions, again tackled DuBois.

"If you talk," said Jones, "you will be violating your Klan oath."

"I don't intend to violate any oath," retorted DuBois. "I am quitting the Klan."

"You'll regret what you're doing," Shelton said. "You'd better give it some more thought."

"I have," replied DuBois, "and my mind is made up. I'm going to testify."

According to committee evidence, one of the Imperial Wizard's children underwent a tonsillectomy at the Druid City Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., which is integrated. There are segregated hospitals in the area, but they were bypassed by Shelton.

Also, Shelton's Klan newspaper, the "Fiery Cross," is printed by a firm in Northport, Ala., which also publishes a Negro paper.

Don't Go Swimming At Fort Beach

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We noticed in your paper the other day a filler eight lines long extolling the beauties of Fort Cronkhite beach. Among the attractions were included good swimming.

The beach is, as all regular users know, very dangerous to swimmers because of strong under tows. Back copies of your paper have printed stories on several occasions of fishermen being pulled off the rocks by the undertow, resulting in their deaths. The sea is sufficiently dangerous on that beach for the Army to patrol it on busy days to warn people of the swimming dangers.

Is it not somewhat hazardous of your paper to aid in the enticement of people into such waters?

KENT B. DIEHL

Reader Diehl, and others are correct. The beach is suitable for surf fishermen and pebble hunters but not for swimmers.—Editor.)

Transit Means Business Loss

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Per Bill Fusselman's article of Oct. 15:

Doesn't Bill Fusselman realize the financial loss to Marin's economy if 56,000 commuters went by bus instead of their cars? The loss in products and services would be staggering.

Consider the average round trip is about 40 miles. Takes about three gallons of gas at 35 cents a gallon. If he drives a Volks he uses two. He commutes 21 days for a cost of $22.05 per month or $264 per year.

He has to service his car at least once a month or $120 per year. He uses a set of tires a year at a cost of $100.

This adds up to $484. $484 times 56,000 comes to over $2½ million!

When he drives he usually takes his lunch, think of the loss in food sales!

Of course these figures don't include his bridge tolls or parking. If he is lucky he can park for $10 a month, another $120. His tolls (are) about $144 per year. For the convenience of driving his car he spends an average of $748 per year or $62 per month, about $40 more than it would cost to ride a bus—but who wants to ride a bus.

I say let's build more bridges, bigger and wider highways, for Marin needs these dollars. We collect two ways from sales and in tax returns from sales and industry!

(I'm not in service station business.)

Marin Court House Should Be Saved

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Marin County has for years attracted residents primarily for beauty, charm and small town atmosphere. Some towns in the county are managing to retain small portions of their original beauty which the residents may enjoy. San Rafael seems to be striving toward other ends.

This writer is aware of the great influx in population and the resultant problems which are forcing us to think solely in terms of speed, housing, money, and convenient shopping centers. Our supervisors are thinking and planning for the future which is well and good, but San Rafael does have a past which is of some interest and importance.

I somehow question the advisability of the supervisors of the county having sole authority as to the disposition of the county court house, which is one of the very few remaining historic sites in Marin County. Having apparently outgrown its usefulness, after nearly 100 years as a county court house, does not in my mind immediately relegate it to bulldozers and the "headache ball."

It is one of the few examples of California architecture of the 1870s and I'm sure with some thought toward preserving part of Marin County's past, it could be put to good use. My first thought would be the Marin County Historical Society.

Perhaps the supervisors should bear in mind that there are in Marin County some individuals who would be better served by the old and beautiful being preserved and put to good use in other capacities, rather than the constant and ever-increasing desire in this county to tear down and replace.

One Municipality Is Needed Now

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This piddling around by the San Anselmo and Fairfax City Councils proves more than ever the need of ONE City and County of Marin, under ONE management . . .

These aforementioned city councils want their cake and eat it too. Let Kentfield, Greenbrae, Larkspur and Corte Madera pay for it and they will derive the benefits at no cost to them. Their districts are the main contributors of the waters inundating the lower portions of Corte Madera Creek and as such, should be held responsible for the damage done to these lower portions . . .

Think of the days when large tugs came up to what is now College Avenue . . . I can remember pleasure boats navigating these waters. Why can't it be that way again?

If the College board finds the campus a White Elephant, why waste taxpayers' money by any more building? Let the college develop its hundreds of acres in North Marin and move up there kit and kaboodle and turn the grounds over to an elementary and high school district . . . The present schools in this area are filled to capacity, and this move would eliminate the parking and traffic congestion . . . Residents cannot even get into their own property; day and night, students park at will on the streets and private parking areas because it is too long a walk to classrooms.

UNITE for ONE City and County of Marin and do away with the petty squabbling of these city councils whose attitude is "We have ours and the h--- with you."

Bouquets to the Corte Madera and Larkspur City Councils and the Board of Supervisors for backing this project and brickbats to those who oppose it.

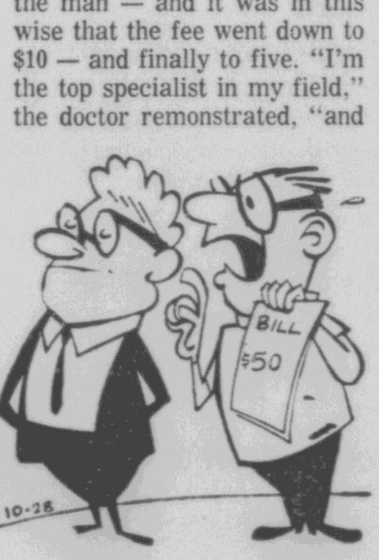
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

TO THE MOST FAMOUS — and most expensive — doctor in the Hamptons came a woebegone soul who admitted at the outset he couldn't afford the $50 fee. In a good mood, the doctor reduced the tab to $40. "But, doc," pleaded the man, "I have a wife and five kids to support." The fee was lowered to $25. "For me, that's half a month's rent," sighed the man — and it was in this wise that the fee went down to $10 — and finally to five. "I'm the top specialist in my field," the doctor remonstrated, "and admittedly the highest priced. Why ever did you come to me anyhow?"

"Because," asserted the man vehemently, "when my health is involved, MONEY IS NO OBJECT."



ACCUSED OF being a lazy good-for-nothing, a paunchy, virtually immobile citizen of West Virginia bridled and asserted, "You got me pegged wrong, feller. I'm a real go-getter. My wife works fourteen hours a day—then I go get 'er."

THE BRIDGE of signs:

In the window of a bank in a college town: "Stop using that greasy green stuff. Use checks instead."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Simon-Pure GOP Conservatives Wake Up, Lash Birch Tactics

WASHINGTON — There are two powerful reasons why the most conservative leaders of the Republican party — Goldwater, Nixon, Dirksen, Ford, Morton, all of them—are making a drive to free the GOP from the John Birch Society.

THEY WANT loyal Republicans to get out of the Birch Society and they want the Birch Society to leave the Republican party alone.

This is no longer the plea and the purpose only of Republican liberals or Republican moderates—like Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller. These GOP leaders, always against the Far Rightists, are being joined by the most impeccable conservatives of the party.

Today they are leading the cause of reclaiming the GOP from the extremists and these are the reasons:

They have now come to see, however tardily, that the determined will of the Birch Society is to destroy Republican conservatives as well as moderates. They realize that Birch support for such GOP conservatives as Goldwater and Miller was only a temporary, let's-get-in-the-side-door tactic, and that finally the real Birch objective has become so evident that it can no longer be ignored.

EXAMPLE: a Birch Society member is out to defeat Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota than whom there is no more authentic conservative in the party leadership. If Mundt's conservatism is unacceptable to the Birch Society and he must, therefore, be purged, it is obvious that the Birchites want everybody else out and themselves in.

There's a further reason that the Republican conservatives are now rallying against the Birchites. Naturally they want to save themselves. But they sincerely want to save the Republican party and they are convinced that the party cannot win a national election until it demonstrates that it has decisively shed the Birch influence.

IN THE WAKE of the strong lead by Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, a former GOP National Chairman, Mr. Goldwater is himself taking this stand. He now sees it as a mistake that he did not allow the Republican National Convention to adopt the anti-extremism plank offered by Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller.

He is urging that Republicans resign from the Birch Society and is hoping the Birchites will resign from the Republican party. His argument isn't that the Birch members are disloyal Americans; it is that they are disloyal Republicans.

Sen. Morton, a powerful and respected voice in Republican affairs, used to say that the best way to deal with the Birchites is to "ignore them." He frankly admits he has "changed his tune."

"As a partisan Republican," he explains, "I am concerned by the fact that the John Birch Society has picked my party—the Republican party — as the vehicle to promulgate its monolithic philosophy. In so doing, this group seems more dedicated to the defeat of Republicans than Democrats. As an American, I am convinced that the activities of the Society will weaken and endanger representative government."

Referring to the attempts by Birch Society publications to attach the label of pro-Communist to such GOP leaders as President Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles, Sen. Morton retorts: "I don't think we have any room in the Republican party for a clandestine organization engaged in character assassination."

WHEN A John Birchite set out to get Sen. Mundt, that tipped off the most conservative leaders of the GOP that cooperation with the Birch Society was impossible, that Republican survival could only rest on total separation.

Klan Facing Direct Federal Crackdown

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The federal government is preparing to move directly and forcefully against the Ku Klux Klan.

While the nature and scope of this crackdown are closely guarded, as contemplated it will be extensive and exceptional. Extraordinary measures are to be invoked against the hooded order.

THE HEADLINE disclosures of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are an important part of the Johnson administration's anti-Klan plans. The investigation is serving the dual purpose of focusing a critical searchlight on the Klan, and setting the stage for the federal drive to smash the organization.

Much of the evidence being exposed by the House committee is from Justice Department sources. The FBI infiltrated the Klan, and has voluminous information on every aspect of its operations.

Every "surprise" witness who has testified has been provided by the FBI.

Grand jury proceedings are a certainty on a number of charges, foremost among them tax evasion, misappropriation of funds, embezzlement.

Also in the works is legislation that will be vigorously pressed in the session of Congress that convenes January 10.

RIGHT UP TO the moment that Joseph DuBois, klabee (treasurer) of the Goldsboro, N.C. Klavern, took the witness stand and renounced his KKK membership, the World War II Marine combat veteran was under Klan pressure to keep him silent.

They had learned he intended to give the committee his klavern's financial records, and were bent on stopping that. Only DuBois' steely determination thwarted them.

That very night the Klan turned the heat on DuBois.

He was "talked to" by individuals and groups. Some pleaded, others bluntly threatened.

IMPERIAL WIZARD Robert Shelton and North Carolina Grand Dragon James Jones, both of whom had invoked constitutional rights scores of times in refusing to answer questions, again tackled DuBois.

"If you talk," said Jones, "you will be violating your Klan oath."

"I don't intend to violate any oath," retorted DuBois. "I am quitting the Klan."

"You'll regret what you're doing," Shelton said. "You'd better give it some more thought."

"I have," replied DuBois, "and my mind is made up. I'm going to testify."

According to committee evidence, one of the Imperial Wizard's children underwent a tonsillectomy at the Druid City Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., which is integrated. There are segregated hospitals in the area, but they were bypassed by Shelton.

Also, Shelton's Klan newspaper, the "Fiery Cross," is printed by a firm in Northport, Ala., which also publishes a Negro paper.

I can't swear for the authenticity of the letter, since it wasn't signed, but after I read it to the assembled group everyone agreed it was the only logical explanation as to why the president chose Mr. O'Brien for the job. it begins:

Dear Larry:

I' sorry about that Federal judgeship that I promised you, but I did tell Teddy he would have first crack at naming someone. I didn't hear about Francis X. Morrissey before I appointed Abe Fortas to the Supreme Court.

I KNOW WE'VE had a bad year on the Hill, Larry, but I don't think you're completely to blame. The 89th Congress has been dragging its feet all during the session and as far as I'm concerned any legislative body that wouldn't pass my Home Rule and 14-B bills is a do-nothing Congress in my book. I'm not saying you didn't try your best, Larry, to help me get this legislation through. But your best just wasn't good enough. I can't run this government all by myself, and if you can't help me get through just two lousy bills, I'm going to have to find myself a new boy.

NOW I DON'T want to seem ungrateful, so I've got another position to offer you. It may not have the same prestige, and you will have to give up your White House car privileges, but it's a job you don't have to be ashamed of.

I'm thinking about appointing you Postmaster General. Now before you turn it down— let me point out that this job does have a certain amount of responsibility.

Mail is important to a lot of people and you would be in charge of seeing that the right letters got to the right addresses, in a reasonable length of time — air mail in no more than a week, first class mail within the same month.

YOU WOULD ALSO be in charge of placing sons of Congressmen in summer post office jobs, which is no small chore in itself.

But your main function would be to build new post offices anywhere they are needed. I'm enclosing the plans of one I have in mind for Johnson City, Tex. You will note in the blueprints that my office should be on the top floor.

Of course as Postmaster General you would have to stay out of politics. As president I can't afford to have my Postmaster General get involved in partisan affairs. But every so often, I'll have someone fill you in on what is going on, and what I'd like you to do about it — and to whom.

LARRY, WHETHER you take the job or not, I want to tell you how grateful I am for all you've done for me during the years you worked in the White House. If it hadn't been for you I don't think I would have gotten interested in politics. But you made it sound so simple.

Your idea to give senators and congressmen free fountain pens if they voted for my bills was a stroke of genius and probably won some close ones for us, even if it did run into a little money.

Well, Larry, the Postmaster General job is yours if you want it. I don't want to persuade you one way or the other. All I can tell you is that Jack Valenti will sleep better knowing you'll be in charge of the mails. I can't make a stronger argument than that.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Commissioners' Quitting Blamed On Treatment By Supervisors

FUSSELMAN

THE WAY COMMISSIONS and committees are being treated by the majority of the supervisors it is not surprising that the two competent people are getting out of recreation commission activities. This makes four dedicated folks who have had enough, since the first of the year.

MORE AND MORE the question is being asked by the man on the street, why some of the supervisors don't devote more time to justify the $9,600 a year they are being paid. That was certainly the expectation on the part of the grand jury which made the recommendation to the legislature for the increase in salary to that amount. In order to make room for the expanding administrator department (15 or more now as compared with three in 1961), they took the County Clerk's office in the Civic Center away from him and put him in the office of the supervisor from the first district, who operates from his personal business downtown. His name was taken off the door, I have been told by citizens who attend the meetings, and the Clerk's put up instead. The pleasant offices, convenient for the citizens to have uninterrupted conferences with their supervisors, cost the taxpayers considerable money and the public is entitled to that consideration. The principal reason given for moving the courts out to the Civic Center was the convenience of having the county activities all in one place. This applies to the individual supervisor as well.

IT IS VERY obvious, in reading the stories in the press, that there is little effort being made to get first hand on-the-spot knowledge of the operation of county departments. Having the department heads in "on the carpet", as it were, is not the way to acquire good basic understanding of the county affairs. You probably noticed in the I-J, a week or so ago, that my successor on the board was pushing for a personal assistant for each member of the board, to be appointed by the individual supervisors—and this with a 15 or more administrator department staffing. This seems to indicate more of a "savant" than a "servant" complex.

THERE ARE SOME things about the Corte Madera Creek project that I have been waiting to hear disclosed. While I was on the board, we signed up on an agreement to underwrite the maintenance cost for 50 years after completion of the job. We also signed an agreement to underwrite the amount estimated as an enhancement value to the properties of the area by the improvement. It was something like $153,000. Years ago, when we had the legislature pass the law establishing the Marin Flood and Water Conservation District (the entire county), we recognized the autonomy of the cities.

THE ARMY ENGINEERS informed those councils, where presentations were made formally, that the channels could be covered with concrete and used for parking, if desired.

It is true that chain fence, in itself, is not very artistic, nor is the foundation of a dwelling. However, when the home is completed and plantings are put in, the raw lines disappear.

I RECEIVED a notice, Tuesday, from the county clerk that I had been appointed by the board to the "Citizens Advisory Committee for Community Service Project (older adults) for a term to expire on June 30, 1968". It would be a great pleasure to serve, but I am going to decline. I might do more harm than good because of my comments in this column on county affairs. It is not good to feel muzzled—even indirectly.

Talk With Skip Melcher Put One In The Mood For A Fine Halloween

The other day we met Skip Melcher, carpenter, artist and storyteller, now of Stinson Beach.

He told us about his summer living with his wife at Slide Ranch, a wonderful place where eel fishers fish located on the edge of the sea about half way between Muir and Stinson.

Called Slide because it appears to be always sliding, Melcher said "it's still sliding. The milk barn, the sheds, the concrete is pulled and broken. Everything is either being pushed down to the sea or the sea is coming to get it.

"IT IS A MAGIC place in a lot of ways," he added.

"When you are there, you are there. You are alone and you are really, truly alone. It is a good experience.

"At night you can see a little spit of the city to remind you it is still there. The front stairs are cockeyed. The living room goes up here and down here whichever way you're going. The bedroom goes off in a slant the other way.

"There are remnants of a pear and apple orchard and a huge fig tree is growing into one of the old outbuildings. Vassily Le Gros, one time chef at Farallon East, is a former resident. He practiced some kind of magic. He knew the place was haunted by a Russian warlock (a male witch).

"THERE IS A FEELING in the place that so much has gone on there and yet there are just hints of what life used to be like.

"We brought the house back to life. We did some tree trimming. My wife, also an artist, did quite a bit of painting.

"In the night there are things in the walls. We knew they were mice. There is a fog horn at night that is a special kind of warning. The house creaked and groaned. Your imagination goes a little nutty."

The Melchers had a big shepherd dog named Tough and some ducks and a goose and a bunch of eggs, said Skip. "The goose was a better watch dog than the dog. We called him Clyde of Slide.

"The whole place is taken over by thistles.

"THE COWS WERE there and sometimes they would go out and eat heather at Banducci's. We used to go out and round up the cattle. We were without water for a week once when the cows kicked the hoses loose.

"We had an eight-party telephone line. There were no doors except front and back. We put curtains up. I searched for the doors but never found them.

"There were a lot of little secret places around. They were secret because they were really secret—a place to sit at night or sleep out at night.

"WHEN WE MOVED the place came back to its original state—a place that had been abandoned.

"The day we left we sat up above the place and we thought we have been here more than 100 days. God, it was fine. Then we got in the truck and drove home to Stinson Beach."

LARRY, WHETHER you take the job or not, I want to tell you how grateful I am for all you've done for me during the years you worked in the White House. If it hadn't been for you I don't think I would have gotten interested in politics. But you made it sound so simple.

Your idea to give senators and congressmen free fountain pens if they voted for my bills was a stroke of genius and probably won some close ones for us, even if it did run into a little money.

Well, Larry, the Postmaster General job is yours if you want it. I don't want to persuade you one way or the other. All I can tell you is that Jack Valenti will sleep better knowing you'll be in charge of the mails. I can't make a stronger argument than that.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Commissioners' Quitting Blamed On Treatment By Supervisors

FUSSELMAN

THE WAY COMMISSIONS and committees are being treated by the majority of the supervisors it is not surprising that the two competent people are getting out of recreation commission activities. This makes four dedicated folks who have had enough, since the first of the year.

MORE AND MORE the question is being asked by the man on the street, why some of the supervisors don't devote more time to justify the $9,600 a year they are being paid. That was certainly the expectation on the part of the grand jury which made the recommendation to the legislature for the increase in salary to that amount. In order to make room for the expanding administrator department (15 or more now as compared with three in 1961), they took the County Clerk's office in the Civic Center away from him and put him in the office of the supervisor from the first district, who operates from his personal business downtown. His name was taken off the door, I have been told by citizens who attend the meetings, and the Clerk's put up instead. The pleasant offices, convenient for the citizens to have uninterrupted conferences with their supervisors, cost the taxpayers considerable money and the public is entitled to that consideration. The principal reason given for moving the courts out to the Civic Center was the convenience of having the county activities all in one place. This applies to the individual supervisor as well.

IT IS VERY obvious, in reading the stories in the press, that there is little effort being made to get first hand on-the-spot knowledge of the operation of county departments. Having the department heads in "on the carpet", as it were, is not the way to acquire good basic understanding of the county affairs. You probably noticed in the I-J, a week or so ago, that my successor on the board was pushing for a personal assistant for each member of the board, to be appointed by the individual supervisors—and this with a 15 or more administrator department staffing. This seems to indicate more of a "savant" than a "servant" complex.

THERE ARE SOME things about the Corte Madera Creek project that I have been waiting to hear disclosed. While I was on the board, we signed up on an agreement to underwrite the maintenance cost for 50 years after completion of the job. We also signed an agreement to underwrite the amount estimated as an enhancement value to the properties of the area by the improvement. It was something like $153,000. Years ago, when we had the legislature pass the law establishing the Marin Flood and Water Conservation District (the entire county), we recognized the autonomy of the cities.

THE ARMY ENGINEERS informed those councils, where presentations were made formally, that the channels could be covered with concrete and used for parking, if desired.

It is true that chain fence, in itself, is not very artistic, nor is the foundation of a dwelling. However, when the home is completed and plantings are put in, the raw lines disappear.

I RECEIVED a notice, Tuesday, from the county clerk that I had been appointed by the board to the "Citizens Advisory Committee for Community Service Project (older adults) for a term to expire on June 30, 1968". It would be a great pleasure to serve, but I am going to decline. I might do more harm than good because of my comments in this column on county affairs. It is not good to feel muzzled—even indirectly.

Talk With Skip Melcher Put One In The Mood For A Fine Halloween

The other day we met Skip Melcher, carpenter, artist and storyteller, now of Stinson Beach.

He told us about his summer living with his wife at Slide Ranch, a wonderful place where eel fishers fish located on the edge of the sea about half way between Muir and Stinson.

Called Slide because it appears to be always sliding, Melcher said "it's still sliding. The milk barn, the sheds, the concrete is pulled and broken. Everything is either being pushed down to the sea or the sea is coming to get it.

"IT IS A MAGIC place in a lot of ways," he added.

"When you are there, you are there. You are alone and you are really, truly alone. It is a good experience.

"At night you can see a little spit of the city to remind you it is still there. The front stairs are cockeyed. The living room goes up here and down here whichever way you're going. The bedroom goes off in a slant the other way.

"There are remnants of a pear and apple orchard and a huge fig tree is growing into one of the old outbuildings. Vassily Le Gros, one time chef at Farallon East, is a former resident. He practiced some kind of magic. He knew the place was haunted by a Russian warlock (a male witch).

"THERE IS A FEELING in the place that so much has gone on there and yet there are just hints of what life used to be like.

"We brought the house back to life. We did some tree trimming. My wife, also an artist, did quite a bit of painting.

"In the night there are things in the walls. We knew they were mice. There is a fog horn at night that is a special kind of warning. The house creaked and groaned. Your imagination goes a little nutty."

The Melchers had a big shepherd dog named Tough and some ducks and a goose and a bunch of eggs, said Skip. "The goose was a better watch dog than the dog. We called him Clyde of Slide.

"The whole place is taken over by thistles.

"THE COWS WERE there and sometimes they would go out and eat heather at Banducci's. We used to go out and round up the cattle. We were without water for a week once when the cows kicked the hoses loose.

"We had an eight-party telephone line. There were no doors except front and back. We put curtains up. I searched for the doors but never found them.

"There were a lot of little secret places around. They were secret because they were really secret—a place to sit at night or sleep out at night.

"WHEN WE MOVED the place came back to its original state—a place that had been abandoned.

"The day we left we sat up above the place and we thought we have been here more than 100 days. God, it was fine. Then we got in the truck and drove home to Stinson Beach."

CRIME REPORT

State Tally Hides Obscure Factors

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Last in a series)

Two startling figures were contained in the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics "Crime in California" report regarding crime in Marin County: a 32.5 per cent increase in felony reports last year, and a 24.5 per cent decrease in juvenile arrests.

However, statistics may be misleading.

As to the 32.5 per cent felony increase, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales pointed out that Marin remained fourth from the bottom in felony crime rate among counties with more than 100,000 population.

Percentage increase, he noted, may be deceiving.

"As pointed out by the attorney general's report," said Bales, "in a low crime rate locality, a relatively small increase will result in a substantial percentage increase. Thus in Marin County, which has always been and remains relatively free of homicide offenses, a crime rate increase of one murder in 1963 to three in 1964 is a homicide rate increase of 200 per cent."

The over-all 32.5 per cent increase reported by the state included all felonies. As the report noted, the major increase in total crimes was in burglary and auto theft.

Bales cited "a modest 6.4 per cent increase" in felony complaints filed in Marin courts last year as compared to 1963, calling this "a more reliable indication of the serious crime picture."

Complaints filed, of course, do not reflect unsolved crimes.

As to the sharp drop in juvenile arrests, at least part of it is accounted for by a change in reporting practices by the state. Sgt. Louis E. Foster Jr., juvenile bureau head for the San Rafael Police Department, pointed out that until last year, the state included traffic arrests in its compilation of juvenile arrests. Last year; this was dropped.

The 24.5 per cent drop in Marin still was at variance from the statewide picture, however.

The many statistical tables in "Crime in California" did not include one showing juvenile arrests by jurisdictions, but gave only county totals. Most of Marin's police departments reported either an increase in juvenile arrests last year or a very slight decline.

Sheriff's department figures, were not obtainable because of absence of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

Reports from police indicated there may be as sharp an upturn in juvenile arrests for 1965 as there was a downturn for 1964. The reason: primarily closer patrolling.

Since complaints rarely show whether the crime was a juvenile, the proportion of offenses by juveniles is indicated only by the arrests. Thus, juvenile crime statistics reflect how well a city or county is patrolled and how thoroughly investigations are followed up, rather than the actual extent of juvenile crime.

One Marin jurisdiction, the Corte Madera Police Department, already has made more than twice as many juvenile arrests this year as last.

Sgt. David L. Mackintosh, Corte Madera police juvenile officer, reported 123 arrests already this year, compared to totals of 52 last year and 57 in 1963.

This results, he said, from three factors: (1) closer patrolling, as he now has part-time assistance of a second officer; (2) a crackdown on juvenile shoplifters in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, and (3) a new policy by Redwood High School of suspending students more frequently, which Mackintosh noted puts more potential delinquents "on the streets."

Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur police cited another reason for a Corte Madera increase: Corte Madera police now handle cases from Redwood High which until last year were handled by Larkspur, since the high school buildings are all within Corte Madera.

Larkspur was one department with a sharp decrease in juvenile arrests last year: from 90 down to 74. Chief Clark said the number is up again this year.

Sergeant Foster also predicted an increase in juvenile arrests in San Rafael this year because of closer patrolling. He has recently been given an assistant in what was formerly a one-man juvenile bureau.

Novato police arrested many more juveniles last year than the previous year, reported Chief Robert di Grazia: 518 compared to 395.

There was little change in San Anselmo, where Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported 424 juvenile arrests last year, just two fewer than in 1963.

None of the police chiefs suggested there has been a decrease in juvenile crimes. All attributed the drop in arrests last year to changes in reporting practices or in handling of cases by other departments.

None suggested, either, that crime is decreasing in Marin, or that the 32.5 per cent felony increase reported by the state should be ignored. Their consensus: as Marin grows more urban, tighter police patrol and more thorough crime investigation are required.

Bret Harte Sewer Bill May Be Cut By Board

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board last night moved closer toward formation of a sewer assessment district in the Bret Harte area to eliminate health hazards created by septic tanks.

After a two-hour public hearing before about 45 residents, directors said they will act on formation of a district at their Dec. 2 meeting.

Major unresolved question was whether the district will be as large as proposed.

In an informal hand vote, the majority of residents present indicated they were in favor of forming a district. Two were opposed. Thirteen said they were doubtful about being included in the district and wanted specific evidence that a health hazard existed in their sector before they would favor it.

Engineer Daniel P. Coleman presented plans for the proposed district, affecting about 85 property owners along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane.

The cost of an "all gravity system" would be about $227,000, Coleman said. "That doesn't include the acquisition of easements."

The assessment would be $1500 a connection, Coleman said. "If there's one house on the lot, it would be $1,500, but if there's two, it's $3,000."

Aside from the assessment, each property owner would have to pay from $4 to $5 a foot to install a sewer line on his property and a $125 connection fee to the district.

In apartment areas the assessment cost per unit would be two-thirds of that in a single-family area, Coleman said.

Most residents agreed that sewer facilities are needed at the east or "lower end" of the proposed district, but a group of residents frm the "upper end" said they were not convinced the system is needed there.

Robert W. Sieker Jr. of 121 Bret Harte Road said, "I'm not against the district, but I am against spending my money for something I don't need."

Sieker said many homes in his area have been constructed in the past three to five years and owners have spent $1,000 or more to install septic tank facilities. "We have all put out good money and I'd like to stay on septic tanks as long as possible," he said.

Several other residents urged formation of the district. One man said, "If they (health officers) say there's a health problem, we damn well better put in sewers."

The board received a petition from six Tiburon Boulevard property owners asking that they be excluded from the district.

Sanitation District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said the county health department is concerned about the health hazard and "has directed the board to do something to correct it."

He presented a letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, recommending that the district undertake proceedings to construct sewers.

Chairman Fred E. Jensen said Bret Harte area residents had petitioned the board to form the district, then the original study area was enlarged to include Bret Harte Heights.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a district director, said it is only a matter of time before the entire area will become part of the sewer system.

"There is no doubt that there is a need for the system in the lower area, but some there doubt there is a need in the upper area," Storer said.

He suggested that the board delay decision for a month so the county health department could check the upper area "and come in with evidence of need."

Coleman said that some areas could be cut out of the proposed district without changing the individual cost to the remaining homeowners, but "you couldn't take lots out in the middle of the line."

Jensen asked the engineers and assessment attorney Edwin N. Ness to bring in figures on a "split district" at the Dec. 2 meeting—that is a split between the upper and lower portions of the proposed district.

Bruce McKenzie, 147 Tiburon Boulevard, suggested the board investigate the possibility of obtaining federal and state grants for the project.

Monday Is Deadline For Employer Report

Monday is the deadline for filing state unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the third quarter of 1965, according to Charles J. Brady, state Department of Employment auditor in San Rafael.

Penalty and interest will be charged those who file late reports.

Lawson's Landing Owners Sued For Slip In Manure

Two Marin County couples, owners of Lawson's Landing at Dillon Beach, are being sued by a woman who alleges she stepped in cow manure there, slipped and was injured.

Plaintiffs Helen Nell and Orville Gordon, in a suit in Marin Superior Court by their attorney, Kem Tindall of Auburn, charge that Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Lawson were negligent in permitting the substance to remain just outside a rest room at the camp grounds there last Nov. 26.

Mrs. Ervin said the fall resulted in her suffering a broken ankle and other injuries. She asks $16,529 in damages.

Bret Harte Sewer Bill May Be Cut By Board

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board last night moved closer toward formation of a sewer assessment district in the Bret Harte area to eliminate health hazards created by septic tanks.

After a two-hour public hearing before about 45 residents, directors said they will act on formation of a district at their Dec. 2 meeting.

Major unresolved question was whether the district will be as large as proposed.

In an informal hand vote, the majority of residents present indicated they were in favor of forming a district. Two were opposed. Thirteen said they were doubtful about being included in the district and wanted specific evidence that a health hazard existed in their sector before they would favor it.

Engineer Daniel P. Coleman presented plans for the proposed district, affecting about 85 property owners along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane.

The cost of an "all gravity system" would be about $227,000, Coleman said. "That doesn't include the acquisition of easements."

The assessment would be $1500 a connection, Coleman said. "If there's one house on the lot, it would be $1,500, but if there's two, it's $3,000."

Aside from the assessment, each property owner would have to pay from $4 to $5 a foot to install a sewer line on his property and a $125 connection fee to the district.

In apartment areas the assessment cost per unit would be two-thirds of that in a single-family area, Coleman said.

Most residents agreed that sewer facilities are needed at the east or "lower end" of the proposed district, but a group of residents frm the "upper end" said they were not convinced the system is needed there.

Robert W. Sieker Jr. of 121 Bret Harte Road said, "I'm not against the district, but I am against spending my money for something I don't need."

Sieker said many homes in his area have been constructed in the past three to five years and owners have spent $1,000 or more to install septic tank facilities. "We have all put out good money and I'd like to stay on septic tanks as long as possible," he said.

Several other residents urged formation of the district. One man said, "If they (health officers) say there's a health problem, we damn well better put in sewers."

The board received a petition from six Tiburon Boulevard property owners asking that they be excluded from the district.

Sanitation District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said the county health department is concerned about the health hazard and "has directed the board to do something to correct it."

He presented a letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, recommending that the district undertake proceedings to construct sewers.

Chairman Fred E. Jensen said Bret Harte area residents had petitioned the board to form the district, then the original study area was enlarged to include Bret Harte Heights.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a district director, said it is only a matter of time before the entire area will become part of the sewer system.

"There is no doubt that there is a need for the system in the lower area, but some there doubt there is a need in the upper area," Storer said.

He suggested that the board delay decision for a month so the county health department could check the upper area "and come in with evidence of need."

Coleman said that some areas could be cut out of the proposed district without changing the individual cost to the remaining homeowners, but "you couldn't take lots out in the middle of the line."

Jensen asked the engineers and assessment attorney Edwin N. Ness to bring in figures on a "split district" at the Dec. 2 meeting—that is a split between the upper and lower portions of the proposed district.

Bruce McKenzie, 147 Tiburon Boulevard, suggested the board investigate the possibility of obtaining federal and state grants for the project.

Monday Is Deadline For Employer Report

Monday is the deadline for filing state unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the third quarter of 1965, according to Charles J. Brady, state Department of Employment auditor in San Rafael.

Penalty and interest will be charged those who file late reports.

Lawson's Landing Owners Sued For Slip In Manure

Two Marin County couples, owners of Lawson's Landing at Dillon Beach, are being sued by a woman who alleges she stepped in cow manure there, slipped and was injured.

Plaintiffs Helen Nell and Orville Gordon, in a suit in Marin Superior Court by their attorney, Kem Tindall of Auburn, charge that Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Lawson were negligent in permitting the substance to remain just outside a rest room at the camp grounds there last Nov. 26.

Mrs. Ervin said the fall resulted in her suffering a broken ankle and other injuries. She asks $16,529 in damages.

COURT CENSURES DRESS—Carolee Fashbaugh was barred from appearing in divorce hearings in Los Angeles Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff's court yesterday, until she went home and changed from her carhop's costume (right) to more conventional garb. (AP Wirephoto)

Divorce Delayed For Costume Swap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Carolee Fashbaugh tripped prettily to the bench to be sworn in—and Judge Roger Alton Pfaff blew up.

"Oh no," he said. "I'm not a stickler for decorum, but I draw the line here. I'll not let anyone come into my court and testify in a pair of pajamas or pedal pushers.

"You go dress up like a lady, and I'll hear your case," he told Mrs. Fashbaugh, a 21-year-old carhop, who was wearing yellow bell-bottom slacks, a striped sweater and open sandals. She had come to Superior Court to testify in her divorce suit yesterday.

"If you want to get a divorce today, you run out and buy yourself a dress," said the judge.

She did. And it cost her $14 at a nearby store.

She came back wearing the creation, a peach-colored cotton shift, and Judge Pfaff prompty exploded again, telling her attorney:

"Will you take your client out in the hall and tell her how to behave—not to stick her tongue out at the judge and not to make faces at the court."

Mrs. Fashbaugh replied, demurely, that she only wrinkled her nose and perhaps looked a little sour.

Her case was finally heard — and she was granted a default decree from Arthur E. Fashbaugh, 27, a roofer.

Key Gone, Then Car

A 1964 gold-colored sedan was reported stolen yesterday from the lot of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, 423 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael. A worker at the agency said the key to the car was noticed missing earlier in the day, San Rafael police said.

Angel Isle Urged As Tourist Spa

Development of Marin's Angel Island State Park into a tourist resort replete with hotels, swimming pools, yacht harbors and other concession-run operations was urged yesterday by San Francisco County Supervisor William C. Blake.

Blake ridiculed the lack of water-taxi service to the island. "Lt. Don Juan de Ayala, the man who first explored San Francisco Bay, visited Angel Island in 1775—nobody has been able to get there since then," he scoffed at the board's weekly meeting.

Blake told newsmen that he will urge San Francisco supervisors to approve a resolution asking the State to carry out a three-year-old program calling for spending up to one million dollars for development of the state park on the island.

Santa Clara Studies Fairchild Tax Report

SAN JOSE (AP) — The Santa Clara County counsel says he will confer with officers of the Fairchild Semiconductor Division to try to reconcile apparent tax report differences.

Counsel Spencer Williams said Thursday that the Mountain View electronics firm supplied accurate inventory information to its property tax consultant, James C. Tooke of Castro Valley. But, Williams told the county supervisors, Tooke "prepared, signed and filed affidavits showing substantially different amounts."

The Fairchild division appeared to have escaped $200,000 in taxes through an affidavit undervaluing its personal property by $3 million, Williams said. Fairchild Semiconductor is a division of Fairchild Camera and Instrument Co.

(In Marin County the electronics firm has already paid back taxes after it was discovered the company had been underassessed by about 1.3 million dollars. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel billed the firm $36,885 in back taxes and penalties, but the Board of Supervisors cancelled the penalties, amounting to $7,377.12.)

Tooke has been the center of statewide investigations into county tax assessors' practices. A former employe turned over Tooke's records to John Thorpe, a Castro Valley attorney.

The records were later studied by Alameda County Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley and officials from other counties. Grand jury investigations resulted in indictments charging Russell L. Wolden, San Francisco assessor, and Donald E. Feragen, Alameda County assessor, with accepting bribes.

Cannon Safe Job Loot $416,028

An audit of the firm's receipts yesterday showed that the weekend theft included $160,774.13 in cash and $255,254.15 in checks.

The loot was in sealed bags picekd up from businesses Friday night and Saturday morning to be distributed to banks on Monday.

WANTED — Sheriff's office composite drawing is from a description of the man who attacked Mrs. Joseph De Martini of Sausalito Wednesday, slapping, choking and hitting her with a hammer. This man, who was accompanied by another man, is 30 to 40 years of age, six feet tall, weighs 190-200 pounds. He wore a pink shirt, stole $31 from Mrs. De Martini's pocketbook.

College Visit Set

Brian Fitch, admissions counselor at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., will visit Terra Linda High School at 8:30 a.m. and San Rafael High School at 10 a.m. Tuesday to talk with interested students about the college.

Goldstein Shows Some Recovery

Publicist Peter L. Goldstein is beginning to respond to doctors' efforts to save his life at Marin General Hospital, but his condition remains critical.

After lying unconscious and critically ill for more than a week in the intensive care unit, Goldstein was reported today to be showing slight signs of awareness.

"Sometimes he is half awake and then drifts back," a hospital spokesman said.

Goldstein, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, suffered severe head injuries Oct. 19 in a freak auto accident on the Waldo Grade.

Waldo Grade Crash Injures Motorist

William C. Hicks, 42, was cut on the lip when his car went off Highway 101 just south of the Waldo Tunnel at 8 a.m. yesterday and crashed into a drainage ditch, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Money Lost

Israel Whittaker of Lagunitas Road, Lagunitas, told San Rafael police yesterday he had lost a wallet containing $50 in cash and $1,000 in traveler's checks somewhere between Mill Valley and San Rafael.

An audit of the firm's receipts yesterday showed that the weekend theft included $160,774.13 in cash and $255,254.15 in checks.

The loot was in sealed bags picekd up from businesses Friday night and Saturday morning to be distributed to banks on Monday.

WANTED — Sheriff's office composite drawing is from a description of the man who attacked Mrs. Joseph De Martini of Sausalito Wednesday, slapping, choking and hitting her with a hammer. This man, who was accompanied by another man, is 30 to 40 years of age, six feet tall, weighs 190-200 pounds. He wore a pink shirt, stole $31 from Mrs. De Martini's pocketbook.

College Visit Set

Brian Fitch, admissions counselor at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., will visit Terra Linda High School at 8:30 a.m. and San Rafael High School at 10 a.m. Tuesday to talk with interested students about the college.

Goldstein Shows Some Recovery

Publicist Peter L. Goldstein is beginning to respond to doctors' efforts to save his life at Marin General Hospital, but his condition remains critical.

After lying unconscious and critically ill for more than a week in the intensive care unit, Goldstein was reported today to be showing slight signs of awareness.

"Sometimes he is half awake and then drifts back," a hospital spokesman said.

Goldstein, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, suffered severe head injuries Oct. 19 in a freak auto accident on the Waldo Grade.

Waldo Grade Crash Injures Motorist

William C. Hicks, 42, was cut on the lip when his car went off Highway 101 just south of the Waldo Tunnel at 8 a.m. yesterday and crashed into a drainage ditch, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Hicks, of 436 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, was to see his own physician.

Money Lost

Israel Whittaker of Lagunitas Road, Lagunitas, told San Rafael police yesterday he had lost a wallet containing $50 in cash and $1,000 in traveler's checks somewhere between Mill Valley and San Rafael.

Caribbean Terrace Scheme Wins Acclaim For Designer

By MOLLY MARIN

Mrs. Charles P. Davies (Elizabeth Banning) of Indian Valley Ranch, Novato is among those singled out in the current issue of the House and Garden Magazine. The magazine features colorful room settings by several A. I. D. members who participated in the Tour of Decor put on by the Women's Board of the San Francisco Museum of Art this spring. Mrs. Davies' arrangement was an elegant Caribbean Terrace which could be transformed by adding a roof for a dining room. Elizabeth Banning is among the Marin women listed in Who's Who in American Women and also Who's Who of America and Who's Who International.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT PRITCHARD of Lucas Valley will entertain five couples at a cocktail party prior to the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary Charity Ball at the Meadow Club tomorrow night. Guests include Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Haag, Messrs and Mesdames Gordon Walker, Paul O'Pizzi and Arthur Lindauer of Marin Country Club Estates and Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Silvestri Jr. of The Reedlands.

THE MATHEW PERRYS' home in Sausalito has been the scene of two parties recently.

Sunday they were hosts at a dinner party for 28 guests following the christening at the Star of the Seas church of a new granddaughter, Paulette Lynne Jukich, daughter of the Leonard P. Jukiches of Sausalito.

The baby, who was born on June 30, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Perry and Paul E. Jukich of San Rafael and Mrs. Wanda Maguire of Mill Valley and Byron Mills of San Francisco. Her godparents are Mrs. Elmo Maggiora of Sausalito and Alfred Grossi of Inverness.

Last week Mr. Perry, now retired after 40 years as chief of the Sausalito Fire Department, was feted at a dinner party given by his wife honoring his 63rd birthday. Twelve relatives and friends attended.

MRS. PHILLIP KENNEDY of San Rafael returned from a short stay in New York and Poughkeepsie where she visited her daughter, Sheila, a sophomore at Vassar. While at Vassar, Mrs. Kennedy enjoyed hearing her daughter sing in the chapel choir.

THE ARCHER FORSYTHS have returned to Mill Valley from a ten-day trip south as far as Coronado. They celebrated their 17th wedding anniversary with former Mill Valley residents the Purcell Weavers, now living in Santa Barbara.

A FLIGHT to Honolulu, visits to nearby islands of Maui and Hawaii and a voyage home on the S.S. Lurline was the fall vacation of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orrick III of Ross.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BIRKIE (the former Constance Gardiner) have returned after a month of European travel.

FOR THE SPEAKER

Mrs. William Bacon, left, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn., pinned a corsage on state president Mrs. Marie Kuck of San Francisco with Mrs. John Harvey vice president, looking on yesterday. Mrs. Kuck was guest speaker at the monthly luncheon meeting which was held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

Newlyweds Residing In Panama City

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fidanque of Sausalito have just returned from attending their son's wedding in Panama City, Panama, which took place on Oct. 21.

Their son, Joseph Fidanque Jr. claimed as his bride, the former Myra Maduro of Panama City, in a ceremony at the Temple Kol Shearith Israel that was followed by a reception at the Continental Hotel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Baduro of Panama City. She was educated at Golf Park College in Mississippi and the University of Miami.

The bridegroom attended Webb School in Claremont, was graduated in business administration from the University of Pennsylvania and received his master's degree in economics from the University of Southern California.

The young people are living in Panama City, where he is employed with the firm of Fidanque Brothers and Sons.

Let Doctor Choose Antibiotic Needed

Three children on the same block come down with sore throats and fevers. Dr. A. prescribes penicillin for Susie Jones. Dr. B. orders a different antibiotic for Mary Brown. And Dr. C. skips antibiotics altogether in treating Tommy Smith.

The mothers compare notes on the telephone and ask, "Which doctor is right?"

All three are. What the mothers — and many Americans— don't understand is that antibiotics don't work at all against some diseases, or that more than one antibiotic can be effective against the same disease and that the same antibiotic often works differently in different people and diseases.

It takes a physician's skill and judgment to decide who gets which antibiotic, and when to refrain from prescribing any.

IN THE LAST TWENTY YEARS, antibiotics have revolutionized the treatment of infectious diseases — pneumonia, scarlet fever, appendicitis, the infections that led to rheumatic fever, mastoids and many other dangerous conditions. So miraculous are these new "wonder drugs" that many Americans today expect—and even demand—that they be treated with an antibiotic for almost any kind of infection and are surprised when a doctor is reluctant to prescribe one.

Experts Say Charm May Be Acquired

Though nearly everyone recognizes a charming person when he meets one, most people have the wrong idea about what charm is.

So say a panel of 12 experts, including Eileen Ford, director of one of the world's best known model agencies . . . Anita Colby, formerly charm consultant for a major film studio . . . Letitia Baldrige, Social Secretary to the White House during the Kennedy years. The panel was consulted by a store in the formation of its new School for Young Charmers.

The common mistake, according to these authorities, is to regard charm as a mysterious, heaven-sent gift bestowed on a fortunate few. Actually, charm is largely a matter of knowing-how. Knowing how to be mannerly wherever you go. Knowing how to appreciate the arts. Knowing how to acquire a pleasing voice. In sum, knowing how to become a completely charming person. This is know-how that anyone of any age can acquire.

The first step is a self evaluation. This "charm checklist" can help you determine your present Charm Quotient, and perhaps show you where improvement is needed.

"NO ONE HAS friends. Everybody must make friends, says Anita Colby. The more genuinely friendly you are, the more of these questions will get "yes" answers:

1. Are you willing to take the initiative in making new friends instead of standoffishly waiting for others to make the first move?
2. Are you open-minded about seeking friends among people older or younger than yourself?
3. Do you flatter others by seeking their advice?
4. Consciously try to be considerate? (This means keeping promises, telephoning before you "drop in," returning borrowed items promptly).
5. Do you show interest in others by reacting—with excitement, sympathy or other appropriate emotion—to what they tell you?

WHAT IS BEAUTY? "It's a matter of thinking beautiful!" says Eileen Ford. "You must be aware of yourself at all times." And here are some things to be aware of:

1. Is your posture graceful? Your back should be straight and strong, neck held high, rib cage lifted up and out of waist, "derriere" tucked under, knees slightly bent.
2. Are your hair style and make-up simple, natural, and aimed at bringing out your best features—not those of your favorite model or movie star?
3. Is your wardrobe well-planned, well-coordinated, carefully chosen to flatter your particular figure no matter what current fads decree?
4. Do you refuse to wear an outfit unless it's bandbox-fresh: seams not popping open, spots and strains banished, shoes well-heeled and shined?
5. Have you worked at eliminating any figure faults that spoil your silhouette and make you self-conscious? (This means diet and exercise!)

"YOUR SPEECH and speaking voice can be as attractive as you are, so that you are a delight to the ear," says Maxeda von Hesse, who has taught the arts of good speech to over 35,000 men and women. In the lesson on "Voice," see how you rate:

1. Is there vitality and enthusiasm in your voice?
2. Do you sound friendly—interested in other people?

Experts Say Charm May Be Acquired

Though nearly everyone recognizes a charming person when he meets one, most people have the wrong idea about what charm is.

So say a panel of 12 experts, including Eileen Ford, director of one of the world's best known model agencies . . . Anita Colby, formerly charm consultant for a major film studio . . . Letitia Baldrige, Social Secretary to the White House during the Kennedy years. The panel was consulted by a store in the formation of its new School for Young Charmers.

MARIN FILM FARE

Hallelujah Trail Spoofs Westerns

By LES DARD

Let's take a swing around Marin area movie houses and see what there is to see this weekend:

RAFAEL THEATER

Burt Lancaster and Lee Remick take on comedy roles in "The Hallelujah Trail," a BIG western spoof now on screen.

Both laughs and action center around the convergance of a multitude of opposing forces.

Running low on liquor, the citizens of Denver want to insure a good supply for the winter months. So a sturdy businessman aims to drive a wagon train of booze through dangerous terrain in order to keep Denver wet, and earn a nice profit.

He enlists the aid of the Cavalry to protect the wagon train from thirsty Indians who have heard of its cargo. Meanwhile, along comes a ladies temperance society, trying to keep demon rum away from everybody. Another group of Cavalry is dispatched to watch over the women. Around about now, the miners in Denver are getting anxious about their booze, and set out to insure its delivery.

All six nutty groups arrive, or rather, descend, on a little pesthole called Quicksand Bottoms, near the South Platte River. In a terrific sandstorm, a battle of monumental proportions ensues.

When the dust clears, the confused combatants find that no one was even hurt, on any side.

This will suggest the centent, pace and comedy of "Hallelujah Trail."

Fine escapism and great fun.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Producer-director Stanley Kramer's greatest filmatic achievement is opening Sunday. Katherine Anne Porter's "Ship of Fools," an epic tale of humanity in turmoil has been made into a film, slightly less complex and confusing, but nevertheless, one of the best shows in town.

On the German boat Vera, returning home from Vera Cruz about the time Hitler ascends to power, we find an international cast of great talent.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Sean Connery stars in "The Hill," a ruthless, harsh drama that borders on the sadistic, now playing.

The hill of the title is a man-made torture device of rock and sand that sits in the middle of a military prison stockade. If someone breaks the rules, he is forced to climb it, in the boiling sun, with full pack and at the top speed he can manage. Then he must go up and down, up and down, until finally, mercifully, collapses.

101 DRIVE-IN

Surrounding the platinum centerpiece are Red Buttons, Peter Lawford, Angela Lansbury and Raf Vallone. We follow her career from the early 1930's when stardom was just a dream, until her tragic death at age 26.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Now on screen are two hits from a short time ago, both starring Melina Mercouri.

A roaring comedy at its best, "Never On Sunday" is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a prostitute (Melina Mercouri). He considers her the symbol of the Greek decline and reasons if he can save her, he can save the world.

Secondly, there's "Topkapi," a funny thriller set in Greece and Turkey.

Miss Mercouri stars as a nymph who loves (1) men, and (2) jewels. She covets a jewelled dagger in the Topkapi Museum in Istanbul, and persuades an old flame, Maximillian Schell, to undertake the theft.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

He is reduced to guiding Mexican bus tours, and his present one includes Sue Lyon, a teenager who throws herself at him, and a spinster obsessed with the girl and jealous of Burton.

Co-featured is "Joy House," starring Jane Fonda.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Living It Up" is a zany entry that gets off to a bang start when Jerry misunderstands his doctor and thinks he is going to die of radiation poisoning. It's fun from there on in.

Also here is "Pardners," a western spoof that was a big hit some years back.

LARK THEATER

The wild, fast-paced film opens with Belmondo playing in a Parisian jazz band until his ex-wife, Miss Moreau, lures him into joining her in a double swindle.

Never a dull moment as the film whips from Paris, to Brittany, to the Cote d'Azur.

NOVATO THEATER

Basically, this is the story of a dog and his devotion to a frontier family. The hearty animal's will to serve his young masters and protect them makes a tale to rend the hearts of young and old. The tragic climax is eloquent in its simple beauty.

African, Asian Talks May Fail

ALGIERS (AP) — African and Asian leaders were reported having second thoughts today about holding a summit conference without Communist China. They were reported looking for a face-saving way to abandon the meeting scheduled to open Nov. 5 in Algiers.

With representatives of only half of the 65 invited countries on hand, foreign ministers set a plenary session for tomorrow to decide whether to go ahead with the conference.

China said a week ago the summit should be put off because it would be faced with insoluble problems, such as the dispute over inviting "a country which is neither African nor Asian" — the Soviet Union.

Audubons To Hear Conservation Leader

Huey Johnson, western regional director of Nature Conservancy, will speak on "The Role of Non-Government Conservation" before the Marin Aubudon Society at 8 p.m. Friday in the supervisors' chamber at the Civic Center.

Johnson, a biologist, worked as a fisheries biologist prior to accepting his present position about two years ago.

Run Extended To Nov. 28 For 'Our Town'

San Anselmo's Festival Theater will continue its presentation of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" through Nov. 28, theater officials announced.

Costumes for the presentation were designed by free lance theater designer Belle Edidin of San Francisco. Miss Edidin also designed costumes for the theater's performance last year of "A Man for All Seasons."

Performances are on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. The theater is at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Trio Indicted In License Fraud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State investigators report that foreign-born persons allegedly obtained drivers' licenses illegally through a former Motor Vehicles Department examiner and two other persons.

The former examiner, Russell Woolfolk Jr., 43; John Nunes, 43, and Mrs. Lillian Young, 60, were indicted yesterday on charges of conspiracy to issue drivers' licenses illegally.

The investigators said license applicants from all over Southern California—many of whom were unable to read, speak or write English—paid $25 to $50 to obtain licenses at the department's Compton office.

Boy Hurt As Car Slows Suddenly

A 4-year-old Strawberry Point boy suffered a bruised forehead at 1:30 p.m. yesterday when the driver of the car in which he was a passenger slammed on the brakes to avoid hitting another car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Wilma J. Ertle, 42, of 302 Richardson Way, Strawberry, was driving east on Marin Avenue 75 feet east of Richardson Way when a westbound car rounded a curve and crossed into the eastbound lane. Mrs. Ertle hit the breaks, and her passenger, Kevin Bell, 4, of 304 Richardson Way, was thrown against the instrument panel. He was treated by a Sausalito doctor.

Two anchors reputed to be from Columbus' shipwrecked flagship, Santa Maria, are on display in Haitian museums. The caravel reportedly carried seven anchors in all.

101 DRIVE-IN

Surrounding the platinum centerpiece are Red Buttons, Peter Lawford, Angela Lansbury and Raf Vallone. We follow her career from the early 1930's when stardom was just a dream, until her tragic death at age 26.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Now on screen are two hits from a short time ago, both starring Melina Mercouri.

A roaring comedy at its best, "Never On Sunday" is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a prostitute (Melina Mercouri). He considers her the symbol of the Greek decline and reasons if he can save her, he can save the world.

Secondly, there's "Topkapi," a funny thriller set in Greece and Turkey.

Miss Mercouri stars as a nymph who loves (1) men, and (2) jewels. She covets a jewelled dagger in the Topkapi Museum in Istanbul, and persuades an old flame, Maximillian Schell, to undertake the theft.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

He is reduced to guiding Mexican bus tours, and his present one includes Sue Lyon, a teenager who throws herself at him, and a spinster obsessed with the girl and jealous of Burton.

Co-featured is "Joy House," starring Jane Fonda.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Living It Up" is a zany entry that gets off to a bang start when Jerry misunderstands his doctor and thinks he is going to die of radiation poisoning. It's fun from there on in.

Also here is "Pardners," a western spoof that was a big hit some years back.

LARK THEATER

The wild, fast-paced film opens with Belmondo playing in a Parisian jazz band until his ex-wife, Miss Moreau, lures him into joining her in a double swindle.

Never a dull moment as the film whips from Paris, to Brittany, to the Cote d'Azur.

Basically, this is the story of a dog and his devotion to a frontier family. The hearty animal's will to serve his young masters and protect them makes a tale to rend the hearts of young and old. The tragic climax is eloquent in its simple beauty.

African, Asian Talks May Fail

ALGIERS (AP) — African and Asian leaders were reported having second thoughts today about holding a summit conference without Communist China. They were reported looking for a face-saving way to abandon the meeting scheduled to open Nov. 5 in Algiers.

With representatives of only half of the 65 invited countries on hand, foreign ministers set a plenary session for tomorrow to decide whether to go ahead with the conference.

China said a week ago the summit should be put off because it would be faced with insoluble problems, such as the dispute over inviting "a country which is neither African nor Asian" — the Soviet Union.

Audubons To Hear Conservation Leader

Huey Johnson, western regional director of Nature Conservancy, will speak on "The Role of Non-Government Conservation" before the Marin Aubudon Society at 8 p.m. Friday in the supervisors' chamber at the Civic Center.

Johnson, a biologist, worked as a fisheries biologist prior to accepting his present position about two years ago.

Run Extended To Nov. 28 For 'Our Town'

San Anselmo's Festival Theater will continue its presentation of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" through Nov. 28, theater officials announced.

Costumes for the presentation were designed by free lance theater designer Belle Edidin of San Francisco. Miss Edidin also designed costumes for the theater's performance last year of "A Man for All Seasons."

Performances are on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. The theater is at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Trio Indicted In License Fraud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State investigators report that foreign-born persons allegedly obtained drivers' licenses illegally through a former Motor Vehicles Department examiner and two other persons.

The former examiner, Russell Woolfolk Jr., 43; John Nunes, 43, and Mrs. Lillian Young, 60, were indicted yesterday on charges of conspiracy to issue drivers' licenses illegally.

The investigators said license applicants from all over Southern California—many of whom were unable to read, speak or write English—paid $25 to $50 to obtain licenses at the department's Compton office.

Boy Hurt As Car Slows Suddenly

A 4-year-old Strawberry Point boy suffered a bruised forehead at 1:30 p.m. yesterday when the driver of the car in which he was a passenger slammed on the brakes to avoid hitting another car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Wilma J. Ertle, 42, of 302 Richardson Way, Strawberry, was driving east on Marin Avenue 75 feet east of Richardson Way when a west-bound car rounded a curve and crossed into the eastbound lane. Mrs. Ertle hit the breaks, and her passenger, Kevin Bell, 4, of 304 Richardson Way, was thrown against the instrument panel. He was treated by a Sausalito doctor.

Two anchors reputed to be from Columbus' shipwrecked flagship, Santa Maria, are on display in Haitian museums. The caravel reportedly carried seven anchors in all.

EXPANDED REDWOOD HIGH—Redwood High School on the Larkspur-Corte Madera line—now the portion surrounded by the broken line in this picture—will grow to fill the whole picture if $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue is approved by voters on Nov. 16. Drawing by architect Ralph B. Priestley shows how campus will be expanded. It will be the second expansion for Redwood High since it opened in 1958.

Redwood High Full By '67

(Last in a series)

In 1967, a decade after groundbreaking, Redwood High School will become a completed school for 3,000 students—if the Tamalpais High School District bond issue passes on Nov. 16.

The third stage of construction will add classrooms, shop, laboratory and physical education space for an additional 900 students over Redwood's present capacity of 2,100. Enrollment this fall is just 51 students short of that capacity.

Fast growth in the elementary districts feeding the high school (Larkspur, Reed, Ross and Kentfield) assures an increasing flow of customers for the finished plant.

Of the $5,750,000 being asked by Tam district trustees, $2,700,000 is ticketed for Redwood's final stage of construction.

Included in the planned addition are 17 academic classrooms, two science laboratories, a pair of industrial arts workrooms, six rooms for fine and applied arts, 11 music rooms, and various administrative and lounge areas.

Among the last will be turning Redwood's present outdoor eating area into an indoor informal meeting and lounge space for students.

"In terms of student morale," says principal Donald Kreps, "it will be the single most important addition of the bond issue, and will transform a cold and inhospitable eating facility into a warm, receptive student center."

The money will also erect a girls' gymnasium and a girls' locker room, thus taking pressure off the present overcrowded gym where 2,000 students are using locker rooms designed for 1,200.

Added outdoor courts will help satisfy both the school's physical education program and community recreation needs: three more courts for basketball, 12 for volleyball, six for tennis, and four for handball.

A baseball field and two girls' play fields will also be laid out.

The completion of Redwood, largest and newest school in the Tamalpais district, will mark a milestone in the accelerating growth of Marin County secondary education.

In 1908, Tamalpais High School was founded to serve Southern Marin. For 41 years it was up to the job, its colorfully landscaped grounds and Spanish Colonial structure becoming a traditional stopping place for sightseers on the main county highway that threaded right through the campus.

But by 1949 the Golden Gate Bridge coupled witht he postwar population boom had put Tam on the ropes. In that year a $2,045,000 bond issue financed construction of Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, which opened its doors in 1951 to students from the northern end of the district.

Although it took four decades for the district to outgrow Tam High, it took just six years to outstrip Drake and Tam combined. In 1955 a $2,940,000 bond issue paid for additions to the two schools and construction of Redwood's first stage, which opened in 1958.

Two years later, in 1960, funds for the already needed second stage of Redwood were turned down by voters. But in 1961 a three-million-dollar bond issue was approved to finance the construction.

Now four years later, critical county growth, district trustees point out, demands expansion of present facilities and extension of the district program westward to the new school site in the San Geronimo Valley.

Israeli Troops Go Into Lebanon

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The Israeli army made its first raid into Lebanon last night in retaliation for what a spokesman said was cross-border Arab sabotage.

An army spokesman said an Israeli unit blew up a village headman's house at Houleh, about 1½ miles inside Lebanon, and three water installations at a collective settlement, the spokesman said.

There were no Lebanese or Israeli casualties, the spokesman said.

Novato Boys To See Pro Football Game

The bus will leave the Community House at 10:30 a.m. and return about 6 p.m.

FOURTH GRADERS STUDY THE HEART

Members of teacher Ellen Bean's fourth grade class at Larkspur-Corte Madera School yesterday learned about the heart by studying a beef heart, provided by the Rainbow Market in Larkspur. The heart was split open so chambers were visible. Next project in class study of the circulatory system will be a visit to the blood bank in San Rafael, said Mrs. Bean.

Drunken Drivers Get Probation

Harold Raymond Cardwell, 44, convicted by a Marin Superior Court jury of drunken driving, was placed on six months probation and fined $220 yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Cardwell, of 29 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, had been found innocent of felony drunken driving in which another person was injured, but was convicted of the misdemeanor offense. He was accused of being drunk when his vehicle struck a car driven by Caesar S. Claudio of Milpitas, Santa Clara County, on Highway 101 last March 13.

Raymond R. Randall, 46, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Geronimo, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence and placed on two years probation by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court, also for drunken driving.

He was arrested Oct. 6 by Fairfax police.

Marin Quintet Enlists In Navy

Five Marin youths have enlisted in the Navy at the Navy Recruiting Station, San Rafael, and have been sent for eight weeks basic training at San Diego.

They are: Thomas A. Goldberg, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Goldberg, 12 Romar Court, Novato; John D. Halligan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Halligan, 2413 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael; William E. Harris III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Harris Jr., 1308 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato.

Melvin L. Saulenas, 18, son of Catherine J. Saulenas, 900 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, and Robert J. Stanfield, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stanfield, Englewood, Colo., College of Marin graduate, enlisted as a seaman.

Military Eases Recruit Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says that the Army, Navy and Marines now will accept volunteers with lower ratings on qualification tests if they have successfully completed high school.

Officials explained yesterday that the lower standards are needed to make more youths eligible for enlistments. One result, they said, could be a reduction in draft calls.

The minimum score on the Armed Forces Qualification Test will be dropped 5 points—to a total of 16—for high school graduates.

Burglary Suspect Booked At Jail

Corte Madera police booked William A. Golich, 22, of 33 Merwin Street, Fairfax, in county jail on suspicion of burglary last night after he was placed under citizen's arrest by Martin Conlin, a San Rafael policeman working as a part-time sales clerk in Montgomery Ward and Co. store.

Police said they had no report from Conlin on the reason or circumstances of the arrest. Bail for Golich was set at $1,100.

Jury Indicts Three Felons In Escapes

Three San Quentin inmates were indicted for escape yesterday by Marin County Grand Jury.

Donald A. Padgett, 31, and Harold Roney, 35, were jointly indicted for an Aug. 11 flight after allegedly using a hook and line to go over a prison wall. The men were captured Aug. 23 in The Dalles, Ore.

Padgett has prior convictions in Alameda County — Nov. 22, 1957, for theft of a vehicle and for burglary, and Jan. 11, 19652 for robbery.

Roney was convicted in Los Angeles County on May 29, 1957, for robbery, and Sept. 27, 1957 in San Bernardino County for escape.

Fred Dean Smothers, 32, was indicted for an Aug. 11 escape. He allegedly walked away from the ranch dormitory at the prison and climber a fence.

Smothers was convicted in 1962 of burglary of $400 from Specks Famous Irish Coffee Tavern, 813 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He was returned to San Quentin after a parole violation.

Thieves Invade Home Of Newlywed Couple

The Terra Linda home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walter Beardslee, married only two weeks, was looted by burglars of an estimated $450 worth of items, sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said the house, 569 Whitewood Drive, was entered via an unlocked crank-type rear window. Taken were a $175 television set, fishing tackle, and jewelry.

NO CHANGE IN OFFING

Wierd Fourth District Standing Test Of Time

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The grotesque Fourth Supervisorial District, which spans Marin County from the lighthouse at Point Reyes to the courthouse in San Rafael, has been a reality for 10 months—long enough, evidently, to stand the test of time.

Supervisors, under pressure of a court order, changed district boundaries last December to bring the population of districts into closer balance.

The major shift took territory from the second (Ross Valley) district and, the first (San Rafael) district and added it to the fourth district.

In fact all the members, except Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, say they would like to leave the redistricting problem alone until after the 1970 federal census.

Storer is the man who represents the giant fourth district.

Even he is reluctant to see a change soon because of the confusion it causes.

Also to be considered is elections. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who represents the first district, lost some precincts where his opponent, former San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, was strongest in elections last year.

The redistricting plan was largely authored by Leydecker. His critics have suggested that any redistricting will be done soon after next year's election, when Leydecker must run again.

Leydecker, however, declares himself "absolutely" against any district changes until after the 1970 census, and perhaps not even then unless there a basic shifts in popuiation.

Board Chairman Peter H. Behr told the Independent-Journal that he hopes redistricting is not revived soon. "I hope it lies down and goes to sleep," he said, adding that he can see no need to take it up again unless there is "A change of a dramatic nature not anticipated."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he has "no intention of bringing it up either before or after" next year's election.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he is "perfectly satisfied" with the new boundaries. "I think it's as good as we can do," he said.

Storer, apparently the only board member who would welcome a change, said he does not care if is brought up before or after 1968, when he must run again, but he said effort must be made to avoid confusing voters.

Storer, who inherited the new district when he took office Jan. 1 of this year, declared that, if it is reconsidered, "I hope I have more to say about it then."

Before redistricting began, first with a stop-gap measure two years ago and finally with last December's action, the fourth district had only 1.8 per cent of the total county population. The final shift gave it 18.9 per cent.

The second district once had 32 per cent of the population. It now has 20.4 per cent.

The first district also has 20.4 per cent, the third (southern Marin) district has 23.1, and the fifth (North Marin) district has 17.3 per cent of the county population.

Elderly Are Warned Of Bank Swindle Deal

An oldtime con game in which swindlers pose as bank officials to dupe elderly widows of their savings has been cropping up with increasing frequency, the San Francisco Better Business Bureau warned today.

Charles L. Van Horne, vice president of Crocker - Citizens National Bank and manager of the San Rafael Branch, said he hasn't heard of this swindle being pulled in Marin recently, but warned residents to be on the alert.

Here's the way it is worked, according to the Better Business Bureau:

Swindlers, generally two or three confidence men working as a team, choose a victim—usually a 60-to-80-year-old widow.

One of the men, posing as a federal agent or bank security officer, telephones the victim and asks her to cooperate in trapping a teller suspected of being an embezzler.

If she agrees, he tells her to go to the bank, withdraw a specified sum of money in cash, and take it home. He may even have a taxi pick her up and take her home again after the money is withdrawn.

Then the men arrange to pick up the envelope with the money at her home so it can be checked for fingerprints and serial numbers.

They also tell the victim to say nothing of her "detective work" until she is advised that her money has been redeposited to her account.

That, of course, is the last she sees of the men and her money.

The Better Business Bureau advised: "If you are contacted by a self-proclaimed FBI agent or bank officer, advise him that you will call back. Disregard the number he provides and call the local police or FBI office."

Van Horne suggested that if anyone gets such a request to participate in "an investigation," he should call his bank manager.

"That way, we could catch some," he said. "They did catch one because a woman got suspicious and reported it."

Contra Costans Sentenced For Hopps Mischief

Michael A. Napolitano, 28, and Louis Cusimano, 32, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint charging malicious mischief in a May 26 incident at the home former Belvedere mansion of Stewart Hopps.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed each defendant on a year's probation, fined them $29 each, and ordered restitution.

Napolitano, of Walnut Creek, and Cusimano, of Alamo, Contra Costa County, originally were charged with petty theft. Belvedere police said they took a parasol, an outdoor umbrella, a shrub, hammer and garden statue.

Hopps, now in federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., for mail fraud last the home at 2 Cliff Road in 1963 to San Francisco attorneys J. W. Erlich and Eugene Clifford in lieu of legal fees.

Among the last will be turning Redwood's present outdoor eating area into an indoor informal meeting and lounge space for students.

"In terms of student morale," says principal Donald Kreps, "it will be the single most important addition of the bond issue, and will transform a cold and inhospitable eating facility into a warm, receptive student center."

The money will also erect a girls' gymnasium and a girls' locker room, thus taking pressure off the present overcrowded gym where 2,000 students are using locker rooms designed for 1,200.

Added outdoor courts will help satisfy both the school's physical education program and community recreation needs: three more courts for basketball, 12 for volleyball, six for tennis, and four for handball.

A baseball field and two girls' play fields will also be laid out.

The completion of Redwood, largest and newest school in the Tamalpais district, will mark a milestone in the accelerating growth of Marin County secondary education.

In 1908, Tamalpais High School was founded to serve Southern Marin. For 41 years it was up to the job, its colorfully landscaped grounds and Spanish Colonial structure becoming a traditional stopping place for sightseers on the main county highway that threaded right through the campus.

But by 1949 the Golden Gate Bridge coupled witht he postwar population boom had put Tam on the ropes. In that year a $2,045,000 bond issue financed construction of Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, which opened its doors in 1951 to students from the northern end of the district.

Although it took four decades for the district to outgrow Tam High, it took just six years to outstrip Drake and Tam combined. In 1955 a $2,940,000 bond issue paid for additions to the two schools and construction of Redwood's first stage, which opened in 1958.

Two years later, in 1960, funds for the already needed second stage of Redwood were turned down by voters. But in 1961 a three-million-dollar bond issue was approved to finance the construction.

Now four years later, critical county growth, district trustees point out, demands expansion of present facilities and extension of the district program westward to the new school site in the San Geronimo Valley.

Israeli Troops Go Into Lebanon

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The Israeli army made its first raid into Lebanon last night in retaliation for what a spokesman said was cross-border Arab sabotage.

An army spokesman said an Israeli unit blew up a village headman's house at Houleh, about 1½ miles inside Lebanon, and three water installations at a collective settlement, the spokesman said.

There were no Lebanese or Israeli casualties, the spokesman said.

Novato Boys To See Pro Football Game

Approximately 50 boys will go to see the Baltimore Colts and San Francisco 49ers football game Sunday under the sponsorship of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

The bus will leave the Community House at 10:30 a.m. and return about 6 p.m.

Drunken Drivers Get Probation

Harold Raymond Cardwell, 44, convicted by a Marin Superior Court jury of drunken driving, was placed on six months probation and fined $220 yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Cardwell, of 29 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, had been found innocent of felony drunken driving in which another person was injured, but was convicted of the misdemeanor offense. He was accused of being drunk when his vehicle struck a car driven by Caesar S. Claudio of Milpitas, Santa Clara County, on Highway 101 last March 13.

Raymond R. Randall, 46, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Geronimo, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence and placed on two years probation by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court, also for drunken driving.

He was arrested Oct. 6 by Fairfax police.

Marin Quintet Enlists In Navy

Five Marin youths have enlisted in the Navy at the Navy Recruiting Station, San Rafael, and have been sent for eight weeks basic training at San Diego.

They are: Thomas A. Goldberg, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Goldberg, 12 Romar Court, Novato; John D. Halligan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Halligan, 2413 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael; William E. Harris III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Harris Jr., 1308 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato.

Melvin L. Saulenas, 18, son of Catherine J. Saulenas, 900 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, and Robert J. Stanfield, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stanfield, Englewood, Colo., College of Marin graduate, enlisted as a seaman.

Military Eases Recruit Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says that the Army, Navy and Marines now will accept volunteers with lower ratings on qualification tests if they have successfully completed high school.

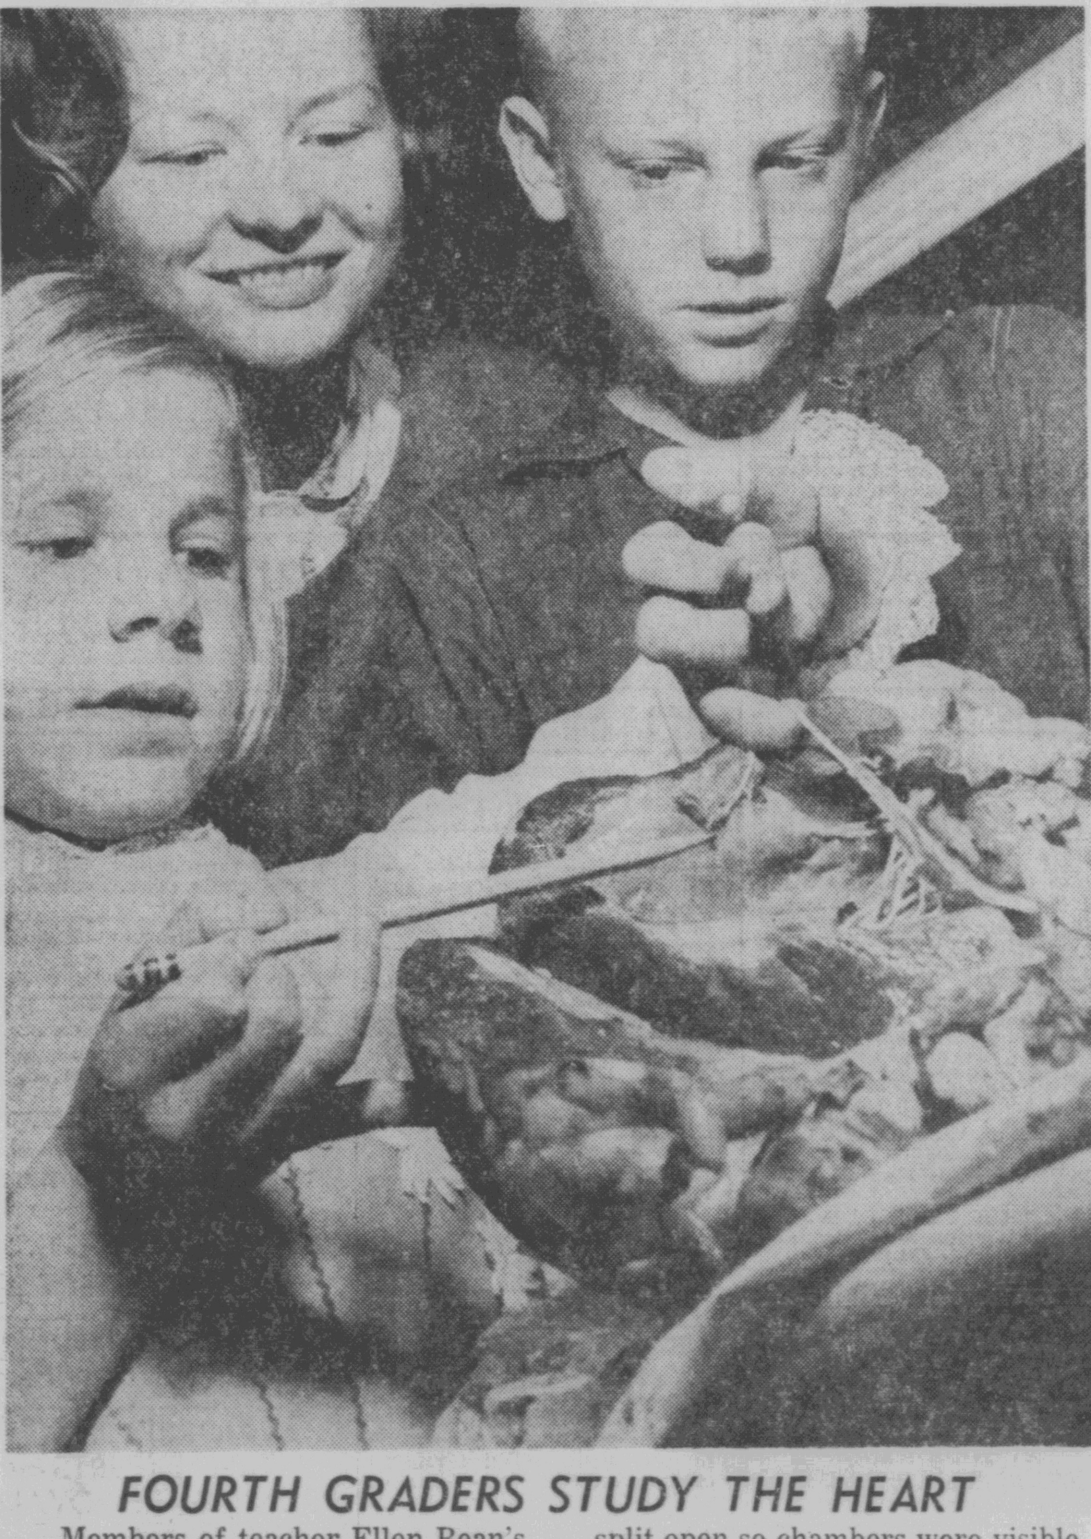
Officials explained yesterday that the lower standards are needed to make more youths eligible for enlistments. One result, they said, could be a reduction in draft calls.

The minimum score on the Armed Forces Qualification Test will be dropped 5 points—to a total of 16—for high school graduates.

Burglary Suspect Booked At Jail

Corte Madera police booked William A. Golich, 22, of 33 Merwin Street, Fairfax, in county jail on suspicion of burglary last night after he was placed under citizen's arrest by Martin Conlin, a San Rafael policeman working as a part-time sales clerk in Montgomery Ward and Co. store.

Police said they had no report from Conlin on the reason or circumstances of the arrest. Bail for Golich was set at $1,100.



FOURTH GRADERS STUDY THE HEART

Members of teacher Ellen Bean's fourth grade class at Larkspur-Corte Madera School yesterday learned about the heart by studying a beef heart, provided by the Rainbow Market in Larkspur. The heart was split open so chambers were visible. Next project in class study of the circulatory system will be a visit to the blood bank in San Rafael, said Mrs. Bean.

Jury Indicts Three Felons In Escapes

Three San Quentin inmates were indicted for escape yesterday by Marin County Grand Jury.

Donald A. Padgett, 31, and Harold Roney, 35, were jointly indicted for an Aug. 11 flight after allegedly using a hook and line to go over a prison wall. The men were captured Aug. 23 in The Dalles, Ore.

Padgett has prior convictions in Alameda County — Nov. 22, 1957, for theft of a vehicle and for burglary, and Jan. 11, 19652 for robbery.

Roney was convicted in Los Angeles County on May 29, 1957, for robbery, and Sept. 27, 1957 in San Bernardino County for escape.

Fred Dean Smothers, 32, was indicted for an Aug. 11 escape. He allegedly walked away from the ranch dormitory at the prison and climber a fence.

Smothers was convicted in 1962 of burglary of $400 from Specks Famous Irish Coffee Tavern, 813 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He was returned to San Quentin after a parole violation.

Thieves Invade Home Of Newlywed Couple

The Terra Linda home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walter Beardslee, married only two weeks, was looted by burglars of an estimated $450 worth of items, sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said the house, 569 Whitewood Drive, was entered via an unlocked crank-type rear window. Taken were a $175 television set, fishing tackle, and jewelry.

NO CHANGE IN OFFING

Wierd Fourth District Standing Test Of Time

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The grotesque Fourth Supervisorial District, which spans Marin County from the lighthouse at Point Reyes to the courthouse in San Rafael, has been a reality for 10 months—long enough, evidently, to stand the test of time.

Supervisors, under pressure of a court order, changed district boundaries last December to bring the population of districts into closer balance.

The major shift took territory from the second (Ross Valley) district and, the first (San Rafael) district and added it to the fourth district.

In fact all the members, except Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, say they would like to leave the redistricting problem alone until after the 1970 federal census.

Even he is reluctant to see a change soon because of the confusion it causes.

Also to be considered is elections. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who represents the first district, lost some precincts where his opponent, former San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, was strongest in elections last year.

The redistricting plan was largely authored by Leydecker. His critics have suggested that any redistricting will be done soon after next year's election, when Leydecker must run again.

Leydecker, however, declares himself "absolutely" against any district changes until after the 1970 census, and perhaps not even then unless there a basic shifts in population.

Board Chairman Peter H. Behr told the Independent-Journal that he hopes redistricting is not revived soon. "I hope it lies down and goes to sleep," he said, adding that he can see no need to take it up again unless there is "A change of a dramatic nature not anticipated."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he has "no intention of bringing it up either before or after" next year's election.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he is "perfectly satisfied" with the new boundaries. "I think it's as good as we can do," he said.

Storer, apparently the only board member who would welcome a change, said he does not care if is brought up before or after 1968, when he must run again, but he said effort must be made to avoid confusing voters.

Storer, who inherited the new district when he took office Jan. 1 of this year, declared that, if it is reconsidered, "I hope I have more to say about it then."

Before redistricting began, first with a stop-gap measure two years ago and finally with last December's action, the fourth district had only 1.8 per cent of the total county population. The final shift gave it 18.9 per cent.

The second district once had 32 per cent of the population. It now has 20.4 per cent.

The first district also has 20.4 per cent, the third (southern Marin) district has 23.1, and the fifth (North Marin) district has 17.3 per cent of the county population.

Elderly Are Warned Of Bank Swindle Deal

An oldtime con game in which swindlers pose as bank officials to dupe elderly widows of their savings has been cropping up with increasing frequency, the San Francisco Better Business Bureau warned today.

Charles L. Van Horne, vice president of Crocker - Citizens National Bank and manager of the San Rafael Branch, said he hasn't heard of this swindle being pulled in Marin recently, but warned residents to be on the alert.

Here's the way it is worked, according to the Better Business Bureau:

Swindlers, generally two or three confidence men working as a team, choose a victim—usually a 60-to-80-year-old widow.

One of the men, posing as a federal agent or bank security officer, telephones the victim and asks her to cooperate in trapping a teller suspected of being an embezzler.

If she agrees, he tells her to go to the bank, withdraw a specified sum of money in cash, and take it home. He may even have a taxi pick her up and take her home again after the money is withdrawn.

Then the men arrange to pick up the envelope with the money at her home so it can be checked for fingerprints and serial numbers.

They also tell the victim to say nothing of her "detective work" until she is advised that her money has been redeposited to her account.

That, of course, is the last she sees of the men and her money.

The Better Business Bureau advised: "If you are contacted by a self-proclaimed FBI agent or bank officer, advise him that you will call back. Disregard the number he provides and call the local police or FBI office."

Van Horne suggested that if anyone gets such a request to participate in "an investigation," he should call his bank manager.

"That way, we could catch some," he said. "They did catch one because a woman got suspicious and reported it."

Contra Costans Sentenced For Hopps Mischief

Michael A. Napolitano, 28, and Louis Cusimano, 32, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint charging malicious mischief in a May 26 incident at the home former Belvedere mansion of Stewart Hopps.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed each defendant on a year's probation, fined them $29 each, and ordered restitution.

Napolitano, of Walnut Creek, and Cusimano, of Alamo, Contra Costa County, originally were charged with petty theft. Belvedere police said they took a parasol, an outdoor umbrella, a shrub, hammer and garden statue.

Hopps, now in federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., for mail fraud last the home at 2 Cliff Road in 1963 to San Francisco attorneys J. W. Erlich and Eugene Clifford in lieu of legal fees.

Shop Class Boasts One Girl Pupil

She chose wood shop because "I tried both home economics and art but neither class was creative enough," she said. "In these classes the teacher puts something in front of you and tells you what to do and essentially how to do it. I want something where I can be more creative."

At the age of 9 Jenny had a two-artist show with her father at the Gulf Coast Art Center in Florida. They displayed mostly watercolor paintings.

"I want to become a dress designer eventually," said the 14-year-old blonde. Nevertheless, she chose wood shop instead of home economics.

The Sherrys live at 137 Granada Drive, Corte Madera.

Wholesale Narcotics Pusher Sentenced

NEW YORK (UPI) — State Supreme Court Judge Julius Helfond sentenced a four-time felon to serve from 15 years to life in prison yesterday for possession of six pounds of pure heroin worth $1 million on the illegal retail drug market.

"This defendant is a wholesale distributor of heroin and I know of no crime so horrible and despicable as the sale of narcotics," Helfond said. "If ever there was an instance where a mandatory sentence was justified, this is it."

Water Main Break Affects Canal Street

Residents alone one block of Canal Street, San Rafael, between Hoag and Harbor Streets, were without water this morning, due to a break in the water line.

Hector Puccinelli, superintendent of construction for Marin Municipal Water District, said cause of the break was probably corrosion of the line.

Agile Thief

Workers at Rossi's Garage, 595 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, told police yesterday a thief scaled a six-foot fence to a parking lot and removed a four-barrel carburetor from a station wagon belonging to Dewey Meyers of 115 Lansdale Avenue, Fairfax.

New Test Soon Spots 'Kissing Disease'

Advance News Service

CHICAGO — Medical science is combatting the "kissing disease" at Princeton University, but not at the expense of romance.

Doctors there have developed a quick, inexpensive test to screen students for the hard-to-detect disease, more properly known as infectious mononucleosis.

Of 786 freshmen screened this year, investigators found evidence of the acute blood infection in 12 unsuspecting young men. This disorder, also known as "mono," is called the "kissing disease" because doctors think this is the way the virus is usually passed around.

One of the scientists who developed the two-minute test, Dr. Stanley Bauer, director of laboratories at Princeton hospital, says he expects the test if widely adopted will increase the rate of diagnosis.

Some doctors now faced with diagnosing mononucleosis overlook the problem because of the time, trouble and expense of standard methods, he said. There is no cure for the ill and it usually runs its course without complications, but its ability to mimic other more serious disease is unsettling.

"With this simple, rapid test at his disposal, (a doctor) might be allowed to make the diagnosis quickly and easily," Dr. Bauer this week told a joint meeting of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the College of American Pathologists.

In the test of freshmen, six had acute infectious mononucleosis and three were already recovering. Three others apparently in the incubation phase when tested have since come down with the illness.

The remaining seven had respiratory infections, swollen glands, and a typical white cells in their blood, the latter two being symptoms of mono.

All that is needed for the test is a drop of the patient's blood. This is mixed with a solution of horse-blood platelets, and when mono is present the reaction is quick and positive within two minutes, Dr. Bauer explained.

The investigators have checked their test against 1,544 blood samples konwn to be infected with mono and report that "mono-tests," the name for their technique, is 99.3 per cent accurate.

"It is our intention to continue this study among this college group in an attempt to prospectively observe a highly susceptible population during a period when the disease is at a high level," Dr. Bauer said.

Dr. Siri will tell the story of the American assault of Mount Everest and illustrate his lecture with color slides. An admission fee will be charged.

Olson 'Better'

Aubrey Olson, former postman at Tiburon, was reported "slightly better" in the intensive care unit of Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento, today, where he is suffering from a skull fracture and broken ribs received in a 250-foot fall during a fishing trip Sunday.

Traffic Report Given

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night received for study a report on the traffic portion of the downtown plan being prepared for the city by planning consultants Callister and Payne.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

What Man Eats Can Influence His Overall Chemical Makeup

VAN DELLEN

Man is not exactly what he eats because many factors influence his physical and emotional makeup. On the other hand, foods may alter the chemical nature of certain tissues. In his book, "Man's Foods" (The Garrard Press, Champaign, Ill.), Lloyd B. Jensen, Ph.D., tells of an old experiment in which a dog was fed suet fat for one month and developed "pure mutton fat in its tissues."

The researcher theorized from this experiment that if a lion ate nothing but sheep he would put on sheep fat—a lion in sheep's clothing. At the Lake Zurich Golf Club a test is being conducted on feeding mint to sheep. Will the leg of lamb have a built-in mint flavor? Similar studies are being done with wild garlic. Ducks that eat fish taste like fish and doves that eat sage are permeated with this spice.

IF AN AVERAGE adult was chopped up into small pieces and analyzed chemically by weight, the following percentages would be obtained. Oxygen 65, carbon 18, hydrogen 10, nitrogen 3, calcium 1.5 to 2.2, phosphorus 0.8 to 1.2, potassium, 0.35, and lesser percentages for sulfur, sodium, chlorine, iron magnesium, and other trace minerals.

Dr. Jensen quotes a different set of calculations prepared by Dr. T. E. Lawson. The average adult man represents:

Enough water to fill a 10-gallon keg.

Fat for seven bars of soap.

Carbon for 9,000 lead pencils.

Phosphorus for 220 matches.

Magnesium for one dose of salts.

Iron to make a nail.

Lime to whitewash a chicken coop.

TO THESE we will add enough insecticide to kill a bug, and sufficient radiation to sterilize a gnat.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

UNSOCIABLE LAD

Mrs. T. writes: My 15-year-old boy is an unfriendly person and has no pals. He never cared to associate with boys his own age. Is something wrong with him?

REPLY

Your son may be an introvert or have an emotional problem. But if you have reason to suspect that his attitude and personality need investigation, why not consult your family physician? If psychiatric consultation is called for, he will advise you.

BATHS FOR HEALTH

J. E. writes: We are studying in our hygiene class about different kinds of baths used in disease. Can you give us a few clues?

REPLY

The ordinary bath or shower for cleanliness, the hot bath for relaxation, the sitz bath for pelvic and rectal trouble, and the Hubbard tank used in polio are examples.

CHEWING TOBACCO

D. Q. writes: I gave up smoking after a heart attack. Is it all right to chew tobacco?

REPLY

Some nicotine is absorbed into the system in this way. Therefore, you are better off without the weed, even though chewing has less effect than inhaling upon the heart and blood vessels.

PROGRESSIVE DEAFNESS

H. G. writes: Is Otosclerosis curable without surgery?

REPLY

Otosclerosis is progressive deafness that usually begins in young adulthood. Operation does not cure but, in a high percentage, provides practical hearing for many years. The hearing aid and lipreading are the alternatives.

If the bond has not been sooner surrendered on the date herein fixed for advanced maturity, there will be set aside to your credit the amount of principal and accrued interest then due on the bond together with a premium of five percent (5%) of the principal, and the bond shall then be deemed to have matured and interest shall cease to accrue on the bond. The amount so set aside will be paid to the holder or owner of the bond upon demand and upon the surrender and cancellation of the bond.

Shop Class Boasts One Girl Pupil

She chose wood shop because "I tried both home economics and art but neither class was creative enough," she said. "In these classes the teacher puts something in front of you and tells you what to do and essentially how to do it. I want something where I can be more creative."

At the age of 9 Jenny had a two-artist show with her father at the Gulf Coast Art Center in Florida. They displayed mostly watercolor paintings.

"I want to become a dress designer eventually," said the 14-year-old blonde. Nevertheless, she chose wood shop instead of home economics.

The Sherrys live at 137 Granada Drive, Corte Madera.

Wholesale Narcotics Pusher Sentenced

NEW YORK (UPI) — State Supreme Court Judge Julius Helfond sentenced a four-time felon to serve from 15 years to life in prison yesterday for possession of six pounds of pure heroin worth $1 million on the illegal retail drug market.

"This defendant is a wholesale distributor of heroin and I know of no crime so horrible and despicable as the sale of narcotics," Helfond said. "If ever there was an instance where a mandatory sentence was justified, this is it."

Plasterers Cement Nominations Due

Nominations for union offices of Plasterers and Cement Masons Local 355 will be received at its meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the San Rafael Labor Temple.

Water Main Break Affects Canal Street

Residents alone one block of Canal Street, San Rafael, between Hoag and Harbor Streets, were without water this morning, due to a break in the water line.

Hector Puccinelli, superintendent of construction for Marin Municipal Water District, said cause of the break was probably corrosion of the line.

Agile Thief

Workers at Rossi's Garage, 595 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, told police yesterday a thief scaled a six-foot fence to a parking lot and removed a four-barrel carburetor from a station wagon belonging to Dewey Meyers of 115 Lansdale Avenue, Fairfax.

New Test Soon Spots 'Kissing Disease'

Advance News Service

CHICAGO — Medical science is combatting the "kissing disease" at Princeton University, but not at the expense of romance.

Doctors there have developed a quick, inexpensive test to screen students for the hard-to-detect disease, more properly known as infectious mononucleosis.

Of 786 freshmen screened this year, investigators found evidence of the acute blood infection in 12 unsuspecting young men. This disorder, also known as "mono," is called the "kissing disease" because doctors think this is the way the virus is usually passed around.

One of the scientists who developed the two-minute test, Dr. Stanley Bauer, director of laboratories at Princeton hospital, says he expects the test if widely adopted will increase the rate of diagnosis.

Some doctors now faced with diagnosing mononucleosis overlook the problem because of the time, trouble and expense of standard methods, he said. There is no cure for the ill and it usually runs its course without complications, but its ability to mimic other more serious disease is unsettling.

"With this simple, rapid test at his disposal, (a doctor) might be allowed to make the diagnosis quickly and easily," Dr. Bauer this week told a joint meeting of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the College of American Pathologists.

In the test of freshmen, six had acute infectious mononucleosis and three were already recovering. Three others apparently in the incubation phase when tested have since come down with the illness.

The remaining seven had respiratory infections, swollen glands, and a typical white cells in their blood, the latter two being symptoms of mono.

All that is needed for the test is a drop of the patient's blood. This is mixed with a solution of horse-blood platelets, and when mono is present the reaction is quick and positive within two minutes, Dr. Bauer explained.

The investigators have checked their test against 1,544 blood samples konwn to be infected with mono and report that "mono-tests," the name for their technique, is 99.3 per cent accurate.

"It is our intention to continue this study among this college group in an attempt to prospectively observe a highly susceptible population during a period when the disease is at a high level," Dr. Bauer said.

Everest Climb Talk At College Of Marin

Dr. William Siri, deputy leader of the 1963 American expedition on Mount Everest, president of the Sierra Club and biophysicist at the University of California, will speak at 8:30 p.m. today in Olney Hall at College of Marin.

Dr. Siri will tell the story of the American assault of Mount Everest and illustrate his lecture with color slides. An admission fee will be charged.

Olson 'Better'

Aubrey Olson, former postman at Tiburon, was reported "slightly better" in the intensive care unit of Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento, today, where he is suffering from a skull fracture and broken ribs received in a 250-foot fall during a fishing trip Sunday.

Traffic Report Given

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night received for study a report on the traffic portion of the downtown plan being prepared for the city by planning consultants Callister and Payne.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

What Man Eats Can Influence His Overall Chemical Makeup

VAN DELLEN

Man is not exactly what he eats because many factors influence his physical and emotional makeup. On the other hand, foods may alter the chemical nature of certain tissues. In his book, "Man's Foods" (The Garrard Press, Champaign, Ill.), Lloyd B. Jensen, Ph.D., tells of an old experiment in which a dog was fed suet fat for one month and developed "pure mutton fat in its tissues."

The researcher theorized from this experiment that if a lion ate nothing but sheep he would put on sheep fat—a lion in sheep's clothing. At the Lake Zurich Golf Club a test is being conducted on feeding mint to sheep. Will the leg of lamb have a built-in mint flavor? Similar studies are being done with wild garlic. Ducks that eat fish taste like fish and doves that eat sage are permeated with this spice.

IF AN AVERAGE adult was chopped up into small pieces and analyzed chemically by weight, the following percentages would be obtained. Oxygen 65, carbon 18, hydrogen 10, nitrogen 3, calcium 1.5 to 2.2, phosphorus 0.8 to 1.2, potassium, 0.35, and lesser percentages for sulfur, sodium, chlorine, iron magnesium, and other trace minerals.

Dr. Jensen quotes a different set of calculations prepared by Dr. T. E. Lawson. The average adult man represents:

Enough water to fill a 10-gallon keg.

Fat for seven bars of soap.

Carbon for 9,000 lead pencils.

Phosphorus for 220 matches.

Magnesium for one dose of salts.

Iron to make a nail.

Lime to whitewash a chicken coop.

TO THESE we will add enough insecticide to kill a bug, and sufficient radiation to sterilize a gnat.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

UNSOCIABLE LAD

Mrs. T. writes: My 15-year-old boy is an unfriendly person and has no pals. He never cared to associate with boys his own age. Is something wrong with him?

REPLY

Your son may be an introvert or have an emotional problem. But if you have reason to suspect that his attitude and personality need investigation, why not consult your family physician? If psychiatric consultation is called for, he will advise you.

BATHS FOR HEALTH

J. E. writes: We are studying in our hygiene class about different kinds of baths used in disease. Can you give us a few clues?

REPLY

The ordinary bath or shower for cleanliness, the hot bath for relaxation, the sitz bath for pelvic and rectal trouble, and the Hubbard tank used in polio are examples.

CHEWING TOBACCO

D. Q. writes: I gave up smoking after a heart attack. Is it all right to chew tobacco?

REPLY

Some nicotine is absorbed into the system in this way. Therefore, you are better off without the weed, even though chewing has less effect than inhaling upon the heart and blood vessels.

PROGRESSIVE DEAFNESS

H. G. writes: Is Otosclerosis curable without surgery?

REPLY

Otosclerosis is progressive deafness that usually begins in young adulthood. Operation does not cure but, in a high percentage, provides practical hearing for many years. The hearing aid and lipreading are the alternatives.

Bridges Opposes Military Loading

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Private industry and not the government should handle West Coast stevedore operations, longshore leader Harry Bridges said last night.

He told the National Defense Transportation Assn. that the Army and the Navy "don't know anything about the stevedoring business."

Bridges said Navy work along San Francisco Bay and at Seattle and Port Hueneme is done mainly by Navy-employed civilians handling explosives.

Private industry "can do it more efficiently and cheaper," Bridges said.

Bridges is president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Hamtramck, Mich., is a politically independent city of 34,137 persons living in 2.09 square miles entirely surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Udall Asks Congress For New Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall wants Congress to approve a so-called wild rivers bill, which would establish a national system of free-flowing streams for their fish, wildlife, recreation and scenic values.

At a news conference yesterday, he complimented Congress for its record last year on conservation legislation and urged favorable action on other pending measures.

Freshmen Honored

Two graduates of San Rafael schools have been admitted with honors to the freshman class of the University of California at Davis. Given certificates as top-ranking freshmen were Michael H. Leong, a graduate of San Rafael Military Academy, and Jeanne M. Parsons, a graduate of San Rafael High School.

Joan Baez Pays Protested Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has collected more than $34,000 in 1964 income taxes from folk singer Joan Baez.

A spokesman for the regional IRS office in San Francisco said today the government placed a lien on Miss Baez's income and property to collect the unpaid taxes. She paid up after the government resorted to the lien, the spokesman said.

The attractive 24-year-old singer—who says she's a pacifist—declined to pay 60 per cent of her income taxes both in 1964 and 1963. She based her refusal on the contention that 60 per cent of all income taxes go toward military spending.

Cluster Housing For Dias Ranch Again On Agenda

The Marin County Planning Department Monday will again consider the master plan for the 170-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley where Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto has proposed cluster and single family housing and a hotel.

The planning commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Dias Ranch hearing is not scheduled until 2 p.m.

Hearing on the West Marin master plan is also scheduled as the fourth item on the agenda. But Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said it will likely be continued to allow further committee study.

Influence Of Bible Subject Of Survey

Southern Marin will be the scene of extensive interviewing tomorrow when 200 students from Pacific Union College begin a survey of the area to find how much influence the Bible and its teachings have in the lives of local residents.

The survey is a pilot project for similar surveys to be conducted by the college throughout Northern California. The students will continue their interviewing for two more successive Saturdays in attempts to speak to as many people as possible, it was announced.

A Country Club Gone West

This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.

The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.

But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.

Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,650. (Escape from high taxes.)

Bridges Opposes Military Loading

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Private industry and not the government should handle West Coast stevedore operations, longshore leader Harry Bridges said last night.

He told the National Defense Transportation Assn. that the Army and the Navy "don't know anything about the stevedoring business."

Bridges said Navy work along San Francisco Bay and at Seattle and Port Hueneme is done mainly by Navy-employed civilians handling explosives.

Private industry "can do it more efficiently and cheaper," Bridges said.

Bridges is president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Hamtramck, Mich., is a politically independent city of 34,137 persons living in 2.09 square miles entirely surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Udall Asks Congress For New Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall wants Congress to approve a so-called wild rivers bill, which would establish a national system of free-flowing streams for their fish, wildlife, recreation and scenic values.

At a news conference yesterday, he complimented Congress for its record last year on conservation legislation and urged favorable action on other pending measures.

Freshmen Honored

Two graduates of San Rafael schools have been admitted with honors to the freshman class of the University of California at Davis. Given certificates as top-ranking freshmen were Michael H. Leong, a graduate of San Rafael Military Academy, and Jeanne M. Parsons, a graduate of San Rafael High School.

Joan Baez Pays Protested Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has collected more than $34,000 in 1964 income taxes from folk singer Joan Baez.

A spokesman for the regional IRS office in San Francisco said today the government placed a lien on Miss Baez's income and property to collect the unpaid taxes. She paid up after the government resorted to the lien, the spokesman said.

The attractive 24-year-old singer—who says she's a pacifist—declined to pay 60 per cent of her income taxes both in 1964 and 1963. She based her refusal on the contention that 60 per cent of all income taxes go toward military spending.

Balmer In Seattle

Cluster Housing For Dias Ranch Again On Agenda

The Marin County Planning Department Monday will again consider the master plan for the 170-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley where Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto has proposed cluster and single family housing and a hotel.

The planning commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Dias Ranch hearing is not scheduled until 2 p.m.

Hearing on the West Marin master plan is also scheduled as the fourth item on the agenda. But Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said it will likely be continued to allow further committee study.

Influence Of Bible Subject Of Survey

Southern Marin will be the scene of extensive interviewing tomorrow when 200 students from Pacific Union College begin a survey of the area to find how much influence the Bible and its teachings have in the lives of local residents.

The survey is a pilot project for similar surveys to be conducted by the college throughout Northern California. The students will continue their interviewing for two more successive Saturdays in attempts to speak to as many people as possible, it was announced.

A Country Club Gone West

This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.

The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.

But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.

Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,650. (Escape from high taxes.)

LET AMES FORD SAVE YOU Cash!

Donald N. Frey, Vice President of the Ford Motor Company and General Manager of the Ford Division said in a letter to Doug Cowan: ". . . This is a magnificent accomplishment. You have earned this distinction by maintaining a high standard of dealership operation in all areas."

Real CASH . . . not just a lot of paperwork hokum and idle conversation. Here are some of the reasons Ames Ford consistently offers the most attractive deals to its customers:

1. VOLUME SALES Year after year Ames Ford outsells the competition, not just in Marin but against comparable dealers in all of Northern California.
2. LOW OVERHEAD Ames Ford was fortunate in acquiring its present, modern facilities while prices were still low. Every facet of our operation is in one efficient, cost saving location.
3. SERVICE FACILITIES Our vast service operation is designed to save money. From new car make-ready, used car reconditioning, to customer satisfaction after the sale.
4. HIGHEST ALLOWANCES Ames Ford sells at retail only the choicest trade-ins. Our volume lets us wholesale the "dogs" and still allow top dollar for your trade.
5. PROFESSIONAL MANAGEMENT Experienced, responsible auto men head the Ames Ford management team. Their main responsibility is to save you money by arranging the deal best suited to your needs.

Hall Of Fame's 'Deacon Bill' McKechnie Dies At 78

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — William Boyd (Deacon Bill) McKechnie, only manager in the history of the National League to pilot three different teams to pennants, died today. He was 78.

McKechnie, a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, had been recovering from a pneumonia virus but suffered a relapse. He died in Manatee Memorial Hospital at 4:20 a.m.

McKechnie led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a pennant in 1925, repeated with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1928 and managed the Cincinnati Reds to two straight championships in 1939 and 1940.

His remarkable handling of the Cincinnati team when he took over brought praise from the baseball world. McKechnie made a last place Cincinnati club into a fourth place finisher in 1938 and won pennants the next two seasons.

McKechnie managed the Boston Braves from 1930 to 1937 but never achieved any success there. He was an active player from 1907 to 1920 and saw service with seven major league teams in 11 years. He had a lifetime batting average in the majors of .243, lowest for any player in the Hall of Fame except pitchers.

Mild-mannered and soft-spoken, he had the manners and appearance of a deacon — hence his nickname. He was completely unlike the rowdy ballplayers of his era.

McKechnie was born in Wilkinsburg, Pa., on Aug. 7, 1887. As a ballplayer, he was always ready to take advice.

It was this ability to listen to others that helped his Pirates win the 1925 World Series against the Washington Senators.

The Pirates were losing, three games to one, and were a single game from elimination when John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants and McKechnie's old boss, burst into the Pittsburgh clubhouse.

"Grantham is too young and inexperienced at first base," McGraw said. "Your infield will steady down and lose the jitters if you use an old pro like Stuffy McInnis at first. He's been through it before."

McInnis, a 35-year-old veteran, moved into first base. He fielded and hit well and the Pirates won the next three games and the pennant.

Cleveland was managed by Boy Wonder Lou Boudreau at the time and he needed a stabilizing influence. The Indians hired McKechnie for $40,000 a season.

"Louie needs me," he would say.

McKechnie stayed with the Indians until his retirement, when he moved to Florida and settled in Bradenton.

One of the high spots in McKechnie's life came in 1962 when he was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

A Football Team With Muscles; Big Lift From The Linebacker

Pants too tight and coat too loose? Is that reflection in the mirror really you or are the kids up to their Halloween tricks? Too pooped to stoop? How long has it been since you've seen your feet? Does your snap, crackle, pop breakfast of champions just laugh at you?

Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Then take that physical wreck you call a body to San Rafael High School tonight if you really want to feel ashamed of yourself. There will be about 70 beautifully conditioned athletes of San Rafael and Drake high schools playing football, but I want you to pay particular attention to No. 22 for Drake.

HIS NAME is Frank Holton. He is 15 years old, stands 5 feet 9 inches and weighs 170 pounds. Playing first string varsity linebacker on a first place team is rare for a sophomore like Holton, but not unheard of.

Except for that tender age, No. 22 looks just like the rest of the gridders. He has two eyes, ears, arms, legs, one nose, mouth.

PRETTY STRONG statement by a columnist who grew from a 97-pound weakling into a 175-pound weakling, but I have some proof to support that statement if you'll put down that beer and pay attention, Bunkie.

Holton has been a weightlifter since the age of 10. This kid has muscles that won't quit. Wall-to-wall biceps. When he takes off his shirt—Gangbusters! Drape a plate of spaghetti over his shoulders and he'd look like the cover boy from the phone company. Sorry, strong number.

HIS WEIGHTLIFTING coach, Jack MacPhee of the muscular MarVel Athletic Club of San Rafael, feels Frank can become an Olympic contender by 1968 if he trains properly. A few months ago young Holton "pressed" 285 pounds and if football hadn't come along he probably would be flirting with the magic 300 number right now. The world teen-age record, held by a 19-year-old Pole, is 308. The national teen mark is 295, also by an older boy.

"I HAVE never heard of anyone 15 pressing anywhere near Frank's 285 figure," said MacPhee. In world teen-age competition, he explained, 18 would be about the right age for that weight. "Frank's two or three years ahead of everyone else," said Mac. "Gary Gubner, the famous track and weight star, was 17 when he pressed 300, a world record at the time."

A press, by the way, is executed by pulling the barbell to the chest, then pushing it to locked arms overhead while maintaining an erect position and exerting only the strength of the arms and shoulders.

HOLTON ALSO has the native strength to improve his performance in the other Olympic lifts—clean and jerk (hi, Bunkie) and the snatch—says MacPhee, if he keeps his body perfectly tuned. "In weightlifting, more than any other sport," says the coach, "the body has to be in perfect condition. Each of the three lifts requires about one second to execute, so your body must be keyed for supreme effort totalling only three seconds."

Football and injuries (shoulder and ankle), says MacPhee, have detained Holton's progress, but the coach feels his star pupil from San Anselmo can make it to the next Olympics.

ON THE gridiron, meanwhile, Holton has impressed his coaches. Gordon Chan, a Drake assistant who tutored Frank last year, has this to say: "You might say he has given us a lift. As a freshman he tore up the league as a fullback and linebacker. With legs like that you can imagine how hard it was to tackle him. On crucial situations we'd move him to middle guard and he would actually knock the center back into and sometimes behind the quarterback on the T formation. He caused six fumbes that way.

"His arms are like a couple of six-by-sixes. When he rips up with his forearms he really creams some blockers. He was late reporting to practice this year so we haven't used him on offense, but he has the makings to be a fine back. Just wait 'til he's a senior!"

Now aren't you glad you read Along Muscular Sports Trail by Mighty Mouth?

And all this time you thought a press was something that broke down on the I-J and a barbell was something that told your wife you'd just left.

Shame on you, Bunkie.

VERNON LAW

Law Snares Comeback Of Year Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vernon Law, the Pittsburgh Pirate righthander whose major league career was threatened by injuries on several occasions, today was named the National League comeback player of 1965 by United Press International's Board of Baseball Experts.

Law, 35, registered a 17-9 record last season for the third-place Bucs after winning a total of 16 games in the two previous campaigns combined. Perhaps more significant was the 16-year veteran's earned run average of 2.16, fourth best among the senior circuit's regular moundsmen. His 1964 E.R.A. was a not too impressive 3.61.

The Boise, Idaho resident was a one-sided choice of the 24 sportswriters who comprise the UPI board. Law collected 13 votes while first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco and Milwaukee third sacker Eddie Mathews tied for the runnerup spot with three mentions each.

Los Angeles third baseman Jim Gilliam was picked on two ballots and Cincinnati first baseman Gordon Coleman, Milwaukee outfielder felipe Alou and Chicago Cub first baseman Ernie Banks received one vote apiece.

HO-HUM, GEIBERGER AGAIN

Familiar Name Tops List In Almaden Golf Tourney

SAN JOSE (AP) — Slender Al Geiberger continues as master of the Almaden Country Club course.

The former University of Southern California star and only two-time winner of the San Jose-Almaden tournament found himself in the familiar position here today—at the top of the list although tied with San Francisco rookie Steve Oppermann.

Both shot 65 in the opening round of this 72-hole, $46,000 event which continues through Sunday. The scores equalled the competitive course record set by none other than Mr. Geiberger back in 1962 when he won the event with a 273, also a tourney record.

The lanky golfer, now 28, repeated in 1963 and this year captured the $100,000 American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio.

Yesterday he scored 34-31, although playing the back nine first. Oppermann, a stocky 23-year-old who won the California Amateur Championship in 1964 and then turned pro, had 34-31.

They couldn't feel secure going into today's play as both Jim Ferree and Charles Coody were just one stroke off the pace at 66; Ken Still and Australia's Bruce Crampton each had 67 and 55 pros had bettered par for the opening 18 holes.

Par breaking wasn't for the pros alone. San Francisco amateur Steve Whitman fired a 68 and San Jose State College's Ross Randall had a 69.

Weather proved ideal for the play over the par 36 - 36—72 course which stretches 7,035 yards.

Geiberger, of Santa Barbara, fired seven birdies and did did not go over par on a hole. Oppermann had one bogey but made up for it with an eagle on the 535-yard first hole.

Ken Venturi, the 1964 United States Open Champion, who underwent surgery for ailing hands this summer, shot a 76. He had commented earlier that his hands didn't both him, but he hasn't yet regained sharpness in his game.

Venturi, who attended San Jose State, won the Almaden in 1959.

Golfers who won the next two years didn't fare well this time either. Charlie Sifford fired a 78 on his first round and Jim Ferrier 75.

Terra Linda Wins X Country Meet

Terra Linda High's Bob Bunnell, John Proffett and Bill Opferman placed 1-2-3 yesterday to lead the Trojans to victory over Drake in Marin Athletic League cross-country race at Terra Linda's two-mile course.

10-Under-Par By Jack; Leads By 4

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, fired a 10-under-par 63 for 120 today and zoomed four shots ahead of South Africa's Gary Player after 36 holes in the Australian Open Golf Championship.

Player, who took the first round lead with a 62 yesterday, went nine strokes higher on his second round with a 71, which dropped him to second place at 133.

Kel Nagle of Australia, beaten by Player in a playoff for the U. S. National Open crown last June, was tied with Frank Phillips, another Australian, for third place at 135. Nagle had rounds of 67-68 and Phillips 71-64 over the 6,578-yard, par 73 Kooyonga course.

Kooyonga is a relatively flat and short layout with broad fairways. Soft greens permit players to go boldly for the pins.

The sensational rounds of Player and Nicklaus the first two days are among the best ever shot in a major tournament, but fall short of a record.

Seven players have shot 60s on the American Professional Golfers Assn. tour, one of them Mike Souchak, who in 1955 had a nine-hole score of 27 over the Breckenridge course in Texas.

SNEAD HAD 59

A few years ago Sam Snead shot a 59 over his home course at White Sulphur Springs, West Va., in the Sam Snead Festival Tournament. While it was a legitimate tournament, the event was not listed on the PGA tour and thus is not included in PGA records.

Nicklaus was out in 32 and home in 31 on the par 73 course. He had 25 putts, 10 birdies and parred eight holes. Player took 30 putts, had one eagle and three birdies.

It as a day of fabulous golf, with Player starting his second round knowing Nicklaus had 32 for the first nine. Player lost his overnight four stroke lead to Nicklaus at the eighth, drew level again at the 12th lost it again at the 13th and drew level again at the 15th. Player needed three birdies to equal Nicklaus over the last three holes but crashed with a par five at the 16th, had a one over five at the 17th and a par four at the last.

Nicklaus said afterwards he never was more pleased in his life as a professional to have a four-stroke lead over a man of Player's calibre halfway through the tournament.

Expect 275 Tomorrow At Cage Clinic

About 275 persons, mostly from Northern California but one from as far away as Poland, are expected for the fourth annual Marin County Basketball Clinic tomorrow at College of Marin in Kentfield.

Feature speakers at the clinic will be John Wooden, UCLA basketball coach, and Glen Albaugh, coach at Cal State in Hayward. Chairman of the clinic is Cal Riemcke, College of Marin cage coach.

For the first time, the clinic will be international in scope, with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. Jan Mekulowski from Poland, Frank Holness of the Republic of Panama and Alberto Trama from Argentina are the three.

The men were sent to this country to learn the U.S. way of playing basketball and will be picking up tips from one of the most successful coaches in the business, UCLA's Wooden.

Wooden is a coach who has never had a losing year. He was named "Coach of the Year" in 1964 and boasts an all-time coaching record of 608 wins and 183 losses.

The clinic will get underway tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Coaches from all levels will be on hand, from elementary school to college.

Expect 275 Tomorrow At Cage Clinic

About 275 persons, mostly from Northern California but one from as far away as Poland, are expected for the fourth annual Marin County Basketball Clinic tomorrow at College of Marin in Kentfield.

Feature speakers at the clinic will be John Wooden, UCLA basketball coach, and Glen Albaugh, coach at Cal State in Hayward. Chairman of the clinic is Cal Riemcke, College of Marin cage coach.

For the first time, the clinic will be international in scope, with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. Jan Mekulowski from Poland, Frank Holness of the Republic of Panama and Alberto Trama from Argentina are the three.

The men were sent to this country to learn the U.S. way of playing basketball and will be picking up tips from one of the most successful coaches in the business, UCLA's Wooden.

Wooden is a coach who has never had a losing year. He was named "Coach of the Year" in 1964 and boasts an all-time coaching record of 608 wins and 183 losses.

The clinic will get underway tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Coaches from all levels will be on hand, from elementary school to college.

It's The Point Of No Return; 49ers Can Come Back Fighting

RANDOL

Games this Sunday mark the half-way point for the National Football League and for some teams it is the point of no return. For the San Francisco 49ers the test is whether or not they are gutsy enough to swallow their undeserved loss to the Minnesota Vikings and come back fighting.

It is my hunch that the 49ers are not about to spend the rest of the season crying in their beer. Last year, with a lot less to work with at the start and with an unbelievable injury list, they still kept scrapping and trying to win. It may be pipedreaming, but I'll even say they can carry the game to the Baltimore Colts and beat 'em.

THE 49ERS almost got the job done back on the first Sunday of this month when the Colts hung on for a three point win. For years the 49ers have managed to look better on the second time around. This would be no time to stop.

As it stands right now the Green Bay Packers with a 6-0 record look unstopable, even though the revitalized Chicago Bears should take a good shot at them this weekend. A victory by Papa Bear Halas' team would shake up some long shot hopes around the Western Conference.

IF YOU don't think football is a crazy, unpredictable game, take a look at last Sunday's 49er-Viking affair compared with or contrasted to the Packer-Dallas Cowboy game. John Brodie and Fran Tarkenton ran up a net of 654 yards passing in our game while Bart Starr and Craig Morton passed for a net total of MINUS 11 yards.

THE VIKINGS take their aerial circus into Cleveland on Sunday and if they beat the Browns it will give the St. Louis Cardinals another chance at the Eastern title. The Cards almost blew the works by losing to previously undefeated Washington. The Cards trounced the Browns the first time they met and they don't meet again until the last game of the season. That one may be for all the marbles.

ONE OTHER unusual fact at mid-season is that there has not yet been a tie in the NFL. Last year there were six ties. It would seem that offensive play is a bit more daring this year with trailing teams going for broke.

OVER IN the American League, at the halfway mark, it seems all over but the shouting with the Buffalo Bills and the San Diego Chargers far in front. Only the Oakland Raiders have a minor chance of sneaking into the picture against the Chargers and that would take a few minor miracles. The gate is up this year but a run-away race could kill the golden goose.

Pro Pickings: Colts, Green Bay, Detroit

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The unbeaten Green Bay Packers come knocking on Papa Bear's door Sunday and they may get a pumpkin pie in the face.

Gale Sayers has made the Chicago Bears a real threat since he took over in the second half of the first Packer-Bear game four weeks ago.

The Packer-Bear renewal of one of pro football's most bitter feuds is the big game on a full program of seven National Football League and four American Football League contests.

It looks like the roughest week yet for a pro picker who just barely escaped with his hide, 6-5, last week. The season totals are 31-11 in the NFL, 14-6-3 in the AFL and 45-17-3 over-all.

Let's stab again: All games Sunday)

NFL

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 24—Colts are favored but this could get us off on the wrong foot. Baltimore just did win 27-24 Oct. 3 at home when Dave Parks caught nine passes for 221 yards and three 49er TDs. Colts' defense tougher than San Francisco but Fred Miller has been hurting. Lenny Moore probably will miss another. It will be up to John Unitas to outpitch John Brodie.

Green Bay 27, Chicago 21—Looks like the spot for an upset win by the Bears but don't sell Vince Lombardi short. The Packers have been doing it with mirrors lately while the Bears have been the scourge of the league with Sayers running wild. Look for Packer defense to clamp down on Sayers and give Rudy Bukich the big rush. Green Bay won first game 23-14 and also beat Bears in an exhibition 31-14.

St. Louis 31, New York 14 — Charley Johnson will be a doubtful factor up to the game time and the Giants always give him trouble. But the Cards simply can't afford to lose another and figure to be keyed up after defeat by Redskins. Doubtful condition of Jim Burson makes Cards vulnerable but rookie Giant defenders no match for solid St. Louis club. Wally Lemm's front four are top pass rushers.

Cleveland 31, Minnesota 28 — This one is enough to scare a ghost. Fran Tarkenton put on his best performance at San Francisco, passing for over 400 yards but the Vikings gave up a bushel of points while winning 42-41. Cleveland never has seen the scrambler and he may give their conservative defense fits but the Browns have the stuff in Frank Ryan, Gary Collins and Walt Roberts to take advantage of the Vikings' leaky pass cover.

Dallas 24, Pittsburgh 17—Defense does it again. Neither Cowboys or Steelers show much on offense. Craig Morton probably will get call again over Don Meredith and Mike Nixon is going all the way with Bill Nelsen. Return of Bob Hayes helps Dallas. Steelers make too many mistakes.

Detroit 17, Los Angeles 14 — Rams are favored but Lions beat them 20-0 in opener and never let Swede Svare's men inside the 43. The Swede blew his top about the officiating in Baltimore last week and the Rams will be keyed to take it out on the visitors. Harry Gilmer, disenchanted with Milt Plum, says he'll start George Izo at quarter and bench Nick Pietrosante. The Lions need a jolt to snap three-game losing streak.

Washington 17, Philadelphia 14—Sonny Jurgensen had a hot hand against St. Louis last week and Charley Taylor ran like his old self for the first time. Return of Lonnie Sanders helps 'Skins secondary. Eagles' Tim Brown reinjured right thigh last week. Norm Snead has been working out but Joe Kuharich probably will go with King Hill again.

Oakland 23, Kansas City 20 — Dick Wood did the job for the Raiders in an opening day 37-10 win over the Chiefs with to TD passes and also scored once. The Raiders also beat the Chiefs 23-6 in Aug. 22 exhibition.

Others: Denver 21, New York 17; Buffalo 27, Houston 17; San Diego 28, Boston 14.

Drake, Novato Favored In Big Games

Pirates Meet Bulldogs At San Rafael Tonight

Drake High School's Pirates, defending Marin Athletic League champs who are tied for the top spot this year, tangle with the San Rafael gridders tonight on the Bulldogs' field in the "game of the week." Kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

The Pirates are favored to beat San Rafael but as Drake coach Bob Franceschini has found out through the years, victory over the Bulldogs is never an easy matter.

In 1963, Drake was undefeated in league play going into the final game that year, on the same San Rafael field. The Bulldogs, who had only one loss in MCAL play, surprised the Pirates with a resounding 20-0 triumph and tied them for the championship.

Last year the Drake boys again were undefeated going into the game against San Rafael and were heavily favored. The Bulldogs held the high-scoring Pirates to only one touchdown and fell, 7-0. Drake went on to complete an undefeated season to win the championship.

A certain Pirate who was around for those two games will be there again tonight. That, of course, is Dean Lazzarini, one of the flashiest runners ever produced in the MCAL. He is currently among the leading rushers in Northern California with a total of 831 yards, and also is high on the Norcal scoring list with 65 points in six games. While scoring 10 touchdowns for the Bucs, Lazz has averaged 7.8 yards per carry.

But if defenses worry too much about Lazzarini, the Pirates can open a potent passing attack. The big Drake combination is quarterback Bill Ingram to sophomore end Don Alverado. Ingram has completed 21 of 43 pass attempts for 406 yards and five touchdowns. Alvarado has caught 16 passes for 399 yards and five TD's.

San Rafael's ground game so far this season has been led by halfback Rocky Shone wtih 224 yards in six games. He has averaged 3.9 yards per carry and has scored six touchdowns.

Drake will be coming off a 28-20 win over Riordan last Friday and Franceschini reports his forces in good shape physically.

"San Rafael has one of the top defensive clubs in the league," said Franceschini. "We'll have to do an excellent job to beat them." The Drake mentor said last week's game indicated to him that his team is ready for peak performances. He said it was Ingram's best game of the season and "Lazzarini got some great blocking, the best all year." The Drake flash reeled off 226 yards and scored three touchdowns. And it was some key blocking that sprung him loose for long gainers.

"We're still not counting ourselves out of this thing," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said in regard to his team's chances for a share of the Marin championship pie. Last week's 6-0 loss to Terra Linda evened the Bulldogs' record to 2-2 in league play. "That game could have gone either way," said Muster.

The Bulldogs coach had praise for linemen John Balzan, Gordon Jones and Ken Beerbower for their play against Terra Linda.

Muster feels Drake has a very strong team, not just a one-man show. "That Lazzarini is a great player but they have other good players. I respect that Ingram at quarterback. But I think we've got a good shot to beat them.

And if history means anything, it should be quite a scrap. It always is when these two teams bump heads.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

DRAKE

SAN RAFAEL

Troppmann Heads Football Clinic

Next Feb. 12 and 13 have been selected as the dates for the annual Coach of the Year Clinic sponsored by the American Football Coaches Assn. and the Eastman Kodak Co. The meeting will be held at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Coach Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School will again be Clinic Manager, assisted by his coaching staff. Ed Randol of the I-J staff will repeat as director of press, radio and TV relations.

Tennis Tourney Set Tomorrow

A county wide girl's tennis tournament will be held tomorrom from 8 a.m. to noon at the San Rafael High School and College of Marin courts.

Players will compete in singles and doubles in beginners, intermediate and advanced classes. The tournament is being sponsored by Marin Catholic High School.

Marin County schools represented include San Rafael, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, Novato, Terra Linda, Tomales Bay, and Marin Catholic high schools, and Katharine Branson School.

Soccer Triple-Card Scheduled Sunday

The Teutonia soccer team clashes with Nacional Athletic Club at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, the second round of the Challenge Cup eliminations.

In the other Challenge Cup match, Hakoah A.C. meets Sons of Italy at 12:30 p.m. Opening the day's program will be a third division game between the Swedes and Assyrians at 10:30 a.m.

AT KENTFIELD

Tonight: Tam Vs. Marin Catholic

Marin Catholic will be still looking for its first Marin Athletic League win in four years and the Tamalpais Indians will be trying to keep their share of the league lead tonight when they meet in Kentfield Stadium at 8.

The Wildcats have a string of three straight League seasons without a win and this year are 0-4 so far. Last time Marin Catholic won a league contest was in 1961 when it upset San Rafael High.

Tam suffered its first loss of the season last Saturday when the Novato Hornets blitzed the Indians 34-0. Tam had a string of five straight wins going into the game.

The Wildcats are down to 26 players as injuries keep taking their toll. Halfback Tom Murray and fullback George King are the only regular running backs still able to play. End Pat Carney is probably out for the remainder of the season with an ankle injury, and six or seven other players will be out of action for tonight.

The Injuns will be trying to bounch back after absorbing that rout last Saturday. "We made mistakes we haven't made all year in that game," said Tam coach Willie Hector. He said the defensive safeties were committing themselves on option plays and the linebackers weren't rushing the passer. It was a hard loss for Tam because of key injuries, also. And because of the injuries, Hector has had to shake up his starting teams.

Mike Biber moves into tight end replacing Dennis Quinn and Steve Reiter moves to split end. Kirk Sparks, hard-running fullback, suffered a leg injury and will be replaced by Steve Meyers. Defensively, Ray Stark goes into a starting cornerback spot, Scott Nelson will open at a linebacker position and Ron Kelley moves in as a defensive end.

Mike Fowler, Tam's sophomore halfback, is in good shape and should be the boy who makes the difference in the game. If Tam gets its offense rolling, he'll be doing a lot of ball toting.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

TAMALPAIS

Steve Reiter, le; Ernie Bergman, lt; Meludi Miles, lg; Don Jen, c; Norm Ortman, rg; Paul Austin, rt; Mike Biber, re; Tom Lecy, qb; Mike Fowler, hb; Steve Meyers, fb; Fred Hilton, flanker.

MARIN CATHOLIC

GREENBRAE HAS MONOPOLY ON GRID TALENT

Two boys who live across the street from each other in Greenbrae really know what to do with a football.

Frank Giorgi of 155 Eliseo Drive won the Marin County district Punt-Pass-Kick competition in the 10 - year - old bracket and David Del Grande of 142 Eliseo Drive won overall Marin County honors for the age 8 group.

The boys, who go to Greenbrae School, will be competing in the sectionals tomorrow at Funston Playground in San Francisco.

Halloween Golf At Meadow Club

Mrs. T. N. Brown, Mrs. H. C. Billings, Mrs. Ed Christie and Mrs. Ernie Farey combined for a best ball score of 150 to win the Halloween Tournament yesterday at the Meadow Club.

Other best-ball foursome winners were:

Hornets-Redwood At Kentfield Tomorrow

Novato and Redwood high schools, sporting identical season records, battle one another tomorrow afternoon in Kentfield Stadium in a Marin Athletic League football game starting at 1:30.

Although both teams have 4-1-1 marks this year, Novato is 2-1 in MCAL play while the Giants of Redwood are 1-1-1. Novato's record is good enough to give the Hornets a share of the league lead, along with Drake and Tam. But that tie is costly to the Giants who would have to hurdle past all three teams to win the title.

Novato has quite a one-two punch when it gets its hands on the ball. On the ground it's Dick Otis and Frank Perachiotti and in the air it's John Dolinsek throwing. Otis has picked up 713 yards in six games and has been running at a 5.1 average per carry. And it has been that hard yardage in the middle of defensive lines.

Perachiotti has gained 200 yards and boasts the same average per carry as Otis, 5.1. Dolinsek has completed 35 of 77 passes for 406 yards. Tom Corder has been his main target, catching 16 passes on the season for 292 yards and four touchdowns.

BANGED ELBOW

Perachiotti banged up an elbow in the Tam game but he should be ready to play tomorrow. With the exception of minor bumps and bruises, the Hornets came out of the game free of serious injuries.

Novato head coach Harry Moore said he has scouted Redwood enough to know it can move the ball. "We'll just have to outmuscle them," he said. He pointed out that the Novato defense has improved with each game. Only two players on the Hornets defensive squad had any previous varsity experience prior to the season.

He singled out wingback Dennis Hachmyer, tackle George Homenko and defensive back Larry Stewart for outstanding defensive play against Tam.

Redwood coach Bob Troppmann was pleased to report a healthy team for the game. Welcomed back to the fold from the injured list were ends Tim Akers and Bud Lyons, tackles Mark Herrero and Rusty Poole and halfback Harvey Hand.

The game will be broadcast live on Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen calling the play-by-play.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

NOVATO

REDWOOD

The Packers have been doing it with mirrors lately while the Bears have been the scourge of the league with Sayers running wild. Look for Packer defense to clamp down on Sayers and give Rudy Bukich the big rush. Green Bay won first game 23-14 and also beat Bears in an exhibition 31-14.

St. Louis 31, New York 14 — Charley Johnson will be a doubtful factor up to the game time and the Giants always give him trouble. But the Cards simply can't afford to lose another and figure to be keyed up after defeat by Redskins. Doubtful condition of Jim Burson makes Cards vulnerable but rookie Giant defenders no match for solid St. Louis club. Wally Lemm's front four are top pass rushers.

Cleveland 31, Minnesota 28 — This one is enough to scare a ghost. Fran Tarkenton put on his best performance at San Francisco, passing for over 400 yards but the Vikings gave up a bushel of points while winning 42-41. Cleveland never has seen the scrambler and he may give their conservative defense fits but the Browns have the stuff in Frank Ryan, Gary Collins and Walt Roberts to take advantage of the Vikings' leaky pass cover.

Dallas 24, Pittsburgh 17—Defense does it again. Neither Cowboys or Steelers show much on offense. Craig Morton probably will get call again over Don Meredith and Mike Nixon is going all the way with Bill Nelsen. Return of Bob Hayes helps Dallas. Steelers make too many mistakes.

Detroit 17, Los Angeles 14 — Rams are favored but Lions beat them 20-0 in opener and never let Swede Svare's men inside the 43. The Swede blew his top about the officiating in Baltimore last week and the Rams will be keyed to take it out on the visitors. Harry Gilmer, disenchanted with Milt Plum, says he'll start George Izo at quarter and bench Nick Pietrosante. The Lions need a jolt to snap three-game losing streak.

Washington 17, Philadelphia 14—Sonny Jurgensen had a hot hand against St. Louis last week and Charley Taylor ran like his old self for the first time. Return of Lonnie Sanders helps 'Skins secondary. Eagles' Tim Brown reinjured right thigh last week. Norm Snead has been working out but Joe Kuharich probably will go with King Hill again.

Oakland 23, Kansas City 20 — Dick Wood did the job for the Raiders in an opening day 37-10 win over the Chiefs with to TD passes and also scored once. The Raiders also beat the Chiefs 23-6 in Aug. 22 exhibition.

Others: Denver 21, New York 17; Buffalo 27, Houston 17; San Diego 28, Boston 14.

Drake, Novato Favored In Big Games

Pirates Meet Bulldogs At San Rafael Tonight

Drake High School's Pirates, defending Marin Athletic League champs who are tied for the top spot this year, tangle with the San Rafael gridders tonight on the Bulldogs' field in the "game of the week." Kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

The Pirates are favored to beat San Rafael but as Drake coach Bob Franceschini has found out through the years, victory over the Bulldogs is never an easy matter.

In 1963, Drake was undefeated in league play going into the final game that year, on the same San Rafael field. The Bulldogs, who had only one loss in MCAL play, surprised the Pirates with a resounding 20-0 triumph and tied them for the championship.

Last year the Drake boys again were undefeated going into the game against San Rafael and were heavily favored. The Bulldogs held the high-scoring Pirates to only one touchdown and fell, 7-0. Drake went on to complete an undefeated season to win the championship.

A certain Pirate who was around for those two games will be there again tonight. That, of course, is Dean Lazzarini, one of the flashiest runners ever produced in the MCAL. He is currently among the leading rushers in Northern California with a total of 831 yards, and also is high on the Norcal scoring list with 65 points in six games. While scoring 10 touchdowns for the Bucs, Lazz has averaged 7.8 yards per carry.

But if defenses worry too much about Lazzarini, the Pirates can open a potent passing attack. The big Drake combination is quarterback Bill Ingram to sophomore end Don Alverado. Ingram has completed 21 of 43 pass attempts for 406 yards and five touchdowns. Alvarado has caught 16 passes for 399 yards and five TD's.

San Rafael's ground game so far this season has been led by halfback Rocky Shone wtih 224 yards in six games. He has averaged 3.9 yards per carry and has scored six touchdowns.

Drake will be coming off a 28-20 win over Riordan last Friday and Franceschini reports his forces in good shape physically.

"San Rafael has one of the top defensive clubs in the league," said Franceschini. "We'll have to do an excellent job to beat them." The Drake mentor said last week's game indicated to him that his team is ready for peak performances. He said it was Ingram's best game of the season and "Lazzarini got some great blocking, the best all year." The Drake flash reeled off 226 yards and scored three touchdowns. And it was some key blocking that sprung him loose for long gainers.

"We're still not counting ourselves out of this thing," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said in regard to his team's chances for a share of the Marin championship pie. Last week's 6-0 loss to Terra Linda evened the Bulldogs' record to 2-2 in league play. "That game could have gone either way," said Muster.

The Bulldogs coach had praise for linemen John Balzan, Gordon Jones and Ken Beerbower for their play against Terra Linda.

Muster feels Drake has a very strong team, not just a one-man show. "That Lazzarini is a great player but they have other good players. I respect that Ingram at quarterback. But I think we've got a good shot to beat them.

And if history means anything, it should be quite a scrap. It always is when these two teams bump heads.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

DRAKE

SAN RAFAEL

Tennis Tourney Set Tomorrow

A county wide girl's tennis tournament will be held tomorrom from 8 a.m. to noon at the San Rafael High School and College of Marin courts.

Players will compete in singles and doubles in beginners, intermediate and advanced classes. The tournament is being sponsored by Marin Catholic High School.

Marin County schools represented include San Rafael, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, Novato, Terra Linda, Tomales Bay, and Marin Catholic high schools, and Katharine Branson School.

Troppmann Heads Football Clinic

Next Feb. 12 and 13 have been selected as the dates for the annual Coach of the Year Clinic sponsored by the American Football Coaches Assn. and the Eastman Kodak Co. The meeting will be held at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Coach Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School will again be Clinic Manager, assisted by his coaching staff. Ed Randol of the I-J staff will repeat as director of press, radio and TV relations.

Soccer Triple-Card Scheduled Sunday

The Teutonia soccer team clashes with Nacional Athletic Club at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, the second round of the Challenge Cup eliminations.

In the other Challenge Cup match, Hakoah A.C. meets Sons of Italy at 12:30 p.m. Opening the day's program will be a third division game between the Swedes and Assyrians at 10:30 a.m.

AT KENTFIELD

Tonight: Tam Vs. Marin Catholic

Marin Catholic will be still looking for its first Marin Athletic League win in four years and the Tamalpais Indians will be trying to keep their share of the league lead tonight when they meet in Kentfield Stadium at 8.

The Wildcats have a string of three straight League seasons without a win and this year are 0-4 so far. Last time Marin Catholic won a league contest was in 1961 when it upset San Rafael High.

Tam suffered its first loss of the season last Saturday when the Novato Hornets blitzed the Indians 34-0. Tam had a string of five straight wins going into the game.

The Wildcats are down to 26 players as injuries keep taking their toll. Halfback Tom Murray and fullback George King are the only regular running backs still able to play. End Pat Carney is probably out for the remainder of the season with an ankle injury, and six or seven other players will be out of action for tonight.

The Injuns will be trying to bounch back after absorbing that rout last Saturday. "We made mistakes we haven't made all year in that game," said Tam coach Willie Hector. He said the defensive safeties were committing themselves on option plays and the linebackers weren't rushing the passer. It was a hard loss for Tam because of key injuries, also. And because of the injuries, Hector has had to shake up his starting teams.

Mike Biber moves into tight end replacing Dennis Quinn and Steve Reiter moves to split end. Kirk Sparks, hard-running fullback, suffered a leg injury and will be replaced by Steve Meyers. Defensively, Ray Stark goes into a starting cornerback spot, Scott Nelson will open at a linebacker position and Ron Kelley moves in as a defensive end.

Mike Fowler, Tam's sophomore halfback, is in good shape and should be the boy who makes the difference in the game. If Tam gets its offense rolling, he'll be doing a lot of ball toting.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

TAMALPAIS

Steve Reiter, le; Ernie Bergman, lt; Meludi Miles, lg; Don Jen, c; Norm Ortman, rg; Paul Austin, rt; Mike Biber, re; Tom Lecy, qb; Mike Fowler, hb; Steve Meyers, fb; Fred Hilton, flanker.

MARIN CATHOLIC

GREENBRAE HAS MONOPOLY ON GRID TALENT

Two boys who live across the street from each other in Greenbrae really know what to do with a football.

Frank Giorgi of 155 Eliseo Drive won the Marin County district Punt-Pass-Kick competition in the 10 - year - old bracket and David Del Grande of 142 Eliseo Drive won overall Marin County honors for the age 8 group.

The boys, who go to Greenbrae School, will be competing in the sectionals tomorrow at Funston Playground in San Francisco.

Halloween Golf At Meadow Club

Mrs. T. N. Brown, Mrs. H. C. Billings, Mrs. Ed Christie and Mrs. Ernie Farey combined for a best ball score of 150 to win the Halloween Tournament yesterday at the Meadow Club.

Other best-ball foursome winners were:

Hornets-Redwood At Kentfield Tomorrow

Novato and Redwood high schools, sporting identical season records, battle one another tomorrow afternoon in Kentfield Stadium in a Marin Athletic League football game starting at 1:30.

Although both teams have 4-1-1 marks this year, Novato is 2-1 in MCAL play while the Giants of Redwood are 1-1-1. Novato's record is good enough to give the Hornets a share of the league lead, along with Drake and Tam. But that tie is costly to the Giants who would have to hurdle past all three teams to win the title.

Novato has quite a one-two punch when it gets its hands on the ball. On the ground it's Dick Otis and Frank Perachiotti and in the air it's John Dolinsek throwing. Otis has picked up 713 yards in six games and has been running at a 5.1 average per carry. And it has been that hard yardage in the middle of defensive lines.

Perachiotti has gained 200 yards and boasts the same average per carry as Otis, 5.1. Dolinsek has completed 35 of 77 passes for 406 yards. Tom Corder has been his main target, catching 16 passes on the season for 292 yards and four touchdowns.

BANGED ELBOW

Perachiotti banged up an elbow in the Tam game but he should be ready to play tomorrow. With the exception of minor bumps and bruises, the Hornets came out of the game free of serious injuries.

Novato head coach Harry Moore said he has scouted Redwood enough to know it can move the ball. "We'll just have to outmuscle them," he said. He pointed out that the Novato defense has improved with each game. Only two players on the Hornets defensive squad had any previous varsity experience prior to the season.

He singled out wingback Dennis Hachmyer, tackle George Homenko and defensive back Larry Stewart for outstanding defensive play against Tam.

Redwood coach Bob Troppmann was pleased to report a healthy team for the game. Welcomed back to the fold from the injured list were ends Tim Akers and Bud Lyons, tackles Mark Herrero and Rusty Poole and halfback Harvey Hand.

The game will be broadcast live on Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen calling the play-by-play.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

NOVATO

REDWOOD

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Congrats To Rod And Reelers; Salmon Chasers Still Hopeful

STEVENS

Before I forget it, here are congratulations to Jack Marshall and his two passengers who boated six stripers to 19½ pounds; to "Shorty" Fazzio for his 19-pound, 15-ounce bass, and our deepest sympathy for the blank registered by Stan Wright. The above are all members of the Fishing Fools Rod and Reel Club.

As might be expected, the terrific success of Saturday tapered off a bit on the Sabbath, but came back strong on Monday and Tuesday. Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor reported a strong two-fish-per-rod on both days, and when asked if any sturgeon had been landed, mentioned that The Sturgeon King, Johnny Sivera, worked the lower Suisun for three nice limits to 73 pounds. As seems to be natural these days, most of the bass caught were of good size. Especially in cases where bullheads were used as bait.

JUST TO be contrary, from China Camp where the Quans reported bass fishing still good, the best catches appear to have been taken on the old standby, sardines.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina reported some wild and woolly action by his patrons on Monday and Tuesday. Carl made a trip personally and had no trouble limiting out with big fish on bullheads off Buoy 5. I understand quite a few fish in the 6 to 10 pound class were taken on sardines in more shallow water.

TONY CARUSO of Caruso's harbor in Sausalito mentioned that fair to good bass fishing was had the past few days off Red Rock and California City. Regarding salmon trolling, only two boats went out on Tuesday and very few salmon were taken.

LEE ANDERSON'S in Oakland reported the boat R.S.P. on Tuesday netted seven limits to 16 pounds near Red Rock. The Duke No. 2 had 6 bass to 22 pounds off Point Pinole, and the Ray Marsh boated 3 limits to 20 pounds in the same area. Joe Cirelli limited with bass to 10 pounds off Treasure Island.

GETTING BACK to the dearth of salmon outside the Gate, I asked Tony Caruso, who is a genuine old timer and has kept records for a long time, if he figured the salmon trolling was over for this year.

"Well," Tony said, "we are still hoping history repeats itself. Last year, on the 31st of October, we had our biggest day of the year. Seventeen boats went out and they came in with 627 salmon from 30 to 38 pounds. Prior to the 31st, fishing had been very slow, so we are all hoping the same wonderful fishing will again happen before this month is over."

Rusty Testa of Novato, only 8, outdid his father and grandfather recently while drift fishing near Red Rock. Rusty was the only one to catch a salmon and it weighed out at 27 pounds. Drawing blanks were his father, Kenneth, grandfather, Pete, and brother Mike, 5.

A Knockout For Molina

SAN JOSE (AP) — Luis Molina, 138½, 10th ranked welterweight, knocked out Rugene (Pepper) Parker last night in 2:20 of the ninth round. The bout had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

Both men are from San Jose, topping a card of two other scheduled 10-rounders that also ended in KO's.

Hurricane Kid, 152, Hawaii, whipped Mexico's Paolo Caronas, 149½, in 2:40 of the 6th round. In the last bout Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, 126½, did likewise to Mayico Robles, 126, in 1:40 of round 4. Both are from Mexico.

A Stiff Test For Stanford

SEATTLE (AP)—The University of Washington will try to play the role of wrench Saturday when Stanford's football machine, still powering toward a possible Rose Bowl bid, seeks its fifth victory of the season and its second in Pacific Athletic Conference action.

The role would not be new for Washington, which has defeated Stanford in each of their last six gridiron clashes. And last week the local Huskies, rallying after four straight defeats, apparently eliminated favored Oregon from any chance at bowl consideration.

Senior Tod Hullin will be back in the No. 1 quarterbacking job for Washington after temporary displacement by Tom Sparlin. Sophomore Sparlin suffered a collarbone fracture in the Oregon fracas and Hullin directed the Huskies to their 24-20 triumph. His backup man will be Frank Etter, a Spokane sophomore.

Dave Lewis, recovered from an early season toe injury, now is driving the Stanford machine with the finesse predicted for him at the season's start. Lewis took over the conference passing leadership after last week's 31-14 Stanford triumph over Army.

Although both teams are known to favor the rushing game, Washington also has depended on aerials for much of its 1965 success and Hullin has passed for seven touchdowns, leading all the pitchers in tally production. Lewis has connected on four scoring passes.

Toughened under the tutoring of John Ralston, Stanford leads the conference in both defense and offense while Washington is close to the bottom in all categories. Even so, the teams are rated fairly even—possibly because of those six consecutive Stanford losses, plus the fact that the visitors have not won in Seattle since 1957.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (PDT) and a sellout crowd of 55,000 is assured.

San Rafael Swim Stars Honored

Top members of the San Rafael Swim Club received trophies in all the age groups at a recent banquet in honor of the club. Winners were:

New officers for next year are:

OVER AT BERKELEY

Can Bears Make Comeback Again?

A week ago, California fell 56-3 to a UCLA club which earlier in the season had to fight all the way to edge Penn State 24-22.

The Bears have lost a couple of tackles through injuries and defensive halfback Greg Palamountain remains out.

Still Coach Ray Willsey figures his Californians can bounce back just as they did after Notre Dame walloped them 48-6 in the opener. Going into the UCLA disaster, California had won three straight.

The Bears defenses which couldn't stop the Bruins, now must contend with fullback Dave McNaughton who has gained 389 yards for a 4.4 average in five games.

He gained 97 yards a week ago as the Lions whipped West Virginia 44-6.

Of that victory, Coach Rip Engle commented, "We finally stopped beating ourselves. We had a bushel of breaks and were able to take advantage of them. There was a great effort on the part of the defense."

Penn State is only 2-3 but a year ago the team also was off to a poor start and then finished with five straight victories and on the Lambert Trophy as the East's best.

A crowd of 30,000 to 35,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff in Cal's Memorial Stadium.

Once again Dan Berry ill alternate with Jim Hunt as California quarterback ith Reist at left half, workhorse Tom Relles at slot back and Frank Lynch at fullback.

California takes a 3-3 record onto the field. The Bears lost to Notre Dame, Michigan and UCLA but beat Kansas, the Air Force and Washington. Penn State beat Boston College as well as West Virginia but has loss to Michigan State, Syracuse and UCLA.

A Rough Road For Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's going to be rocky going on the road for the champion Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. this season from all indications.

The Cincinnati Royals whipped the Celtics 113-108 last night for the champs' second straight road defeat. Willie Naulls' shooting gave the Celtics a 50-44 lead, but after he fouled out in the second half the Royals forged ahead and won going away.

The Los Angeles Lakers, overwhelmed the touring New York Knicks 140-116 in the other NBA game scheduled last night. The Lakers had beaten the Knicks by two points in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and Wayne Embry led the Cincinnati attack to give the Royals their second victory in five starts.

Robertson threw in 32 points on 12 field goals and eight of 10 free throws in addition to making 12 assists. Lucas scored 19 points and grabbed 31 rebounds. Embry also scored 19 points including the field goal that broke a 68-68 tie and put the Royals ahead for good near the end of the third quarter.

Naulls paced the Celtics with 23 points, 14 in the first half, but the Celts dropped out of contention after he fouled out. Big Bill Russell pulled down 30 rebounds, but failed to get a field goal until the Royals led by 11 points at 94-83. Russell finished with eight points.

The Lakers piled up a 71-54 halftime lead in their rout of the Knocks. Seven Los Angeles players scored in double figures, topped by Jerry West's 25 points. LeRoy Ellis contributed 21. Howie Komives was high for New York with 16.

The winners set a team point-scoring record for the Sports Arena in beating the Knicks for the 15th straight time in Los Angeles. The Lakers opened a 30-point bulge in the second half before Coach Fred Schaus cleared the bench in final period.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Congrats To Rod And Reelers; Salmon Chasers Still Hopeful

STEVENS

Before I forget it, here are congratulations to Jack Marshall and his two passengers who boated six stripers to 19½ pounds; to "Shorty" Fazzio for his 19-pound, 15-ounce bass, and our deepest sympathy for the blank registered by Stan Wright. The above are all members of the Fishing Fools Rod and Reel Club.

As might be expected, the terrific success of Saturday tapered off a bit on the Sabbath, but came back strong on Monday and Tuesday. Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor reported a strong two-fish-per-rod on both days, and when asked if any sturgeon had been landed, mentioned that The Sturgeon King, Johnny Sivera, worked the lower Suisun for three nice limits to 73 pounds. As seems to be natural these days, most of the bass caught were of good size. Especially in cases where bullheads were used as bait.

JUST TO be contrary, from China Camp where the Quans reported bass fishing still good, the best catches appear to have been taken on the old standby, sardines.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina reported some wild and woolly action by his patrons on Monday and Tuesday. Carl made a trip personally and had no trouble limiting out with big fish on bullheads off Buoy 5. I understand quite a few fish in the 6 to 10 pound class were taken on sardines in more shallow water.

TONY CARUSO of Caruso's harbor in Sausalito mentioned that fair to good bass fishing was had the past few days off Red Rock and California City. Regarding salmon trolling, only two boats went out on Tuesday and very few salmon were taken.

LEE ANDERSON'S in Oakland reported the boat R.S.P. on Tuesday netted seven limits to 16 pounds near Red Rock. The Duke No. 2 had 6 bass to 22 pounds off Point Pinole, and the Ray Marsh boated 3 limits to 20 pounds in the same area. Joe Cirelli limited with bass to 10 pounds off Treasure Island.

GETTING BACK to the dearth of salmon outside the Gate, I asked Tony Caruso, who is a genuine old timer and has kept records for a long time, if he figured the salmon trolling was over for this year.

"Well," Tony said, "we are still hoping history repeats itself. Last year, on the 31st of October, we had our biggest day of the year. Seventeen boats went out and they came in with 627 salmon from 30 to 38 pounds. Prior to the 31st, fishing had been very slow, so we are all hoping the same wonderful fishing will again happen before this month is over."

Rusty Testa of Novato, only 8, outdid his father and grandfather recently while drift fishing near Red Rock. Rusty was the only one to catch a salmon and it weighed out at 27 pounds. Drawing blanks were his father, Kenneth, grandfather, Pete, and brother Mike, 5.

A Knockout For Molina

SAN JOSE (AP) — Luis Molina, 138½, 10th ranked welterweight, knocked out Rugene (Pepper) Parker last night in 2:20 of the ninth round. The bout had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

Both men are from San Jose, topping a card of two other scheduled 10-rounders that also ended in KO's.

Hurricane Kid, 152, Hawaii, whipped Mexico's Paolo Caronas, 149½, in 2:40 of the 6th round. In the last bout Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, 126½, did likewise to Mayico Robles, 126, in 1:40 of round 4. Both are from Mexico.

A Stiff Test For Stanford

SEATTLE (AP)—The University of Washington will try to play the role of wrench Saturday when Stanford's football machine, still powering toward a possible Rose Bowl bid, seeks its fifth victory of the season and its second in Pacific Athletic Conference action.

The role would not be new for Washington, which has defeated Stanford in each of their last six gridiron clashes. And last week the local Huskies, rallying after four straight defeats, apparently eliminated favored Oregon from any chance at bowl consideration.

Senior Tod Hullin will be back in the No. 1 quarterbacking job for Washington after temporary displacement by Tom Sparlin. Sophomore Sparlin suffered a collarbone fracture in the Oregon fracas and Hullin directed the Huskies to their 24-20 triumph. His backup man will be Frank Etter, a Spokane sophomore.

Dave Lewis, recovered from an early season toe injury, now is driving the Stanford machine with the finesse predicted for him at the season's start. Lewis took over the conference passing leadership after last week's 31-14 Stanford triumph over Army.

Although both teams are known to favor the rushing game, Washington also has depended on aerials for much of its 1965 success and Hullin has passed for seven touchdowns, leading all the pitchers in tally production. Lewis has connected on four scoring passes.

Toughened under the tutoring of John Ralston, Stanford leads the conference in both defense and offense while Washington is close to the bottom in all categories. Even so, the teams are rated fairly even—possibly because of those six consecutive Stanford losses, plus the fact that the visitors have not won in Seattle since 1957.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (PDT) and a sellout crowd of 55,000 is assured.

San Rafael Swim Stars Honored

New officers for next year are:

Bill McDuffie, president; Bill Hislop, vice president; Mary Lou Listug, secretary, and Paul Nederman, treasurer.

OVER AT BERKELEY

Can Bears Make Comeback Again?

A week ago, California fell 56-3 to a UCLA club which earlier in the season had to fight all the way to edge Penn State 24-22.

Still Coach Ray Willsey figures his Californians can bounce back just as they did after Notre Dame walloped them 48-6 in the opener. Going into the UCLA disaster, California had won three straight.

The Bears defenses which couldn't stop the Bruins, now must contend with fullback Dave McNaughton who has gained 389 yards for a 4.4 average in five games.

He gained 97 yards a week ago as the Lions whipped West Virginia 44-6.

Of that victory, Coach Rip Engle commented, "We finally stopped beating ourselves. We had a bushel of breaks and were able to take advantage of them. There was a great effort on the part of the defense."

Once again Dan Berry ill alternate with Jim Hunt as California quarterback ith Reist at left half, workhorse Tom Relles at slot back and Frank Lynch at fullback.

California takes a 3-3 record onto the field. The Bears lost to Notre Dame, Michigan and UCLA but beat Kansas, the Air Force and Washington. Penn State beat Boston College as well as West Virginia but has loss to Michigan State, Syracuse and UCLA.

Seven At Redwood Will Travel Abroad

Seven Redwood High School students have been chosen by the school to travel abroad next year under three exchange programs and are awaiting the approval of their applications.

A chance to travel and live in a foreign country has been given to juniors Mary Elliot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Elliot, 128 Buena Vista, Corte Madera, and Linda Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kaplan, 26 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur, under the American Field Service program.

If her candidacy is approved by the main office in New York, Miss Elliot will spend a year living with a family and attending school with her foreign counterpart. Miss Kaplan, also depending on final approval, will spend the summer living in a foreign home.

Two juniors will be making trips abroad under the Experiment in International Living program.

Kathy Bramante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bramante, Belvedere, and Jim Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Rogers, Greenbrae, will spend 10 weeks in Europe or South America. The first half of their stay will be with a foreign family. The second part will be a tour of the country.

Three Redwood students have been selected to represent the United States in foreign countries under the Youth for Understanding exchange program.

They are senior Arthur Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ferguson, 424 Woodland Road, Kentfield; sophomore Zubeida Kadri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zia Kadri, 5 Warren Court, Tiburon, and sophomore Molly Callahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Callahan, 3 Community Road, Belvedere.

Sanitary Board Due To Talk Of Land Sale

The Corte Madera Sanitary District Board, meeting at the district office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., is scheduled to discuss selling an 18,340 square foot lot next to the shopping center on Paradise Drive.

Funds from the sale could be used for replacement of sewer lines, according to district recording secretary Portia Fitzgerald. Scheduled to discuss the sale with the board is Martin Zankel of Abbot Western Real Estate Development.

TABLES TURNED ON TINY TERRORS

Children at the Alpha Bet School in San Anselmo showed up in costume for a Halloween party today, then were frightened at the appearance of a fullsized "witch" and "ghost"—Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ladar, parents of one of the children. All went well, however, when the little ones found out the identity of the pair of spooks. Making friends with witch and ghost are Cynthia Nelson and Virginia Olrich. Octogenarian Sues Young Women To Regain Property

Says They 'Sweet Talked' Him Into Signing Over House, Car

An elderly, partially blind widower today filed suit against two young women he said bilked him of money and property amounting to about $120,000 after moving into his Mill Valley home with him and vowing their love and affection.

Max Bootzin, 82, who resided at 8 Robertson Terrace but moved to a San Francisco apartment about six months ago, charged in the Marin Superior Court suit that his housemates, Charmaine Klenman, 27, and Joan Taylor, 18, took advantage of his loneliness to ingratiate themselves with him.

After the pair moved into the Mill Valley home with him, he alleges, and under a pretense of wishing him to prove his own love, Miss Klenman caused him to give her joint title to his residence, which is complete with back yard swimming pool.

Also, he claims, she induced him to give her other parcels of land, $12,000 for furniture, another $12,000 for clothing and "other purchases and donations," and about $4,000 for an Oldsmobile automobile.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled a hearing at 2 p.m. on Nov. 9 for the defendants to show cause why they should not be temporarily enjoined from disposing of any of the property.

According to the complaint, Bootzin met the two women a year before his wife of 50 years, Minnie, died Aug. 21, 1960. Following her death, he was "extremely unhappy and lonely and foolishly responsive to any friendship or affection proffered," it relates. The two young women, it alleges, then entered into a conspiracy to defraud him and gain his possessions.

He said they accomplished this through a campaign of "flattery, blandishments, coaxing and promises to which the plaintiff, by reason of his age, illness, loneliness and unhappiness, was unfortunately susceptible."

Miss Klenman pretended she was in love with him, Bootzin charges, and said she wished to marry him and care for him.

He alleges she maintained, however, she wasn't convinced of his love for her, and that he "should prove the same by putting her in possession of some valuable property of his" before any wedding took place.

In July of 1961, the complaint goes on, he transferred to joint tenancy with her the five parcels of land, including his home. He said he later gave her sole title to all but the residence property.

The other cash gifts, followed according to the suit, although

Bridge Directors Vote Officially For Second Deck

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today made official their Oct. 5 decision to build a second deck on the bridge.

Their 11-to-2 vote followed a hot parliamentary battle between factions supporting approval of recommendations put forth when directors met before as a committee of the whole, and backers of resolution submitted today by San Francisco Director Joseph J. Diviny, calling for a "preliminary, comprehensive, engineering investigation."

Before that, directors defeated by 9-to-4 vote a motion by San Francisco director Stephen C. Leonoudakis which retained more of Diviny's resolution than was finally adopted.

The motion which was finally passed reaffirmed the directors' desire "in principle" to build the second deck.

Drawing from Diviny's resolution, it added paragraphs stating that the district would take part in studies to modernize bridge approaches both in Marin County and San Francisco, and would attempt to make the project fit in with regional transportation planning studies now under way.

The discussion consumed most of the directors' 90-minute meeting. It started with district vice president John E. Nelson's motion to approve the recommendations of the Oct. 5 meeting at which he presided, and to select engineers for the project.

Before any vote was taken, however, Leonoudakis complained that further investigation was needed before the district should decide on the proposal.

Nelson retorted that "the time has come for us to say that we are or are not prepared to go ahead with the second deck."

Nelson said engineering stud-

SOMETHING TO FLIP A WIG OVER

Approximately $2,000 worth of wigs were stolen from the Wig Shop at 968 Second Street, Novato, during the night, police reported.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Eleanor Jean Evans of 17 Bryan Drive, Novato, when she opened the shop at 10 a.m. today. She said between 11 and 15 wigs were missing. A rear door had been broken to gain entry.

Have Proper Fun, Police Tell Goblins

This is the weekend Halloween ghosts and goblins have a ball, but police forces around Marin County are detremined to make them behave themselves.

Extra police will be on duty tomorrow night and Sunday — the time the witches ride — to insure that if things do go bump in the night, they do it within the law.

Forty sheriff's deputies in 20 cars will be on special patrol tomorrow and Sunday starting at 6:30 p.m. until the wee small hours.

In addition, there will be 10 reserve men to watch such areas as shopping centers. Last year, the sheriff's men responded to 40 complaints of mischief.

Ten amateur radio operators will cruise San Rafael in their cars to assist police, who will have 18 regular patrolmen on duty plus six extra. All the operators will do is report possible disturbances. They will not make arrests.

Mill Valley will have six regular officers plus nine reserve men on duty on Halloween. Sgt. Lee Sellers added that four of the officers will be in cars making regular patrols of city property.

The Halloween parade for children sponsored by the City of Mill Valley has been cancelled because the festival falls on a Sunday, reported Don Dimitratos, city parks and recreation director.

Negroes Rebel Against Civil Demonstration

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil rights forces prepared another march at Lincolnton, Ga., today, although a similar march was halted yesterday in a confrontation with Lincolnton Negroes who said they were tired of demonstrations.

In an action believed unequaled in the Southern racial struggle,* about 40 Negro men — most of them sawmill and pulpwood workers — barred the way of about 30 civil rights demonstrators yesterday.

The men said they were concerned for the safety of the marchers and intended them no harm. They said they felt the demonstrations accomplished nothing.

The unique meeting lasted more than an hour before a civil rights leader called off the march. But they pledged to march again.

Aides of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. converged on Selma, Ala., where King invited representatives of all civil rights groups to meet today for strategy talks aimed at a "dramatic action program."

At the Lincolnton confrontation, a civil rights leader, Willie Bolden, asked the Negroes who barred the way, "Why, Why are you doing this?" White spectators nearby laughed.

"What's going to happen to us after you leave?" replied one of the Lincolnton men.

The Negroes said they were not satisfied with conditions at the Negro school but, "there's nothing we can do about it."

Marin Ending Use Of Dump At Larkspur

The Marin County dump at Larkspur will close Sunday and will not be opened again, County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost announced today.

"It's full," Frost said.

So far the county has not been able to locate an alternate public dump and people with trash will have to use either the private dump at Point San Quentin or the Redwood Sanitary Land Fill dump north of Novato, Frost said.

The county has been in negotiations with Corte Madera on a 100-acre site south of Corte Madera Creek and east of Highway 101. The town wants to fill the land and convert it to a golf course.

There havee been some protests to the Corte Madera proposal, and county supervisors decided this week to hold a public hearing on the plan before going ahead.

The town has said it would convert the property to a golf course in about 10 years.

City council aspirant

Matts Perry Tries Politics In Sausalito

Municipal elections in Marin are not until next April 12, but the first candidate tossed his hat into the ring today.

The hat, to be more specific, is a fireman's cap—that worn for many years until his retirement last February by Matthew J. (Matts) Perry of Sausalito.

Perry announced he will enter the list for election to the Sausalito City Council in the April voting.

"There have been many people from all sections of the city that think they should have someone who knows the city," said Perry. "I was born and raised here and I know the city from top to bottom.

"I also will try to do something about the taxes, try to get them back where people can afford to pay them."

Perry, 63, lives at 420 Turney Street.

Red Rocket Downs U.S. Navy Plane

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy F8E Crusader jet fighter was blown up over North Viet Nam Wednesday by what was presumed to be a surface-to-air missile and the pilot is missing, a U.S. military spokesman announced last night.

Five American planes had been downed previously by the Soviet - supplied missiles. the Crusader was hit on a bombing mission 60 miles southwest of Hanoi.

The spokesman said it presumably was fired on from a mobile missile installation that could be erected and dismantled within 24 hours.

EARTH ROLLER RUNS AMUCK, SMASHES GARAGE

An unmanned 25-ton earth roller smashed through the attached garage at the home of Herbert Twillman at 25 Drakewood Lane, Novato, at 4:15 p.m. yesterday, leaving this shambles. Mrs. Twillman, who saw the roller approaching from a window, collapsed from shock at fear for her 5-year-old son, Douglas, who was playing in the yard. He was not hit, however. Donald Earl Ambrose, 33, of Santa Rosa, was operating the roller for Nelson Equipment Co. of Novato, grading homesites in Kaden Park. He told Novato police the roller slipped out of gear and rolled 452 feet downhill. He leaped to safety as it bounced over a curb. (Photo by Herbert Twillman)

Klanners' Sabotage Schools Described

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Georgia Ku Klux Klan ran how-to-do-it schools for its members on time bombs, booby traps, judo and karate, a House investigator has testified.

With Georgia Klan Grand Dragon Calvin F. Craig sitting on the witness stand, investigator Philip Manuel testified yesterday that such a school was held on a farm near Macon, Ga., in October, 1961.

He said Craig and the top U.S. klansman, Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton, attended the three hour demonstration, which included:

How to make a bomb with "three or four minutes getaway time" by taping dynamite to one end of a board and arranging a cigarette so that it would burn down and light a book of matches.

How to make an incendiary bomb from a bottle of powdered sugar and potassium chlorate, to be set off by a capsule of acid. Manuel said the instructor, William B. Crowe, talked about using it in department stores that bowed to racial integration, by having a klansman go in to try on a suit and then leave the bomb in a pocket of the suit.

How to set a car on fire by taping a firecracker to a bottle of gasoline, so the explosion would spray burning gas all over the inside. Manuel said this was demonstrated on a derelict car and Crowe said the fire was so intense that no one in the car would have been able to escape.

He asked Craig if it wasn't true that under his tenure as grand dragon many such bomb and judo schools were held "with your full knowledge and approval."

As all the Klan leaders have done since the start of the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Craig refused to answer all questions, citing constitutional rights including those of the Fifth Amendment.

Manuel described another school session he said was held on the farm of Robert L. Bing in Henry County, Ga., on Oct. 17, 1964.

He said klansmen were taught how to assemble an M1 rifle, make gasoline bombs known as Molotov cocktails, dynamite bombs and booby traps.

A problem in guerrilla warfare also was given the students, Manuel said, on how to take over radio stations and power plants. He said the instructors were Daniel Bruce and Charles M. Bartlett.

The 1961 school was held on the farm of O. C. Mixon, nine miles northeast of Macon, Ga., Manuel said.

The committee recessed its hearings until Monday. It told Craig to come back for more questioning Nov. 5.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Septuagenarian Still A Student

COMPTON (AP)—The formal education of Daniel Elmore just might go on as long as he lives.

Elmore is the Negro handyman who put all his 10 children through college before he got a high school diploma of his own, at 72.

Elmore

Now he has finished his first year of college. He's still a handyman, at 74.

A year ago The Associated Press told how Elmore educated his seven daughters and three sons despite almost overwhelming financial odds, and then went through high school himself.

Elmore brings the report up to date:

"I paint, I plaster, I do carpentry—anything I can get. But I don't go for that 8-to-4 business any more. I hold the work to about four hours a day."

Classes are a nighttime proposition for Elmore. He's used to this now, and he says the itch to learn is stronger than ever.

"Electronics," he said, interests him most.

New Torpedo Has Homing Instincts

AZUSA (AP)—A system that tries, and tries again if it fails the first time, is built into the new Mark 46-0 torpedo just delivered to the Navy by Aerojet-General Corp.

The Navy took delivery of the first torpedo, which they call an underwater guided missile, yesterday. It is designed to range deeper and farther than any previous anti - submarine weapon.

Spokesmen for the company said more than $100 million has been earmarked for mass production of the nine-foot-long cylindrical weapon, the first to be powered by solid fuel.

The missile is designed to be launched from an aircraft or surface ships, but not from submarines, officials said.

Food Prices Rising After August Drop

WASHINGTO N(AP) — Food prices dropped nearly one percent in August but have been edging up again since, the Labor Department reported yesterday after a national spot check of supermarkets.

Soaring meat prices head the advance, with the prices of eggs, milk and most other dairy products high and expected to go higher.

Flood Bill Signed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson signed a $4.3-billion public works appropriation bill yesterday providing funds for the planning and construction of flood-control, navigation, reclamation and power projects.

Smog Continues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No quick relief was in sight today for smog-plagued Southern Californians, who've been cursed this week with the worst smog attack in a decade.

The temperature bounced above 90 degrees for the ninth straight day yesterday, and for the 12th day, the smog-holding inversion layer was right down on the ground.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The 21st annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo began its 10-day stand at the Cow Palace today with the judging of Guernsey and Jersey cows.

Johnson Recovering Well, Getting Enough Exercise

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, though still not free of all pain, is said to be regaining his strength and setting a good pace for himself at the LBJ Ranch.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked by reporters yesterday for a current assessment of Johnson's condition, just three weeks after the President entered the Bethesda Naval Hospital for surgery.

Said Moyers: "I think he is feeling just about like the doctors expect him to feel. He is gaining his strength back. His muscles are still very sore from the area involved in the surgery. He experiences, from time to time, some discomfort as a result of that, but he is progressing."

Before the President flew here last Saturday for an extended convalescent stay at his ranch home, his doctors urged him to use good judgment in setting his own recovery pace — to avoid overexertion and, at the same time, shun any temptation to lay back and play the role of an invalid.

"I think the pace he has set for himself," said Moyers, "is one the doctors find pleasing and the results satisfying."

Johnson Thursday put in a before-dawn to after-dusk day, but one that couldn't be classified as strenuous.

Up about 6 a.m., he cleared his desk of paper work, conferred by phone with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, then took wife Lady Bird for a walk down the dirt lane that runs alongside the Pedernales River in front of their home. By his own estimate, he walked three or four miles.

In the afternoon, he signed three bills, then napped and sat in the sun.

No schedule for today was announced.

CARICATURE OF A CAR

Steve Scott, 22, of Northridge, shows off his prize hot rod, the "Uncertain T," at the Los Angeles Auto Show yesterday. Scott, a college physics student, spent three years and some $10,000 creating what he calls an "abstract characterization" of the early Model T Ford, after friends challenged him on a joking claim that he could build a car from a cartoon. Its only Ford parts are the headlights, radiator shell, radiator temperature gauge and steering wheel. It has a fiberglass body and Buick engine.

Educator Warns Of Wrong Teaching About Narcotics

"Poor or improper teaching may stimulate narcotics usage," Dr. Oliver E. Byrd told 50 parents gathered last night for a meeting of the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club.

Dr. Byrd, chairman of the department of health education at Stanford University School of Education, said "the average teacher I know of can't do an adequate job of teaching the dangers of narcotics because she doesn't know enough."

"There is a great burden on school leadership to provide facilities for proper education on drug usage," said Byrd, who has been retained by Marin County schools to help in the preparation of a proper anti-narcotic program.

Dr. Byrd described a case of improper anti-narcotics education. A teacher, required by law to give instruction about narcotics use, prepared a display for the children showing exactly how narcotics are taken.

"That was just plain stupid," said Dr. Byrd. "A teacher shouldn't show how to do it, she should show what happens when its done."

A warm emotional atmosphere in the home is the parent's strongest defense against his chcild becoming a narcotics user, said Dr. Byrd.

Of all drug users, 95 per cent need psychiatric treatment to resolve basic emotional problems, he said. Teen-age users are almost always delinquents who have excessive tendencies to immature action, he said.

Dr. Byrd challenged the claim that use of marijuana is not harmful.

"People simply don't understand what happens when someone smokes marijuana," he declares. "It accents already existing instabilities; it relaxes inhibitions; after long usage it can become mentally irritating and make the user violent; it will eventually lead to greatly destructive drug, heroin."

The meeting at the Sleepy Hollow School is one of a series of such meetings planned around the county, said Lawrence A. Lindberg, director of instruction in the Marin County superintendent of schools office.

he county schools office will bring Dr. Byrd to speak to any parents group in the county which requests to hear him, said Lindberg.

It will be a year, said Lindberg, before the county schools' program on narcotics education is ready for use in the classroom.

Motel Death Inquest Coroner's Jury Listed

Seven businessmen (one retired), three housewives, an engineer and a utilities executive were on the coroner's jury which decided Tuesday that Lillian E. Fonk's death was an accident.

Mrs. Fonk died Oct. 14 at Marin General Hospital from a blood clot caused by a blow on the head.

The jurors were Theodore Barron, businessman; Alfred Gazzano, store manager; Burton Kirchner, bank vice president; Russell M. Morgan, engineer; Leland Morris, jeweler; Mrs. Emma Jean C. Rago, housewife; Charles Rosenbaum, real estate broker; Mrs. Diane Schilling, housewife; Mrs. Gretchen N. Singer, public accountant; George W. Tierback, retired businessman; Carl N. Valine, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. transportation supervisor, and Mrs. Helen Walenta, housewife.

Mrs. Fonk, 52, was found bruised and unconscious in her bedroom at the Fireside Motel, Manzanita. But the jury, after hearing testimony from Dr. John Manwaring, Dr. Sam Hanzel, and Dr. Carl F. Larson, ruled that there was nothing to show her bruises were caused by a blow.

Her husband, John P. Fonk, 48, admitted he had hit his wife with the back of his hand.

The word "no" inserted in type in a sentence in the Independent-Journal's report of the inquest in Wednesday's paper made it appear the jury had found evidence the injuries were caused by a blow.

War On Hoodlums

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police have announced plans for a massive attack against this city's gangs of young hoodlums and added that "no mercy" will be shown to juvenile delinquents. Police say juvenile delinquency has grown so that one out of every 40 residents of this city is a criminal.

Motorist Injured As Car Overturns

Albert D. Torres, 15, of 41 Corte Madera, Greenbrae, was burised on the right arm at 3:30 p.m. yesterday when the car he was driving rolled over on Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The patrol said Torres had just turned east into Los Cerros from Vista Grande Drive when the car climbed the right bank and overturned.

No Complaint Filed In 'Bombing' Arrest

Michael Dufficy, deputy district attorney, said Harry H. Johnson, Marin Guide publisher who made a citizen's arrest alleging trespassing by Ajdee Smith, 45, San Jose president of the Mailers Union, has not yet signed a complaint in Marin Municipal Court which would bring the matter to trial.

Dufficy said his own office likely will not file a charge of trespassing. He said investigation of possible arson, however, will continue.

The row between Johnson and union picketers has included throwing of a smoke grenade into the Tamalpais Valley building at 200 Shoreline Highway on Wednesday, tampering with vehicles parked outside the building, an alleged assault by a Marin Guide truck driver on a picket, and pelting of five pickets with fresh fruit and eggs Wednesday night in front of the Marin Guide office on Caledonia Street in Sausalito.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said he and a National Board of Fire Underwriters agent from San Francisco inspected the Tamalpais Valley building damage yesterday to see if arson was involved, but had no finding to announce as yet.

to have two extra officers and three reserve officers on duty both tomorrow and Sunday night. Five units will patrol the town, instead of the usual two or three, Buchignani said.

The Corte Madera police department wil lhave three extra officers on duty Sunday night and one extra tomorrow night. Three cars will patrol the town Sunday and two cars tomorrow.

Sgt. George R. Barnes of the Tiburon sheriff's substation said he plans to have four men in two cars on duty Sunday night, plus two reserve officers on foot patrol in the Boardwalk Shopping Center and Main Street areas.

He said the regular one-man patrol will be on duty tomorrow night. "If anything comes up that one man can't handle, he can get help from the Belvedere department of the substation in Marin City," he said.

Belvedere police plan to have eight officers on duty Sunday night, four regular and four reserve. Two cars will be on patrol and another will be stationed at San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road and a fourth at Beach and Cove roads.

Tomorrow night the usual one man will be on duty, Chief William S. Woodington said, but all officers will be on call in case of trouble.

Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark was out of town today and his officer in charge, Patrolman Charles Mattos would not disclose the number of men to be on patrol for Halloween.

"We will have an ample force to handle any situation that might come up," he said.

Sausalito Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck said "We will have extra people on on Halloween" but declined to name how many.

SUIT

Bootzin said despite all this, she refused to marry him and he believes she has no intention to ever do so. His suit asks recovery of the property and money, and an order restraining the women from disposing of any property in question.

Attorney for Bootzin is Vincent Hallinan.

Neighbors said the two defendants are still residing at the Robertson Terrace address.

Bicycle Hits Car, Novato Boy Hurt

Brian M. Stark, 9, of 1879 Virginia Street, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for a sprained left arm and back strain suffered when his bicycle hit a car.

Brian rode his bike into the side of a westbound car driven by James E. Cermak, 39, of 2034 Shady Lane, Novato, in front of 1832 Virginia Street about 8:30 a.m., police reported.

ies have already established that the deck is feasible.

Leonoudakis then urged that Diviny's resolution be added to Nelson's motion.

tA the suggestion of director Dan E. London of San Francisco, Leonadoukis agreed to strike out a clause specifying that the deck be 60 feet wide with a minimum vertical clearance of 16 feet and carry one-direction traffic.

After the 9-to-4 defeat of Leonadoukis's motion, Nelson moved to adopt part of Diviny's resolution leaving out reference to preliminary investigation. Only votes against that motion were cast by Diviny and Leonadoukis.

Among several letters received by the directors concerning the deck was one from Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer urging that they do no more than study the feasibility of building the second deck.

Between motions, president L. E. Castner of Sonoma County read a telegram which has just arrived from Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen decrying Storer's letter as "misleading and unconstructive."

Bridge district general manager James Adam said he had corresponded with Paine and had learned that Paine's fee would be $250 per day plus expenses. In addition, he said, Paine would charge $15,000 to make a comparative study of two plans for the design of the deck which have been submitted to the directors.

At the end of the meeting directors unanimously approved a motion by Leonadoukis directing Adam to implement the policy decision and telling him to request a written presenation from Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco, who made one of the two plans.

SARAH WINGATE TAYLOR

OBITUARIES

Sarah Wingate Taylor

Sarah Wingate Taylor, associate professor of English at Dominican College, San Rafael, and a poet claimed by both Marin and New England, died yesterday in a Boston hospital afYter a long illness. She was 58.

A member of the college staff for 20 years, and the expert on Shakespeare there, Miss Taylor this year was granted a sabbatical leave to write a history of her summer home, Clark's Island, off Duxbury, Mass.

The home and the island have been owned by her family since 1690. Miss Taylor was ninth in descent from Edward Winslow, governor of the Plymouth Colony. Records of Winslow showed that the Pilgrims landed at Clark's Island in 1620 before going on the Plymouth.

Several books of poems have been published by the Dominican teacher, including "Samphire," a collection of religious poems published in 1959, and "Yankee Island Ballads," printed in 1962. "Pet Penguin," a volume of children's verse, was published in 1963.

A native of Newton, Mass., Miss Taylor graduated from Smith College, then studied in England, France and Italy before joining the Boston Pilot for 10 years, becoming poetry editor of the newspaper.

Once declaring herself "an addict of nature unmechanized," she loved gardening and hiking and talking to people. She complained that conversation was becoming a lost art. She lived on the campus, making braided rugs on wet winter days.

A few years ago, Miss Taylor had an operation for cancer. She became ill again last July, when she was hospitalized in Boston. On Sept. 30 she was pronounced gravely ill and then given only two weeks to live.

The Defense Department in Washington had confirmed yesterday the probable loss of a sixth plane to missiles. The first was felled July 2. Details had been withheld here during the search for the Crusader's pilot.

In ground operations it was announced artillery shells of a friendly unit cut down nine U.S. paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division on a drive against the Viet Cong near the South China Sea coast about 260 miles northeast of Saigon. A spokesman said six were killed and three wounded when they moved inadvertently into the artillerymen's line of fire.

A military court has convicted three enlisted men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalary Division for refusing to serve in Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

ABIGAIL ROWLAND

Mrs. Abigail Rowland, a member of the Pacheco family that pioneered Marin, died last night in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital. She was 75.

She was the grand-daughter of Ygnacio Pacheco, who came to what is now Marin on his appointment in 1834 as alcalde by California's Mexican rulers.

Mrs. Rowland was admitted to the hospital Saturday with a piece of meat lodged in her throat.

Mrs. Rowland lived for many years in the Pacheco family's 12-room home built in 1881 by her father, Gumesindo Pacheco, at 5495 Redwood Highway, Novato.

Her father was elected a Marin County supervisor in 1902 and served almost until his death in 1916.

Most of the land on which Hamilton Air Force Base and nearby communities including Ignacio now are located, was given to her grandfather as a reward for military and administrative services by Gov. Juan Alvarado. It was named San Jose Rancho after his birthplace and totalled 6.659 acres, stretching from the mountains on the west to San Pablo Bay on the east.

Born at Ignacio, Mrs. Rowland had lived in California all her life.

She is survived by a son, Herbert Rowland of San Rafael; three grandchildren, Kenneth Rowland of Novato and Ann and Herbert Rowland of San Rafael. She also has two great-grandchildren.

High Mass of Requiem will be sung at St. Raphael's Church at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with the cortege leaving Keaton's Mortuary at 9:15 a.m. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited Monday at the mortuary at 8 p.m.

NELLIE DONOHUE

Mrs. Nellie Donohue, 85, a Marin resident since 1907, died yesterday at a local hospital.

Mrs. Donohue was the widow of Eugene Donohue. She had resided for about 55 years at 143 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, and was born in California.

She is survived by a sister, Edyth Clark in Tomales.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. A Requiem Mass will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

THOMAS KING

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County 27 years. He was retired as a captain with the San Francisco Fire Department, for whom he worked for 30 years.

He was a member of the Firefighters Union 798, Widow and Orphans Mutual Aid, San Francisco Knife and Fork Club and the Veteran Firemen's Assn.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

FREDERICK BURMAN

He had been under a physician's care for a heart condition.

A native of San Antonio, Tex., he had lived in Tiburon for eight years, last residing at 2150A Mar East Street. Before retiring to Marin he operated a laundry and dry cleaning business in Poplar Bluff, Mo., and served in the Navy as a chief petty officer for 31 years.

The body was removed to the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, where his eyes had been willed. No memorial service is planned.

MIKE ADDY

Mike Addy, 75, retired lumber worker of 38 Glenn Drive, Sausalito, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Randolph, Iowa, he had lived most of his life in Montana, where he had been in the lumber business. He last worked as a lumber grader for Christensen Lumber Co. in San Francisco. He retired six years ago and made his home with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kindred in Sausalito.

He was a member of Mill and Cabinet Workers Union of Oakland and the Masonic Lodge of Polson, Mont.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Kindred and Marion Addy of Berkeley and a sister, Mrs. Irene Fite of Polson, Mont.

Funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Inurnment will be private.

LOUIS CHIRONE

Requiem Mass for Louis Emil Chirone of San Francisco, brother of five Marin County residents, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Emydius Church, 256 Ashton Street, San Francisco.

Chirone, 60, died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after an illness of six weeks.

A native of San Francisco, he grew up in San Anselmo, returning to San Francisco about 25 years ago. He was an electrician for the San Francisco Municipal Railway.

Surviving are his wife, Mary L. Chirone of San Francisco; two brothers, Tony and Paul Chirone of San Anselmo, and five sisters, Mrs. Anita Hallmark and Mrs. Frances Matley, of San Anselmo, Mrs. Eleanor Slodownick of Black Point, Mrs. Lillian Allen and Antoinette Chirone of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Suhr and Wieboldt Mortuary, 1465 Valencia Street, near 26th Street, San Francisco.

MARGARET SHEA

Funeral for Mrs. Margaret T. Shea of 45 Manzanita Avenue, Black Point, who died in a fire at her home Wednesday, will be held tomorrow in San Francisco.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said today he still has not determined the cause of the $19,000 fatal fire, but said the most probable cause was a cigarette.

"She had installed new gas appliances, but they seem to be in good shape after the fire," he said. "Apparently she went into the bedroom and reached for the telephone, which was across the bed, when she was overcome by smoke."

Mrs. Shea was the widow of Michael Shea. She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Bridie Sullivan and Mrs. Minnie Kelleher of San Francisco, Mrs. Kathleen Dodds of Mill Valley and Nonie Goggin of Oakland, and two brothers, Patrick and James Goggin of Ireland.

Mrs. Shea, 65, was a native of Ballinskelligs, Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Ireland. She had lived 20 years in Marin County and 45 years in California.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Michael's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Reilly Co. Mortuary, 29th and Delores streets, San Francisco.

FRANK WALITIS

Frank Walitis, aged 88, was found dead yesterday on the living room floor at his home on Arroyo Road, Forest Knolls.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Walitis was found by sheriff's deputies who broke into the house after neighbors reported they had not seen him for five days.

Walitis, who lived alone, was under the care of a doctor for a heart ailment.

A native of Lithuania, he had lived in Marin County 19 years and in California 60 years.

He was a former railroad employee and in later years owned his own ranch.

Nearest surviving relatives are two cousins, Milda Kiel of San Francisco and Algerd Jusiatis of Crockett.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY
Natural Marin Beauty
for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.
For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.
We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

Navy's Bosses Try To Soften Admiral Revolt

The officers in question are Rear Admirals William A. Brockett, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, and Charles A. Curtze, deputy chief. They are retiring prematurely because they oppose increasing centralization of authority in the Pentagon's top echelons.

To meet this situation, which broke on them in yesterday's newspapers, officials dusted off a format once used in the grand manner by the late Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

The formula calls for a press meeting with top Defense Department officials and the senior officer of the dissidents' service. The impression given is that the view from the top is rosier than it may appear lower down.

McDonald, a soft-spoken Georgian, was asked if he agreed that there was too much centralization in the Defense Department.

"In many ways, yes," he quickly replied. "In some ways, no."

Recalling the battle over unification of the forces 18 years ago, the admiral bluntly said, "the Navy never wanted unification." But, he added, "I don't know that it's been such bad thing . . . that doesn't mean that these things can't work and turn out for the best."

Local school issue will be discussed by two speakers at a meeting of the Mill Valley Democratic Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the American Legion Hall.

Dr. John C. Siemens, Tamalpais High School District trustee, will talk on the $5,750,000 bond issue to be voted on Nov. 16. Mrs. Edmund Gross, president, Mill Valley School District board, will speak on new ideas in elementary school organization.

Four Men Are Convicted Of Stanford Home Theft

Four men, including San Francisco police officer Salvatore Polani, 44, were found guilty yesterday of trying to burglarize the San Francisco home of Sausalito restaurant owner Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) last April.

Acquitted, however, was police officer Patrick Buckman, 27.

Found guilty along with Polani were Winston Major, 51, and Louis Romero, 34, and Wesley Gant, 56.

Major and Romero have both served time in prison before. Gant is now serving a term in the state prison at Folsom for another burglary conviction.

The four men face terms of five years to life for burglary, plus another five to 10 years for being armed with a deadly weapon. Gant and Romero face further penalty as habitual criminals.

Tears swelled into the eyes of the two policemen who had been on trial—but for different reasons.

Buckman sobbed with relief at his acquittal and announced he was "going to church and give thanks to God."

Polani cried quietly as he shook his head and repeatedly said, "I don't understand it."

Over the objections of defense attorneys, Judge Harry J. Neubarth of San Francisco Superior Court, ordered Polani and Major, who had been free on bail, back into custody immediately.

Romero has been in jail since his April 6 arrest. He and the others were picked up in or near Mrs. Owen's Pacific Heights home by police who had set a trap after being tipped of the burglary scheme by Point Reyes Station contractor Robert K. Worthington.

The seven-man, five-woman jury rejected Polina's claim that he was actually trying to trap Worthington.

Buckman, who insisted throughout the case that he was unaware of the burglary when he waited in a car outside the Owen mansion, said after his acquital that he would resign from the San Francisco force and would go into business. He has worked as a bartender while under suspension from the force.

The jury went out Wednesday morning and did not return until late yesterday. Jury foreman Warren F. Foley said jurors "were divided about 50-50 when we began," but "we kept talking and discussing and although things got very heated at times, we finally reached a unanimous verdict."

Defense attorneys made verbal motions for a new trial for all four men convicted. Judge Neubarth set Nov. 5 for a hearing on the motions. The attorneys said they would appeal the convictions if the re-trial motions are denied.

Castro's Ex-Pal Thought Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ernesto (Che) Guevara may be dead, says a ranking U.S. official.

Guevara, at one time a leader in Fidel Castro's Communist government in Cuba, has not been seen publicly for several months.

The U.S. official, asked during a background briefing Thursday about the fate of the Cuban leader, said:

"My guess is that Che's mission was pointed 4 or 5 feet downward."

Castro has said Guevara was going to carry on revolutionary missions in other lands.

Slight Change

A slight change for the better was reported in the condition today of Lafayette Walker, 46, of 3 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, critically injured in a fall from a roof at Peacock Gap Tuesday. He was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital.

Living Costs Edge Upward A Bit More

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $10 bill was a little thinner in the nation's pocketbooks today.

Its value was pared down last month by an additional two cents so that it will buy only $9.07 worth of the goods it could have purchased five years ago.

The Labor Department used the $10 bill to describe the impact of the latest increase in its consumer price index. It announced yesterday the index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in September to 110.2 per cent of 1957-59 average prices.

Despite the increase in prices, all was not dark for the consumer last month. The Labor Department said the average factory worker's weekly take-home pay had risen $1.25 to $97.25.

No Meeting Held

There was no meeting Wednesday night of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District Board because of lack of a quorum, Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary, reported. No other meeting date has been set.

Fairfax Turns Down Unit Sought By Farr

Fairfax Planning Commission last night denied a use permit for the Farr Associates' proposal for a planned unit development of apartments on 9.8 acres between Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, at the west boundary of the city.

The vote was 6-0, with Commissioner Leo Cronin absent.

No Farr representatives appeared, and the commissioners said they turned down the proposal because repeated requests for more information about the proposal had not been heeded.

The commission tabled, for the time being, a suggestion that the Ridgeway Park subdivision be rezoned from duplex to single-family.

Poverty War

The meeting in Marin City community lounge on the strength and weakness of the war on poverty program in Marin will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, not Monday as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Bank Officer Leaves Half-Century Career

William A. Henderson, vice president and cashier of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, retired this week after being associated with the bank for almost a half-century.

Henderson, a native of San Francisco, began his banking career in 1918 with the Anglo and London Paris National Bank, a Crocker-Citizens predecessor. Through the years he worked in many departments and held several key positions. He was appointed vice president and cashier in 1956 and in recent years has been in charge of the bank's operations.

He will continue as the bank's representative on the Market Street Project in San Francisco.

Henderson and his wife have lived almost 14 years in Marin County at 2 Palm Court, Larkspur.

All Time High For GM Profits

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. has reported the highest sales and profits in manufacturing history for both the third quarter and the year's first nine months.

The giant auto maker said its profits for the first nine months totaled $1,539,000,000, or $5.360 per share.

Sales in the nine-month period totaled $14,539,000,000, up 14 per cent from the year-ago level of $13,159,000,000, also a previous record.

No manufacturer has ever piled up so much in dollar sales profits.

Corporate Profits: Real Bumper Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. corporations have pushed their profits close to the $45-billion mark. After-tax income in the third quarter of 1965 ran about 17 per cent above the 1964 period, early reports indicate.

Almost all major industries share in this year's gains, although steel makers show a mixed pattern, so do tobacco companies. In the oil, motors, electronics, rail, airline, and utility fields, company after company reports record earnings from record sales volume. Most chemical firms, drug makers, nonferrous metals, glass, and heavy equipment makers are on the upside.

The golden flood is one of the reasons the stock market has been pushed to new highs, although a profit increase was expected. The record gross earnings also mean record tax payments, despite lower rates. This is one reason the U.S. Treasury is doing better than it first had hoped.

In motors, GM pushed its July-August-September net profit up 18.6 per cent above a year ago to a record $263.8 million. Ford's 28 per cent gain put it at $102 million.

In oils, a 42 per cent spurt is reported by Sinclair at $19 million. Indiana Standard at $60 million is ahead by 17 per cent. A 11 per cent surge by Gulf brings it to $102 million. Continental has record profits of $24 million, and Atlantic Refining a record $15 million. Socony Mobil has $79 million third quarter profits, against $70 million a year ago. Union Oil has $33 million against $23 million, Cities Service reports $25 million against $18 million. Sun Oil made $24 million.

Railroads have chugged ahead this year after a long period of hard times. Pennsylvania has $18 million profit in the third quarter, against $16 million a year ago; Norfolk and Western $22 million against $20 million against $6 million; Great Northern $11 million against $7 million; Baltimore and Ohio reports $5 million this year against $1.5 million last. And Missouri Pacific has risen to $6.3 million from $5.9 million.

U.S. Steel profits rose 30 per cent in the third quarter from a year ago, and Armco profits are up 29 per cent. But Republic did only slightly better this year than last. And the same is true of Kaiser Steel and Colorado Fuel & Iron. Youngstown Sheet & Tube, National, Allegheny Ludlum, Crucible and Granite City Steel trailed the year ago results. Most steel companies reported increased sales volume but rising costs that squeezed profits.

In other metals the picture is mostly bright. Kennecott Copper made a whopping jump from $3.7 million last year to $24 million this; Alcoa was up from $14 million to $17 million and Reynolds Metals jumped from $7 million to $11 million.

The profits reports will continue to pour in for a few more weeks. And they will add up to insurance that 1965 will prove the most profitable year American business has ever known.

Market Makes Drive Recovery; Trading Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed at new highs today in a pretty good recovery drive. Trading was active.

American Telephone, which paced the market decline Thursday, rebounded and moved ahead under the pressure of institutional demand, winning back a portion of its losses.

Airline issued moved ahead as a body and some aerospace issues made wide gains.

The market was ahead from the start and widened its gains in the afternoon, but there were plenty of losers and the list was not running away with itself.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7 million shares compared with 7.24 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

A recovery by American Telephone gave backbone to the market. AT&T recouped about half a point from Thursday's loss of 1½.

Chrysler, after an initial rise, showeed a fractional net loss.

Other blue chips, after some initial hesitation, stepped into the breach to firm up the list to an irregularly higher position.

U.S. Steel was up a full point, General Motors and Union Carbide fractions.

Aerospace issues were strong. Boeing gained 4, United Aircraft 2, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics 1 each.

Boomed by a stock split, Delta Airlines ran up more than 2. A string of other airlines were fractional gainers.

Huss refrigerato,r talking merger with Pet Milk, gained about 3. Pet Milk dropped a fraction.

Up a point or so were Diners' Club, Storer Broadcasting, National Airlines, CBS, Merck and Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Richardson - Merrell slumped about 1½. Down about a point were Xerox and Control Data.

Balmer Lashes Out At County Planner

The county planning office is "no longer responsible."

Reasoning of the County Planning Director (Billy D. Dobbs' is shallow.

There seems to be, between the City of Mill Valley and the county, a basic difference in meaning, understanding and approach to urban fringe area problems and needs.

These comments are part of a biting attack made against the county planning staff by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley.

Balmer, in a letter to John F. Barrows, executive director of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, blamed advice of the county planning staff for commission decisions with which he differed.

He noted that the commission denied Mill Valley's tidelands annexation attempt shortly after he became city manager in 1964.

"Now the city is being told it should take the present area requested in smaller units, several annexations rather than one," he wrote.

Balmer replied on five points on which the county planning staff recommends denial of a proposed Mill Valley annexation of 60.82 acres south of Cascade Drive and west of Monte Vista Avenue. The annexation, called Cascade, is to be heard by the commission at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the Civic Center.

"In going from Barrows' recommendations to the recommendation of the county planning director, I am concerned with the fact I no longer seem to be dealing with a responsible county office," wrote Balmer. "The reasoning of the planning director is shallow, in complete violation of good planning concepts, and indicates no practical knowledge of the realities of annexation needs and problems. Some of the language used is immature and distasteful to the city."

Balmer said he is "deeply disturbed" to know that the planner who commented on the annexation proposal contented himself with looking at a map and never bothered to go out in the field and look at the area.

Further, said Balmer's letter, the local Agency Formation Commission staff is county only and reflects a background and approach to urban fringe area problems that is county only.

Fire Meeting Off

The Kentfield Fire District commission failed to meet as scheduled last night because Chairman Joseph L. Smith was out of town. Fire Chief Kenneth Camp said the meeting was postponed to Nov. 10.

Hastings Gets New Position At San Quentin

Homer J. Hastings has been named associate warden for classification and treatment at San Quentin Prison, replacing Robert C. Loriano, who was named State Adult Authority hearing representative.

Hastings, 48, has been in charge of the prison education program, but in this new post will take on supervision of religious, counseling and classification activities, in addition to education.

The new supervisor of education will be Keith W. Hayball, 45, of Susanville, who once worked at San Quentin as a music instructor. Hayball, with his wife and four children, will live at San Quentin Village.

Hastings, who lives in Berkeley, started his career as vocational counselor at San Quentin in 1948. He became education supervisor at Soledad Prison in 1958, and returned to San Quentin in 1960.

Television Taken

Loss of a television set in a burglary of the home of Dorrit S. Janson, 16 Montego Kay, Bel Marin Keys, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers. Deputies said entry apparently was via an unlocked sliding glass door.

Larkspur Schools Planning To Spend Poverty Funds

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen last night told district trustees that he and his staff would soon begin thinking of projects which might qualify for the $22,000 in federal poverty funds for education available to the district.

Cohen told the board the funds cannot be incorporated into the district budget and must be used for separately approved projects.

The board commended the district administration for lowering the district tax rate "while improving the curriculum."

Trustees set Nov. 15, 16 and 17 as minimum days in district schools to give teachers time to meet with parents in the afternoons. They set Nov. 17 as date for their next meeting, to avoid conflict with the Armistice Day and Thanksgiving holidays.

Trustee Cornelia J. Perrone was asbsent.

A new VW is cheaper at twice the price.

How's that for an outrageous claim?

We knew you wouldn't believe it. So we've proved it.

Let's say you plan to keep your next car 5 years (and drive a total of 75,000 miles). Here's how it might work out:

	New Volkswagen	Used Something Else
Price	$ 1,775	$ 850
Gas@ 32¢/gal	828 (29 mi/gal.)	1,600 (15 mi/gal.)
Tires@ $28 ea.	112 (40,000 mi/set)	336 (20,000 mi/set)
Oil @ 60¢ qt.	42 (2.7 qts fills it)	57 (needs 5 qts.)
Cost for 5 years	$ 2,757	$ 2,888

So you're at least $131 ahead if you buy the VW. (We didn't even count the extra $100 it saves on lower insurance and registration fees in many states.)

If you buy the new VW, you won't have to worry about why the first owner sold it. (And you won't have to pay for the expensive ailments that can hit an old Something Else.)

Now then. We don't have a crystal ball, but today's market is an interesting clue to the future.

After 5 years, the used car will probably be a 9-year-old candidate for the junk heap. But the VW will probably just be reaching its prime.

But you can do much better than that: Don't sell your VW at all.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

True Journeyman Chef Brings Unique Opportunity To Marin

"Chef at large" is the term to describe the professional activities of recent Marin arrival Georges van de Kerckhove, I guess. He just moved in from Newport Beach — and brought along with him a new idea in dining service.

At least it's new to me and probably to Marin County and a few other places. It should be interesting to find out how Marinites respond to it. Personally I think there's a good chance they might, and I've urged Georges to linger long enough to make a fair test.

First of all, I should tell you that although he was trained in a hotel and restaurant school in his native Belgium and several years as a chef in the fleshpots of France and Switzerland, he's rather inclined to shy away from working in restaurants these days. It's an esthetic matter. He says they tend to dull his creative instincts. A true artist, but with no objectionable temperament that I've noticed.

Now a chef without someone to eat his food is like an engineer with no bridges to build or an architect in a community of cave dwellers. So Georges simply hires out his talents and services to diners in their homes. Not as a cook, mind you, but as a chef d'cuisine, befitting his rank, for he prepares each meal in the true tradition of la cuisinier Francaise according to his own selected menu ideas.

I'll admit this is something you probably would like to reserve for special occasions, and there should be at least four of you to feed. Or six or eight or more. Any such number will do, provided you give him enough time when it comes to a full banquet.

These are details you should discuss with Georges in advance—at least a week ahead of time, or longer. He provides sample menus for your consideration, takes care of buying the food and will work with you on suggestions for a repast d'elegance.

Since he has been in the county only about two weeks, he's not listed in the phone book, but you can get his number from the information operator. He lives at 228 Laurel Place, San Rafael.

I've sampled his fare and he turns out a beautiful spread. Cheers for his consomme Madrilene — also his dessert creme caramel.

A WAITER at Bill and Adolf's West End Villa was pushing a cart past the cocktail lounge en route to the dining room a couple of weeks ago, trailing a most provocative aroma in its wake. So tantalizing it was, in fact, that two gentlemen dashed out of the lounge to trace down the source of this heavenly wafting.

"Stop. What is it? We want some of that," they demanded.

Unfortunately at that time Bill Bisson had only one clay pot in which to serve "chicken Martoni." And no one would think of serving it otherwise—for that's the way it's cooked. A whole chicken in the pot, along with spices, wine and butter—and brought to the table in the same container for carving and serving. So the two impatient diners had to lick their lips futilely and be satisfied with chicken marengo or maybe cacciatori.

But since then Bill has taken the hint and brought in more imported Italian clay pots for this delicacy. Now chicken Martoni is a regular offering—not on the menu yet, but you can order it.

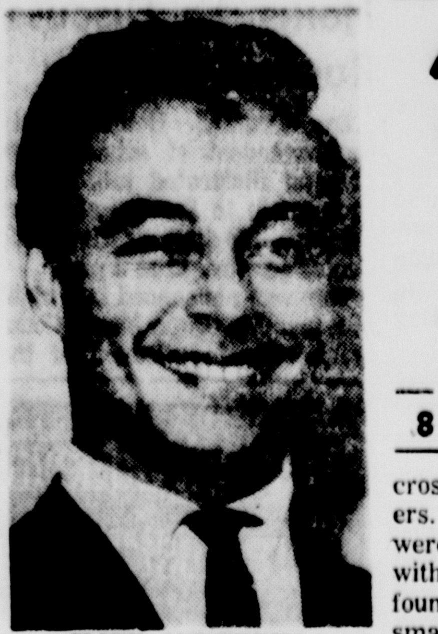
Another new specialty here is the flaming mixed grill, which includes both lamb and beef served shish kabob style. This hasn't reached the regular menu either—but can be prepared.

IN MARIN, one of the six best climes in the world (don't ask me what the other five are), it can be a problem to improve on nature. But with a large interior area such as you find at Sabella's it can also be a problem to regulate the air-conditioning so it pleases everyone.

The Sabellas think they've got it licked now, with an entirely new atmosphere control system —guaranteed to match those best days of Marin weather which the Chamber of Commerce brags about so freely.

So if you feel like spring and the weather has taken a turn for November or December, just you tell Angelo Sabella you're uncomfortable and he'll have you back in April or May in no time.

CONGA PLAYER with Los Chinitos, now alternating with the George Duke Combo at the Ark, is lively Cliff Anderson—whose name may not be Latin, but I defy you to tell the difference in his looks or playing. For several years he worked at the Copacabana in New York.



CLIFF ANDERSON
Conga player at the Ark

Dinners here Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights; lunches everyday and brunches on Sundays.

The Ark is the place with the built-in tipple, which doesn't come from the bottled merchandise sold at the bar, but from the ship's camber. That, and also the list to starboard—or is it port? No—absolutely not, it doesn't move. I don't care what you say—it's grounded fast to the shore.

FASHION SHOWS are being held every Wednesday at Cherish Inn, but this noontime affair has a slightly different twist from the usual shows I've seen at Marin County restaurants.

Instead of a single shop or couturier providing the styles, no less than eight or nine are involved. All the fashion shops in Strawberry Town and Country Village are participating — and some of the specialty shops as well.

Time is from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. It is expected to go on each Wednesday for the balance of the year at least, and may extend into 1966.

MY BOSS, Jack Craemer, back from several weeks of rambling around central Europe, gives praise to the food service available there to the cross-country automobile travelers. His principal experiences were in West Germany, where with almost no exception, he found excellent fare at the small bierstrubes, wienstrubes, geststattes, coffee shops and rathskellars. The latter are almost always a good bet, he advises. They are city hall basement restaurants and the city fathers gather there.

Inroads into Luxembourg and Belgium also brought rewarding food experiences. His comments on the "house" wines and beers served at all these places would probably cause California vintners and domestic brewers to turn a fine shade of Green Hungarian at the comparisons drawn. This, in spite of derogatory statements made from time to time about European low-cost wines.

Except for two obvious tourist traps, he reported faring sumptiously at every place he stopped. And me at my 190 plus—do you know, I can't see where he added a single pound!

Mill Valley Man Seeks Restaurant Atop Mount Tam

David Elliott Stovel of 254 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley, has applied to the State Division of Beaches and Parks for permission to build a restaurant on the top of Mount Tamalpais.

Stovel, in a letter to the Marin County Planning Department, offered to show his plans to the planning commission.

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said he would read the brief letter at Monday's commission meeting.

Dobbs said that the county actually has little to say on what goes into a state park, but Stovel evidently wanted the commission to see the proposal as a matter of courtesy.

The restaurant would be on the south slope of the mountain near the top.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

San Rafael Man Gets Wish For Jazz At His Funeral

Sims, 35, of 520 Canal Street, San Rafael, had always wanted a Dixieland funeral. He tumbled off his boat near Point San Quentin Oct. 13 late at night. His body was found 10 days later floating off a San Francisco pier.

His wife, Dorothy, and a friend, San Francisco bar owner Otis Jarman, made the arrangement with Halsted and Co., San Francisco, and a jazz quartet was waiting on the street to wail as the casket came out the door.

Mark Teel on clarinet, Sam Blank on trombone, Eddie Smith on trumpet and Pops Foster on bass let loose with "When the Saints Go Marchin' In."

Burial was in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Today the coroner's office in San Francisco revealed that Sims's blood alcohol content was .25 of one per cent. A reading of .15 is usually considered intoxicated. The coroner ruled that the death was caused by drowning.

Hub Chamber Meets

Jail Term Given To Demonstrator

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, facing a federal charge of burning his draft card, was sentenced today to serve 30 days on a charge stemming from racial demonstrations here last March.

Miller, a Lemoyne College graduate, was convicted of unlawful intrusion on private property after a nonjury trial before City Judge Robert O'Hara, who prounounced sentence.

McInnis Talks To L.A. Group

John F. McInnis, former San Rafael mayor, was principal speaker yesterday at a Los Angeles organizational meeting of the Southern California Assn. of Governments.

The association will be Southern California counterpart of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, which McInnis headed as president two years ago. However, it covers a much larger territory, including virtually all of California south of the Tehachapis.

About 170 people were present for the organizational meeting, McInnis reported.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Silent Argument Well Signalled Worth More Than Many Words

Words are important not so much for diction as for contradiction, but bridge players manage to disagree without uttering a syllable.

Globetrotters can see this for themselves next February, when Israel stages its first international bridge tournament.

Opening lead — ♡ K

In today's hand, played in the 1964 Olympics, Richard Neufeld, of the Israeli team, led the king of hearts from the West hand.

His partner, Jack Balaila, played the nine of hearts to call for a heart continuation, whereupon Neufeld promptly switched to the jack of diamonds.

IF HE'S RIGHT

When your partner does this in the average bridge game, the word you say to him at the end of the hand (if you wait that long) is seldom "Congratulations." In a world championship a player never complains when his signal is disregarded, as long as his partner turns out to be right.

In this case the switch was perfectly correct.

West knew that South was ready to ruff the second heart because East surely had five hearts for his overcall. East couldn't tell because West might have bid four hearts with only four-card support for hearts.

GET SETTING TRICK

Declarer had to play the queen of diamonds from dummy at the second trick, losing to the ace. Back came the eight of diamonds to force out dummy's king.

When West got in with the ace of clubs he could take the setting trick with the 10 of diamonds.

If West led a heart at the second trick, South would ruff, draw trumps and lead clubs.

Declarer would have time to discard a diamond on dummy's fourth club, thus making his contract.

It is quite all right to disregard your partner's signal when you know something about the hand that he doesn't know. Just be ready with a soothing word if it turns out that your play is wrong and his play would have worked.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A Q 10 7 6 2
♥ 8
♦ 6 5 4
♣ 10 7 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades.

You can't be sure that you can make game, but there is no sensible way to find out.

It pays to bid aggressively in cases of this sort when you have a long and fairly strong trump suit.

Marin City Visitor Gets Slugged, Robbed

A Bel Marin Keys man seeking directions in Marin City late yesterday was sand-bagged from behind and robbed of $37 cash and about $2,000 in checks, he told seriff's officers.

All loot but $30 cash, however, was recovered shortly afterward.

Eulon Odell Stanley, of 100 Montego Key, said he and his wife drove to Marin City about 7:30 p.m. He left her in the car in the 200 block of Drake Avenue, he told officers, and approached a group of youths to ask directions.

One teen-aged youth said, "I will show you" and walked with Stanley to the intersection of Cole Drive and Drake Avenue.

At this point, said the victim, someone struck him over the head with what felt like a bag of sand. Five teen-aged youths then jumped on him, pinned him to the ground, and took his wallet containing the money and checks.

Two youths, James Otis Ames, 16, of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, and James Cook Jr., House 129, later approached sheriff's officers and returned the wallet containing all but the $30 cash.

Convertible Taken

Dorothy I. Holland of 865 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, reported her 1962 convertible missing from its carport this morning. The car was discovered shortly afterward by a Marin Municipal Water District worker. It was parked on Tennessee Valley Road in Tamalpais Valley. The ignition had been punched out, police reported.

Alaska Nuclear Test May Be Fired Today

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — Favorable weather raised hopes today that a buried 80-kiloton thermonuclear device could be exploded after two postponements.

The $10-million test was scheduled for 4 p.m. EST. It was postponed Wednesday and yesterday because the wind was blowing from the test site toward the control tower seven miles away.

Shots Damage Sign

Someone with an air rifle shot out six floodlamps and an eight-foot neon tube outside the Leon C. Felton Volkswagen service center, 60 Hoad Street, San Rafael, the company reported today. Damage was set at $25.

Tomales Studies Night Classes

The Tomales High School District board asked last night for information of a citizen committee to study the need for an adult education program in the district.

A meeting for residents interested in serving on such a committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the high school, announced Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The board also discussed the faculty bargaining committee authorized under a recent state law. It referred the matter to the faculty for recommendations.

Expert Hiring Eyed For Bolinas Harbor

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners last night discussed hiring a consultant to plan the entire Bolinas Lagoon development, ways to avoid having to build a 7-million dollar breakwater at the lagoon's mouth, a proposed boat clubhouse, and signs to be placed in lagoon waters stating: "Wild life refuge. No shooting."

No action was taken, commissioners agreeing to hold subcommittee meetings on the items. The commission also agreed that, since its regular meeting date is on Thanksgiving Day, the board will meet next Nov. 26.

Terra Linda Students Pick Basketball Spirit Boosters

Yell and song leaders for the basketball season were elected yesterday at Terra Linda High School in what Ellen Greenberg, supervisor of elections, reported as a good turnout.

The eight song leaders elected from a field of 24 candidates are Paula Brink, Terry Creech, Linda Dinger, Kathie Epidendio, Dianne Herrera, Shirley McClain, Kathy McKee and Pat Toohill.

Four yell leaders were named from a field of 12 candidates. They are Penny Brady, Sandy Fedorchak, Alan Lundmark and Barb Theurer.

Others who ran for song leaders were Sue Baenziger, Marti Bolton, Cheryl Burton, Chris Coons, Jo Ann Elkin, Lori Hilliard, Pam Holcomb, Belinda Holmes, Marcia Maher, Pam Powers, Sue Schau, Sheryl Scotto, Tish Sellers, Terri Shaup and Cathy Von Lehr.

Other candidates for yell leaders were Eleanor Clement, Diana Dalton, Sherryl Kinchla, Carolyn Kitlik, Terry Lyon, Jeanne Ruhdy, Stephanie Schau and Peggy Waters.

Complaint Filed Against Women

A joint misdemeanor complaint charging two women with soliciting or engaging in prostitution in Sausalito was filed today in Marin Municipal Court.

The defendants, Donna Lee Donaleche, 24, San Francisco, and Barbara Ellen Benson, 40, of 77 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, were scheduled to be arraigned on the charge this afternoon.

An additional charge of keeping a house of ill fame was filed against Mrs. Benson.

Miss Donahleche, a shapely blonde, is free on $1,650 bail. Her companion made $2,750 bail.

Sausalito police said the pair engaged in a high-priced call girl operation at the Bulkley Avenue apartment. Sgt. Perry J. Haley of Novato police was used as an undercover agent to allegedly set up a "date" with Miss Donaleche prior to the arrests Wednesday.

LBJ Supports Demo In Mayor's Contest

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) —President Johnson "strongly and enthusiastically" supports Democratic candidate Abraham D. Beame for mayor of New York City, the White House said today.

"Mr. Beame knows that if the President voted in New York he would cast his vote for Mr. Beame and the ticket," Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers declared.

NOW! '66 CHEVROLET JET-SMOOTHER IMPALA

If you go by first impressions, you could get the idea this clean-honed new '66 is more car than you ever got in an Impala before. And you'd be absolutely right.

Take Chevrolet's newest V8's, for instance. They're based on the famed Turbo-Jet design with aircraft-type valves, freer breathing valve openings and other advances that deliver more efficient power than ever before.

Result: You can now order a 396-cubic-inch version with 325 hp. Or you can go for a 427-cubic-inch Turbo-Jet with up to 425 hp.

The ride, too, has reached a new Jet-smooth level of comfort. Chevrolet engineers went over the whole frame and body structure, refining here, honing there. They installed softer acting shock absorbers and even gave each body style its own specially tailored Full Coil springs.

And there's more in the way of those little extras—that come as standard equipment. Like backup lights, padded sun visors and instrument panel, outside rear-view mirror and windshield washer. More in the way of custom features you can order, too, including Comfortron heating and air conditioning, front-seat headrests and AM-FM stereo.

How come so many improvements in a car that was already America's solid favorite? That, as you'll see when you check this one out at your dealer's, is what keeps it the favorite.

Halloween's A Glum Time If Safety Rules Forgotten

Some children will not be able to go trick-or-treating on Halloween night this year.

Some parents will miss the opportunity of sharing in the delight of the little goblins as they roam the neighborhood in their spooky costumes.

They are confined to hospitals, tragic victims of accidents or illnesses. They are all suffering pain and discomfort, some can scarcely move, and a few may never see another Halloween.

It behooves those who can participate in Halloween festivities this weekend to exercise utmost care for the safety of themselves and others.

Sure, you've heard the "same old safety rules" year in and year out. Unfortunately, there is no new or revolutionary set of safety rules to spring you out of your lethargy. We've got to depend on the same old standbys — caution, common sense and moderation.

Flammable costumes and decorations plus the careless use of a match or cigarette can create a funeral pyre in the "safety" of your own home.

On the roadways, excessive speed, careless driving, or inattention in crossing a street can transform a night of fun into a night of horror.

Costumes should be flame-proof or fire resistant. They should not be so long or loose fitting that youngsters will trip and fall.

Masks should not blot out the wearer's line of vision. If dark costumes are worn, they should be "brightened" up with reflecting tape or liquid "paint" that shines in the dark.

Illumination should be by flashlight, not candles or torches. Children should not be carrying knives or other sharp instruments.

Before they are "turned loose," children should be admonished not to damage or deface property.

We can all observe these safety tips and still enjoy Halloween.

Consider the plight of those who are unable to walk on Halloween night—all because someone was careless.

Space-Age Moths

Time was when all a Marinite had to protect from moths were silks and woolens. Not so today. Today's moths are space-age creatures with an appetite for plastics and synthetic fibers.

Nylon is like cheese and crackers to them. In some parts of the country moths have attacked the plastic lining of swimming pools.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

SHE TAUGHT LONG DISTANCE

One woman in Michigan conducted class in Colorado by long-distance telephone.

When her husband was offered the presidency of a college in Michigan, forcing a move there, other teachers stepped in to take over her English classes, but no one could be found to teach her Latin class.

The problem was solved, however, by hooking a phone speaker system in the classroom, allowing the woman to sit in her own kitchen and teach the class 1300 miles away.

By mailing problems and examinations to the students and answering the questions stored up for her, a weekly session on the phone speaker system kept the class progressing until another teacher could be found.

When a person strives to put to good use the imagination God has entrusted to him, very little is impossible. It spurs one to seek answers where and when others would say none exist, and it often opens new horizons that benefit everyone.

"We know that for those who love God all things work together unto good."

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

New Assembly District Sensible But Area For Senate Butchered

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE ASSEMBLY reapportionment, putting Marin with the southern portion of Sonoma County, makes geographical sense.

But they certainly butchered the senatorial district. Marin, which is at present one Senate district, must now take in Napa and most of Solano, bypassing Sonoma County.

The only contiguity between us and the other counties (Napa and Solano) is via the waters of San Pablo Bay. It's a good thing Sen. John F. McCarthy has a power boat to rush back and forth from one constituency to the other.

CHARLES P. Davies of Novato isn't talking for the record yet, but he is reported seriously considering running for the supervisor seat now held by his good friend Bill Gnoss.

Davies was one of the top supporters of Gnoss in the last election. Davies' backers apparently want a new and more outspoken voice from North Marin on the county Board of Supervisors.

IN THE RACE for California governor, the Republicans have announced candidates George Christopher of San Francisco and Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles. Still unannounced are Ronald Reagan, former Gov. Goodwin Knight, and Supervisor Warren Dorn of Los Angeles.

When "Lock" Waters appeared in Marin the other day, the consensus among local Republicans was: "Gee, what a background and wealth of experience!"

Waters has been a long-time party worker, headed the state central committee, was known as a crime buster when he fought organized crime as a U.S. attorney, seven years in the State Assembly, a fine war record.

SOME OF THEM indulged in this bit of wishful thinking: "If we could only combine Waters' background and experience with Ronald Reagan's sparkle and appeal, the Republicans would be unbeatable."

Waters is from Los Angeles, but some key members of his campaign staff are from this area. There's Ed Slevin of Terra Linda, who is his statewide campaign manager, and Jan McCoy of Palo Alto, who worked for both Nixon and Rockefeller, is his statewide press secretary.

LEADERS OF the Southern Marin Committee to Correct Unfair Taxation (CUT) are attacking the county assessor with such vehemence that this bit of speculation is making the rounds: Maybe one of the CUT officials is trying for the assessor's job.

Chairman of CUT is Edwin G. Weed, who should be well versed in property values. He's a real estate broker. Another official, who works closely with Weed, is Robert Burns, an investment broker.

Don't Go Swimming At Fort Beach

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We noticed in your paper the other day a filler eight lines long extolling the beauties of Fort Cronkhite beach. Among the attractions were included good swimming.

The beach is, as all regular users know, very dangerous to swimmers because of strong under tows. Back copies of your paper have printed stories on several occasions of fishermen being pulled off the rocks by the undertow, resulting in their deaths. The sea is sufficiently dangerous on that beach for the Army to patrol it on busy days to warn people of the swimming dangers.

Is it not somewhat hazardous of your paper to aid in the enticement of people into such waters?

Transit Means Business Loss

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Per Bill Fusselman's article of Oct. 15:

Doesn't Bill Fusselman realize the financial loss to Marin's economy if 56,000 commuters went by bus instead of their cars? The loss in products and services would be staggering.

Consider the average round trip is about 40 miles. Takes about three gallons of gas at 35 cents a gallon. If he drives a Volks he uses two. He commutes 21 days for a cost of $22.05 per month or $264 per year.

He has to service his car at least once a month or $120 per year. He uses a set of tires a year at a cost of $100.

This adds up to $484. $484 times 56,000 comes to over $2½ million!

When he drives he usually takes his lunch, think of the loss in food sales!

Of course these figures don't include his bridge tolls or parking. If he is lucky he can park for $10 a month, another $120. His tolls (are) about $144 per year. For the convenience of driving his car he spends an average of $748 per year or $62 per month, about $40 more than it would cost to ride a bus—but who wants to ride a bus.

I say let's build more bridges, bigger and wider highways, for Marin needs these dollars. We collect two ways from sales and in tax returns from sales and industry!

(I'm not in service station business.)

Marin Court House Should Be Saved

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Marin County has for years attracted residents primarily for beauty, charm and small town atmosphere. Some towns in the county are managing to retain small portions of their original beauty which the residents may enjoy. San Rafael seems to be striving toward other ends.

This writer is aware of the great influx in population and the resultant problems which are forcing us to think solely in terms of speed, housing, money, and convenient shopping centers. Our supervisors are thinking and planning for the future which is well and good, but San Rafael does have a past which is of some interest and importance.

I somehow question the advisability of the supervisors of the county having sole authority as to the disposition of the county court house, which is one of the very few remaining historic sites in Marin County. Having apparently outgrown its usefulness, after nearly 100 years as a county court house, does not in my mind immediately relegate it to bulldozers and the "headache ball."

It is one of the few examples of California architecture of the 1870s and I'm sure with some thought toward preserving part of Marin County's past, it could be put to good use. My first thought would be the Marin County Historical Society.

Perhaps the supervisors should bear in mind that there are in Marin County some individuals who would be better served by the old and beautiful being preserved and put to good use in other capacities, rather than the constant and ever-increasing desire in this county to tear down and replace.

One Municipality Is Needed Now

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This piddling around by the San Anselmo and Fairfax City Councils proves more than ever the need of ONE City and County of Marin, under ONE management . . .

These aforementioned city councils want their cake and eat it too. Let Kentfield, Greenbrae, Larkspur and Corte Madera pay for it and they will derive the benefits at no cost to them. Their districts are the main contributors of the waters inundating the lower portions of Corte Madera Creek and as such, should be held responsible for the damage done to these lower portions . . .

Think of the days when large tugs came up to what is now College Avenue . . . I can remember pleasure boats navigating these waters. Why can't it be that way again?

If the College board finds the campus a White Elephant, why waste taxpayers' money by any more building? Let the college develop its hundreds of acres in North Marin and move up there kit and kaboodle and turn the grounds over to an elementary and high school district . . . The present schools in this area are filled to capacity, and this move would eliminate the parking and traffic congestion . . . Residents cannot even get into their own property; day and night, students park at will on the streets and private parking areas because it is too long a walk to classrooms.

UNITE for ONE City and County of Marin and do away with the petty squabbling of these city councils whose attitude is "We have ours and the h--- with you."

Bouquets to the Corte Madera and Larkspur City Councils and the Board of Supervisors for backing this project and brickbats to those who oppose it.

TO THE MOST FAMOUS — and most expensive — doctor in the Hamptons came a woebegone soul who admitted at the outset he couldn't afford the $50 fee. In a good mood, the doctor reduced the tab to $40. "But, doc," pleaded the man, "I have a wife and five kids to support." The fee was lowered to $25. "For me, that's half a month's rent," sighed the man — and it was in this wise that the fee went down to $10 — and finally to five. "I'm the top specialist in my field," the doctor remonstrated, "and admittedly the highest priced. Why ever did you come to me anyhow?"

THE BRIDGE of signs:

Over an Eighth Avenue drugstore entrance: "Medicine Square Garden."

Over a file for top-secret documents in the Pentagon: "Don't go off half-locked."

In the window of a bank in a college town: "Stop using that greasy green stuff. Use checks instead."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Simon-Pure GOP Conservatives Wake Up, Lash Birch Tactics

WASHINGTON — There are two powerful reasons why the most conservative leaders of the Republican party — Goldwater, Nixon, Dirksen, Ford, Morton, all of them—are making a drive to free the GOP from the John Birch Society.

THEY WANT loyal Republicans to get out of the Birch Society and they want the Birch Society to leave the Republican party alone.

This is no longer the plea and the purpose only of Republican liberals or Republican moderates—like Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller. These GOP leaders, always against the Far Rightists, are being joined by the most impeccable conservatives of the party.

Today they are leading the cause of reclaiming the GOP from the extremists and these are the reasons:

They have now come to see, however tardily, that the determined will of the Birch Society is to destroy Republican conservatives as well as moderates. They realize that Birch support for such GOP conservatives as Goldwater and Miller was only a temporary, let's-get-in-the-side-door tactic, and that finally the real Birch objective has become so evident that it can no longer be ignored.

EXAMPLE: a Birch Society member is out to defeat Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota than whom there is no more authentic conservative in the party leadership. If Mundt's conservatism is unacceptable to the Birch Society and he must, therefore, be purged, it is obvious that the Birchites want everybody else out and themselves in.

There's a further reason that the Republican conservatives are now rallying against the Birchites. Naturally they want to save themselves. But they sincerely want to save the Republican party and they are convinced that the party cannot win a national election until it demonstrates that it has decisively shed the Birch influence.

IN THE WAKE of the strong lead by Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, a former GOP National Chairman, Mr. Goldwater is himself taking this stand. He now sees it as a mistake that he did not allow the Republican National Convention to adopt the anti-extremism plank offered by Scranton, Romney, and Rockefeller.

He is urging that Republicans resign from the Birch Society and is hoping the Birchites will resign from the Republican party. His argument isn't that the Birch members are disloyal Americans; it is that they are disloyal Republicans.

Sen. Morton, a powerful and respected voice in Republican affairs, used to say that the best way to deal with the Birchites is to "ignore them." He frankly admits he has "changed his tune."

"As a partisan Republican," he explains, "I am concerned by the fact that the John Birch Society has picked my party—the Republican party — as the vehicle to promulgate its monolithic philosophy. In so doing, this group seems more dedicated to the defeat of Republicans than Democrats. As an American, I am convinced that the activities of the Society will weaken and endanger representative government."

Referring to the attempts by Birch Society publications to attach the label of pro-Communist to such GOP leaders as President Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles, Sen. Morton retorts: "I don't think we have any room in the Republican party for a clandestine organization engaged in character assassination."

WHEN A John Birchite set out to get Sen. Mundt, that tipped off the most conservative leaders of the GOP that cooperation with the Birch Society was impossible, that Republican survival could only rest on total separation.

Klan Facing Direct Federal Crackdown

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The federal government is preparing to move directly and forcefully against the Ku Klux Klan.

While the nature and scope of this crackdown are closely guarded, as contemplated it will be extensive and exceptional. Extraordinary measures are to be invoked against the hooded order.

THE HEADLINE disclosures of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are an important part of the Johnson administration's anti-Klan plans. The investigation is serving the dual purpose of focusing a critical searchlight on the Klan, and setting the stage for the federal drive to smash the organization.

Much of the evidence being exposed by the House committee is from Justice Department sources. The FBI infiltrated the Klan, and has voluminous information on every aspect of its operations.

Every "surprise" witness who has testified has been provided by the FBI.

Grand jury proceedings are a certainty on a number of charges, foremost among them tax evasion, misappropriation of funds, embezzlement.

Also in the works is legislation that will be vigorously pressed in the session of Congress that convenes January 10.

RIGHT UP TO the moment that Joseph DuBois, klabee (treasurer) of the Goldsboro, N.C. Klavern, took the witness stand and renounced his KKK membership, the World War II Marine combat veteran was under Klan pressure to keep him silent.

They had learned he intended to give the committee his klavern's financial records, and were bent on stopping that. Only DuBois' steely determination thwarted them.

DuBois made no bones he feared revenge against him, his wife and three children.

That very night the Klan turned the heat on DuBois.

He was "talked to" by individuals and groups. Some pleaded, others bluntly threatened.

IMPERIAL WIZARD Robert Shelton and North Carolina Grand Dragon James Jones, both of whom had invoked constitutional rights scores of times in refusing to answer questions, again tackled DuBois.

"If you talk," said Jones, "you will be violating your Klan oath."

"I don't intend to violate any oath," retorted DuBois. "I am quitting the Klan."

"You'll regret what you're doing," Shelton said. "You'd better give it some more thought."

"I have," replied DuBois, "and my mind is made up. I'm going to testify."

According to committee evidence, one of the Imperial Wizard's children underwent a tonsillectomy at the Druid City Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., which is integrated. There are segregated hospitals in the area, but they were bypassed by Shelton.

Also, Shelton's Klan newspaper, the "Fiery Cross," is printed by a firm in Northport, Ala., which also publishes a Negro paper.

ART BUCHWALD

This Could Be How Dear Larry Got To Be Postmaster General

WASHINGTON — The other night the members of the press gave a party for Larry O'Brien, the president's chief lobbyist, who is leaving the White House to become the Postmaster General of the United States. Just before the party someone slipped me a letter purportedly written by President Johnson concerning this appointment. I can't swear for the authenticity of the letter, since it wasn't signed, but after I read it to the assembled group everyone agreed it was the only logical explanation as to why the president chose Mr. O'Brien for the job. it begins:

Dear Larry:

I' sorry about that Federal judgeship that I promised you, but I did tell Teddy he would have first crack at naming someone. I didn't hear about Francis X. Morrissey before I appointed Abe Fortas to the Supreme Court.

I KNOW WE'VE had a bad year on the Hill, Larry, but I don't think you're completely to blame. The 89th Congress has been dragging its feet all during the session and as far as I'm concerned any legislative body that wouldn't pass my Home Rule and 14-B bills is a do-nothing Congress in my book. I'm not saying you didn't try your best, Larry, to help me get this legislation through. But your best just wasn't good enough. I can't run this government all by myself, and if you can't help me get through just two lousy bills, I'm going to have to find myself a new boy.

NOW I DON'T want to seem ungrateful, so I've got another position to offer you. It may not have the same prestige, and you will have to give up your White House car privileges, but it's a job you don't have to be ashamed of.

I'm thinking about appointing you Postmaster General. Now before you turn it down— let me point out that this job does have a certain amount of responsibility.

Mail is important to a lot of people and you would be in charge of seeing that the right letters got to the right addresses, in a reasonable length of time — air mail in no more than a week, first class mail within the same month.

YOU WOULD ALSO be in charge of placing sons of Congressmen in summer post office jobs, which is no small chore in itself.

But your main function would be to build new post offices anywhere they are needed. I'm enclosing the plans of one I have in mind for Johnson City, Tex. You will note in the blueprints that my office should be on the top floor.

Of course as Postmaster General you would have to stay out of politics. As president I can't afford to have my Postmaster General get involved in partisan affairs. But every so often, I'll have someone fill you in on what is going on, and what I'd like you to do about it — and to whom.

LARRY, WHETHER you take the job or not, I want to tell you how grateful I am for all you've done for me during the years you worked in the White House. If it hadn't been for you I don't think I would have gotten interested in politics. But you made it sound so simple.

Your idea to give senators and congressmen free fountain pens if they voted for my bills was a stroke of genius and probably won some close ones for us, even if it did run into a little money.

Well, Larry, the Postmaster General job is yours if you want it. I don't want to persuade you one way or the other. All I can tell you is that Jack Valenti will sleep better knowing you'll be in charge of the mails. I can't make a stronger argument than that.

Commissioners' Quitting Blamed On Treatment By Supervisors

FUSSELMAN

THE WAY COMMISSIONS and committees are being treated by the majority of the supervisors it is not surprising that the two competent people are getting out of recreation commission activities. This makes four dedicated folks who have had enough, since the first of the year.

MORE AND MORE the question is being asked by the man on the street, why some of the supervisors don't devote more time to justify the $9.600 a year they are being paid. That was certainly the expectation on the part of the grand jury which made the recommendation to the legislature for the increase in salary to that amount. In order to make room for the expanding administrator department (15 or more now as compared with three in 1961), they took the County Clerk's office in the Civic Center away from him and put him in the office of the supervisor from the first district, who operates from his personal business downtown. His name was taken off the door, I have been told by citizens who attend the meetings, and the Clerk's put up instead. The pleasant offices, convenient for the citizens to have uninterrupted conferences with their supervisors, cost the taxpayers considerable money and the public is entitled to that consideration. The principal reason given for moving the courts out to the Civic Center was the convenience of having the county activities all in one place. This applies to the individual supervisor as well.

IT IS VERY obvious, in reading the stories in the press, that there is little effort being made to get first hand on-the-spot knowledge of the operation of county departments. Having the department heads in "on the carpet", as it were, is not the way to acquire good basic understanding of the county affairs. You probably noticed in the I-J, a week or so ago, that my successor on the board was pushing for a personal assistant for each member of the board, to be appointed by the individual supervisors—and this with a 15 or more administrator department staffing. This seems to indicate more of a "savant" than a "servant" complex.

THERE ARE SOME things about the Corte Madera Creek project that I have been waiting to hear disclosed. While I was on the board, we signed up on an agreement to underwrite the maintenance cost for 50 years after completion of the job. We also signed an agreement to underwrite the amount estimated as an enhancement value to the properties of the area by the improvement. It was something like $153,000. Years ago, when we had the legislature pass the law establishing the Marin Flood and Water Conservation District (the entire county), we recognized the autonomy of the cities.

THE ARMY ENGINEERS informed those councils, where presentations were made formally, that the channels could be covered with concrete and used for parking, if desired.

It is true that chain fence, in itself, is not very artistic, nor is the foundation of a dwelling. However, when the home is completed and plantings are put in, the raw lines disappear.

I RECEIVED a notice, Tuesday, from the county clerk that I had been appointed by the board to the "Citizens Advisory Committee for Community Service Project (older adults) for a term to expire on June 30, 1968". It would be a great pleasure to serve, but I am going to decline. I might do more harm than good because of my comments in this column on county affairs. It is not good to feel muzzled—even indirectly.

Talk With Skip Melcher Put One In The Mood For A Fine Halloween

The other day we met Skip Melcher, carpenter, artist and storyteller, now of Stinson Beach.

He told us about his summer living with his wife at Slide Ranch, a wonderful place where eel fishers fish located on the edge of the sea about half way between Muir and Stinson.

Called Slide because it appears to be always sliding, Melcher said "it's still sliding. The milk barn, the sheds, the concrete is pulled and broken. Everything is either being pushed down to the sea or the sea is coming to get it.

"IT IS A MAGIC place in a lot of ways," he added.

"When you are there, you are there. You are alone and you are really, truly alone. It is a good experience.

"At night you can see a little spit of the city to remind you it is still there. The front stairs are cockeyed. The living room goes up here and down here whichever way you're going. The bedroom goes off in a slant the other way.

"There are remnants of a pear and apple orchard and a huge fig tree is growing into one of the old outbuildings. Vassily Le Gros, one time chef at Farallon East, is a former resident. He practiced some kind of magic. He knew the place was haunted by a Russian warlock (a male witch).

"THERE IS A FEELING in the place that so much has gone on there and yet there are just hints of what life used to be like.

"We brought the house back to life. We did some tree trimming. My wife, also an artist, did quite a bit of painting.

"In the night there are things in the walls. We knew they were mice. There is a fog horn at night that is a special kind of warning. The house creaked and groaned. Your imagination goes a little nutty."

The Melchers had a big shepherd dog named Tough and some ducks and a goose and a bunch of eggs, said Skip. "The goose was a better watch dog than the dog. We called him Clyde of Slide.

"The whole place is taken over by thistles.

"THE COWS WERE there and sometimes they would go out and eat heather at Banducci's. We used to go out and round up the cattle. We were without water for a week once when the cows kicked the hoses loose.

"We had an eight-party telephone line. There were no doors except front and back. We put curtains up. I searched for the doors but never found them.

"There were a lot of little secret places around. They were secret because they were really secret—a place to sit at night or sleep out at night.

"WHEN WE MOVED the place came back to its original state—a place that had been abandoned.

"The day we left we sat up above the place and we thought we have been here more than 100 days. God, it was fine. Then we got in the truck and drove home to Stinson Beach."

CRIME REPORT

State Tally Hides Obscure Factors

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Last in a series)

Two startling figures were contained in the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics "Crime in California" report regarding crime in Marin County: a 32.5 per cent increase in felony reports last year, and a 24.5 per cent decrease in juvenile arrests.

However, statistics may be misleading.

As to the 32.5 per cent felony increase, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales pointed out that Marin remained fourth from the bottom in felony crime rate among counties with more than 100,000 population.

Percentage increase, he noted, may be deceiving.

"As pointed out by the attorney general's report," said Bales, "in a low crime rate locality, a relatively small increase will result in a substantial percentage increase. Thus in Marin County, which has always been and remains relatively free of homicide offenses, a crime rate increase of one murder in 1963 to three in 1964 is a homicide rate increase of 200 per cent."

The over-all 32.5 per cent increase reported by the state included all felonies. As the report noted, the major increase in total crimes was in burglary and auto theft.

Bales cited "a modest 6.4 per cent increase" in felony complaints filed in Marin courts last year as compared to 1963, calling this "a more reliable indication of the serious crime picture."

Complaints filed, of course, do not reflect unsolved crimes.

As to the sharp drop in juvenile arrests, at least part of it is accounted for by a change in reporting practices by the state. Sgt. Louis E. Foster Jr., juvenile bureau head for the San Rafael Police Department, pointed out that until last year, the state included traffic arrests in its compilation of juvenile arrests. Last year; this was dropped.

The 24.5 per cent drop in Marin still was at variance from the statewide picture, however.

The many statistical tables in "Crime in California" did not include one showing juvenile arrests by jurisdictions, but gave only county totals. Most of Marin's police departments reported either an increase in juvenile arrests last year or a very slight decline.

Sheriff's department figures, were not obtainable because of absence of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

Reports from police indicated there may be as sharp an upturn in juvenile arrests for 1965 as there was a downturn for 1964. The reason: primarily closer patrolling.

Since complaints rarely show whether the crime was a juvenile, the proportion of offenses by juveniles is indicated only by the arrests. Thus, juvenile crime statistics reflect how well a city or county is patrolled and how thoroughly investigations are followed up, rather than the actual extent of juvenile crime.

One Marin jurisdiction, the Corte Madera Police Department, already has made more than twice as many juvenile arrests this year as last.

Sgt. David L. Mackintosh, Corte Madera police juvenile officer, reported 123 arrests already this year, compared to totals of 52 last year and 57 in 1963.

This results, he said, from three factors: (1) closer patrolling, as he now has part-time assistance of a second officer; (2) a crackdown on juvenile shoplifters in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, and (3) a new policy by Redwood High School of suspending students more frequently, which Mackintosh noted puts more potential delinquents "on the streets."

Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur police cited another reason for a Corte Madera increase: Corte Madera police now handle cases from Redwood High which until last year were handled by Larkspur, since the high school buildings are all within Corte Madera.

Larkspur was one department with a sharp decrease in juvenile arrests last year: from 90 down to 74. Chief Clark said the number is up again this year.

Sergeant Foster also predicted an increase in juvenile arrests in San Rafael this year because of closer patrolling. He has recently been given an assistant in what was formerly a one-man juvenile bureau.

San Rafael juvenile arrests were up last year over 1963, from 973 to 1,082.

Novato police arrested many more juveniles last year than the previous year, reported Chief Robert di Grazia: 518 compared to 395.

There was little change in San Anselmo, where Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported 424 juvenile arrests last year, just two fewer than in 1963.

None of the police chiefs suggested there has been a decrease in juvenile crimes. All attributed the drop in arrests last year to changes in reporting practices or in handling of cases by other departments.

None suggested, either, that crime is decreasing in Marin, or that the 32.5 per cent felony increase reported by the state should be ignored. Their consensus: as Marin grows more urban, tighter police patrol and more thorough crime investigation are required.

Bret Harte Sewer Bill May Be Cut By Board

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board last night moved closer toward formation of a sewer assessment district in the Bret Harte area to eliminate health hazards created by septic tanks.

After a two-hour public hearing before about 45 residents, directors said they will act on formation of a district at their Dec. 2 meeting.

Major unresolved question was whether the district will be as large as proposed.

In an informal hand vote, the majority of residents present indicated they were in favor of forming a district. Two were opposed. Thirteen said they were doubtful about being included in the district and wanted specific evidence that a health hazard existed in their sector before they would favor it.

Engineer Daniel P. Coleman presented plans for the proposed district, affecting about 85 property owners along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane.

The cost of an "all gravity system" would be about $227,000, Coleman said. "That doesn't include the acquisition of easements."

The assessment would be $1500 a connection, Coleman said. "If there's one house on the lot, it would be $1,500, but if there's two, it's $3,000."

Aside from the assessment, each property owner would have to pay from $4 to $5 a foot to install a sewer line on his property and a $125 connection fee to the district.

In apartment areas the assessment cost per unit would be two-thirds of that in a single-family area, Coleman said.

Most residents agreed that sewer facilities are needed at the east or "lower end" of the proposed district, but a group of residents frm the "upper end" said they were not convinced the system is needed there.

Robert W. Sieker Jr. of 121 Bret Harte Road said, "I'm not against the district, but I am against spending my money for something I don't need."

Sieker said many homes in his area have been constructed in the past three to five years and owners have spent $1,000 or more to install septic tank facilities. "We have all put out good money and I'd like to stay on septic tanks as long as possible," he said.

Several other residents urged formation of the district. One man said, "If they (health officers) say there's a health problem, we damn well better put in sewers."

The board received a petition from six Tiburon Boulevard property owners asking that they be excluded from the district.

Sanitation District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said the county health department is concerned about the health hazard and "has directed the board to do something to correct it."

He presented a letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, recommending that the district undertake proceedings to construct sewers.

Chairman Fred E. Jensen said Bret Harte area residents had petitioned the board to form the district, then the original study area was enlarged to include Bret Harte Heights.

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a district director, said it is only a matter of time before the entire area will become part of the sewer system.

"There is no doubt that there is a need for the system in the lower area, but some there doubt there is a need in the upper area," Storer said.

He suggested that the board delay decision for a month so the county health department could check the upper area "and come in with evidence of need."

Coleman said that some areas could be cut out of the proposed district without changing the individual cost to the remaining homeowners, but "you couldn't take lots out in the middle of the line."

Jensen asked the engineers and assessment attorney Edwin N. Ness to bring in figures on a "split district" at the Dec. 2 meeting—that is a split between the upper and lower portions of the proposed district.

Bruce McKenzie, 147 Tiburon Boulevard, suggested the board investigate the possibility of obtaining federal and state grants for the project.

Monday Is Deadline For Employer Report

Monday is the deadline for filing state unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the third quarter of 1965, according to Charles J. Brady, state Department of Employment auditor in San Rafael.

Penalty and interest will be charged those who file late reports.

Lawson's Landing Owners Sued For Slip In Manure

Two Marin County couples, owners of Lawson's Landing at Dillon Beach, are being sued by a woman who alleges she stepped in cow manure there, slipped and was injured.

Plaintiffs Helen Nell and Orville Gordon, in a suit in Marin Superior Court by their attorney, Kem Tindall of Auburn, charge that Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Lawson were negligent in permitting the substance to remain just outside a rest room at the camp grounds there last Nov. 26.

Mrs. Ervin said the fall resulted in her suffering a broken ankle and other injuries. She asks $16,529 in damages.

COURT CENSURES DRESS—Carolee Fashbaugh was barred from appearing in divorce hearings in Los Angeles Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff's court yesterday, until she went home and changed from her carhop's costume (right) to more conventional garb. (AP Wirephoto)

Divorce Delayed For Costume Swap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Carolee Fashbaugh tripped prettily to the bench to be sworn in—and Judge Roger Alton Pfaff blew up.

"Oh no," he said. "I'm not a stickler for decorum, but I draw the line here. I'll not let anyone come into my court and testify in a pair of pajamas or pedal pushers.

"You go dress up like a lady, and I'll hear your case," he told Mrs. Fashbaugh, a 21-year-old carhop, who was wearing yellow bell-bottom slacks, a striped sweater and open sandals. She had come to Superior Court to testify in her divorce suit yesterday.

"If you want to get a divorce today, you run out and buy yourself a dress," said the judge.

She did. And it cost her $14 at a nearby store.

She came back wearing the creation, a peach-colored cotton shift, and Judge Pfaff prompty exploded again, telling her attorney:

"Will you take your client out in the hall and tell her how to behave—not to stick her tongue out at the judge and not to make faces at the court."

Mrs. Fashbaugh replied, demurely, that she only wrinkled her nose and perhaps looked a little sour.

Her case was finally heard — and she was granted a default decree from Arthur E. Fashbaugh, 27, a roofer.

Key Gone, Then Car

A 1964 gold-colored sedan was reported stolen yesterday from the lot of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury, 423 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael. A worker at the agency said the key to the car was noticed missing earlier in the day, San Rafael police said.

Angel Isle Urged As Tourist Spa

Development of Marin's Angel Island State Park into a tourist resort replete with hotels, swimming pools, yacht harbors and other concession-run operations was urged yesterday by San Francisco County Supervisor William C. Blake.

Blake ridiculed the lack of water-taxi service to the island. "Lt. Don Juan de Ayala, the man who first explored San Francisco Bay, visited Angel Island in 1775—nobody has been able to get there since then," he scoffed at the board's weekly meeting.

Blake told newsmen that he will urge San Francisco supervisors to approve a resolution asking the State to carry out a three-year-old program calling for spending up to one million dollars for development of the state park on the island.

Santa Clara Studies Fairchild Tax Report

SAN JOSE (AP) — The Santa Clara County counsel says he will confer with officers of the Fairchild Semiconductor Division to try to reconcile apparent tax report differences.

Counsel Spencer Williams said Thursday that the Mountain View electronics firm supplied accurate inventory information to its property tax consultant, James C. Tooke of Castro Valley. But, Williams told the county supervisors, Tooke "prepared, signed and filed affidavits showing substantially different amounts."

The Fairchild division appeared to have escaped $200,000 in taxes through an affidavit undervaluing its personal property by $3 million, Williams said. Fairchild Semiconductor is a division of Fairchild Camera and Instrument Co.

(In Marin County the electronics firm has already paid back taxes after it was discovered the company had been underassessed by about 1.3 million dollars. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel billed the firm $36,885 in back taxes and penalties, but the Board of Supervisors cancelled the penalties, amounting to $7,377.12.)

Tooke has been the center of statewide investigations into county tax assessors' practices. A former employe turned over Tooke's records to John Thorpe, a Castro Valley attorney.

The records were later studied by Alameda County Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley and officials from other counties. Grand jury investigations resulted in indictments charging Russell L. Wolden, San Francisco assessor, and Donald E. Feragen, Alameda County assessor, with accepting bribes.

Cannon Safe Job Loot $416,028

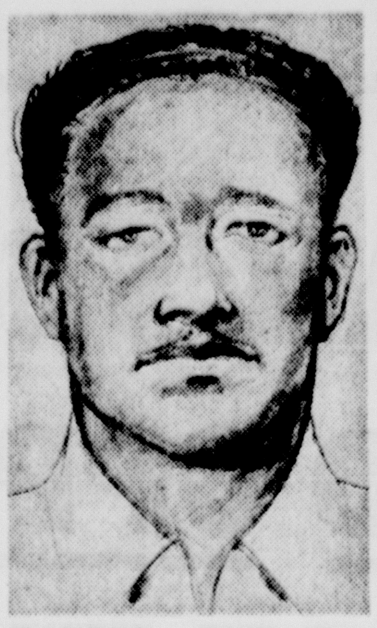
An audit of the firm's receipts yesterday showed that the weekend theft included $160,774.13 in cash and $255,254.15 in checks.

The loot was in sealed bags picekd up from businesses Friday night and Saturday morning to be distributed to banks on Monday.

Police and FBI agents reported no new leads in the burglary.



WANTED — Sheriff's office composite drawing is from a description of the man who attacked Mrs. Joseph De Martini of Sausalito Wednesday, slapping, choking and hitting her with a hammer. This man, who was accompanied by another man, is 30 to 40 years of age, six feet tall, weighs 190-200 pounds. He wore a pink shirt, stole $31 from Mrs. De Martini's pocketbook.

College Visit Set

Brian Fitch, admissions counselor at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., will visit Terra Linda High School at 8:30 a.m. and San Rafael High School at 10 a.m. Tuesday to talk with interested students about the college.

Goldstein Shows Some Recovery

Publicist Peter L. Goldstein is beginning to respond to doctors' efforts to save his life at Marin General Hospital, but his condition remains critical.

After lying unconscious and critically ill for more than a week in the intensive care unit, Goldstein was reported today to be showing slight signs of awareness.

"Sometimes he is half awake and then drifts back," a hospital spokesman said.

Goldstein, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, suffered severe head injuries Oct. 19 in a freak auto accident on the Waldo Grade.

Waldo Grade Crash Injures Motorist

William C. Hicks, 42, was cut on the lip when his car went off Highway 101 just south of the Waldo Tunnel at 8 a.m. yesterday and crashed into a drainage ditch, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Hicks, of 436 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, was to see his own physician.

Money Lost

Israel Whittaker of Lagunitas Road, Lagunitas, told San Rafael police yesterday he had lost a wallet containing $50 in cash and $1,000 in traveler's checks somewhere between Mill Valley and San Rafael.

Caribbean Terrace Scheme Wins Acclaim For Designer

By MOLLY MARIN

Mrs. Charles P. Davies (Elizabeth Banning) of Indian Valley Ranch, Novato is among those singled out in the current issue of the House and Garden Magazine. The magazine features colorful room settings by several A. I. D. members who participated in the Tour of Decor put on by the Women's Board of the San Francisco Museum of Art this spring. Mrs. Davies' arrangement was an elegant Caribbean Terrace which could be transformed by adding a roof for a dining room. Elizabeth Banning is among the Marin women listed in Who's Who in American Women and also Who's Who of America and Who's Who International.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT PRITCHARD of Lucas Valley will entertain five couples at a cocktail party prior to the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary Charity Ball at the Meadow Club tomorrow night. Guests include Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Haag, Messrs and Mesdames Gordon Walker, Paul O'Pizzi and Arthur Lindauer of Marin Country Club Estates and Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Silvestri Jr. of The Reedlands.

THE MATHEW PERRYS' home in Sausalito has been the scene of two parties recently.

Sunday they were hosts at a dinner party for 28 guests following the christening at the Star of the Seas church of a new granddaughter, Paulette Lynne Jukich, daughter of the Leonard P. Jukiches of Sausalito.

The baby, who was born on June 30, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Perry and Paul E. Jukich of San Rafael and Mrs. Wanda Maguire of Mill Valley and Byron Mills of San Francisco. Her godparents are Mrs. Elmo Maggiora of Sausalito and Alfred Grossi of Inverness.

Last week Mr. Perry, now retired after 40 years as chief of the Sausalito Fire Department, was feted at a dinner party given by his wife honoring his 63rd birthday. Twelve relatives and friends attended.

MRS. PHILLIP KENNEDY of San Rafael returned from a short stay in New York and Poughkeepsie where she visited her daughter, Sheila, a sophomore at Vassar. While at Vassar, Mrs. Kennedy enjoyed hearing her daughter sing in the chapel choir.

THE ARCHER FORSYTHS have returned to Mill Valley from a ten-day trip south as far as Coronado. They celebrated their 17th wedding anniversary with former Mill Valley residents the Purcell Weavers, now living in Santa Barbara.

A FLIGHT to Honolulu, visits to nearby islands of Maui and Hawaii and a voyage home on the S.S. Lurline was the fall vacation of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orrick III of Ross.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BIRKIE (the former Constance Gardiner) have returned after a month of European travel.

FOR THE SPEAKER

Mrs. William Bacon, left, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Marin Counuty Pharmaceutical Assn., pinned a corsage on state president Mrs. Marie Kuck of San Francisco with Mrs. John Harvey vice president, looking on yesterday. Mrs. Kuck was guest speaker at the monthly luncheon meeting which was held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

Newlyweds Residing In Panama City

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fidanque of Sausalito have just returned from attending their son's wedding in Panama City, Panama, which took place on Oct. 21.

Their son, Joseph Fidanque Jr. claimed as his bride, the former Myra Maduro of Panama City, in a ceremony at the Temple Kol Shearith Israel that was followed by a reception at the Continental Hotel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Baduro of Panama City. She was educated at Golf Park College in Mississippi and the University of Miami.

The bridegroom attended Webb School in Claremont, was graduated in business administration from the University of Pennsylvania and received his master's degree in economics from the University of Southern California.

The young people are living in Panama City, where he is employed with the firm of Fidanque Brothers and Sons.

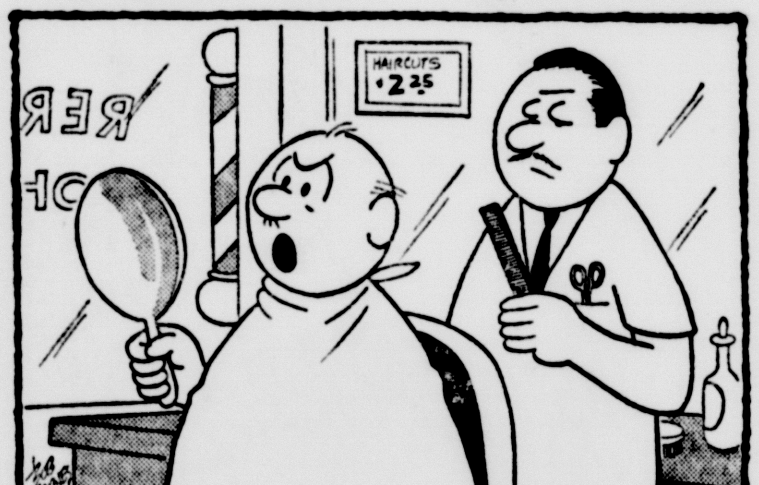
THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes



"I shouldn't pay you a cent!... Didn't I ask you for a hair-styling exactly like Rock Hudson's?"

Let Doctor Choose Antibiotic Needed

Three children on the same block come down with sore throats and fevers. Dr. A. prescribes penicillin for Susie Jones. Dr. B. orders a different antibiotic for Mary Brown. And Dr. C. skips antibiotics altogether in treating Tommy Smith.

All three are. What the mothers — and many Americans — don't understand is that antibiotics don't work at all against some diseases, or that more than one antibiotic can be effective against the same disease and that the same antibiotic often works differently in different people and diseases.

It takes a physician's skill and judgment to decide who gets which antibiotic, and when to refrain from prescribing any.

IN THE LAST TWENTY YEARS, antibiotics have revolutionized the treatment of infectious diseases — pneumonia, scarlet fever, appendicitis, the infections that led to rheumatic fever, mastoids and many other dangerous conditions. So miraculous are these new "wonder drugs" that many Americans today expect—and even demand—that they be treated with an antibiotic for almost any kind of infection and are surprised when a doctor is reluctant to prescribe one.

Experts Say Charm May Be Acquired

Though nearly everyone recognizes a charming person when he meets one, most people have the wrong idea about what charm is.

So say a panel of 12 experts, including Eileen Ford, director of one of the world's best known model agencies . . . Anita Colby, formerly charm consultant for a major film studio . . . Letitia Baldrige, Social Secretary to the White House during the Kennedy years. The panel was consulted by a store in the formation of its new School for Young Charmers.

The common mistake, according to these authorities, is to regard charm as a mysterious, heaven-sent gift bestowed on a fortunate few. Actually, charm is largely a matter of knowing-how. Knowing how to be mannerly wherever you go. Knowing how to appreciate the arts. Knowing how to acquire a pleasing voice. In sum, knowing how to become a completely charming person. This is know-how that anyone of any age can acquire.

The first step is a self evaluation. This "charm checklist" can help you determine your present Charm Quotient, and perhaps show you where improvement is needed.

"NO ONE HAS friends. Everybody must make friends, says Anita Colby. The more genuinely friendly you are, the more of these questions will get "yes" answers:

1. Are you willing to take the initiative in making new friends instead of standoffishly waiting for others to make the first move?

2. Are you open-minded about seeking friends among people older or younger than yourself?

3. Do you flatter others by seeking their advice?

4. Consciously try to be considerate? (This means keeping promises, telephoning before you "drop in," returning borrowed items promptly).

5. Do you show interest in others by reacting—with excitement, sympathy or other appropriate emotion—to what they tell you?

WHAT IS BEAUTY? "It's a matter of thinking beautiful!" says Eileen Ford. "You must be aware of yourself at all times." And here are some things to be aware of:

1. Is your posture graceful? Your back should be straight and strong, neck held high, rib cage lifted up and out of waist, "derriere" tucked under, knees slightly bent.

2. Are your hair style and make-up simple, natural, and aimed at bringing out your best features—not those of your favorite model or movie star?

3. Is your wardrobe well-planned, well-coordinated, carefully chosen to flatter your particular figure no matter what current fads decree?

4. Do you refuse to wear an outfit unless it's bandbox-fresh: seams not popping open, spots and strains banished, shoes well-heeled and shined?

5. Have you worked at eliminating any figure faults that spoil your silhouette and make you self-conscious? (This means diet and exercise!)

"YOUR SPEECH and speaking voice can be as attractive as you are, so that you are a delight to the ear," says Maxeda von Hesse, who has taught the arts of good speech to over 35,000 men and women. In the lesson on "Voice," see how you rate:

1. Is there vitality and enthusiasm in your voice?

2. Do you sound friendly—interested in other people?

There are Simone Signoret as a would-be couuntess, Lee Marvin as a has-been baseball player, the ship's doctor Oskar Werner, divorcee Vivian Leigh, Jose Ferrar as an industrialist, Heinz Guelhmann—-and tiny but mighty Michael Dunn. The pre-World War II tale opens Sunday on the screen of the Sequoia Theater.

MARIN FILM FARE

Hallelujah Trail Spoofs Westerns

By LES DARD

Let's take a swing around Marin area movie houses and see what there is to see this weekend:

RAFAEL THEATER

Burt Lancaster and Lee Remick take on comedy roles in "The Hallelujah Trail," a BIG western spoof now on screen.

Both laughs and action center around the convergance of a multitude of opposing forces.

Running low on liquor, the citizens of Denver want to insure a good supply for the winter months. So a sturdy businessman aims to drive a wagon train of booze through dangerous terrain in order to keep Denver wet, and earn a nice profit.

He enlists the aid of the Cavalry to protect the wagon train from thirsty Indians who have heard of its cargo. Meanwhile, along comes a ladies temperance society, trying to keep demon rum away from everybody. Another group of Cavalry is dispatched to watch over the women. Around about now, the miners in Denver are getting anxious about their booze, and set out to insure its delivery.

All six nutty groups arrive, or rather, descend, on a little pesthole called Quicksand Bottoms, near the South Platte River. In a terrific sandstorm, a battle of monumental proportions ensues.

When the dust clears, the confused combatants find that no one was even hurt, on any side.

This will suggest the centent, pace and comedy of "Hallelujah Trail."

Fine escapism and great fun.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Producer-director Stanley Kramer's greatest filmatic achievement is opening Sunday. Katherine Anne Porter's "Ship of Fools," an epic tale of humanity in turmoil has been made into a film, slightly less complex and confusing, but nevertheless, one of the best shows in town.

On the German boat Vera, returning home from Vera Cruz about the time Hitler ascends to power, we find an international cast of great talent.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Sean Connery stars in "The Hill," a ruthless, harsh drama that borders on the sadistic, now playing.

The hill of the title is a man-made torture device of rock and sand that sits in the middle of a military prison stockade. If someone breaks the rules, he is forced to climb it, in the boiling sun, with full pack and at the top speed he can manage. Then he must go up and down, up and down, until finally, mercifully, collapses.

101 DRIVE-IN

Surrounding the platinum centerpiece are Red Buttons, Peter Lawford, Angela Lansbury and Raf Vallone. We follow her career from the early 1930's when stardom was just a dream, until her tragic death at age 26.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Now on screen are two hits from a short time ago, both starring Melina Mercouri.

A roaring comedy at its best, "Never On Sunday" is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a prostitute (Melina Mercouri). He considers her the symbol of the Greek decline and reasons if he can save her, he can save the world.

Secondly, there's "Topkapi," a funny thriller set in Greece and Turkey.

Miss Mercouri stars as a nymph who loves (1) men, and (2) jewels. She covets a jewelled dagger in the Topkapi Museum in Istanbul, and persuades an old flame, Maximillian Schell, to undertake the theft.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

He is reduced to guiding Mexican bus tours, and his present one includes Sue Lyon, a teenager who throws herself at him, and a spinster obsessed with the girl and jealous of Burton.

Co-featured is "Joy House," starring Jane Fonda.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Living It Up" is a zany entry that gets off to a bang start when Jerry misunderstands his doctor and thinks he is going to die of radiation poisoning. It's fun from there on in.

Also here is "Pardners," a western spoof that was a big hit some years back.

LARK THEATER

The wild, fast-paced film opens with Belmondo playing in a Parisian jazz band until his ex-wife, Miss Moreau, lures him into joining her in a double swindle.

Never a dull moment as the film whips from Paris, to Brittany, to the Cote d'Azur.

Basically, this is the story of a dog and his devotion to a frontier family. The hearty animal's will to serve his young masters and protect them makes a tale to rend the hearts of young and old. The tragic climax is eloquent in its simple beauty.

African, Asian Talks May Fail

ALGIERS (AP) — African and Asian leaders were reported having second thoughts today about holding a summit conference without Communist China. They were reported looking for a face-saving way to abandon the meeting scheduled to open Nov. 5 in Algiers.

With representatives of only half of the 65 invited countries on hand, foreign ministers set a plenary session for tomorrow to decide whether to go ahead with the conference.

China said a week ago the summit should be put off because it would be faced with insoluble problems, such as the dispute over inviting "a country which is neither African nor Asian" — the Soviet Union.

Audubons To Hear Conservation Leader

Huey Johnson, western regional director of Nature Conservancy, will speak on "The Role of Non-Government Conservation" before the Marin Aubudon Society at 8 p.m. Friday in the supervisors' chamber at the Civic Center.

Johnson, a biologist, worked as a fisheries biologist prior to accepting his present position about two years ago.

Run Extended To Nov. 28 For 'Our Town'

San Anselmo's Festival Theater will continue its presentation of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" through Nov. 28, theater officials announced.

Costumes for the presentation were designed by free lance theater designer Belle Edidin of San Francisco. Miss Edidin also designed costumes for the theater's performance last year of "A Man for All Seasons."

Performances are on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. The theater is at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Trio Indicted In License Fraud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State investigators report that foreign-born persons allegedly obtained drivers' licenses illegally through a former Motor Vehicles Department examiner and two other persons.

The former examiner, Russell Woolfolk Jr., 43; John Nunes, 43, and Mrs. Lillian Young, 60, were indicted yesterday on charges of conspiracy to issue drivers' licenses illegally.

The investigators said license applicants from all over Southern California—many of whom were unable to read, speak or write English—paid $25 to $50 to obtain licenses at the department's Compton office.

Boy Hurt As Car Slows Suddenly

A 4-year-old Strawberry Point boy suffered a bruised forehead at 1:30 p.m. yesterday when the driver of the car in which he was a passenger slammed on the brakes to avoid hitting another car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Wilma J. Ertle, 42, of 302 Richardson Way, Strawberry, was driving east on Marin Avenue 75 feet east of Richardson Way when a westbound car rounded a curve and crossed into the eastbound lane. Mrs. Ertle hit the breaks, and her passenger, Kevin Bell, 4, of 304 Richardson Way, was thrown against the instrument panel. He was treated by a Sausalito doctor.

Two anchors reputed to be from Columbus' shipwrecked flagship, Santa Maria, are on display in Haitian museums. The caravel reportedly carried seven anchors in all.

NO CHANGE IN OFFING

Wierd Fourth District Standing Test Of Time

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The grotesque Fourth Supervisorial District, which spans Marin County from the lighthouse at Point Reyes to the courthouse in San Rafael, has been a reality for 10 months—long enough, evidently, to stand the test of time.

Supervisors, under pressure of a court order, changed district boundaries last December to bring the population of districts into closer balance.

The major shift took territory from the second (Ross Valley) district and, the first (San Rafael) district and added it to the fourth district.

Though the vast fourth district now takes in part of Corte Madera, part of Larkspur and a good chunk of downtown San Rafael, the Marin County Board of Supervisors seems content with it.

In fact all the members, except Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, say they would like to leave the redistricting problem alone until after the 1970 federal census.

Storer is the man who represents the giant fourth district.

Even he is reluctant to see a change soon because of the confusion it causes.

Also to be considered is elections. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who represents the first district, lost some precincts where his opponent, former San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, was strongest in elections last year.

The redistricting plan was largely authored by Leydecker. His critics have suggested that any redistricting will be done soon after next year's election, when Leydecker must run again.

Leydecker, however, declares himself "absolutely" against any district changes until after the 1970 census, and perhaps not even then unless there a basic shifts in popuiation.

Board Chairman Peter H. Behr told the Independent-Journal that he hopes redistricting is not revived soon. "I hope it lies down and goes to sleep," he said, adding that he can see no need to take it up again unless there is "A change of a dramatic nature not anticipated."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he has "no intention of bringing it up either before or after" next year's election.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he is "perfectly satisfied" with the new boundaries. "I think it's as good as we can do," he said.

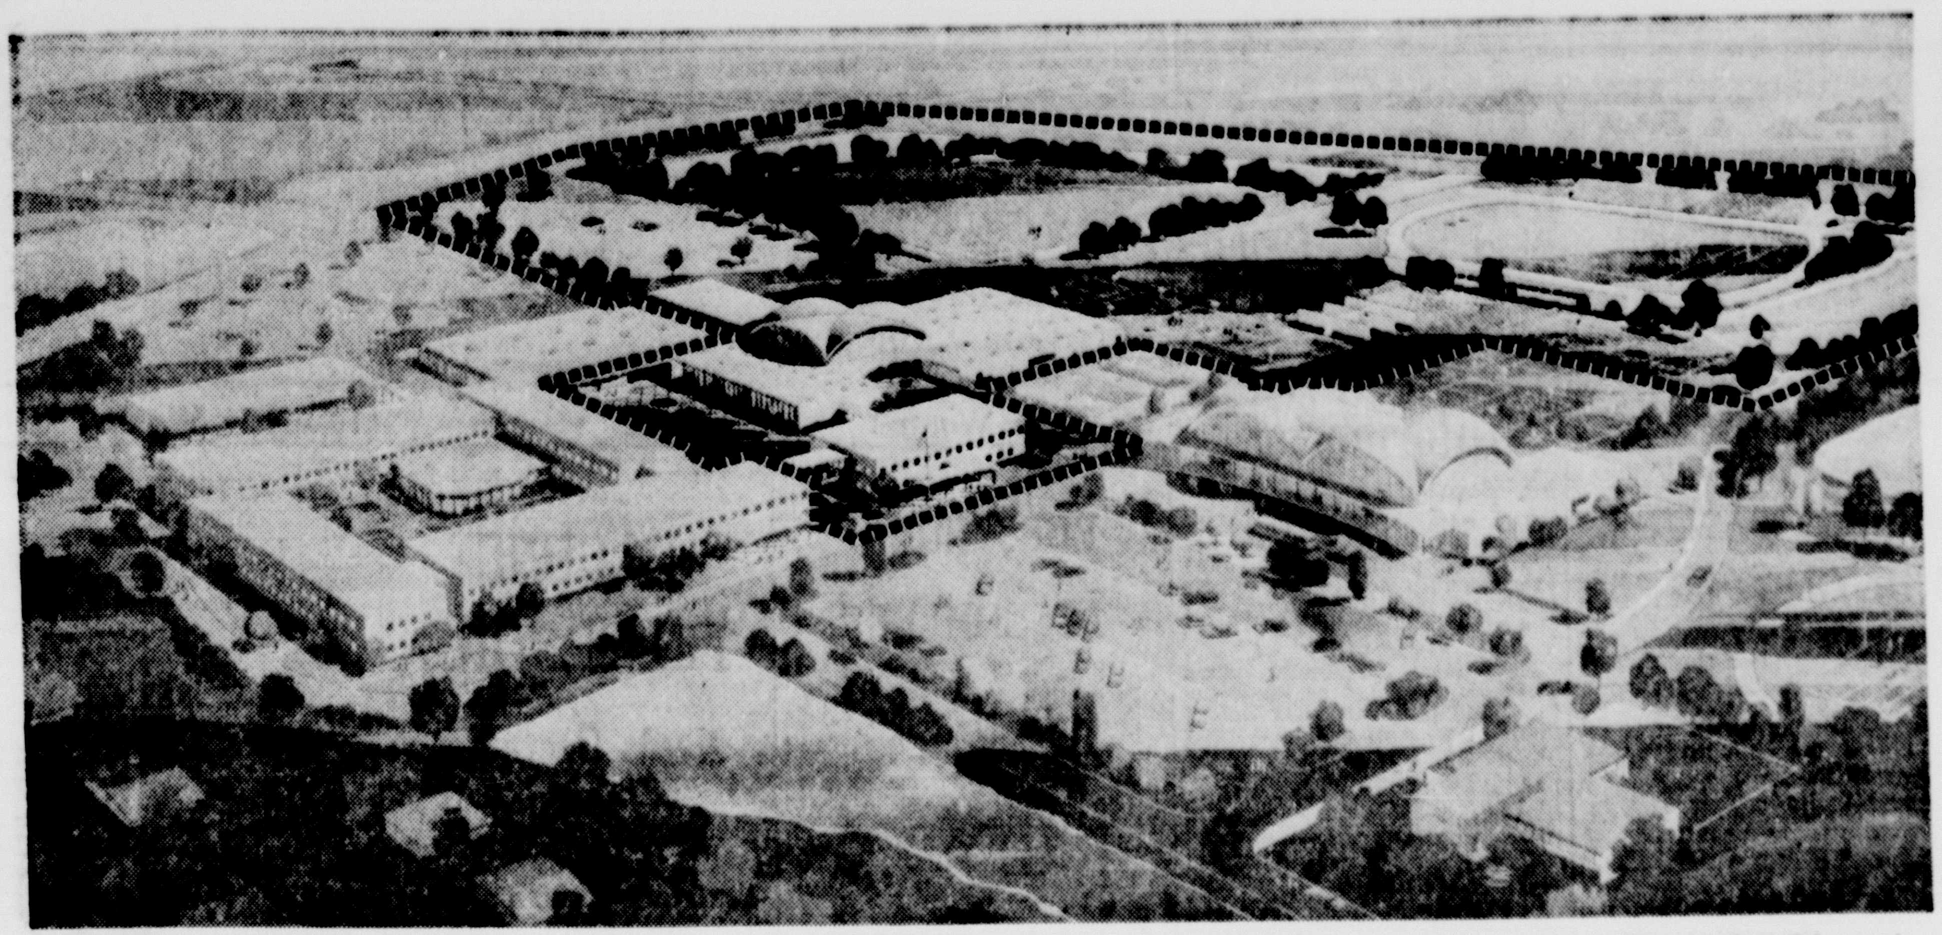
Storer, apparently the only board member who would welcome a change, said he does not care if is brought up before or after 1968, when he must run again, but he said effort must be made to avoid confusing voters.

Storer, who inherited the new district when he took office Jan. 1 of this year, declared that, if it is reconsidered, "I hope I have more to say about it then."

Before redistricting began, first with a stop-gap measure two years ago and finally with last December's action, the fourth district had only 1.8 per cent of the total county population. The final shift gave it 18.9 per cent.

The second district once had 32 per cent of the population. It now has 20.4 per cent.

The first district also has 20.4 per cent, the third (southern Marin) district has 23.1, and the fifth (North Marin) district has 17.3 per cent of the county population.



EXPANDED REDWOOD HIGH—Redwood High School on the Larkspur-Corte Madera line—now the portion surrounded by the broken line in this picture—will grow to fill the whole picture if $5,750,000 Tamalpais High School District bond issue is approved by voters on Nov. 16. Drawing by architect Ralph B. Priestley shows how campus will be expanded. It will be the second expansion for Redwood High since it opened in 1958.

Redwood High Full By '67

(Last in a series)

In 1967, a decade after groundbreaking, Redwood High School will become a completed school for 3,000 students—if the Tamalpais High School District bond issue passes on Nov. 16.

The third stage of construction will add classrooms, shop, laboratory and physical education space for an additional 900 students over Redwood's present capacity of 2,100. Enrollment this fall is just 51 students short of that capacity.

Fast growth in the elementary districts feeding the high school (Larkspur, Reed, Ross and Kentfield) assures an increasing flow of customers for the finished plant.

Of the $5,750,000 being asked by Tam district trustees, $2,700,000 is ticketed for Redwood's final stage of construction.

Included in the planned addition are 17 academic classrooms, two science laboratories, a pair of industrial arts workrooms, six rooms for fine and applied arts, 11 music rooms, and various administrative and lounge areas.

Among the last will be turning Redwood's present outdoor eating area into an indoor informal meeting and lounge space for students.

"In terms of student morale," says principal Donald Kreps, "it will be the single most important addition of the bond issue, and will transform a cold and inhospitable eating facility into a warm, receptive student center."

The money will also erect a girls' gymnasium and a girls' locker room, thus taking pressure off the present overcrowded gym where 2,000 students are using locker rooms designed for 1,200.

Added outdoor courts will help satisfy both the school's physical education program and community recreation needs: three more courts for basketball, 12 for volleyball, six for tennis, and four for handball.

A baseball field and two girls' play fields will also be laid out.

The completion of Redwood, largest and newest school in the Tamalpais district, will mark a milestone in the accelerating growth of Marin County secondary education.

In 1908, Tamalpais High School was founded to serve Southern Marin. For 41 years it was up to the job, its colorfully landscaped grounds and Spanish Colonial structure becoming a traditional stopping place for sightseers on the main county highway that threaded right through the campus.

But by 1949 the Golden Gate Bridge coupled witht he postwar population boom had put Tam on the ropes. In that year a $2,045,000 bond issue financed construction of Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, which opened its doors in 1951 to students from the northern end of the district.

Although it took four decades for the district to outgrow Tam High, it took just six years to outstrip Drake and Tam combined. In 1955 a $2,940,000 bond issue paid for additions to the two schools and construction of Redwood's first stage, which opened in 1958.

Two years later, in 1960, funds for the already needed second stage of Redwood were turned down by voters. But in 1961 a three-million-dollar bond issue was approved to finance the construction.

Now four years later, critical county growth, district trustees point out, demands expansion of present facilities and extension of the district program westward to the new school site in the San Geronimo Valley.

Israeli Troops Go Into Lebanon

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The Israeli army made its first raid into Lebanon last night in retaliation for what a spokesman said was cross-border Arab sabotage.

An army spokesman said an Israeli unit blew up a village headman's house at Houleh, about 1½ miles inside Lebanon, and three water installations at a collective settlement, the spokesman said.

There were no Lebanese or Israeli casualties, the spokesman said.

Novato Boys To See Pro Football Game

Approximately 50 boys will go to see the Baltimore Colts and San Francisco 49ers football game Sunday under the sponsorship of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

The bus will leave the Community House at 10:30 a.m. and return about 6 p.m.

Drunken Drivers Get Probation

Harold Raymond Cardwell, 44, convicted by a Marin Superior Court jury of drunken driving, was placed on six months probation and fined $220 yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Cardwell, of 29 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, had been found innocent of felony drunken driving in which another person was injured, but was convicted of the misdemeanor offense. He was accused of being drunk when his vehicle struck a car driven by Caesar S. Claudio of Milpitas, Santa Clara County, on Highway 101 last March 13.

Raymond R. Randall, 46, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Geronimo, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence and placed on two years probation by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court, also for drunken driving.

He was arrested Oct. 6 by Fairfax police.

Marin Quintet Enlists In Navy

Five Marin youths have enlisted in the Navy at the Navy Recruiting Station, San Rafael, and have been sent for eight weeks basic training at San Diego.

They are: Thomas A. Goldberg, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Goldberg, 12 Romar Court, Novato; John D. Halligan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Halligan, 2413 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael; William E. Harris III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Harris Jr., 1308 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato.

Melvin L. Saulenas, 18, son of Catherine J. Saulenas, 900 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, and Robert J. Stanfield, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stanfield, Englewood, Colo., College of Marin graduate, enlisted as a seaman.

Military Eases Recruit Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says that the Army, Navy and Marines now will accept volunteers with lower ratings on qualification tests if they have successfully completed high school.

Officials explained yesterday that the lower standards are needed to make more youths eligible for enlistments. One result, they said, could be a reduction in draft calls.

The minimum score on the Armed Forces Qualification Test will be dropped 5 points—to a total of 16—for high school graduates.

Burglary Suspect Booked At Jail

Corte Madera police booked William A. Golich, 22, of 33 Merwin Street, Fairfax, in county jail on suspicion of burglary last night after he was placed under citizen's arrest by Martin Conlin, a San Rafael policeman working as a part-time sales clerk in Montgomery Ward and Co. store.

Police said they had no report from Conlin on the reason or circumstances of the arrest. Bail for Golich was set at $1,100.

Jury Indicts Three Felons In Escapes

Three San Quentin inmates were indicted for escape yesterday by Marin County Grand Jury.

Donald A. Padgett, 31, and Harold Roney, 35, were jointly indicted for an Aug. 11 flight after allegedly using a hook and line to go over a prison wall. The men were captured Aug. 23 in The Dalles, Ore.

Padgett has prior convictions in Alameda County — Nov. 22, 1957, for theft of a vehicle and for burglary, and Jan. 11, 19652 for robbery.

Roney was convicted in Los Angeles County on May 29, 1957, for robbery, and Sept. 27, 1957 in San Bernardino County for escape.

Fred Dean Smothers, 32, was indicted for an Aug. 11 escape. He allegedly walked away from the ranch dormitory at the prison and climber a fence.

Smothers was convicted in 1962 of burglary of $400 from Specks Famous Irish Coffee Tavern, 813 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He was returned to San Quentin after a parole violation.

Thieves Invade Home Of Newlywed Couple

The Terra Linda home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walter Beardslee, married only two weeks, was looted by burglars of an estimated $450 worth of items, sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said the house, 569 Whitewood Drive, was entered via an unlocked crank-type rear window. Taken were a $175 television set, fishing tackle, and jewelry.

Elderly Are Warned Of Bank Swindle Deal

An oldtime con game in which swindlers pose as bank officials to dupe elderly widows of their savings has been cropping up with increasing frequency, the San Francisco Better Business Bureau warned today.

Charles L. Van Horne, vice president of Crocker - Citizens National Bank and manager of the San Rafael Branch, said he hasn't heard of this swindle being pulled in Marin recently, but warned residents to be on the alert.

Here's the way it is worked, according to the Better Business Bureau:

Swindlers, generally two or three confidence men working as a team, choose a victim—usually a 60-to-80-year-old widow.

One of the men, posing as a federal agent or bank security officer, telephones the victim and asks her to cooperate in trapping a teller suspected of being an embezzler.

If she agrees, he tells her to go to the bank, withdraw a specified sum of money in cash, and take it home. He may even have a taxi pick her up and take her home again after the money is withdrawn.

Then the men arrange to pick up the envelope with the money at her home so it can be checked for fingerprints and serial numbers.

They also tell the victim to say nothing of her "detective work" until she is advised that her money has been redeposited to her account.

That, of course, is the last she sees of the men and her money.

The Better Business Bureau advised: "If you are contacted by a self-proclaimed FBI agent or bank officer, advise him that you will call back. Disregard the number he provides and call the local police or FBI office."

Van Horne suggested that if anyone gets such a request to participate in "an investigation," he should call his bank manager.

"That way, we could catch some," he said. "They did catch one because a woman got suspicious and reported it."

Contra Costans Sentenced For Hopps Mischief

Michael A. Napolitano, 28, and Louis Cusimano, 32, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint charging malicious mischief in a May 26 incident at the home former Belvedere mansion of Stewart Hopps.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed each defendant on a year's probation, fined them $29 each, and ordered restitution.

Napolitano, of Walnut Creek, and Cusimano, of Alamo, Contra Costa County, originally were charged with petty theft. Belvedere police said they took a parasol, an outdoor umbrella, a shrub, hammer and garden statue.

Hopps, now in federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., for mail fraud last the home at 2 Cliff Road in 1963 to San Francisco attorneys J. W. Erlich and Eugene Clifford in lieu of legal fees.

FOURTH GRADERS STUDY THE HEART

Members of teacher Ellen Bean's fourth grade class at Larkspur-Corte Madera School yesterday learned about the heart by studying a beef heart, provided by the Rainbow Market in Larkspur. The heart was split open so chambers were visible. Next project in class study of the circulatory system will be a visit to the blood bank in San Rafael, said Mrs. Bean.

To whom it may concern, holder and owner of bond in the denomination of $857.70 and designated Bond No. 12, issued to represent unpaid assessments in the above project:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Treasurer of the County of Marin and ex-officio Treasurer of Oak Crest Drive Special Assessment District of Marin County Road Improvement Project, has advanced the maturity of the foregoing bond to January 2, 1966.

You are further notified that you may, prior to the date of advanced maturity, surrender said bond and receive the principal and interest thereon to the date of payment together with a premium thereon equal to five percent (5%) of the principal. If the bond has not been sooner surrendered on the date herein fixed for advanced maturity, there will be set aside to your credit the amount of principal and accrued interest then due on the bond together with a premium of five percent (5%) of the principal, and the bond shall then be deemed to have matured and interest shall cease to accrue on the bond. The amount so set aside will be paid to the holder or owner of the bond upon demand and upon the surrender and cancellation of the bond.

Shop Class Boasts One Girl Pupil

She chose wood shop because "I tried both home economics and art but neither class was creative enough," she said. "In these classes the teacher puts something in front of you and tells you what to do and essentially how to do it. I want something where I can be more creative."

"I want to become a dress designer eventually," said the 14-year-old blonde. Nevertheless, she chose wood shop instead of home economics.

The Sherrys live at 137 Granada Drive, Corte Madera.

Wholesale Narcotics Pusher Sentenced

NEW YORK (UPI) — State Supreme Court Judge Julius Helfond sentenced a four-time felon to serve from 15 years to life in prison yesterday for possession of six pounds of pure heroin worth $1 million on the illegal retail drug market.

"This defendant is a wholesale distributor of heroin and I know of no crime so horrible and despicable as the sale of narcotics," Helfond said. "If ever there was an instance where a mandatory sentence was justified, this is it."

Plasterers Cement Nominations Due

Nominations for union offices of Plasterers and Cement Masons Local 355 will be received at its meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the San Rafael Labor Temple.

Present holders are: Larry O'Conner, president; C. S. Jones, vice president; N. C. Green, secretary, treasurer and business manager; Robert L. Green, recording secretary; Robert Peterson, sergeant-at-arms; and executive board members, Peterson, Jones, Adolph Pedroli and Jeff Nelson.

Water Main Break Affects Canal Street

Residents alone one block of Canal Street, San Rafael, between Hoag and Harbor Streets, were without water this morning, due to a break in the water line.

Hector Puccinelli, superintendent of construction for Marin Municipal Water District, said cause of the break was probably corrosion of the line.

Agile Thief

Workers at Rossi's Garage, 595 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, told police yesterday a thief scaled a six-foot fence to a parking lot and removed a four-barrel carburetor from a station wagon belonging to Dewey Meyers of 115 Lansdale Avenue, Fairfax.

New Test Soon Spots 'Kissing Disease'

Advance News Service

CHICAGO — Medical science is combatting the "kissing disease" at Princeton University, but not at the expense of romance.

Doctors there have developed a quick, inexpensive test to screen students for the hard-to-detect disease, more properly known as infectious mononucleosis.

Of 786 freshmen screened this year, investigators found evidence of the acute blood infection in 12 unsuspecting young men. This disorder, also known as "mono," is called the "kissing disease" because doctors think this is the way the virus is usually passed around.

One of the scientists who developed the two-minute test, Dr. Stanley Bauer, director of laboratories at Princeton hospital, says he expects the test if widely adopted will increase the rate of diagnosis.

Some doctors now faced with diagnosing mononucleosis overlook the problem because of the time, trouble and expense of standard methods, he said. There is no cure for the ill and it usually runs its course without complications, but its ability to mimic other more serious disease is unsettling.

"With this simple, rapid test at his disposal, (a doctor) might be allowed to make the diagnosis quickly and easily," Dr. Bauer this week told a joint meeting of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the College of American Pathologists.

In the test of freshmen, six had acute infectious mononucleosis and three were already recovering. Three others apparently in the incubation phase when tested have since come down with the illness.

The remaining seven had respiratory infections, swollen glands, and a typical white cells in their blood, the latter two being symptoms of mono.

All that is needed for the test is a drop of the patient's blood. This is mixed with a solution of horse-blood platelets, and when mono is present the reaction is quick and positive within two minutes, Dr. Bauer explained.

The investigators have checked their test against 1,544 blood samples konwn to be infected with mono and report that "mono-tests," the name for their technique, is 99.3 per cent accurate.

"It is our intention to continue this study among this college group in an attempt to prospectively observe a highly susceptible population during a period when the disease is at a high level," Dr. Bauer said.

Everest Climb Talk At College Of Marin

Dr. William Siri, deputy leader of the 1963 American expedition on Mount Everest, president of the Sierra Club and biophysicist at the University of California, will speak at 8:30 p.m. today in Olney Hall at College of Marin.

Dr. Siri will tell the story of the American assault of Mount Everest and illustrate his lecture with color slides. An admission fee will be charged.

Olson 'Better'

Aubrey Olson, former postman at Tiburon, was reported "slightly better" in the intensive care unit of Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento, today, where he is suffering from a skull fracture and broken ribs received in a 250-foot fall during a fishing trip Sunday.

Traffic Report Given

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night received for study a report on the traffic portion of the downtown plan being prepared for the city by planning consultants Callister and Payne.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

What Man Eats Can Influence His Overall Chemical Makeup

VAN DELLEN

Man is not exactly what he eats because many factors influence his physical and emotional makeup. On the other hand, foods may alter the chemical nature of certain tissues. In his book, "Man's Foods" (The Garrard Press, Champaign, Ill.), Lloyd B. Jensen, Ph.D., tells of an old experiment in which a dog was fed suet fat for one month and developed "pure mutton fat in its tissues."

The researcher theorized from this experiment that if a lion ate nothing but sheep he would put on sheep fat—a lion in sheep's clothing. At the Lake Zurich Golf Club a test is being conducted on feeding mint to sheep. Will the leg of lamb have a built-in mint flavor? Similar studies are being done with wild garlic. Ducks that eat fish taste like fish and doves that eat sage are permeated with this spice.

IF AN AVERAGE adult was chopped up into small pieces and analyzed chemically by weight, the following percentages would be obtained. Oxygen 65, carbon 18, hydrogen 10, nitrogen 3, calcium 1.5 to 2.2, phosphorus 0.8 to 1.2, potassium, 0.35, and lesser percentages for sulfur, sodium, chlorine, iron magnesium, and other trace minerals.

Dr. Jensen quotes a different set of calculations prepared by Dr. T. E. Lawson. The average adult man represents:

Enough water to fill a 10-gallon keg.

Fat for seven bars of soap.

Carbon for 9,000 lead pencils.

Phosphorus for 220 matches.

Magnesium for one dose of salts.

Iron to make a nail.

Lime to whitewash a chicken coop.

TO THESE we will add enough insecticide to kill a bug, and sufficient radiation to sterilize a gnat.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

UNSOCIABLE LAD

Mrs. T. writes: My 15-year-old boy is an unfriendly person and has no pals. He never cared to associate with boys his own age. Is something wrong with him?

REPLY

Your son may be an introvert or have an emotional problem. But if you have reason to suspect that his attitude and personality need investigation, why not consult your family physician? If psychiatric consultation is called for, he will advise you.

BATHS FOR HEALTH

J. E. writes: We are studying in our hygiene class about different kinds of baths used in disease. Can you give us a few clues?

REPLY

The ordinary bath or shower for cleanliness, the hot bath for relaxation, the sitz bath for pelvic and rectal trouble, and the Hubbard tank used in polio are examples.

CHEWING TOBACCO

D. Q. writes: I gave up smoking after a heart attack. Is it all right to chew tobacco?

REPLY

Some nicotine is absorbed into the system in this way. Therefore, you are better off without the weed, even though chewing has less effect than inhaling upon the heart and blood vessels.

PROGRESSIVE DEAFNESS

H. G. writes: Is Otosclerosis curable without surgery?

REPLY

Otosclerosis is progressive deafness that usually begins in young adulthood. Operation does not cure but, in a high percentage, provides practical hearing for many years. The hearing aid and lipreading are the alternatives.

Bridges Opposes Military Loading

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Private industry and not the government should handle West Coast stevedore operations, longshore leader Harry Bridges said last night.

He told the National Defense Transportation Assn. that the Army and the Navy "don't know anything about the stevedoring business."

Bridges said Navy work along San Francisco Bay and at Seattle and Port Hueneme is done mainly by Navy-employed civilians handling explosives.

Private industry "can do it more efficiently and cheaper," Bridges said.

Bridges is president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Hamtramck, Mich., is a politically independent city of 34,137 persons living in 2.09 square miles entirely surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Udall Asks Congress For New Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall wants Congress to approve a so-called wild rivers bill, which would establish a national system of free-flowing streams for their fish, wildlife, recreation and scenic values.

At a news conference yesterday, he complimented Congress for its record last year on conservation legislation and urged favorable action on other pending measures.

Joan Baez Pays Protested Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has collected more than $34,000 in 1964 income taxes from folk singer Joan Baez.

A spokesman for the regional IRS office in San Francisco said today the government placed a lien on Miss Baez's income and property to collect the unpaid taxes. She paid up after the government resorted to the lien, the spokesman said.

The attractive 24-year-old singer—who says she's a pacifist—declined to pay 60 per cent of her income taxes both in 1964 and 1963. She based her refusal on the contention that 60 per cent of all income taxes go toward military spending.

Cluster Housing For Dias Ranch Again On Agenda

The Marin County Planning Department Monday will again consider the master plan for the 170-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley where Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto has proposed cluster and single family housing and a hotel.

The planning commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Dias Ranch hearing is not scheduled until 2 p.m.

Hearing on the West Marin master plan is also scheduled as the fourth item on the agenda. But Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said it will likely be continued to allow further committee study.

Influence Of Bible Subject Of Survey

Southern Marin will be the scene of extensive interviewing tomorrow when 200 students from Pacific Union College begin a survey of the area to find how much influence the Bible and its teachings have in the lives of local residents.

The survey is a pilot project for similar surveys to be conducted by the college throughout Northern California. The students will continue their interviewing for two more successive Saturdays in attempts to speak to as many people as possible, it was announced.

A Country Club Gone West

This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.

The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.

But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.

Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,650. (Escape from high taxes.)

LET AMES FORD SAVE YOU Cash!

Donald N. Frey, Vice President of the Ford Motor Company and General Manager of the Ford Division said in a letter to Doug Cowan: ". . . This is a magnificent accomplishment. You have earned this distinction by maintaining a high standard of dealership operation in all areas."

Real CASH . . . not just a lot of paperwork hokum and idle conversation. Here are some of the reasons Ames Ford consistently offers the most attractive deals to its customers:

1. VOLUME SALES Year after year Ames Ford outsells the competition, not just in Marin but against comparable dealers in all of Northern California.
2. LOW OVERHEAD Ames Ford was fortunate in acquiring its present, modern facilities while prices were still low. Every facet of our operation is in one efficient, cost saving location.
3. SERVICE FACILITIES Our vast service operation is designed to save money. From new car make-ready, used car reconditioning, to customer satisfaction after the sale.
4. HIGHEST ALLOWANCES Ames Ford sells at retail only the choicest trade-ins. Our volume lets us wholesale the "dogs" and still allow top dollar for your trade.

Hall Of Fame's 'Deacon Bill' McKechnie Dies At 78

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — William Boyd (Deacon Bill) McKechnie, only manager in the history of the National League to pilot three different teams to pennants, died today. He was 78.

McKechnie, a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, had been recovering from a pneumonia virus but suffered a relapse. He died in Manatee Memorial Hospital at 4:20 a.m.

McKechnie led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a pennant in 1925, repeated with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1928 and managed the Cincinnati Reds to two straight championships in 1939 and 1940.

His remarkable handling of the Cincinnati team when he took over brought praise from the baseball world. McKechnie made a last place Cincinnati club into a fourth place finisher in 1938 and won pennants the next two seasons.

McKechnie managed the Boston Braves from 1930 to 1937 but never achieved any success there. He was an active player from 1907 to 1920 and saw service with seven major league teams in 11 years. He had a lifetime batting average in the majors of .243, lowest for any player in the Hall of Fame except pitchers.

Mild-mannered and soft-spoken, he had the manners and appearance of a deacon — hence his nickname. He was completely unlike the rowdy ballplayers of his era.

McKechnie was born in Wilkinsburg, Pa., on Aug. 7, 1887. As a ballplayer, he was always ready to take advice.

It was this ability to listen to others that helped his Pirates win the 1925 World Series against the Washington Senators.

The Pirates were losing, three games to one, and were a single game from elimination when John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants and McKechnie's old boss, burst into the Pittsburgh clubhouse.

"Grantham is too young and inexperienced at first base," McGraw said. "Your infield will steady down and lose the jitters if you use an old pro like Stuffy McInnis at first. He's been through it before."

McInnis, a 35-year-old veteran, moved into first base. He fielded and hit well and the Pirates won the next three games and the pennant.

At the end of World War II, the Deacon was left with manpower problems. With inefficient players, his style of baseball became dull and fans agitated for his ouster.

Cleveland was managed by Boy Wonder Lou Boudreau at the time and he needed a stabilizing influence. The Indians hired McKechnie for $40,000 a season.

"Louie needs me," he would say.

McKechnie stayed with the Indians until his retirement, when he moved to Florida and settled in Bradenton.

One of the high spots in McKechnie's life came in 1962 when he was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

A Football Team With Muscles; Big Lift From The Linebacker

Pants too tight and coat too loose? Is that reflection in the mirror really you or are the kids up to their Halloween tricks? Too pooped to stoop? How long has it been since you've seen your feet? Does your snap, crackle, pop breakfast of champions just laugh at you?

Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Then take that physical wreck you call a body to San Rafael High School tonight if you really want to feel ashamed of yourself. There will be about 70 beautifully conditioned athletes of San Rafael and Drake high schools playing football, but I want you to pay particular attention to No. 22 for Drake.

HIS NAME is Frank Holton. He is 15 years old, stands 5 feet 9 inches and weighs 170 pounds. Playing first string varsity linebacker on a first place team is rare for a sophomore like Holton, but not unheard of.

Except for that tender age, No. 22 looks just like the rest of the gridders. He has two eyes, ears, arms, legs, one nose, mouth.

PRETTY STRONG statement by a columnist who grew from a 97-pound weakling into a 175-pound weakling, but I have some proof to support that statement if you'll put down that beer and pay attention, Bunkie.

Holton has been a weightlifter since the age of 10. This kid has muscles that won't quit. Wall-to-wall biceps. When he takes off his shirt—Gangbusters! Drape a plate of spaghetti over his shoulders and he'd look like the cover boy from the phone company. Sorry, strong number.

HIS WEIGHTLIFTING coach, Jack MacPhee of the muscular MarVel Athletic Club of San Rafael, feels Frank can become an Olympic contender by 1968 if he trains properly. A few months ago young Holton "pressed" 285 pounds and if football hadn't come along he probably would be flirting with the magic 300 number right now. The world teen-age record, held by a 19-year-old Pole, is 308. The national teen mark is 295, also by an older boy.

"I HAVE never heard of anyone 15 pressing anywhere near Frank's 285 figure," said MacPhee. In world teen-age competition, he explained, 18 would be about the right age for that weight. "Frank's two or three years ahead of everyone else," said Mac. "Gary Gubner, the famous track and weight star, was 17 when he pressed 300, a world record at the time."

A press, by the way, is executed by pulling the barbell to the chest, then pushing it to locked arms overhead while maintaining an erect position and exerting only the strength of the arms and shoulders.

HOLTON ALSO has the native strength to improve his performance in the other Olympic lifts—clean and jerk (hi, Bunkie) and the snatch—says MacPhee, if he keeps his body perfectly tuned. "In weightlifting, more than any other sport," says the coach, "the body has to be in perfect condition. Each of the three lifts requires about one second to execute, so your body must be keyed for supreme effort totalling only three seconds."

Football and injuries (shoulder and ankle), says MacPhee, have detained Holton's progress, but the coach feels his star pupil from San Anselmo can make it to the next Olympics.

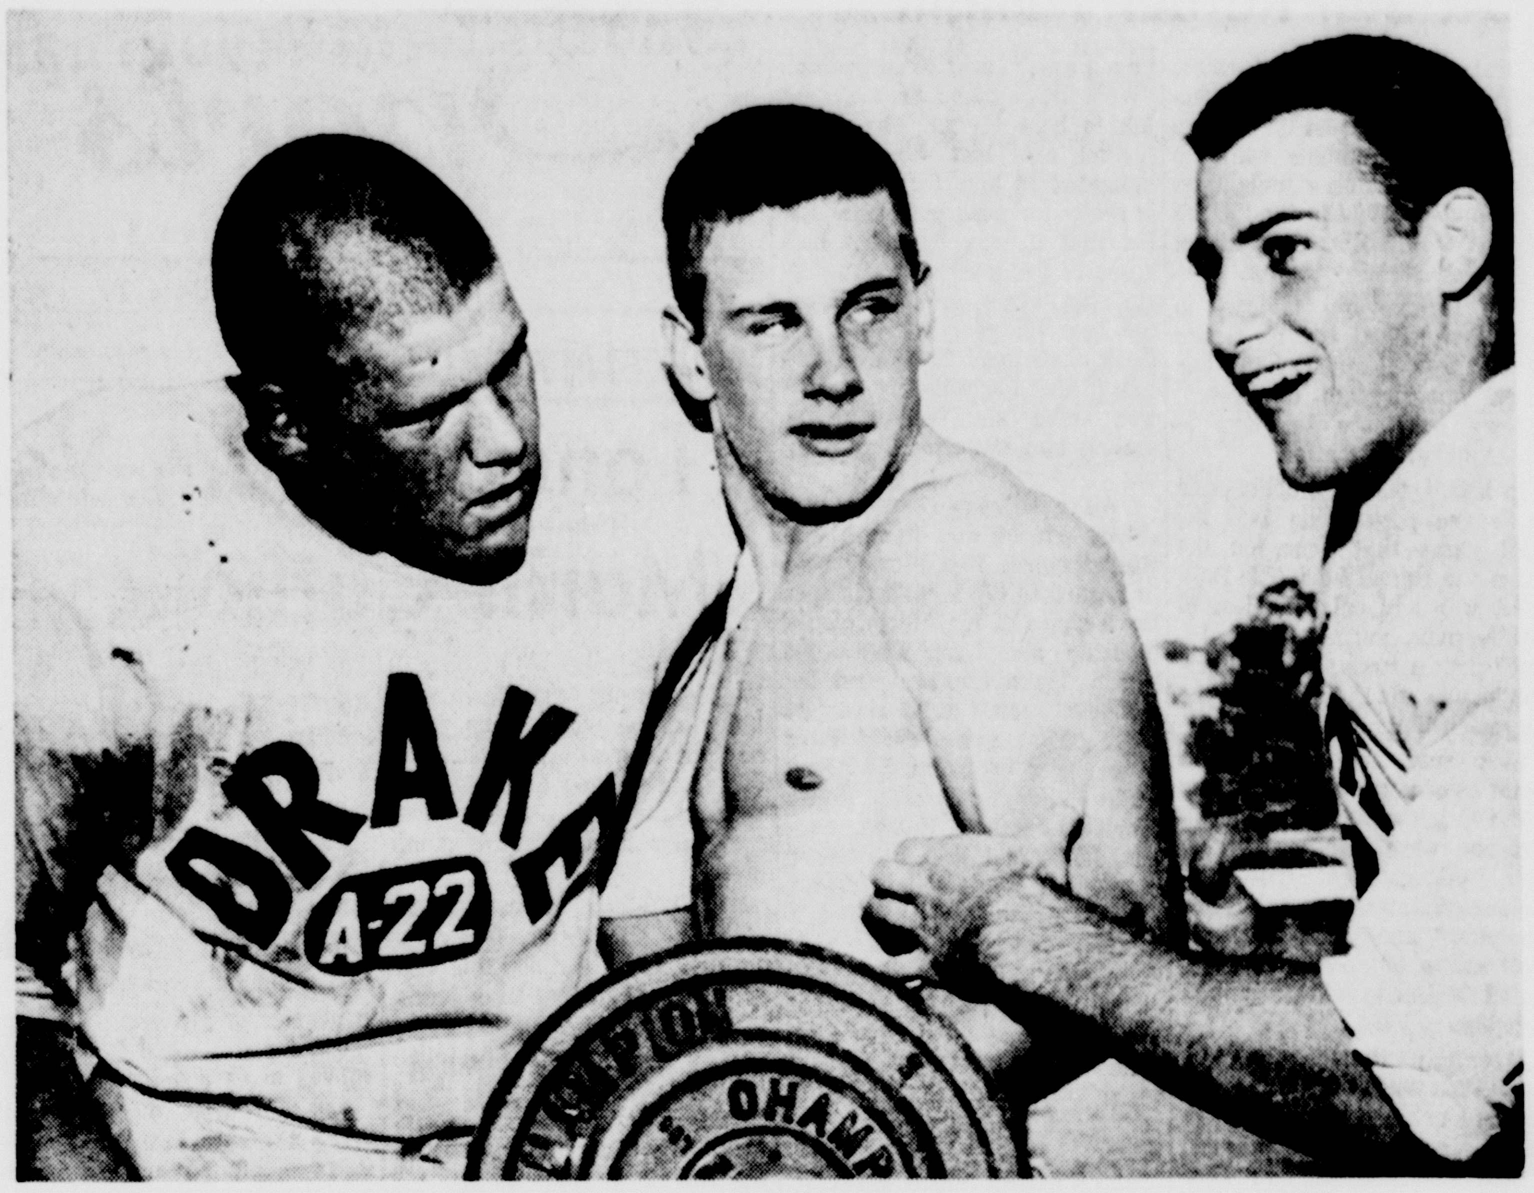
ON THE gridiron, meanwhile, Holton has impressed his coaches. Gordon Chan, a Drake assistant who tutored Frank last year, has this to say: "You might say he has given us a lift. As a freshman he tore up the league as a fullback and linebacker. With legs like that you can imagine how hard it was to tackle him. On crucial situations we'd move him to middle guard and he would actually knock the center back into and sometimes behind the quarterback on the T formation. He caused six fumbes that way.

"His arms are like a couple of six-by-sixes. When he rips up with his forearms he really creams some blockers. He was late reporting to practice this year so we haven't used him on offense, but he has the makings to be a fine back. Just wait 'til he's a senior!"

Now aren't you glad you read Along Muscular Sports Trail by Mighty Mouth?

And all this time you thought a press was something that broke down on the I-J and a barbell was something that told your wife you'd just left.

Shame on you, Bunkie.



DRAKE GRID TEAM: HUSTLE AND MUSCLE

Law Snares Comeback Of Year Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vernon Law, the Pittsburgh Pirate righthander whose major league career was threatened by injuries on several occasions, today was named the National League comeback player of 1965 by United Press International's Board of Baseball Experts.

Law, 35, registered a 17-9 record last season for the third-place Bucs after winning a total of 16 games in the two previous campaigns combined. Perhaps more significant was the 16-year veteran's earned run average of 2.16, fourth best among the senior circuit's regular moundsmen. His 1964 E.R.A. was a not too impressive 3.61.

The Boise, Idaho resident was a one-sided choice of the 24 sportswriters who comprise the UPI board. Law collected 13 votes while first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco and Milwaukee third sacker Eddie Mathews tied for the runnerup spot with three mentions each.

Los Angeles third baseman Jim Gilliam was picked on two ballots and Cincinnati first baseman Gordon Coleman, Milwaukee outfielder felipe Alou and Chicago Cub first baseman Ernie Banks received one vote apiece.

HO-HUM, GEIBERGER AGAIN

Familiar Name Tops List In Almaden Golf Tourney

SAN JOSE (AP) — Slender Al Geiberger continues as master of the Almaden Country Club course.

The former University of Southern California star and only two-time winner of the San Jose-Almaden tournament found himself in the familiar position here today—at the top of the list although tied with San Francisco rookie Steve Oppermann.

Both shot 65 in the opening round of this 72-hole, $46,000 event which continues through Sunday. The scores equalled the competitive course record set by none other than Mr. Geiberger back in 1962 when he won the event with a 273, also a tourney record.

The lanky golfer, now 28, repeated in 1963 and this year captured the $100,000 American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio.

Yesterday he scored 34-31, although playing the back nine first. Oppermann, a stocky 23-year-old who won the California Amateur Championship in 1964 and then turned pro, had 34-31.

They couldn't feel secure going into today's play as both Jim Ferree and Charles Coody were just one stroke off the pace at 66; Ken Still and Australia's Bruce Crampton each had 67 and 55 pros had bettered par for the opening 18 holes.

Par breaking wasn't for the pros alone. San Francisco amateur Steve Whitman fired a 68 and San Jose State College's Ross Randall had a 69.

Weather proved ideal for the play over the par 36 - 36—72 course which stretches 7,035 yards.

Geiberger, of Santa Barbara, fired seven birdies and did did not go over par on a hole. Oppermann had one bogey but made up for it with an eagle on the 535-yard first hole.

Ken Venturi, the 1964 United States Open Champion, who underwent surgery for ailing hands this summer, shot a 76. He had commented earlier that his hands didn't both him, but he hasn't yet regained sharpness in his game.

Venturi, who attended San Jose State, won the Almaden in 1959.

Golfers who won the next two years didn't fare well this time either. Charlie Sifford fired a 78 on his first round and Jim Ferrier 75.

Terra Linda Wins X Country Meet

Terra Linda High's Bob Bunnell, John Proffett and Bill Opferman placed 1-2-3 yesterday to lead the Trojans to victory over Drake in Marin Athletic League cross-country race at Terra Linda's two-mile course.

10-Under-Par By Jack; Leads By 4

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, fired a 10-under-par 63 for 120 today and zoomed four shots ahead of South Africa's Gary Player after 36 holes in the Australian Open Golf Championship.

Player, who took the first round lead with a 62 yesterday, went nine strokes higher on his second round with a 71, which dropped him to second place at 133.

Kel Nagle of Australia, beaten by Player in a playoff for the U. S. National Open crown last June, was tied with Frank Phillips, another Australian, for third place at 135. Nagle had rounds of 67-68 and Phillips 71-64 over the 6,578-yard, par 73 Kooyonga course.

Kooyonga is a relatively flat and short layout with broad fairways. Soft greens permit players to go boldly for the pins.

The sensational rounds of Player and Nicklaus the first two days are among the best ever shot in a major tournament, but fall short of a record.

Seven players have shot 60s on the American Professional Golfers Assn. tour, one of them Mike Souchak, who in 1955 had a nine-hole score of 27 over the Breckenridge course in Texas.

SNEAD HAD 59

A few years ago Sam Snead shot a 59 over his home course at White Sulphur Springs, West Va., in the Sam Snead Festival Tournament. While it was a legitimate tournament, the event was not listed on the PGA tour and thus is not included in PGA records.

Nicklaus was out in 32 and home in 31 on the par 73 course. He had 25 putts, 10 birdies and parred eight holes. Player took 30 putts, had one eagle and three birdies.

It as a day of fabulous golf, with Player starting his second round knowing Nicklaus had 32 for the first nine. Player lost his overnight four stroke lead to Nicklaus at the eighth, drew level again at the 12th lost it again at the 13th and drew level again at the 15th. Player needed three birdies to equal Nicklaus over the last three holes but crashed with a par five at the 16th, had a one over five at the 17th and a par four at the last.

Nicklaus said afterwards he never was more pleased in his life as a professional to have a four-stroke lead over a man of Player's calibre halfway through the tournament.

Expect 275 Tomorrow At Cage Clinic

About 275 persons, mostly from Northern California but one from as far away as Poland, are expected for the fourth annual Marin County Basketball Clinic tomorrow at College of Marin in Kentfield.

Feature speakers at the clinic will be John Wooden, UCLA basketball coach, and Glen Albaugh, coach at Cal State in Hayward. Chairman of the clinic is Cal Riemcke, College of Marin cage coach.

For the first time, the clinic will be international in scope, with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. Jan Mekulowski from Poland, Frank Holness of the Republic of Panama and Alberto Trama from Argentina are the three.

The men were sent to this country to learn the U.S. way of playing basketball and will be picking up tips from one of the most successful coaches in the business, UCLA's Wooden.

Wooden is a coach who has never had a losing year. He was named "Coach of the Year" in 1964 and boasts an all-time coaching record of 608 wins and 183 losses.

The clinic will get underway tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Coaches from all levels will be on hand, from elementary school to college.

It's The Point Of No Return; 49ers Can Come Back Fighting

RANDOL

Games this Sunday mark the halfway point for the National Football League and for some teams it is the point of no return. For the San Francisco 49ers the test is whether or not they are gutsy enough to swallow their undeserved loss to the Minnesota Vikings and come back fighting.

It is my hunch that the 49ers are not about to spend the rest of the season crying in their beer. Last year, with a lot less to work with at the start and with an unbelievable injury list, they still kept scrapping and trying to win. It may be pipedreaming, but I'll even say they can carry the game to the Baltimore Colts and beat 'em.

THE 49ERS almost got the job done back on the first Sunday of this month when the Colts hung on for a three point win. For years the 49ers have managed to look better on the second time around. This would be no time to stop.

As it stands right now the Green Bay Packers with a 6-0 record look unstopable, even though the revitalized Chicago Bears should take a good shot at them this weekend. A victory by Papa Bear Halas' team would shake up some long shot hopes around the Western Conference.

IF YOU don't think football is a crazy, unpredictable game, take a look at last Sunday's 49er-Viking affair compared with or contrasted to the Packer-Dallas Cowboy game. John Brodie and Fran Tarkenton ran up a net of 654 yards passing in our game while Bart Starr and Craig Morton passed for a net total of MINUS 11 yards.

THE VIKINGS take their aerial circus into Cleveland on Sunday and if they beat the Browns it will give the St. Louis Cardinals another chance at the Eastern title. The Cards almost blew the works by losing to previously undefeated Washington. The Cards trounced the Browns the first time they met and they don't meet again until the last game of the season. That one may be for all the marbles.

ONE OTHER unusual fact at mid-season is that there has not yet been a tie in the NFL. Last year there were six ties. It would seem that offensive play is a bit more daring this year with trailing teams going for broke.

OVER IN the American League, at the halfway mark, it seems all over but the shouting with the Buffalo Bills and the San Diego Chargers far in front. Only the Oakland Raiders have a minor chance of sneaking into the picture against the Chargers and that would take a few minor miracles. The gate is up this year but a run-away race could kill the golden goose.

Pro Pickings: Colts, Green Bay, Detroit

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The unbeaten Green Bay Packers come knocking on Papa Bear's door Sunday and they may get a pumpkin pie in the face.

Gale Sayers has made the Chicago Bears a real threat since he took over in the second half of the first Packer-Bear game four weeks ago.

The Packer-Bear renewal of one of pro football's most bitter feuds is the big game on a full program of seven National Football League and four American Football League contests.

It looks like the roughest week yet for a pro picker who just barely escaped with his hide, 6-5, last week. The season totals are 31-11 in the NFL, 14-6-3 in the AFL and 45-17-3 over-all.

Let's stab again: All games Sunday)

NFL

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 24—Colts are favored but this could get us off on the wrong foot. Baltimore just did win 27-24 Oct. 3 at home when Dave Parks caught nine passes for 221 yards and three 49er TDs. Colts' defense tougher than San Francisco but Fred Miller has been hurting. Lenny Moore probably will miss another. It will be up to John Unitas to outpitch John Brodie.

Green Bay 27, Chicago 21—Looks like the spot for an upset win by the Bears but don't sell Vince Lombardi short. The Packers have been doing it with mirrors lately while the Bears have been the scourge of the league with Sayers running wild. Look for Packer defense to clamp down on Sayers and give Rudy Bukich the big rush. Green Bay won first game 23-14 and also beat Bears in an exhibition 31-14.

St. Louis 31, New York 14 — Charley Johnson will be a doubtful factor up to the game time and the Giants always give him trouble. But the Cards simply can't afford to lose another and figure to be keyed up after defeat by Redskins. Doubtful condition of Jim Burson makes Cards vulnerable but rookie Giant defenders no match for solid St. Louis club. Wally Lemm's front four are top pass rushers.

Cleveland 31, Minnesota 28 — This one is enough to scare a ghost. Fran Tarkenton put on his best performance at San Francisco, passing for over 400 yards but the Vikings gave up a bushel of points while winning 42-41. Cleveland never has seen the scrambler and he may give their conservative defense fits but the Browns have the stuff in Frank Ryan, Gary Collins and Walt Roberts to take advantage of the Vikings' leaky pass cover.

Dallas 24, Pittsburgh 17—Defense does it again. Neither Cowboys or Steelers show much on offense. Craig Morton probably will get call again over Don Meredith and Mike Nixon is going all the way with Bill Nelsen. Return of Bob Hayes helps Dallas. Steelers make too many mistakes.

Detroit 17, Los Angeles 14 — Rams are favored but Lions beat them 20-0 in opener and never let Swede Svare's men inside the 43. The Swede blew his top about the officiating in Baltimore last week and the Rams will be keyed to take it out on the visitors. Harry Gilmer, disenchanted with Milt Plum, says he'll start George Izo at quarter and bench Nick Pietrosante. The Lions need a jolt to snap three-game losing streak.

Washington 17, Philadelphia 14—Sonny Jurgensen had a hot hand against St. Louis last week and Charley Taylor ran like his old self for the first time. Return of Lonnie Sanders helps 'Skins secondary. Eagles' Tim Brown reinjured right thigh last week. Norm Snead has been working out but Joe Kuharich probably will go with King Hill again.

Oakland 23, Kansas City 20 — Dick Wood did the job for the Raiders in an opening day 37-10 win over the Chiefs with to TD passes and also scored once. The Raiders also beat the Chiefs 23-6 in Aug. 22 exhibition.

Others: Denver 21, New York 17; Buffalo 27, Houston 17; San Diego 28, Boston 14.

Drake, Novato Favored In Big Games

Pirates Meet Bulldogs At San Rafael Tonight

Drake High School's Pirates, defending Marin Athletic League champs who are tied for the top spot this year, tangle with the San Rafael gridders tonight on the Bulldogs' field in the "game of the week." Kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

The Pirates are favored to beat San Rafael but as Drake coach Bob Franceschini has found out through the years, victory over the Bulldogs is never an easy matter.

In 1963, Drake was undefeated in league play going into the final game that year, on the same San Rafael field. The Bulldogs, who had only one loss in MCAL play, surprised the Pirates with a resounding 20-0 triumph and tied them for the championship.

Last year the Drake boys again were undefeated going into the game against San Rafael and were heavily favored. The Bulldogs held the high-scoring Pirates to only one touchdown and fell, 7-0. Drake went on to complete an undefeated season to win the championship.

A certain Pirate who was around for those two games will be there again tonight. That, of course, is Dean Lazzarini, one of the flashiest runners ever produced in the MCAL. He is currently among the leading rushers in Northern California with a total of 831 yards, and also is high on the Norcal scoring list with 65 points in six games. While scoring 10 touchdowns for the Bucs, Lazz has averaged 7.8 yards per carry.

But if defenses worry too much about Lazzarini, the Pirates can open a potent passing attack. The big Drake combination is quarterback Bill Ingram to sophomore end Don Alverado. Ingram has completed 21 of 43 pass attempts for 406 yards and five touchdowns. Alvarado has caught 16 passes for 399 yards and five TD's.

San Rafael's ground game so far this season has been led by halfback Rocky Shone wtih 224 yards in six games. He has averaged 3.9 yards per carry and has scored six touchdowns.

Drake will be coming off a 28-20 win over Riordan last Friday and Franceschini reports his forces in good shape physically.

"San Rafael has one of the top defensive clubs in the league," said Franceschini. "We'll have to do an excellent job to beat them." The Drake mentor said last week's game indicated to him that his team is ready for peak performances. He said it was Ingram's best game of the season and "Lazzarini got some great blocking, the best all year." The Drake flash reeled off 226 yards and scored three touchdowns. And it was some key blocking that sprung him loose for long gainers.

"We're still not counting ourselves out of this thing," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said in regard to his team's chances for a share of the Marin championship pie. Last week's 6-0 loss to Terra Linda evened the Bulldogs' record to 2-2 in league play. "That game could have gone either way," said Muster.

The Bulldogs coach had praise for linemen John Balzan, Gordon Jones and Ken Beerbower for their play against Terra Linda.

Muster feels Drake has a very strong team, not just a one-man show. "That Lazzarini is a great player but they have other good players. I respect that Ingram at quarterback. But I think we've got a good shot to beat them.

And if history means anything, it should be quite a scrap. It always is when these two teams bump heads.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

DRAKE

SAN RAFAEL

Tennis Tourney Set Tomorrow

A county wide girl's tennis tournament will be held tomorrom from 8 a.m. to noon at the San Rafael High School and College of Marin courts.

Players will compete in singles and doubles in beginners, intermediate and advanced classes. The tournament is being sponsored by Marin Catholic High School.

Marin County schools represented include San Rafael, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, Novato, Terra Linda, Tomales Bay, and Marin Catholic high schools, and Katharine Branson School.

Troppmann Heads Football Clinic

Next Feb. 12 and 13 have been selected as the dates for the annual Coach of the Year Clinic sponsored by the American Football Coaches Assn. and the Eastman Kodak Co. The meeting will be held at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Coach Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School will again be Clinic Manager, assisted by his coaching staff. Ed Randol of the I-J staff will repeat as director of press, radio and TV relations.

Soccer Triple-Card Scheduled Sunday

AT KENTFIELD

Tonight: Tam Vs. Marin Catholic

Marin Catholic will be still looking for its first Marin Athletic League win in four years and the Tamalpais Indians will be trying to keep their share of the league lead tonight when they meet in Kentfield Stadium at 8.

The Wildcats have a string of three straight League seasons without a win and this year are 0-4 so far. Last time Marin Catholic won a league contest was in 1961 when it upset San Rafael High.

Tam suffered its first loss of the season last Saturday when the Novato Hornets blitzed the Indians 34-0. Tam had a string of five straight wins going into the game.

The Wildcats are down to 26 players as injuries keep taking their toll. Halfback Tom Murray and fullback George King are the only regular running backs still able to play. End Pat Carney is probably out for the remainder of the season with an ankle injury, and six or seven other players will be out of action for tonight.

The Injuns will be trying to bounch back after absorbing that rout last Saturday. "We made mistakes we haven't made all year in that game," said Tam coach Willie Hector. He said the defensive safeties were committing themselves on option plays and the linebackers weren't rushing the passer. It was a hard loss for Tam because of key injuries, also. And because of the injuries, Hector has had to shake up his starting teams.

Mike Biber moves into tight end replacing Dennis Quinn and Steve Reiter moves to split end. Kirk Sparks, hard-running fullback, suffered a leg injury and will be replaced by Steve Meyers. Defensively, Ray Stark goes into a starting cornerback spot, Scott Nelson will open at a linebacker position and Ron Kelley moves in as a defensive end.

Mike Fowler, Tam's sophomore halfback, is in good shape and should be the boy who makes the difference in the game. If Tam gets its offense rolling, he'll be doing a lot of ball toting.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

TAMALPAIS

Steve Reiter, le; Ernie Bergman, lt; Meludi Miles, lg; Don Jen, c; Norm Ortman, rg; Paul Austin, rt; Mike Biber, re; Tom Lecy, qb; Mike Fowler, hb; Steve Meyers, fb; Fred Hilton, flanker.

MARIN CATHOLIC

GREENBRAE HAS MONOPOLY ON GRID TALENT

Two boys who live across the street from each other in Greenbrae really know what to do with a football.

Frank Giorgi of 155 Eliseo Drive won the Marin County district Punt-Pass-Kick competition in the 10 - year - old bracket and David Del Grande of 142 Eliseo Drive won overall Marin County honors for the age 8 group.

The boys, who go to Greenbrae School, will be competing in the sectionals tomorrow at Funston Playground in San Francisco.

Halloween Golf At Meadow Club

Mrs. T. N. Brown, Mrs. H. C. Billings, Mrs. Ed Christie and Mrs. Ernie Farey combined for a best ball score of 150 to win the Halloween Tournament yesterday at the Meadow Club.

Other best-ball foursome winners were:

Hornets-Redwood At Kentfield Tomorrow

Novato and Redwood high schools, sporting identical season records, battle one another tomorrow afternoon in Kentfield Stadium in a Marin Athletic League football game starting at 1:30.

Although both teams have 4-1-1 marks this year, Novato is 2-1 in MCAL play while the Giants of Redwood are 1-1-1. Novato's record is good enough to give the Hornets a share of the league lead, along with Drake and Tam. But that tie is costly to the Giants who would have to hurdle past all three teams to win the title.

Novato has quite a one-two punch when it gets its hands on the ball. On the ground it's Dick Otis and Frank Perachiotti and in the air it's John Dolinsek throwing. Otis has picked up 713 yards in six games and has been running at a 5.1 average per carry. And it has been that hard yardage in the middle of defensive lines.

Perachiotti has gained 200 yards and boasts the same average per carry as Otis, 5.1. Dolinsek has completed 35 of 77 passes for 406 yards. Tom Corder has been his main target, catching 16 passes on the season for 292 yards and four touchdowns.

BANGED ELBOW

Perachiotti banged up an elbow in the Tam game but he should be ready to play tomorrow. With the exception of minor bumps and bruises, the Hornets came out of the game free of serious injuries.

Novato head coach Harry Moore said he has scouted Redwood enough to know it can move the ball. "We'll just have to outmuscle them," he said. He pointed out that the Novato defense has improved with each game. Only two players on the Hornets defensive squad had any previous varsity experience prior to the season.

He singled out wingback Dennis Hachmyer, tackle George Homenko and defensive back Larry Stewart for outstanding defensive play against Tam.

Redwood coach Bob Troppmann was pleased to report a healthy team for the game. Welcomed back to the fold from the injured list were ends Tim Akers and Bud Lyons, tackles Mark Herrero and Rusty Poole and halfback Harvey Hand.

The game will be broadcast live on Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen calling the play-by-play.

Probable starting offensive lineups:

NOVATO

REDWOOD

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Congrats To Rod And Reelers; Salmon Chasers Still Hopeful

STEVENS

Before I forget it, here are congratulations to Jack Marshall and his two passengers who boated six stripers to 19½ pounds; to "Shorty" Fazzio for his 19-pound, 15-ounce bass, and our deepest sympathy for the blank registered by Stan Wright. The above are all members of the Fishing Fools Rod and Reel Club.

As might be expected, the terrific success of Saturday tapered off a bit on the Sabbath, but came back strong on Monday and Tuesday. Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor reported a strong two-fish-per-rod on both days, and when asked if any sturgeon had been landed, mentioned that The Sturgeon King, Johnny Sivera, worked the lower Suisun for three nice limits to 73 pounds. As seems to be natural these days, most of the bass caught were of good size. Especially in cases where bullheads were used as bait.

JUST TO be contrary, from China Camp where the Quans reported bass fishing still good, the best catches appear to have been taken on the old standby, sardines.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina reported some wild and woolly action by his patrons on Monday and Tuesday. Carl made a trip personally and had no trouble limiting out with big fish on bullheads off Buoy 5. I understand quite a few fish in the 6 to 10 pound class were taken on sardines in more shallow water.

TONY CARUSO of Caruso's harbor in Sausalito mentioned that fair to good bass fishing was had the past few days off Red Rock and California City. Regarding salmon trolling, only two boats went out on Tuesday and very few salmon were taken.

LEE ANDERSON'S in Oakland reported the boat R.S.P. on Tuesday netted seven limits to 16 pounds near Red Rock. The Duke No. 2 had 6 bass to 22 pounds off Point Pinole, and the Ray Marsh boated 3 limits to 20 pounds in the same area. Joe Cirelli limited with bass to 10 pounds off Treasure Island.

GETTING BACK to the dearth of salmon outside the Gate, I asked Tony Caruso, who is a genuine old timer and has kept records for a long time, if he figured the salmon trolling was over for this year.

"Well," Tony said, "we are still hoping history repeats itself. Last year, on the 31st of October, we had our biggest day of the year. Seventeen boats went out and they came in with 627 salmon from 30 to 38 pounds. Prior to the 31st, fishing had been very slow, so we are all hoping the same wonderful fishing will again happen before this month is over."

Rusty Testa of Novato, only 8, outdid his father and grandfather recently while drift fishing near Red Rock. Rusty was the only one to catch a salmon and it weighed out at 27 pounds. Drawing blanks were his father, Kenneth, grandfather, Pete, and brother Mike, 5.

A Knockout For Molina

SAN JOSE (AP) — Luis Molina, 138½, 10th ranked welterweight, knocked out Rugene (Pepper) Parker last night in 2:20 of the ninth round. The bout had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

Both men are from San Jose, topping a card of two other scheduled 10-rounders that also ended in KO's.

Hurricane Kid, 152, Hawaii, whipped Mexico's Paolo Caronas, 149½, in 2:40 of the 6th round. In the last bout Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, 126½, did likewise to Mayico Robles, 126, in 1:40 of round 4. Both are from Mexico.

A Stiff Test For Stanford

SEATTLE (AP)—The University of Washington will try to play the role of wrench Saturday when Stanford's football machine, still powering toward a possible Rose Bowl bid, seeks its fifth victory of the season and its second in Pacific Athletic Conference action.

The role would not be new for Washington, which has defeated Stanford in each of their last six gridiron clashes. And last week the local Huskies, rallying after four straight defeats, apparently eliminated favored Oregon from any chance at bowl consideration.

Senior Tod Hullin will be back in the No. 1 quarterbacking job for Washington after temporary displacement by Tom Sparlin. Sophomore Sparlin suffered a collarbone fracture in the Oregon fracas and Hullin directed the Huskies to their 24-20 triumph. His backup man will be Frank Etter, a Spokane sophomore.

Dave Lewis, recovered from an early season toe injury, now is driving the Stanford machine with the finesse predicted for him at the season's start. Lewis took over the conference passing leadership after last week's 31-14 Stanford triumph over Army.

Although both teams are known to favor the rushing game, Washington also has depended on aerials for much of its 1965 success and Hullin has passed for seven touchdowns, leading all the pitchers in tally production. Lewis has connected on four scoring passes.

Toughened under the tutoring of John Ralston, Stanford leads the conference in both defense and offense while Washington is close to the bottom in all categories. Even so, the teams are rated fairly even—possibly because of those six consecutive Stanford losses, plus the fact that the visitors have not won in Seattle since 1957.

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (PDT) and a sellout crowd of 55,000 is assured.

San Rafael Swim Stars Honored

Top members of the San Rafael Swim Club received trophies in all the age groups at a recent banquet in honor of the club. Winners were:

New officers for next year are:

Bill McDuffie, president; Bill Hislop, vice president; Mary Lou Listug, secretary, and Paul Nederman, treasurer.

OVER AT BERKELEY

Can Bears Make Comeback Again?

A week ago, California fell 56-3 to a UCLA club which earlier in the season had to fight all the way to edge Penn State 24-22.

The Bears have lost a couple of tackles through injuries and defensive halfback Greg Palamountain remains out.

Still Coach Ray Willsey figures his Californians can bounce back just as they did after Notre Dame walloped them 48-6 in the opener. Going into the UCLA disaster, California had won three straight.

The Bears defenses which couldn't stop the Bruins, now must contend with fullback Dave McNaughton who has gained 389 yards for a 4.4 average in five games.

He gained 97 yards a week ago as the Lions whipped West Virginia 44-6.

Of that victory, Coach Rip Engle commented, "We finally stopped beating ourselves. We had a bushel of breaks and were able to take advantage of them. There was a great effort on the part of the defense."

Penn State is only 2-3 but a year ago the team also was off to a poor start and then finished with five straight victories and on the Lambert Trophy as the East's best.

A crowd of 30,000 to 35,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff in Cal's Memorial Stadium.

Once again Dan Berry ill alternate with Jim Hunt as California quarterback ith Reist at left half, workhorse Tom Relles at slot back and Frank Lynch at fullback.

California takes a 3-3 record onto the field. The Bears lost to Notre Dame, Michigan and UCLA but beat Kansas, the Air Force and Washington. Penn State beat Boston College as well as West Virginia but has loss to Michigan State, Syracuse and UCLA.

Top College Grid Games Are Scheduled Tomorrow

A Rough Road For Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's going to be rocky going on the road for the champion Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. this season from all indications.

The Cincinnati Royals whipped the Celtics 113-108 last night for the champs' second straight road defeat. Willie Naulls' shooting gave the Celtics a 50-44 lead, but after he fouled out in the second half the Royals forged ahead and won going away.

The Los Angeles Lakers, overwhelmed the touring New York Knicks 140-116 in the other NBA game scheduled last night. The Lakers had beaten the Knicks by two points in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and Wayne Embry led the Cincinnati attack to give the Royals their second victory in five starts.

Robertson threw in 32 points on 12 field goals and eight of 10 free throws in addition to making 12 assists. Lucas scored 19 points and grabbed 31 rebounds. Embry also scored 19 points including the field goal that broke a 68-68 tie and put the Royals ahead for good near the end of the third quarter.

Naulls paced the Celtics with 23 points, 14 in the first half, but the Celts dropped out of contention after he fouled out. Big Bill Russell pulled down 30 rebounds, but failed to get a field goal until the Royals led by 11 points at 94-83. Russell finished with eight points.

The Lakers piled up a 71-54 halftime lead in their rout of the Knocks. Seven Los Angeles players scored in double figures, topped by Jerry West's 25 points. LeRoy Ellis contributed 21. Howie Komives was high for New York with 16.

The winners set a team point-scoring record for the Sports Arena in beating the Knicks for the 15th straight time in Los Angeles. The Lakers opened a 30-point bulge in the second half before Coach Fred Schaus cleared the bench in final period.

Amundsen's 614 High Pin Series

Les Amundsen of the Nite Owlers League rolled high series of the week at Greenbrae Lanes with a 613 set topped by a 210 game. Maury Umphenour had high game with a 254 in the Nite Owlers, and Bill Rhodes rolled a 248 in the Marin 910 Travel League.

Fay Scott had high series for the women, a 595, headed by a 216 line in the Nite Owlers. Marlene Stewart rolled a 231 in the Lane Lassies League to win high game honors.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Seven At Redwood Will Travel Abroad

Seven Redwood High School students have been chosen by the school to travel abroad next year under three exchange programs and are awaiting the approval of their applications.

A chance to travel and live in a foreign country has been given to juniors Mary Elliot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Elliot, 128 Buena Vista, Corte Madera, and Linda Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kaplan, 26 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur, under the American Field Service program.

If her candidacy is approved by the main office in New York, Miss Elliot will spend a year living with a family and attending school with her foreign counterpart. Miss Kaplan, also depending on final approval, will spend the summer living in a foreign home.

Two juniors will be making trips abroad under the Experiment in International Living program.

Kathy Bramante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bramante, Belvedere, and Jim Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Rogers, Greenbrae, will spend 10 weeks in Europe or South America. The first half of their stay will be with a foreign family. The second part will be a tour of the country.

Three Redwood students have been selected to represent the United States in foreign countries under the Youth for Understanding exchange program.

They are senior Arthur Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ferguson, 424 Woodland Road, Kentfield; sophomore Zubeida Kadri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zia Kadri, 5 Warren Court, Tiburon, and sophomore Molly Callahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Callahan, 3 Community Road, Belvedere.

Sanitary Board Due To Talk Of Land Sale

The Corte Madera Sanitary District Board, meeting at the district office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., is scheduled to discuss selling an 18,340 square foot lot next to the shopping center on Paradise Drive.

Funds from the sale could be used for replacement of sewer lines, according to district recording secretary Portia Fitzgerald. Scheduled to discuss the sale with the board is Martin Zankel of Abbot Western Real Estate Development.
